Prosecutor to Ask for a New Panel if Present Body Fails to Return True Bills.

FOUR FACE NEW INQUIRY

District Attorney Plans to Name Ewalds, Tommaney and Healy in Specific Charges.

DATA SENT TO ROOSEVELT

Bar and Republican Leaders Press for Wide State Inquiry Despite Reopening of Case Here.

The New York County grand jury spent yesterday trying to decide whether it had made a mistake last Thursday when it failed to find an indictment in connection with the appointment of George F. Ewald to the magistracy three years ago.

Reconsideration of the case followed Governor Roosevelt's demand for all the records and an announcement by District Attorney Crain to the effect that if this grand jury failed to act he would seek the court's permission to submit his evidence in a new form before another grand jury.

The next time, he said, there would be no John Doe investigation but a proceeding in which indictments would be sought against the former magistrate, his wife, Mrs. Bertha E. Ewald; Martin J. Healy, Tammany district leader and suspended Deputy Commissioner of Plant and Structures, and Thomas T. Tommaney, chief clerk in the office of Sheriff Thomas M. Farley.

Grand Jury in Five-Hour Session.

After five hours in which they sat as auditors while William Fishbough, their official stenographer, read from the transcript of testimony relative to an alleged loan of $12,000 to Healy through Tommaney by Mrs. Ewald just prior to her husband's appointment, the grand jurors still had not made up their minds whether or not to take a new vote.

As the grand jurors began their reconsideration of the case, which it had been understood was closed as far as they were concerned, Mr. Crain went before Judge Allen in General Sessions and obtained permission to turn over copies of the minutes of that body's inquiry to Governor Roosevelt and to United States Attorney Tuttle, who has summoned at least a dozen witnesses to apear tomorrow before the Federal grand jury to tell what they know about the alleged loan.

Roosevelt Gets Records Today.

The grand jury minutes, together with a sheaf of statements including one by Mayor Walker denying that Healy influenced him in his appointment of Ewald, will be placed in the Governor's hand this morning at 10 o'clock by Joseph Durkin, the District Attorney's secretary, who left with them and a letter from Mr. Crain to the Governor on the 9:30 train for Albany last night.

What action Governor Roosevelt will take will not be announced officially until he has studied the evidence, but the demand for a general State investigation of municipal affairs continued unabated yesterday despite the indicated willingness of the grand jury to reconsider its action of four days ago.

A letter suggesting some such action by the Governor has been drafted, it was learned by the Bar Association's committeee on criminal law and procedure. Kenneth M. Spence, chairman of the committee, however, refused to make public its contents, explaining that as a matter of courtesy he preferred to have Governor Roosevelt do so.

Knight Ready to Aid Governor.

At the same time in Albany Senator John Knight, Republican leader of the upper house, declared that, whatever developments there may be in the Ewald case, there still exists "an imperative necessity for an investigation of the whole city of New York." He added:

"The offer Republican leaders made during the past session stands. The Governor's action in the Ewald case does not alter the situation. There is as much need now for investigation by the State as there was last Winter. It is entirely up to the Governor. He has the sole authority to act and the responsibility rests with him. If the Governor feels he needs additional authority to clean up New York we will give it to him."

A dramatic note was introduced into the case in the afternoon when Emmerich Boczor, one of the prosecution's mainstays, who asserts that the former magistrate told him in Mrs. Ewald's presence that his appointment to the magistracy cost him $12,000, announced that his life had been threatened, once over the telephone and twice in anonymous letters.

It was reported that Secret Service men had been assigned to protect

Morgenthau Plans Active Aid For Re-election of Roosevelt

Special to The New York Times.

BAR HARBOR, Me., Aug. 18.—Henry Morgenthau, former Ambassador to Turkey, who was chairman of the finance committee of the Democratic National Committee during Woodrow Wilson's second campaign for the Presidency, said today that he intended to take an active part in the campaign of Governor Roosevelt of New York for re-election and to help in raising a campaign fund.

"I shall attend the New York State Democratic Convention," Mr. Morgenthau said. "From that time forward I shall devote myself to Governor Roosevelt's candidacy with public addresses and in the raising of a campaign fund.

"The Governor has richly earned the confidence and plaudits of the people of the State by his admirable career as Governor. His diligence, courage and the high character of his appointments have met public approval."

$600,000,000 BUDGET FOR CITY NEXT YEAR

ASK MANY NEW EMPLOYES

$17,000,000 More Sought by Sanitation Body—1930 Budget of $569,769,828 Exceeded.

New York City's 1931 budget probably will exceed $600,000,000, according to preliminary calculations based on several requests for increases made by city departments to Budget Director Charles L. Kohler, which he announced yesterday. This year's budget of $569,769,828.28 has been exceeded by bond issues and other emergency appropriations.

The Department of Sanitation took the lead in the request for increases over this year's amounts, asking $17,000,000 more for 5,000 new employes and to purchase new motor equipment. The department began to function last January on a comparatively small budget, and used budget money voted to the Street Cleaning Department, which it absorbed. Its total budget request for next year is $51,000,000.

The Bureau of Weights and Measures is the only department whose budget request shows a decrease. The bureau asks for $71,040, $1,500 less than it has this year. Most of its money goes to pay an inspection staff of about twenty-five men. The twelve bureaus and departments that have submitted requests ask for a total increase of $18,201,056 more than last year, which would bring next year's budget to $587,970,884, with some of the heaviest spending departments still to be heard from.

Most Increases for New Employes.

The Police and Fire Department requests have not yet been received and the Corporation Counsel's office is still to make known its request. In most cases the requests for increases are accompanied by the explanation that additional money is required to hire new employes or to increase the salaries of those already in service.

William F. Deegan, Tenement House Commissioner, asks a supplemental budget of $661,260 for personal service in addition to his regular personal service increase of $28,920. He explained that the enforcement of the new multiple dwelling law would require a large number of additional inspectors and clerks.

The Health Department's proposed budget for 1931 includes an increase over this year of $179,995 to pay additional help. The department has been expanding its functions to open-

FEDERAL COSTS RISE AS REVENUES SHRINK, FOREBODING DEFICIT

TAX CUT SEEN AS DOOMED

Treasury Heads Fear Decline In Trade and Income Returns Will Force Stringent Policy.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—Federal expenses during July, the first month of the fiscal year, and for the first fifteen days of August continued to rise rapidly as compared with last year, while revenues have shrunk, according to figures made public today by the Treasury Department.

Expenditures during the period, exclusive of those made for retirement of public debt, were $403,083,448, or $29,086,698 more than in the same weeks last year, while total collections of revenue at $197,365,559 were $54,766,985 under the receipts for the comparable period last year.

The sharp decrease in foreign trade was reflected in the loss of revenue, the total customs collections for the period since July 1 being $42,113,338, as compared with $78,169,228 a year ago, a drop of $36,055,890.

The figures have caused administration officials to fear that a deficit, which may run as high as $200,000,000, will be confronted at the end of the fiscal year on June 30 next, and that it may be necessary to abandon the policy of devoting such payments on war debts as foreign governments make in cash to retirement of public debt, and use them to meet current expenses.

Drop in Tax Receipts Foreseen.

The failure of business to show increased activity and better earnings is giving some concern, as it is now becoming apparent that corporation taxes and personal income taxes to be received by the government from Jan. 1 to June 30, 1931, will be considerably lower than had been estimated.

A very severe shrinkage in customs receipts as spread over the entire fiscal year appears certain on the basis of relatively small receipts received during the first six or seven weeks.

Heavy expenditures which the Farm Board has been called upon to make because of the depression in agricultural districts are also a cause of worry among those who are seeking ways and means to avert a budget deficit. A total of $10,476,751 was spent by the board in July, indicating that the outlay may run to $150,000,000 or more in the fiscal year.

The present trend of revenues and expenditures has again raised the question whether the administration will be in a position to recommend a continuance of the reduction of 1 per cent on the normal income tax rates, which was voted last December as a temporary measure following the stock market slump.

Detailed figures for July, which were made available, show what is taking place so far as expenditures are concerned. The general running expenses of the departments for the month, at $198,583,682, were $17,121,389 greater than in July last year, and the total cost of government, exclusive of public debt retirement, at $259,278,881, was $31,328,419 greater than in July, 1929. Interest on public debt, included in the second clas-

Traffic Whistles Go Forever; Mulrooney Lauds Week's Test

Hereafter, traffic lights alone will keep New York's traffic moving. Police Commissioner Mulrooney yesterday silenced the traffice patrolman's whistle forever.

Following suggestions that the shrill blasts were unnecessary and created too much noise, the commissioner ordered the whistles silenced for a week's experiment.

The letters of appreciation he received from pedestrians and motorists alike, coupled with the fact that traffic kept moving, made him decide yesterday to abandon the whistle altogether as an aid to the traffic patrolman, the commissioner said.

THREATS TO EMPIRE IN HERTZOG'S PLANS

South African Premier Reaches England for Parley With Chips on Both Shoulders.

SEEKS TARIFF PREFERENCE

And Will Retaliate if Britain Refuses—Secession Issue Likely to Be Raised.

By CHARLES A. SELDEN.
Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Aug. 18.—General Hertzog, Prime Minister of South Africa, has arrived in London, the first of the empire Premiers to reach England in anticipation of the Imperial Conference in September. He is accompanied by N. C. Havenga, his Minister of Finance. While waiting for the conference to begin they will go to Geneva for the September session of the League of Nations.

General Hertzog is the only one of the Dominion premiers who has no antecedents in the British Isles and he will take his seat at the Imperial Conference table with chips on both shoulders. On every question on the agenda, both political and economic, he is prepared to fight first, last and all the time for South Africa, regardless of the empire as a whole or any other Dominion considered separately.

Hertzog Most Truculent.

There is ample evidence that all the Dominion premiers are determined to put the interests of their own countries ahead of everything else, but no other is so truculent about it as General Hertzog. The others at least cling to a sentiment about the mother country, and there is no room in their political philosophies for any remote thought of the disintegration of the British Commonwealth.

General Hertzog, on the contrary, can not only think of such dismemberment, but freely talks about it. As a primary condition of all relationship with the empire, Premier Hertzog insists that South Africa has an absolute right to secede whenever she wishes and to become as completely independent of Great Britain as the United States of America has. He doesn't advocate secession. He insists, however, that England and the rest of the empire admit the right to secede.

He will not directly ask the forthcoming Imperial Conference to grant such a right, for his contention is that it already exists and therefore is not debatable. However, the South African Premier will attempt to put the conference on record in the matter by an indirect method when the question arises on the passage of a resolution to adopt a report concerning the status of each Dominion. He intends to offer an amendment to the effect that the resolution shall contain a proviso that South Africa's right to secede be maintained.

Puts Independence First.

With that much granted, General Hertzog will be willing to talk about economic and political cooperation, based on the national independence of each part of the empire. But he insists that independence outweighs cooperation and that isolation is preferable to any feeling of subservient inferiority. Like the Premiers of Canada, Australia and New Zealand, General Hertzog will ask that England give preference to empire foodstuffs by imposing a tariff on such products from countries outside the empire, but he is more emphatic than the other Premiers in intimating what his country proposes to do if such preference is unobtainable. His government in retaliation would make it more difficult for British exporters to find a profitable market in South Africa.

General Hertzog is reasonably sure of remaining in power for four years more as a result of the general election a year ago in which his Nationalist party defeated General Smuts's South African party and gained a good working majority in Parliament. An issue in that campaign was the commercial treaty which General Hertzog had just accepted, granting very favorable trade conditions to Germany and which General Smuts and the pro-English people of South Africa resented.

London Hears Gandhi Accepts Dominion Status And Amnesty as Conditions for Making Peace

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Aug. 18.—Although Mahatma Gandhi's peace terms, which have been submitted to the Viceroy, Lord Irwin, through the mediation of two Indian moderates, have not been officially disclosed, it is stated in diplomatic quarters here that the Mahatma undertakes to call off his civil disobedience campaign on two conditions: First, that the MacDonald Government and the government of India sponsor dominion status as their own policy at the forthcoming round-table conference in London, and, secondly, that they declare an amnesty for all political prisoners forthwith.

Mr. Gandhi's letter to the Viceroy, according to The Daily Telegraph, says that he recognizes that the Conservative and Liberal opposition to the MacDonald Government in the British Parliament is too strong to enable either Mr. MacDonald or the Viceroy to guarantee that the direct outcome for India at the round-table conference would be any substantive independence, but as an earnest of the government's good faith he would be satisfied with the two undertakings mentioned.

LONDON, Aug. 18 (AP).—A communiqué on the Indian situation during the week ended Aug. 16, issued by the Viceroy's Government and made public here by the India Office, reports that the situation in the northwest frontier province is still grave.

Detachments of the main force of the Afridi tribesmen remain at varying strength in the Peshawar district. Numerous large bands lie concealed in the thickly wooded belt south and southwest of Peshawar and among the ravines to the east. British troops find it difficult to locate and punish them, and they are a constant source of trouble.

"These gangs undoubtedly are receiving shelter and food and some active assistance from the villages in the Peshawar neighborhood," says the government statement.

The main body of the Afridis in the vicinity of Khajuri plain has decreased in numbers, but other tribes to the north and south of Peshawar present potential dangers. The agitators employed by the All-India Nationalist Congress are making strenous efforts to arouse the tribesmen of the Kohat district.

Although the government statement does not say so, unofficial advices indicate that Peshawar is virtually ringed about by detachments of hostile tribesmen.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—Amos W. W. Woodcock, prohibition director, has taken steps to have George E. Golding, chief special agent at Albany, N. Y., dismissed from the service as a result of the former's investigation of charges made by Golding's stenographer, and has suspended two other dry agents for personal altercations with motorists on the highways, in furtherance of his policy to make enforcement officials themselves abide by the law and properly conduct themselves.

The prohibition director announced this afternoon that he had preferred charges against Golding before the Civil Service Commission, which, in effect, is asking for his dismissal. The original complaint was made soon after Mr. Woodcock took office on July 1 and he announced then that he would investigate.

Mr. Woodcock declined to divulge the name of the girl making the charges and would characterize the case only as "an unfortunate affair." He said, however, that he could not tolerate for the prohibition enforcement service any such conduct as was charged against Golding and that he was taking this step to rid the force of him. Golding had been suspended pending the outcome of his trial before the Civil Service Commission.

Golding was in charge of the "super-expert" prohibition agents at the Albany office when the alleged incident occurred. Although he was not suspended at the time, he was allowed to drop from the scene until Mr. Woodcock undertook his investigation. Golding was not present at the conference of administrators and chief special agents held here on the last two days of last month.

Suspensions to End "Friction."

The suspensions announced today were for five days each for Basil Quinn, attached to headquarters here, and Robert F. Myrtle of Milwaukee, both of whom are said to have used their authority as prohibition agents to bulldoze motorists during altercations.

The Myrtle incident occurred in Milwaukee on July 29, Mr. Woodcock said, relating that Myrtle, after a traffic mix-up, left his automobile and attempted to arrest William A. French. Mr. French asked for Myrtle's authority, Mr. Woodcock said, and the latter drew his revolver and pointed it at Mr. French with the remark that the weapon was his authority.

Quinn's suspension was for striking Thomas E. Quinlan during an argument over right of way on July 16 on a highway near Washington.

Mr. Woodcock said that the penalties for Myrtle and Quinn, which mean a pecuniary loss to each of about $35, were to be taken as no criterion and were to be considered only as an effort to obtain results "without too drastic punishment."

"I am not going to stand for this sort of thing," Mr. Woodcock declared, indicating further that if five-day suspensions would not work, he would use such means as would be necessary to put the prohibition

Dean Inge Justifies Suicide in Certain Cases; Would Let Criminals Execute Themselves

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

OXFORD, England, Aug. 18.—A justification for suicide in certain instances and a suggestion that criminals be allowed to execute their own death sentences were offered by Dean Inge of St. Paul's in his presidential address to the Modern Churchmen's conference here today, discussing "The Modern Outlook in Morals." The conference will continue until Saturday, its general subject being "Problems of Personal Life."

"I think every criminal condemned to death ought to be allowed to carry out the sentence on himself in his own way," said Dean Inge. Then bringing up another question which may be discussed by the liberal churchmen, that of whether a sweeping condemnation of suicides by the Church should not be reconsidered, he said, "I should not censure a man who, knowing he was dying slowly of an agonizing disease, wishes to shorten his sufferings. I must add that if I were attacked by a painful disease I hope I should have the patience to wait until the end. I don't think I should wish any one near and dear to me to act otherwise."

Among questions where the path is not so clear, he continued, are war, marriage and divorce, and "another delicate question, that of birth control."

"Some method of checking the natural growth of numbers beyond the means of subsistence is always necessary and nearly always has been practiced," he said. "The choice lies between the new methods and the practice of abortion, which is more common here than many suppose. As liberal churchmen, our duty is to try to bring down the opposition of the traditionalists to any consideration of this vital question, and the only claim we make is that the question should be handled without prejudice."

RACKETEERS KEEP CITY FOOD PRICES HIGH, WITNESSES REVEAL AT STATE INQUIRIES; DEATH THREATS AND SABOTAGE CHARGED

Retail Prices on 26 Food Articles in Nation Fell 2 1-2 Per Cent in Month Ending July 15

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—Retail food prices as reported to the Bureau of Statistics of the Department of Labor showed a decrease of slightly more than 2½ per cent on July 15 as compared with June 15, and a decrease of a little more than 9 per cent since July 15, 1929. The bureau's weighted index numbers, with average prices in 1913 as 100, were 158.5 for July 15, 1929; 147.9 for June 15, 1930, and 144.0 for July 15, 1930.

From June 15 to July 15, twenty-six articles on which monthly prices were obtained decreased. These were potatoes and cabbage, 21 per cent; plate beef, 7 per cent; chuck roasts and oranges, 5 per cent; round steak, hens, flour and prunes, 4 per cent; sirloin steak and rib roast, 3 per cent; leg of lamb, cheese, lard and onions, 2 per cent; fresh milk, evaporated milk, macaroni, canned corn, canned peas, raisins and bananas, 1 per cent; pork chops, sliced ham, tea and coffee, less than five-tenths of 1 per cent.

Three articles increased—strictly fresh eggs, 4 per cent; butter, 1 per cent, and canned red salmon, less than five-tenths of 1 per cent.

The following thirteen articles showed no change in the month: Sliced bacon, oleomargarine, vegetable lard substitute, bread, cornmeal, rolled oats, cornflakes, wheat cereal, rice, navy beans, pork and beans, canned tomatoes and sugar.

From June 15 to July 15 there was a decrease of 2 per cent in the average cost of food in New York City.

For the year from July 15, 1929, to July 15, 1930, there was a decrease of 9 per cent in New York City.

As compared with the average cost in 1913, food on July 15 was 47 per cent higher in New York City.

COURT FREES DOYLE OF 2 TAX CHARGES

But He Still Faces 3 Perjury Counts and One for Evasion as Testimony Ends.

HE FAILS TO TAKE STAND

Judge Rules Out Income for 1927 and 1928—Case to Go to Jury Today.

William F. Doyle won a point yesterday when Judge John E. Martineau, after a hearing in chambers, dismissed two important counts in the indictments charging him with income tax evasion in 1927 and 1928 over the objections of United States Attorney Tuttle.

Judge Martineau held that the Southern District of the Federal court lacked jurisdiction as the returns were filed in Brooklyn. The judge denied other defense motions, however, and upheld the perjury counts for those years, as well as the 1929 tax evasion count. The testimony was concluded without Doyle taking the stand in his own defense to explain the income he received in his practice before the Board of Standards and Appeals.

The government and defense counsel will begin to sum up with the opening of the court session this morning, and it is expected that the jurors will receive the case late in the day. The trial started two weeks ago today.

Doyle's Son Takes Stand.

Both sides rested during the afternoon when the veterinarian's son, Louis P. Doyle, had been called to the stand as the last defense witness to offer testimony designed to controvert the government's evidence regarding the 1927 and 1928 perjury counts and Mr. Tuttle had summoned a few additional witnesses in rebuttal.

With the hearing adjourned to Judge Martineau's chambers, the judge indicated early in the discus-

Commissioner Says Brooklyn and Queens Will Follow Manhattan Survey.

An intensive drive to rid part of Manhattan of violations of the tenement house law, from stills to blocked fire escapes, to begin tomorrow and last through Saturday, was announced yesterday by William F. Deegan, Tenement House Commissioner. The commissioner said he expected to use about 250 inspectors for the drive, the regular Manhattan force being augmented by thirty-nine men from Brooklyn, twenty from the Bronx and ten from Queens.

The week-end phase of Mr. Deegan's concentrated efforts to rid the city of tenement house abuses was completed yesterday when the inspectors made calls east of Fifth Avenue from Eightieth Street to 133d Street and the Harlem River. The yield over the week-end was twenty-one stills, with 3,113 balconies and fire escapes inspected and many arrests made. At the end of last week the drive had been confined largely from Fourteenth Street to Chambers Street, east of Broadway. More than 100 men were used on the week-end expeditions.

Warns Queens and Brooklyn.

The Tenement House Department chiefs in charge of the clean-up operations reported to Commissioner Deegan that twenty summonses were returnable before magistrates yesterday and eighteen today. While some of these violators would receive suspended sentences, it was said, many would get $2 fines.

The Manhattan area upon which Mr. Deegan's forces will concentrate beginning tomorrow will be west of Fifth Avenue from Fourteenth Street to 110th Street, and also west of Fifth Avenue from 110th Street to 155th Street, including Manhattan, Edgecombe and St. Nicholas Avenues.

"I am going to stick to this until we have accomplished our purpose 100 per cent," Mr. Deegan said. "And we will not stop with Manhattan, either. Some day Queens is going to receive a visit from me, and on another occasion Brooklyn will find my men visiting its tenements. We are trying to do a thorough job and one that will last."

While the commissioner would not say definitely when he would carry his drive into the other boroughs, he intimated that his forces might visit Brooklyn next week. It was indicated at his office that probably about 100 inspectors would be assigned to the drive in Brooklyn.

Mr. Deegan insisted that the work of cleaning up the city, as far as tenement house violations were concerned, was nothing new under his administration, as it was something which he had been trying to do ef-

MANY FEARFUL ON STAND

Dwyer Studies Survey of City Foodstuffs—Wynne on Radio Urges 'Market Basket Army.'

A widespread organization of "racketeers, guerrillas and gangsters," working to boost the city's cost of living to new high levels, was revealed yesterday by witnesses at the opening of the Attorney General's inquiry into food profiteering in this city.

Under the questioning of Assistant Attorney General William B. Groat Jr., two dozen witnesses gave information which wove itself into a story of the rejuvenation of the old Larry Fay milk ring and a bigger "mysterious" organization which is threatening ruin to a large wholesale business, able and willing to lower egg prices here 5 cents a dozen.

Mr. Groat explained that several witnesses were evidently afraid to testify for fear of reprisals by this combination, but warnings by the Assistant Attorney General of punitive measures brought forth the information that definite threats had been made to kill any one who persisted in defying the gang's will.

The State's investigation consists of two inquiries, a milk inquiry and a general food inquiry, both of which are at the Attorney General's office, 49 Chambers Street. Charles C. Johnson is the referee of the first and John Holly Clark Jr. has charge of the second.

More Disclosures Forecast.

After yesterday's hearings, Mr. Groat said:

"You've heard nothing yet compared to the exposures that are coming. We are on the trail of a ruthless gang of guerrillas who are waxing rich by profiteering at the city's expense and we shall do our utmost to bring them before the bar of justice."

Police Commissioner Mulrooney was asked by Mr. Groat last night to supply police protection for the Utah Poultry Producers Association, whose business is being ruined by the food combination, according to testimony by Benjamin Brown, executive director of the association in this city.

Mr. Brown said his organization could give this city five carloads or 90,000 dozen eggs of the best quality each day at prices which would allow retailers to sell to consumers at five cents a dozen below present prices. A month ago, he said, the Utah Association had been delivering three carloads a day and its market had been steadily growing. Then, suddenly, after a visit to his office by a stranger, business began to drop, he declared, until today it has fallen to one-half normal and he is having a "hard fight" to stay in the field.

The witness identified his caller as a Mr. Capelowich of the Vineland Butter and Egg Company, whom he quoted as saying:

"You are interfering with our racket. You better get wise and not butt into the regular set-up in New York by selling direct to retail grocers. Remember, you have been warned."

Said Business Would Go On.

"I told Capelowich that we had entered the New York market with the intention of giving the city the best eggs at the lowest prices we could and that we were going ahead with our business in our own way," Mr. Brown told Mr. Groat.

Immediately after Mr. Capelowich's call, Mr. Brown said, truckmen who went to the offices of the Utah Poultry Association at 304 Greenwich Street to get loads of eggs would discover on driving off that the tires of their trucks had been cut with ice picks. Still others received oral threats to "lay off that Utah outfit." One truckman inclined to argue was beaten and warned he would be killed "if he didn't watch out."

Strangers began pacing the sidewalks outside his offices, apparently acting as pickets, Mr. Brown declared. Trading with his organization became so hazardous that business dropped, he said.

In answer to Mr. Groat's inquiry as to how his concern operated, Mr. Brown declared that he sold to chain stores, jobbers and cooperative associations. An organization of Jewish grocers, he said, obtained a carload of eggs from him a day under a contract and is continuing to do so. Jobbers and chain stores have practically ceased to deal with him, Mr. Brown said, and the grocers in the cooperative group have been getting threats to stop buying from him.

"What are you doing with the surplus eggs that you can no longer sell?" Mr. Groat asked.

"I'm afraid we have to put it in storage and some of it we are sending to Los Angeles and the Pacific Coast," Mr. Brown replied.

"All of this at a time when there is said to be a shortage of eggs in the New York market?" Mr. Groat asked.

"That is right."

Truckman Tells of Cut Tires.

Mr. Groat next called to the witness stand several truckmen and dealers who had business relations with Mr. Brown. The first of these was Anthony Pratano, a truck driver, of 24 Waverly Place, Mamaroneck, N. Y.

In broken English and with angry gestures Pratano described how after taking delivery of a consignment of eggs from Mr. Brown last week he had found his tires cut, and no matter how much he wanted to get Mr. Brown's "very fine eggs" he had decided it was wiser to deal elsewhere.

"A man came up to me and said with a laugh, 'Where did you get your eggs?' " Pratano testified, after describing how he had consumed several hours and "lots of money" to fix up his tires before being able to leave. "I told him from the Utah Poultry Company, and he said: 'That's why you got your tires cut. Lay off them people.' "

Mr. Groat ascertained that Pratano was an ex-service man and had been wounded in action. Turning to the witness, he asked:

"You would not be afraid to identify that man, would you?"

"Positively not," Pratano answered quickly.

"Is he in this room now?"

After a careful look about the room Pratano said, "No, he's not."

"All right, you will probably get a chance to identify him later on," Mr. Groat promised.

Police Protection Assured.

Pratano then told how he had canceled orders for additional supplies of eggs because he feared further trouble. He emphasized that there was a strong demand for the Utah eggs and that he would like to resume business dealings with the Brown organization.

"You be at the Utah Company's quarters tomorrow and we will have police there to see that you do not suffer for it," Mr. Groat said, emphasizing each word. "These guerrillas aren't going to bother you further. I am going to ask Commissioner Mulrooney to assign men there. If you want to, drive up with a brass band; no one is going to bother you."

Pratano, promising to "sock any man who touched me," said he would call at the Utah organization's office this afternoon for some eggs.

He was followed on the witness stand by Samuel Horowitz, organizer and manager of the Jewish Grocers' Association.

Declaring that he represented 1,000 grocers, Mr. Horowitz testified that his group recently had contracted to buy a carload of fresh eggs daily from the Utah Poultry Association. This contract, he explained, enabled the dealers in his organization to save from 5 to 20 cents a dozen under the price they would have to pay outside jobbers. This saving, he said, was passed on to the consumer.

Mr. Horowitz declared that his association owned its own trucks. Recently, he added, his truckmen had been threatened. The Amsterdam Brooklyn Delivery Company of 162 Reade Street has tried to buy out the association's trucks and to make deliveries for them, he said.

"Mr. Amsterdam called on me and talked of violence if we did not accede to his wishes," Mr. Horowitz testified. "All of our truckmen, without a single exception, have been threatened with harm."

Jobber Says He Got Threats.

Among the other witnesses who appeared to back up Mr. Brown's charges was I. Roth, a jobber, of 158 Reade Street. Remarking on Mr. Roth's reluctance to testify, Mr. Groat asked if he were afraid his testimony might injure him.

Mr. Roth said he did not know, but that as a result of his dealings with the Utah concern he had been threatened with "being bumped off." He said he had stopped getting eggs from the Utah organization.

"A few days ago a man I never saw before walked up to my place and told me to stop getting eggs from the Utah outfit," Mr. Roth testified. "He told me I was a nice young fellow with a family and 'it would be a shame to get bumped off.' "

Several jobbers who appeared disinclined to testify were ordered by Mr. Clark to attend every hearing until "their memories were clearer." Samuel Pfeffer of 158 Reade Street, one of those who said his memory was poor, pleaded that Mr. Clark's injunction would hurt his business.

"I have a wife and children to support and I have to work," he said.

"Well, so have the people who buy eggs," Mr. Groat snapped.

The Assistaant Attorney General brought the day's hearings to a close with this promise:

"No matter what guerrillas or gangsters threaten to do, we are going to see that those who want to sell eggs sell them and those who want to buy them can buy them without harm."

Hears of Milk Price Rises.

Mr. Groat, who said last week that he had received a report that the Larry Fay milk ring had been revived and that loose milk prices were to be raised by the new organization, found his suspicions strengthened at the opening of the milk inquiry, which officially began the State's investigation into the food situation. The name of Abe Tiger, who was indicted with Larry Fay and 140 others last year, was injected into the milk inquiry by Aaron Bernstein, owner of a dairy store at 8,002 West Twenty-first Avenue, Brooklyn.

Mr. Bernstein testified that Tiger had been active in a recent increase in the price of loose milk from $3.40 for a forty-quart can to $4.40. Mr. Bernstein said he had been told that the price was to go to $4.60 on Sept. 1.

The $4.40 price means that the grocer has to pay 11 cents a quart for loose milk, whereas the Dairymen's League Cooperative Association supplies the Borden's Farm Products Company with loose milk at a cost of $3.37 for a forty-eight-quart can. This comes to only 7 cents a quart.

Mr. Bernstein told Mr. Groat that he had objected to paying the new high price for milk, and thereupon received a visit from Abe Tiger and two men whom he did not know.

"Abie Tiger came to my store after I had objected to paying $4.40 a can for milk," Mr. Bernstein said. "He put a card in my window saying milk was 12 cents a quart and left my store with the words: 'I'm taking care of everybody.' "

Mr. Groat announced later that Tiger would be subpoenaed. Eleven other shopkeepers testified in addition to Mr. Bernstein, confirming his testimony.

Mr. Horowitz of the Jewish Grocers' Association testified that the $4.40 price was now general throughout the city. Mr. Horowitz said he had heard of the recent organization of a loose-milk dealers' association and that milk had not cost $4.40 a can since the Larry Fay milk chain had been dissolved a year ago. Following the indictment of Fay and his associates, milk dropped to $3.40 a can, Mr. Horowitz asserted. This is the season when milk is generally cheapest, he added.

Aaron Sapiro, attorney and head of the Harlem and Bronx Milk Dealers' Association, offered yesterday to Mr. Groat all records of his organization. He said that evidence which he had assembled to break up a combination of dealers was available to the Assistant Attorney General. He said that this combination had ordered an unjustified increase in the price of milk, using the drought as an excuse.

Dwyer Gets Markets Survey.

While State authorities were busy yesterday uncovering food profiteers, city agencies were fighting unjustified high prices for fresh fruits and vegetables. Commissioner of Markets Dwyer received from his inspectors a survey of market conditions and began to study it. District Attorney Brower in Brooklyn announced that he would be ready today to make public the conclusions of his recent investigation of the rise in milk prices.

In its second bulletin the Fair Price Food Board pointed out that as a result of the glaring publicity turned on food profiteers a "sharp decline in the cost of foodstuffs to consumers was noted over the week-end."

"Receipts of fresh fruits and vegetables and dairy products and other food commodities in the New York City market continue plentiful and cheap," the survey showed. "New potatoes are selling for less than 2 cents a pound wholesale and sweet potatoes are quoted lower than last week.

"As a result of the formation of the Fair Price Food Board wholesale prices already have been lowered, so retail dealers are now buying most lines of vegetables and fruits even cheaper than last week. This should be passed on to the consumer.

"The sharp decline in the prices of vegetables and fruits is enabling the housewife to fill her market basket at a great saving over ten days ago. In the majority of instances, it has been learned, the reduction in price is being passed on to the consumer, so that in almost every section of the city the family kitchen is profiting."

Quotes Retail Prices.

The survey showed that yesterday the city received 465 carloads of food, almost double the amount which arrived on a corresponding day of last year. It quoted the following retail prices as prevailing in "the average store in the average neighborhood":

Potatoes, L. I., fancy, large, 5 lbs.	*12 to 15c
Do medium, 5 lbs.	8 to 10c
Cabbage, 3 lbs	*11 to 14c

Do Western, mixed sizes, candled, dozen	35 to 38c
American cheese, fresh, lb.	23 to 25c

*Prices deemed particularly advantageous.

"Fish are coming in in abundance and prices are generally low," the survey declares. "Health Commissioner Wynne urges all to take advantage of the ample supply of sea food and to give it a place on the family menu at least three times a week. Wholesale prices on fish today are: Porgies, 3 cents a pound; croakers, 2½ cents; weakfish, 5 cents; butterfish, 3½ cents; haddock, 4 cents; flounders, 4 to 5 cents; mackerel, 9 cents, and bluefish, 12 cents. Allowing for the perishability of fish, fair retail prices should be: Halibut steaks, 38 to 40 cents a pound; salmon steaks, 35 to 40 cents; whole silver salmon, 25 to 28 cents a pound; striped bass, large, 28 to 30 cents a pound; butterfish, large, 23 to 25 cents a pound; bluefish, large, 23 to 25 cents; perch, large, 10 to 12 cents; sea bass, large, 25 to 27 cents; croakers, large, 10 to 12 cents; mackerel, 23 to 25 cents a pound."

Wynne in Radio Talk.

Commissioner Wynne began the fair price board's radio broadcasts yesterday morning at 11:05 o'clock over Station WNYC. He told housewives that one of the foremost methods of defeating the food profiteer was the formation of "the market basket army." Dr. Wynne said that he had cut short his vacation because of the belief that a "clique of retail food dealers are forcing up the price of foodstuffs" and was going to take personal charge of the Health Department's campaign against profiteers.

Pointing out that despite the recent drought the receipts of fresh green vegetables, fruits and dairy products in the New York market exceeded receipts of the corresponding season of last year, Dr. Wynne said that wholesale prices were even lower than last year at this time. He said there was no excuse why retail prices should continue to be high. He gave the housewife the following ten rules "to outwit the food profiteer":

Bring the old-time market basket back in style.

Shop around.

Discuss food prices with your dealer and neighbors.

The cash-and-carry plan saves money

Give fish a place on your menu.

Double your present milk consumption, for economy and health.

Eat generously of vegetable dishes.

At least one salad a day.

Read the daily reports of fair price food board.

PRODUCE SHIPMENTS STEADY.

Agriculture Department Reports Only Seasonal Fluctuations.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—A report from the Bureau of Agricultural Economics of the Department of Agriculture today said that rail shipments of leading fruits and vegetables had been well sustained throughout the country over the last week-end and had shown only seasonal fluctuations in individual products.

Of thirty-three important fruits and vegetables reported by the bureau, decreases in shipments are reported principally for lettuce, onions, peaches, watermelons and potatoes, as compared with midweek forwardings. Grape shipments on Friday and Saturday showed small increases, compared with shipments last Wednesday and Thursday. Increases are reported also on apples, cantaloupes, cabbage and pears.

Potato shipments on Saturday were 581 cars, compared with 582 cars on Friday; 742 cars on Thursday, and 691 cars on Wednesday. Bureau officials attribute this decrease both to a seasonal condition and possibly to the effects of drought. Other produce was reported as practically unaffected by the dry spell.

Miss Mary Pope Killed in Newport Auto Crash; New York Girl Was Driving Birthday Gift Car

Special to The New York Times.

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 18.—Miss Mary Pope, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Russell Pope of New York City, was killed in an automobile accident here soon after 6 o'clock this evening.

Miss Adelaide F. Whitehouse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Whitehouse, who was riding with Miss Pope, escaped with only a few scratches and a bad shaking up.

Miss Pope was driving a new coupé given to her last week by her grandmother, Mrs. Henry Walters of New York, on her seventeenth birthday. She was going through Eustis Avenue when, at the corner of Old Beach Road, her car was in collision with a car driven by James W. Sullivan Jr., a student at Manhattan College.

According to Mr. Sullivan's report to the police, Miss Pope's car struck his car on the left front, swerved and turned over two or three times before it stopped. Miss Whitehouse was thrown clear, but Miss Pope was caught in the car and suffered a fractured skull. She was taken to the Newport Hospital, where she died soon after her arrival.

Miss Pope was to have been introduced to society at a ball to be given next Summer by Mr. and Mrs. Walters at their Summer home, Sherwood.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Pope, 4 East Eighty-first Street, it was said last night that they had gone to Newport.

Mr. Pope is an architect. He designed the Roosevelt State Memorial, which is being built on Central Park West at Seventy-ninth Street, and has also drawn plans for the completion of General Grant's tomb on Riverside Drive.

ATTORNEY IS ARRESTED ON WOMAN'S CHARGE

L. S. Lockhart Accused of Slashing Wrist of Former Client in Her Home.

Leslie S. Lockhart, an attorney with offices at 49 Chambers Street, and a former Assistant District Attorney and Deputy Attorney General, was arrested last night and locked up in the East Sixty-seventh Street police station charged with felonious assault after, it is alleged, he had slashed the left wrist of Mrs. Kate Shea with a razor blade in her apartment at 1,072 Lexington Avenue.

Lockhart admitted at the police station that he had been visiting Mrs. Shea. He said he had known her about ten years and had obtained a divorce for her from her first husband. He also said that her second husband was suing her for divorce in New Jersey. But he refused to answer questions asked by detectives regarding the slashing charge.

According to tenants of the apartment house in which Mrs. Shea lives, sounds of a struggle were heard just after 9 P. M. Mrs. Della Hynes, who lives in an adjoining apartment and is an intimate friend of Mrs. Shea rushed into Mrs. Shea's apartment. As she stepped inside, she told detectives, Lockhart rushed out of the bedroom, bowled her over and dashed downstairs. Mrs. Hynes said she found Mrs. Shea unconscious on the bedroom floor. She had a four-inch cut in her wrist.

Mrs. Hynes called the police. Detectives and an ambulance from City Hospital arrived.

While Dr. Wiener was trying to restore Mrs. Shea to consciousness, the telephone rang and a policeman answered it.

Five minutes later, the police say, Lockhart entered the room.

Owing to the seriousness of Mrs. Shea's condition Dr. Wiener would not remove her to the hospital. He said that three arteries in her wrist had been severed.

Colonel's Executors File Action in Boston Against Nawn Receivers.

BOSTON, Aug. 18 (AP).—Executors of the estate of Colonel William A. Gaston, one-time candidate for Governor of Massachusetts, today filed suit in Suffolk Superior Court to recover damages of $600,000 from the receivers of the Hugh Nawn Contracting Company of Boston, builders of a large part of the city's subway system.

The suit, an action of contract, was brought by John Gaston of New York, Roger Amory and John K. Howard of Boston, executors of the will.

22,977 LIVE IN ASBURY PARK.

Census Shows It Has Won Population Race With Long Branch.

Special to The New York Times.

ASBURY PARK, N. J., Aug. 18.—This city has won out in the race for supremacy in population along this section of the New Jersey shore, having passed Long Branch, with which it has had a long, close struggle, according to figures made public today after a recheck by Census Supervisor Albert Heimroth.

The final figures give Asbury Park a population of 22,977, a gain of 10,577, or 85 per cent since 1920; while Long Branch has 20,973, a gain of 7,452, or 55 per cent in the same period.

CHICAGO SENATOR WAS KILLED BY POISON

But Inquest Does Not Show Its Nature—Widow Tells of Telephone Warnings.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Aug. 18.—State Senator John T. Joyce died of poisoning under mysterious circumstances Saturday, but an inquest today into his death did not disclose whether he had been murdered or was the victim of tainted food or beverages. This cannot be determined, Coroner Bundesen said, until a chemical analysis of the body contents is complete —perhaps in a week's time.

The inquest did reveal that on Friday afternoon and early Saturday, before the Senator's death, Mrs. Joyce received several telephone calls which indicated a knowledge by callers that Joyce had not long to live.

The coroner is now tracing these calls, particularly one received Saturday morning just before Joyce passed away. In her testimony, Mrs. Joyce said:

"A voice asked if the Senator was there," she said, "and I said he had just stepped out, not wishing to wake him. The voice said: 'Are you sure he stepped out?' and hung up before I could answer."

She described three previous calls on Friday afternoon, when different voices, all male, asked her if she knew that her husband was dead. Each hung up after refusing to tell her his name. When Joyce returned home she told him of the calls, but he only laughed, she said, and went to bed. He appeared "dopey," she testified, and did not answer when she asked him what he had eaten.

FIRESTONE PREDICTS RENEWED PROSPERITY

He Declares, at Cambridge, That the Best Period in a Decade Is Just Ahead.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Aug. 18 (AP).—Harvey S. Firestone, tire manufacturer and friend of Henry Ford and Thomas A. Edison, told the Cambridge Industrial Association today that the present slump in business would soon be succeeded by greater prosperity than America had known for ten years.

He took New England to task for a self-satisfaction which resulted in the departure of many industries and resultant depression, but added that this section of the country was again asserting itself and that it apparently had not suffered much.

To end depression, he advocated good, hard work and readjustments by business leaders to meet the changing conditions, such as reduced prices and reduced overhead. He agreed with Henry Ford that soon there would be work for everybody.

Mr. Firestone turned to the recent Edison quiz and remarked that he had sat up on one occasion until 1 A. M. correcting papers of the candidates.

POLICE HEROISM REWARDED

Patrolman Made Detective for Part in Brooklyn Arrests.

For "courageous and meritorious police work" in connection with the arrest of three alleged robbers, following a pistol battle in the Bay Ridge section of Brooklyn last Saturday afternoon, Patrolman William E. Drake was made a second-grade detective yesterday by Commissioner Mulrooney. Four other policemen and a detective were commended for their parts in the arrest.

Patrolman Drake, when off duty, followed three men in an automobile who aroused his suspicion. In the battle which followed, one of the men was killed and another wounded. Patrolman Arthur W. Heine, who was commended for bravery, also was wounded.

Others to receive citations were Patrolmen John T. McAlevey, Carl E. Weltzen and George Schmitt and Detective George V. Gundelman.

32 Drowned in Indian Ferry Upset.

CALCUTTA, India, Aug. 18 (AP).—Thirty-two jute mill workers were drowned and twenty-two were rescued by a launch when a ferryboat in which they were crossing the Hugli River, the western arm of the Ganges, was caught in a strong tidal current and capsized.

DRIVE TO CLEAN UP TENEMENT HAZARDS

fectively ever since he took office two years ago. Attention had been focused on the work now under way, he said, by the shifts of department employes which he effected two weeks ago.

The Bronx, Mr. Deegan said, "was in good condition," due in no small part to the intensive efforts of his department. Manhattan, however, the commissioner considered "by far the worst of all the boroughs," and he attributed the condition to the fact that the tenements were so old.

In the past, the commissioner declared, he had sought to wipe out violations of the tenement house law by spurring his men to greater effort in their regularly assigned areas. Now, however, he contended, he was operating under a new plan of swooping down upon some section of the city with a large force.

Commissioner Deegan said he strongly favored severe punishment for those found repeating tenement house offenses for which they already had been prosecuted. He advocated "jail if necessary," maintaining that in many cases the department had found much of its work virtually undone by offenders who, following prosecution, went right back home to repeat the old offense as if nothing had happened.

Commenting on the department's attention to stills, Mr. Deegan said that in his opinion residents of tenement houses were heeding the department's warnings through its continued drives and raids and were disposing of their own stills. He said the inspectors were finding fewer and fewer stills.

If the present drive was to accomplish real results, Mr. Deegan said, it would have to be one of "education." Tenants would have to learn that the Tenement House Department was active only for their protection, he explained, and that putting flower pots on window sills and blocking doors leading to roofs only accentuated hazards existing in case of fire.

General conditions in the Tenement House Department are better now than ever before, he said, but he admitted there was much room for improvement.

CRIME LAW CHANGE BACKED BY BAUMES

Chairman Says State Board Is Devising a Plan to Make All Offenders Eligible for Parole.

CONTROL FOR FOUR-TIMER

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 18.—Senator Caleb H. Baumes of Newburgh came out here today in favor of a substantial modification of the fourth-offender act which bears his name and said he would do all he could for its enactment.

As the law now stands, only a first offender is entitled to parole. Senator Baumes explained that the State Crime Commission, of which he is chairman, was studying a plan whereby second and third and even fourth offenders might be paroled.

"Our study has not yet determined how this can be done," he said, "but we are working on a parole system whereby the State will always have charge of a man convicted more than once, providing he is paroled.

"I favor, in the case of the fourth offender who is automatically sentenced to life imprisonment, giving the Parole Board the power to set the prisoner at liberty after he has served the term for which he would have been sentenced if he had not been a fourth offender.

"If a fourth offender is paroled, the State should continue to exercise control over him.

"Our scheme will be something in line with that followed by Governor Roosevelt. In every commutation granted by the Governor he makes it plain that it is not a pardon. If a paroled prisoner comes within the clutches of the law he must serve out the term for which he was originally sentenced."

The last Legislature refused to modify the law, but now that Senator Baumes has declared himself in favor of such a move and his commission is laying the groundwork for it, it is believed here that the necessary legislation will be put through at the next session. Both lawyers and judges have already opposed the rigors of the present Fourth Offender act.

HIKING ELOPERS SEEK TRAIL BACK TO FARM

Find Lodging and Breakfast at Newark Police Station After Disillusionment Here.

After two months of marriage Mr. and Mrs. William Hunter, of no definite address, received their first wedding present yesterday. It came from the city of Newark through Newark's Police Department and consisted of a night's lodging and breakfast for two.

Hunter, who is 27 years old, and skilled only as a farmhand, walked into Newark Police Headquarters early yesterday morning, followed by his wife, Martha, who is 18. He told Police Lieutenant Peter Corbally that they had been walking all day and asked for a place to sleep.

Hunter said that they were hunting for a farm. They had met on a farm, he said, where he was a hired man and Martha was one of the nine children of the owner. Two months ago they had eloped and, eager to get away from the hardships of farm life, had walked and hitch-hiked to New York, "where the big money is."

But, he admitted, they had not found even a chance to earn a little money. They had sat on a good many park benches, he said, and had called at forty-nine restaurants seeking work to pay for meals. Finally, through a newspaper advertisement they found work on a farm at Hightstown at $12 a week.

At the end of the first week, Hunter said, the farmer refused to pay them, so they quit. When they hit Newark yesterday they were on their way back toward the Middle West, from which they had come.

GARSTIN REARRESTED; AGAIN FACES LIFE TERM

CLEVELAND, Aug. 18 (AP).—Bert N. Garstin, 48, paroled lifer from Sing Sing, tonight faced prosecution on a Mann act charge following an alleged elopement with a 19-year-old Pittsburgh girl.

Garstin, whose term was commuted in 1929 by Governor Roosevelt, is under $1,500 bond here pending hearing on removal to Washington. There, it is charged, he lived in a hotel with Miss Esther Hoefer, Pittsburgh stenographer, with whom he is alleged to have run away while working as solicitor for a Pittsburgh newspaper.

Return to Washington and conviction there on the Mann act charge will mean that Garstin will be surrendered to New York authorities upon completion of Federal sentence for return to Sing Sing.

Bert N. Garstin was freed last September from Dannemora prison, where he was serving a life term for grand larceny as a fourth offender. His freedom was won through the executive clemency of Governor Roosevelt, who wrote a memorandum expressing the hope that the next Legislature would amend the Baumes law to temper the rigidity of a clause under which judges have no choice but to sentence fourth offenders to life imprisonment.

Garstin was found guilty of grand larceny, second degree, by a jury in General Sessions in 1927 for defrauding John J. Hindon, a bond broker, out of $300 on a bogus check. Former convictions in Buffalo, Baltimore, Boston and Rochester were spread upon the records.

The jury that returned the verdict against him recommended mercy, but Judge Max S. Levine was compelled under the law to give the prisoner a life sentence.

RAINIER CLIMBER RESCUED.

Brought Up, Unconscious, From Ledge After Ice Bridge Breaks.

Special to The New York Times.

SEATTLE, Aug. 18.—A daring rescue of an unconscious University of Washington student, Seldon P. Todd, from a crevasse at the 13,000-foot level on Mount Ranier was revealed today by Professor Edmond S. Meany, president of The Mountaineers. Todd's life was saved by Ray Conway, former Portland (Ore.) mountain climber, and now a Seattle resident.

On the mountain with the party early Wednesday morning, Todd broke through an ice bridge spanning a crevasse and fell twenty feet to a narrow shelf. Conway was lowered by other members of the party and with the unconscious form of Todd in his arms was drawn up to the brink of the glacier. Todd had suffered a severe scalp wound.

First aid was administered by Dr. Philip M. Rogers, a member of the party, and the injured student, still unconscious, was carried for hours down the hazardous trail to camp. There he was placed in an automobile and taken to a Seattle hospital. His condition is not serious.

DENIES PLEA OF JANNICKY.

Judge Refuses to Dismiss Indictment Against Former Fire Official.

A motion to dismiss the indictment charging former Deputy Fire Commissioner Charles W. Jannicky of Brooklyn with conspiracy was abruptly denied yesterday by County Judge Albert Conway in Brooklyn. Judge Conway did not wait to hear the argument of the District Attorney.

Peter P. Smith, counsel for Mr. Jannicky, argued that the waiver of immunity signed by Jannicky July 17, when he appeared before the grand jury, was without force because it was not filed with the indictment but later. Mr. Smith contended the indictment was illegal for this reason and should be dismissed, the waiver being without effect.

"It is unnecessary for the District Attorney to submit any argument," Judge Conway said. He called Mr. Smith's argument a "legal technicality."

CANAL TRANSITS DECLINE.

Average This Month Is One Ship a Day Below July's Low Record.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

BALBOA, C. Z., Aug. 18.—Traffic through the Panama Canal during the first fifteen days of August shows a decline of an average of one ship daily, compared with the same period in July, when the daily average transits were 16.13. Unless the traffic increases during the remainder of the month, August will set a new low record for the present year, which up to this date is 318 transits and $688,941 in tolls behind last year.

sion that he was inclined to believe that the tax evasion counts for 1927 and 1928 lacked a jurisdictional basis. During those years, according to the government testimony, Doyle received as income in fees a total of $294,137, as compared with $152,275 named as his income in his tax returns.

Mr. Tuttle, in a discussion of almost an hour, asserted that the statute was concerned not merely with the actual filing of a return—in this instance in Brooklyn—but with the steps that led to it as well. He said that testimony showed that Doyle had kept incorrect records in Manhattan and had given false information to an internal revenue investigator and that these actions, as well as his oath to the return in Manhattan, constituted a part of the alleged crime completed in Brooklyn.

In substantiation of his contention that jurisdiction existed the United States Attorney cited rulings to show that when "an offense is begun in one judicial district and completed in another, it may be regarded as having been committed in either district." Doyle's allegedly false record books, his reception of a part of his fees in cash, his incorrect statements to the investigator all were "part" of the offense charged as laid down by the statute, Mr. Tuttle asserted. He pointed to the ruling of Federal Judge Patterson before the trial upholding Southern District jurisdiction.

Judge Martineau, who queried Mr. Tuttle closely at several points in his argument, clung at the end to his original contention that the Southern District lacked jurisdiction.

Motion to Dismiss Is Denied.

Former Judge Alfred J. Talley of Doyle counsel moved for dismissal of the other counts on the ground that the government had failed to make out a case. Judge Martineau, without much discussion, however, overruled him on these points.

Doyle will go to the jury facing the count which charges him with having received $95,083 in 1929 and with having declared only $76,800 of this in his return, and the two counts charging him with having sworn falsely to his 1927 and 1928 returns before internal revenue agents in Manhattan.

The defense contends that Doyle did not take this oath personally and Doyle's son was put on the stand to meet opposing government testimony. He said that his father's tax returns for those years were filled out in the Doyle home in Brooklyn by William Ruddy, a Brooklyn internal revenue agent, and that Doyle signed them in Mr. Ruddy's presence. He did not know whether his father or Ruddy took them away, he said.

Ruling Reduces Income.

On the 1929 tax evasion indictments Mr. Tuttle called Jacob M. Poss, a new witness to testify that he paid Doyle $2,500 in fees during that year for getting a modification of a zoning rule before the standards board. The United States Attorney also put Herbert J. Flesher, a Department of Justice accountant, on the stand to sum up his statistics, and during his testimony the defense gained a point when the judge ruled out $2,617 of his original total for 1929 as not having been proved as income. He also struck out for the same reason $21,357 for 1927 and $14,487 for 1928. By these rulings the government claim of Doyle's total fees for the three years was cut to $389,220, as compared with the $229,075 total he declared in his tax returns.

Mr. Tuttle also recalled Ely Maran, a Bronx builder, to tell again of a $10,000 cash payment he said he made to Doyle. He summoned a bookkeeper and an accountant to substantiate records of this payment. The defense is contesting this $10,000 fee as well as several others and asserts that when these fees and the split fees testified to by lawyers who brought business to Doyle are reckoned in comparison with the $95,083 income figure tabulated by the government for 1929, Doyle's income is shown to be within his declared figure of $76,800.

HUGE FRENCH FLEET MASSES AT TOULON

Opinion Supported That Whole Mediterranean Situation Is to Be Strengthened.

4 BATTLESHIPS IMPROVED

But Strategic Value Is Seen as Lost Because Rome Has Given Up Big Warcraft.

NEW COMMANDERS NAMED

Dardanelles Hero Sent to Bizerta, Regarded as Important Since It Is the Closest Base to Italy.

By CARLISLE MacDONALD.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PARIS, Aug. 18.—Recent indications that the French Ministry of Marine was engaged in a general review of the whole Mediterranean naval situation with a view to materially strengthening the French position in those waters is borne out by an article in tonight's Journal des Débats by René Labruyère, noted French naval expert.

Writing from Toulon, chief naval base of France, M. Labruyère discloses that all units of the French Mediterranean fleet—the largest single grouping of the French Navy—have been concentrated at the famous base under the command of Vice Admiral Durand Viel, whom he describes as "a young, energetic and remarkably competent navy leader."

"Intent on War Tasks."

After cruises in all parts of the world, during which the ships and officers and men underwent the most rigid tests and training, the writer says, the full Mediterranean fleet has reassembled at Toulon, "all units intent upon their war tasks." At a recent review before the President of the Republic in the waters of Algiers, the fleet carried out manoeuvres which M. Labruyère refers to as nothing short of "audacious, impeccable and nearly mathematically accurate."

Referring to four battleships which are included in the Mediterranean Fleet—the Provence, Bretagne, Courbet and Paris—M. Labruyère explains that the armaments of these vessels have all been reorganized and improved. Similar work will soon be carried out aboard the Lorraine, now at Brest, and the Jean Bart, in the Vauban Basin.

M. Labruyère then discusses the fact that Italy has virtually abandoned her battleships, thus robbing the French battleships of much of their strategy value, "since they are now without an opponent." He says, however, that the French battleships constitute a valuable reserve.

Much of the article then is taken up with the urgent need for protecting the French naval force against the torpedoes and aircraft of possible opponents.

Change Made in Commands.

Further proof of French naval activity in the Mediterranean is contained in important changes announced in the commands of three of the most important naval bases—Toulon, Brest and Bizerte—the last named being a Tunisian base. In explanation of the changes it was said that reorganization of the posts had been carried out to meet changing conditions.

To the Bizerte post has been appointed Vice Admiral Breart de Boisanger, one of the heroes of the Dardanelles. Bizerte is now regarded as a strategic point of much value, being the African base closest to Italy. Admiral Boisanger will also have the task of fortifying the northern coast of Africa, plans for which have been awaiting execution for some time.

The French press today prints details of another Franco-Italian border incident yesterday near St. Martin-Vésubie, about thirty-five miles north of Nice. Italian carabineers fired a number of shots at a party of French tourists who were attempting to cross into Italian territory at a point other than that prescribed by the Italian regulations. No one was wounded, and after being detained and questioned and their passports had been examined they were permitted to continue the journey across the border.

Fliers in Kansas and Oregon Have Gas-Line Trouble.

WICHITA, Kan., Aug. 18 (AP).—After being in the air less than twelve hours, the endurance plane City of Wichita, piloted by Charles Lander and R. O. Rudd, was forced down by a leaky gasoline line today. The fliers expect to take off again tomorrow after making repairs.

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 18 (AP).—Because of an intermittent air lock in gas lines and trouble experienced in taking oil aboard, the endurance monoplane On to Oregon, piloted by the three Rankin brothers, was landed at Rankin airport today, about twenty-four hours after they took off yesterday.

TOKYO COUNCILORS TACKLE NAVAL PACT

FAIR ATTITUDE DEMANDED

Chairman Denies Privy Council Is Hostile to Government—Thorough Study Planned.

By WILFRID FLEISHER.

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

TOKYO, Aug. 18.—Whatever tension existed in Japan regarding the fate of the London Naval Treaty has almost completely disappeared following the first brief meeting of the special investigation committee of the Privy Council this afternoon. The committee took no drastic action and its president, Baron Kuratomi, is reported to have said frankly that the generally rumored antagonism of the Privy Council toward the Hamaguchi Government did not exist.

The investigation committee includes those Privy Councillors who are believed to be antagonistic both to the treaty and the Minseito party and is headed by Count Miyoji Ito, a veteran power behind the scenes, who is regarded as a bitter enemy of Reijiro Wakatsuki, the chief delegate to the London Naval Conference. Another member, Viscount Kentaro Kaneko, who has also been rated as an enemy of the treaty, gave an interview recently in the course of which he assumed a most liberal attitude and even poked a little fun at the fuss the Privy Council was then raising.

In his opening speech Baron Kuratomi denied that the Privy Council was antagonistic toward the government. He recounted the circumstances which had led to the organization of the investigation committee and charged it to conduct its investigations in a strict but fair attitude as they would form the basis of the action to be taken by the Privy Council later. Baron Kuratomi then told of the circumstances which had caused Premier Hamaguchi to reject the Privy Council's request that he should submit the report of the Supreme War Council to it.

The chief secretary of the council, Hyoji Futakami, submitted a report of the investigation conducted by the council's secretaries, saying the mistakes in grammar and spelling appearing in the original text had been corrected.

Count Ito made a short address, after which the committee adopted the following resolutions:

1. That the consideration of Premier Hamaguchi's refusal to submit the report of the Supreme Military Council be postponed to a future date.
2. That the Supreme Command issue, being important as setting a precedent for future developments, must be made clear and that Admiral Takarabe's memorandum to the naval general staff should be examined.
3. That the new national defense plan must be carefully examined in order to prevent any serious defects from being passed.
4. That the plans for the disposal of the funds saved as a result of the treaty must be made known, since if the funds needed for the new defense plan exceeded the amount saved one of the major purposes of the treaty would be defeated and the reduction of the nation's tax burden through treaty savings would be impossible.
5. That the government be requested to furnish all the necessary data.
6. That subcommittees be named to tackle the detailed problems.

TWO STUDENTS KILLED IN AIR MANOEUVRES

Two Kelly Field Planes in Collision—Another Texas Flier Critically Injured.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Aug. 18 (AP).—Two students of the advanced flying school at Kelly Field, Donald Dewitt Campbell, aged 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Campbell of Anadarko, Okla., and Cadet Robert Lee Scott, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Scott of Bethany, Ill., were killed in an aerial collision at an altitude of 200 feet in attack manoeuvres near Von Ormy today.

Each of the fliers was piloting an A-3 attack ship in a nine-ship formation. Other pilots said the fleet was executing a difficult manoeuvre known to airmen as the "cross-over turn" when one flier, in attempting to shift position with his "element" of the formation, lost altitude and crashed into the lead ship in another "element."

Both ships plunged to the ground and were demolished. The formation was flying low as a regular part of ground attack training.

OVER 200-MILE SPEED FOR 'MYSTERY' PLANE

Navy Explains Construction Details of Craft Page Will Fly at Chicago.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—The "mystery plane" which Captain Arthur H. Page of the Marine Corps will fly as the navy entry in the Thompson Trophy free-for-all event in the national air races at Chicago will, the Navy Department asserted today, on the basis of recent performances attain a speed "in excess of 200 miles an hour."

The craft was constructed in the hope of developing a faster fighting airship for the navy and Marine Corps.

"It is the latest development of the Curtiss-Hawk navy fighter built four years ago," the department stated today. "It has been used by the Navy during the past few years as an experimental plane upon which to conduct tests of various kinds in connection with naval aeronautical research and development work. These tests have indicated many improvements and refinements which would make this Curtiss Hawk more serviceable as a fighting plane.

"All such improvements and refinements have been finally completed and are represented in the plane Captain Page will use at Chicago. The original Curtiss-Hawk was a biplane equipped with a Curtiss D-12 engine. The plane has been modified by removal of the lower wing, thus making the present fighter a monoplane. The original D-12 engine has been replaced by a Curtiss Conqueror water-cooled twelve-cylinder 600-horsepower engine. The entire radiation surface has been placed in the wing. The engine and pilot have both been closely cowled. The fuselage is constructed of welded steel tubing, while the wing is of wood and the tail surfaces are of metal covered with fabric. The landing gear of the modified fighting plane is unique, each wheel being mounted independently, rear struts done away with and one leg only exposed to each wheel."

INTERNATIONAL FLIERS HONORED AT DINNER

Airplane speeds of 500 miles an hour will be commonplace in the not distant future, Lieutenant Alford J. Williams, former navy flier, predicted last night at a dinner at the Ambassador at which James A. Talbot was host to the international flying team which will compete in the national air races starting in Chicago Saturday.

Realization of this goal is dependent, however, on the free international exchange of aeronautic ideas and improvements, Lieutenant Williams declared, and he hailed the visit of the foreign fliers as a step in encouraging such exchanges. About 150 guests, many of them leading figures in the aviation industry, attended the dinner.

The guests of the evening were Flying Lieutenant R. L. Atcherley of the British 1929 Schneider Cup team and Lieutenant Preston of the R. A. F., Marcel Doret of France, Frederick Loese of Germany, and Marshal Pietro Colombo of Italy. Among the other guests were C. S. (Casey) Jones, Captain Edward F. Rickenbacker, Commander Bruce Leighton, G. M. Bellanca, James B. Taylor Jr., Major William Ord Ryan and Colonel Gerald Brandt of Mitchel Field.

At 3:30 o'clock this afternoon the fliers will be received at the City Hall by Mayor Walker. They will be introduced to him by Colonel Peter J. Brady, chairman of the Mayor's Advisory Committee on Aeronautics.

Yesterday the foreign fliers visited Long Island, where they took turns flying amphibians from the seaplane base of the American Aeronautical Corporation at Port Washington, went swimming, and spent some time driving about the North Shore. They will leave for Chicago tomorrow.

Lieutenant Williams will not accompany them on the train. His own new Curtiss Seahawk, which he will fly in Chicago, is to be ready for its first test flight this afternoon. It will be towed to Mitchel Field and there Lieutenant Williams will make his first flight. He will then hop across to the Curtiss airport at Valley Stream and put the plane through more rigid tests. On Thursday he expects to fly to Chicago.

DIES IN HAWAII AIR CRASH.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

HONOLULU, Aug. 18.—Maurice M. Works of Amarillo, Texas, Second Lieutenant of the Air Corps at Wheeler Field, died this morning from a broken neck suffered when he crashed in attempting to land his pursuit plane at an emergency field near Haleiwa, on the north coast of Oahu.

He had been engaged in gunnery practice and came down to pick up a tow target which had been dropped on the emergency field. The undercarriage struck a sand dune with such force that the plane was wrecked.

Lieutenant Works was removed to the plantation hospital at Waialua, but died shortly after being admitted. He came here last March with a group of reserve fliers and recently received his commission in the regular army.

WILD WELL 'TAMED' IN OKLAHOMA CITY

Workers Check Stream and Spray That Soaked Eight Blocks of Residences.

FAMILIES RETURN TO HOMES

Special to The New York Times.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Aug. 18.—More than two score families and a dozen or more proprietors of small businesses were trekking back to their doorsteps this afternoon and preparing to take up life where they left off Sunday morning when they were driven out by an oil and gas well which was flowing wild in the north end of the Oklahoma City field.

The well is that of C. C. Julian of Los Angeles, and it was his second in this field. It was completed late Saturday and after flowing into tanks for twenty-four hours was shut in, but broke loose two hours later and ran for twenty-five hours before concrete was pumped into the hole to kill the flow of 200 barrels of oil an hour and 50,000,000 cubic feet of gas a day.

The rock pressure was estimated at 2,000 pounds to the square inch. A leak developed in the cellar of the well, and when mud and water were pumped out it was learned the flow was coming from between the six and nine inch strings of casing in the well. The upper valves were opened and most of the oil went into tanks, but some was sprayed over a section of eight blocks of residences, with the gas fumes being wafted more than a half mile.

Firemen were on duty constantly, and persons within the danger zone were relieved of matches and pocket lighters. Workmen used brass or rubber hammers to prevent causing sparks which might ignite the gas.

The well is but a mile and a half from the business section of Oklahoma City, with the intervening area closely built up in frame residences. Recent gushers in the area have left many of the houses oil soaked.

When news of the wild well was broadcast Sunday morning residents fled, some of the housewives leaving Sunday dinners on their stoves. All were cared for by the oil company at hotels and boarding houses.

With the cooperation of engineers from the major companies in the field, empty storage tanks were connected to the well, equipment designed for harnessing wild wells was rushed in and property lines and rivalry were forgotten in an effort to save the oil and near-by property.

Actual damage is not more than $50,000, since many of the houses in the vicinity were of frame and unpainted.

This was the third spectacular wild well in the field's history.

EAKER, FOR FIRST TIME, SAVED BY PARACHUTE

Army Flier Is Forced to Jump Before Plane Crashes Near His Mother's Home.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—Captain Ira C. Eaker, one of the best known airmen in the army, who piloted the Question Mark in its endurance test, was today forced for the first time in his long flying career to take to a parachute when a single-seater pursuit plane he was testing failed to come out of a spin which started at 3,500 feet elevation and crashed in an apple orchard in Anacostia, near Bolling Field.

The plane fell, a tangled mass, within fifty feet of the home of Mrs. E. G. Eaton and near where a score or more children were playing. Captain Eaker floated down with his parachute, landing a bare twenty yards from where the plane struck.

Jumping out less than 1,000 feet up, Captain Eaker hit the ground hard, injuring his right ankle but escaping serious injury. The parachute swung the flier perilously close to houses in the thickly settled section of Anacostia, where the plane fell and brushed him against treetops. He cut his left leg slightly in jumping from the plane.

"I dont know just what happened to prevent breaking the spin," Captain Eaker said after being brought back to Bolling Field. "I put the plane into a spin as a part of the test at an altitude of about 3,500 feet. It began to spin very fast, and nothing I could do seemed to break the spin.

"I experienced great difficulty getting out of the plane owing to the centrifugal force of the spin. Only by the greatest effort did I manage to get clear of the cockpit when the plane was very low."

"I remember everything very distinctly," Captain Eaker said. "I permitted the plane to make three turns in the spin, as is usual, before attempting to pull it out. Then I pushed the stick forward, but the plane did not respond. I looked back at the rudder and elevator to see what was wrong, but could see nothing unusual. I was then getting pretty low and decided that there was only one thing to do, to get out while I could.

"I must have been quite close to the ground when the parachute opened. I seemed to hit the ground just as I pulled the rip-cord."

FINISH THIRD LAP IN WOMEN'S DERBY

Mrs. O'Donnell and Miss Doig 20 Seconds Apart in Landing at Phoenix, Ariz.

ONE FORCED DOWN ON WAY

Officials Think Miss Barron May Have Met With Mishap in Desert Wastes.

PHOENIX, Ariz., Aug. 18 (AP).—Continuing their nip-and-tuck race for the lead in the National Women's Air Derby, Gladys O'Donnell of Long Beach, Cal., and Margery Doig of Danbury, Conn., finished the third lap of the Long Beach to Chicago flight here today separated by less than five minutes elapsed time.

While Mrs. O'Donnell completed the lap, which began in Calexico, Cal., first, she was followed 20 seconds later by Miss Doig, who gained 40 seconds during the flight. Mrs. O'Donnell's time from Calexico was 1 hour 24 minutes. The distance is approximately 180 miles.

Half an hour after Mrs. O'Donnell arrived, Jean La Rene of Kansas City, the third to arrive, set her plane down. She was followed half a minute later by Mildred Morgan of Beverly Hills, Cal., who started a minute ahead of Miss La Rene.

Ruth Stewart of St. Louis swooped down at the airport fifteen minutes later. Ruth Barron of Hollywood, Cal., last to get away from Calexico because of motor trouble was forced down at Holbrook, Ariz., this evening.

Entrant.	Elapsed Time.
Mrs. O'Donnell	2:37:53
Miss Doig	2:42:23
Miss La Rene	3:32:37
Miss Morgan	3:38:33
Miss Stewart	4:29:49

The fliers took off from San Diego, Cal., this morning, stopping at Calexico, 120 miles west, at noon. They reported good flying conditions over the route traveled so far, but complained of intense heat over the desert between Calexico and the Arizona border. Tomorrow's night halt will be made at Roswell, N. M.

Change Non-Stop Derby Date.

CHICAGO, Aug. 18 (AP).—Executives of the national air races announced today that the non-stop air derby between Los Angeles and Chicago, scheduled for Aug. 27, may be flown on any except the first day of the races, next Saturday.

Plans for a sky traffic control system for the race meet, unique in the history of air navigation, have been devised. One feature is the equivalent of a giant "stop and go" sign employing a white signal panel 45 feet by 28 feet, which operates in conjunction with a red light on the hangar roof.

For ten minutes in each half hour the airport will be open to air traffic not participating in races and at such times the panel will show white with the words "open" and the red light off. During the race events the signal panel will show orange with the word "closed" and the red light will be switched on. The air above and 1,000 feet on all sides of the airport will be restricted for race and special events.

PROMISES AIR SERVICE ACROSS THE ATLANTIC

British Air Ministry Book Tells of Proposed Routes for Regular Travel.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Aug. 18.—Regular organized air routes across the Atlantic are promised by the Air Ministry in a bluebook on the Colonial Office conference published today. When sufficient experience has accumulated with experimental flights of the R-100 and the R-101, it is stated, the Air Ministry intends to organize air trails from Cardington to Montreal and New York.

Three main routes which the airships are likely to follow are: First, the northern route via Cape Farewell, the most southerly point of Greenland; second, a direct route via Newfoundland, and third, a southerly route via the Azores.

Another route under discussion passes via the Faroe Islands and Iceland, over Greenland and thence via the Hudson Straits to Vancouver. An expedition under S. G. Watkins, assisted by the British and Canadian Governments, is now in Greenland examining possible bases for this air route.

The memorandum also describes experiments with floating seadromes in the United States, which would be anchored every 300 miles between New York and Plymouth via the Azores. "In all practical details, they will be replicas of land airdromes," says the Air Ministry, "and airships will be able to refuel and obtain repairs when necessary."

The airship service, the Air Ministry adds, will continue throughout the year, but the routes will vary according to seasons. It is officially denied that it is intended to send the R-100 back to Canada to bring Premier Bennett over for the Imperial Conference.

SCHNEIDER REACHES GOAL.

Lands at Los Angeles in Record Junior Cross-Country Flying Time.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 18 (AP).—Eddie Schneider, 18, of Jersey City, brought his plane to a landing at the municipal airport at 7:13 o'clock, Pacific Standard Time (11:13 o'clock, New York Time), tonight to finish his transcontinental flight and establish a new junior record of 29 hours 41 minutes, flying time.

French Aviatrix Fails to Set Record.

LE BOURGET, France, Aug. 18 (AP).—Bad flying conditions tonight forced Maryse Bastie, French aviatrix attempting to set a new women's duration flight record, to land here before accomplishing her purpose. She remained aloft nearly twenty-eight hours. The record, held by Lena Bernstein, is 35 hours 46 minutes 57 seconds.

Coste Still Earthbound.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PARIS, Aug. 18.—The weather again today disappointed Captain Dieudonne Coste, the French aviator whose plane is waiting at Le Bourget for an attempt to fly to New York. The wind increased to the violence of a gale.

FLIGHT IN THE NORTH STIRS PEKING CLASH

Rupture of Coalition Looms as Supporters of Yen and Feng Argue Over Loss of Tsinan.

NANKING LEADERS JUBILANT

RED DEFEAT IS NEXT AIM

Standard Oil Company Moves Its Equipment From Changsha, Still in Peril of Communists.

By HALLETT ABEND.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

SHANGHAI, Aug. 18.—The Shansi débâcle in Shantung Province is followed now by sensational rumors from the North, where the rupture of the Northern coalition is probable. Some of Yen Hsi-shan's supporters charge that Feng Yu-hsiang did not exert his utmost strength in his attacks on the Lunghai Railway front and that had he done so he could have saved Tsinan, capital of Shantung Province, for the Shansi troops. Charges of bad faith are flying thick and fast and there are assertions that a conspiracy is afoot to eliminate Yen.

The Shansi troops now are unable to counter attack and the Nanking Government is turning the weight of its crack troops against Feng's forces, which have evacuated Lanfeng and are in retreat toward Kaifeng and Chengchow. The demoralized Shansi troops have been planning a line from Tekohow to Ancheng, with second defense lines at Tsangchow, eighty miles south of Tientsin and west to Shilichiachuan.

Plans to Reopen Railroad.

It is believed that Nanking will not push northward from Tsinan at present but will concentrate against Feng and rush repairs on bridges and tracks to reopen the railway between Pukow and Tsinan. A new advance of Nanking forces northward on the Peking-Hankow Railway has been ordered and pressure will be brought against the rebels at Pochow and Kweiteh.

General Sun Chuan-feng, eclipsed and in retirement since the loss of the Shanghai area three years ago, is emerging into prominence as a member of the Peking Government. He is representing Mukden with the consent of Chang Hsueh-liang, Manchurian chief.

Ho Ying-ching, Nanking's War Minister, has called an interprovincial conference at Hankow of the governments of Kiangsi, Hunan and Hupeh to formulate measures to suppress bandits and Communists in that region.

Chungchi, on the Yangtse delta less than thirty miles from Shanghai, was twice raided by pirates this week-end and twenty-seven wealthy citizens kidnapped. All homes and shops were thoroughly looted. A government gunboat is pursuing the pirates.

The Standard Oil Company of New York announces the abandonment of its branch in Changsha and the removal of equipment and all stocks to Canton because of the continuance of the peril of Communists and the fact that the Siang River is falling, which will make Changcha inaccessible to naval aid. The British Consulate also is being abandoned. Its archives and furnishings are being removed, as the situation does not promise to return to safety for a long period. The American Consulate at Changsha has not been reopened since it was forced to close on July 26.

Chang Hsueh-liang was not assassinated, but he did escape the attack of a hired murderer. This with the development of a plot laid to the Manchurian General Ma Fing-fu, commandant of the Shanhaikwan gateway through the Great Wall, to march southward and seize Tientsin on behalf of the Nanking Government, is said to have enraged Chang and he thereupon decided upon being represented in the Peking Government.

Nanking Says War End Is Near.

NANKING, Aug. 18 (AP).—Sweeping claims of victory on the battlefields of Northern China caused government leaders today to predict the end of the civil war on terms dictated by the Nanking régime.

Government authorities said the rebels were not expected to make a stand east of Kaifeng, Honan capital, which was described as a place difficult to defend. The fall of Kaifeng to Nanking was believed by government officials to be imminent.

Nationalists now profess to believe the Kuominchun [Feng's army] will retreat into the mountains of Southern Shansi Province through the passes which for centuries have afforded avenues of escape for armies defeated on the plains of Honan.

Government officials predicted the rebels soon would be pushed well northward of the Yellow River. In Shantung the Nationalists asserted they had advanced north to Tsinan, driving the rebels across the Yellow River and capturing many.

Rebel forces along the Tsinan-Tsingtao Railway also were said to be retreating toward the northern border of Shantung.

Communist disorders continued spasmodically in the Yangtse Valley, with Reds pillaging the smaller places. However, their apparent disinclination to attack the larger cities other than Changsha has enabled the government to concentrate small bodies of troops in the major cities. This in turn has caused the Nanking Government to circulate reports that the Communist menace is under control.

Nevertheless, the Reds are believed able to strike against almost any community in Central and Southern China and will continue to be in that position until the government can withdraw some of its troops from the Northern civil war front for duty against the Reds.

Infantile Paralysis in Rumania.

BUCHAREST, Rumania, Aug. 18 (AP).—Infantile paralysis, reappearing in a more severe form than last year, has recently caused the deaths of six children here. Its spread has greatly alarmed the populace. The stricken children were mostly between the ages of 7 and 9 and died within two days. Other hopeless cases are reported.

SAYS WOMEN STUDENTS BALK ART PRODUCTION

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PARIS, Aug. 18.—The presence of young women scholars for the last three years at the Villa Medici in Rome has proved a disturbing influence to members of the French Academy of Beaux Arts there, it was said today at a special meeting of the academy, called because of the visit to Paris of Denys Puech, director of the Villa Medici.

Until three years ago only unmarried young men were admitted to the villa and no women were allowed to compete for scholarships, but the regulations were changed and the scholarships opened to women, many of whom were successful in obtaining them, and the men students were permitted to marry. According to a report made to the academy, the results have not been happy.

"The young students who went there formerly were like monks absorbed in their studies," said Charles Widor, secretary of the Academy of Beaux Arts. "The mere presence of young girls living in the same institution and working beside them has proved distracting to these men scholars. It has taken their thoughts off their work.

"Nor can married students wholly devote themselves to music. Either they have their minds partly taken up with household cares and worries or they are disturbed over their work by the jealousies or demands of their wives who do not want their husbands to neglect them and give all their time and thought to art. Some students have married models, but the results are the same—and it is art that suffers."

In this manner the feminine influence, which it had been hoped would be an inspiration has turned the institution away from the ideals of its foundation, which was to provide talented young art students with an opportunity for intensive study free from distractions and cares. It was requested that the institution return to the principles of the Villa Medici which produced such masters as Berlioz, Gounod, Bizet, Massenet and Massager, but the Beaux Arts Academy as yet has taken no definite action.

6 AMERICANS IN PERIL IN KANCHOW, CHINA

Missionaries, Including Bishop O'Shea of Deep River, Conn., Failed to Leave With Others.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

SHANGHAI, Aug. 18.—Six American Catholic missionaries trapped in Southern Kiangsi Province, dominated by Communists, are in grave danger, according to twelve refugees from Kanchow, Kiangsi, who have reached Hongkong via Canton after a journey of fourteen days of more than 250 miles, traveled for most part on foot.

Those at Hongkong are Bishop Dumont of France, Father McGillicuddy of Glens Falls, N. Y., Father Climont of Brooklyn, Father Corbett of Boston, Mothers Superior Pauline and Clara, and six Sisters of Charity from Emmitsburg, Md.

Bishop O'Shea of Deep River, Conn., remained at his post at Kanchow despite the certainty that the city would be captured by Communists the next day. Other Americans in this area whose fate is doubtful are Father Cahill of Philadelphia, Father Stauble of Syracuse, N. Y., Father Erbe of Erie, N. Y.; Father Curtis of Baltimore, Father Young of Smithtown, Long Island, and Father McLaughlin of Brooklyn.

Earlier in the Summer diplomatic pressure upon the Nanking Government forced retention in Kanchow of a brigade. But late in July the commandant ordered the troops to abandon Kanchow and march to the relief of Nanchang, which was besieged by Communists. Then a Communist army appeared across the river from Kanchow, and made ready to enter the town as soon as the brigade had evacuated it. Thereupon the refugees now in Hongkong fled.

With Bishop O'Shea in Kanchow were a French priest, a German Lutheran missionary and his wife, and five British missionaries.

WAIT FOR ROYAL BABY STILL ON AT GLAMIS

Vigil Is Broken by Funeral for Old Servitor of Father of Duchess of York.

GLAMIS, Scotland, Aug. 18 (AP).—The good folk of the British Isles have concluded that royal babies, like those of lesser rank, are born when they are born, and not before. For two weeks they have waited for the news that the Duchess of York, daughter-in-law of King George and Queen Mary, had presented to Britain another heir presumptive to the throne.

J. R. Clynes, the Home Secretary, must officially attest the birth, and he has cooled his heels in Scotland while awaiting the great event. He has taken frequent rides through the countryside, but has been careful to remain within call. So, likewise, has the Duke of York, who now and then goes out, but not far, to play golf.

For a fortnight, too, there has been erected high on Hunters' Hill a beacon that will blaze the news to the countryside, as word of peril once was spread. A great heap of wood was piled there by farmers and villagers, and bits of it disappear with souvenir hunters daily.

At the foot of the hill lie great casks of ale, provided by the Earl of Strathmore, father of the Duchess, for Glamis Castle retainers. It has not been tapped, but many of the thirsty are hoping that the new baby appears soon.

Despite the waiting, however, there is no anxiety for the Duchess—merely a feeling that a miscalculation has been made in time. The birth is expected any day.

Glamis Castle witnessed today the last rites for one of its aged servitors, William Fairweather. For thirty years Fairweather was head gamekeeper to the Duchess of York's father, and the Earl was near tears today as his old retainer was lowered into a grave on the estate. The Duke and Duchess of York sent a wreath of red and white roses to the funeral.

BUDGET LISTS FORDS FOR EUROPE'S LABOR

HELD PART OF REAL WAGE

Survey of Seventeen Cities Also Will Provide for Telephones, Radios and American Household Ware.

By CLARENCE K. STREIT.

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

GENEVA, Aug. 18.—Amount in cost of labor hours, translated into currency of the region, for Ford workers in seventeen cities scattered over Europe, to buy and maintain a Ford automobile, is one specific item in the average worker's family budget the International Labor Office has drawn up in its investigation intended to answer the Ford Company's inquiry as to what wage it would have to pay in those cities in order to pay the equivalent of the $7 a day minimum in Detroit.

The budget is based on one which the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics found to be the average for 100 typical Ford workers' families in Detroit. It has now been sent to the governments of all European countries where Henry Ford has or plans to have factories, as a basis for their experts to determine the prices of various items in the respective cities.

Since the workers in the various countries might prefer to spend their wages on other things than automobiles, radios, &c., that figure in the Detroit budget, the Labor Office first planned to lump all such items, which total about 10 per cent in the Detroit budget, under the heading of miscellaneous and treat such expenditure as 10 per cent surplus, which the European worker could spend as he pleased. On second thought, however, it decided to make specific inquiry about automobiles and several other of these items, such as newspapers, telephone, postage and tobacco, thus reducing the unitemized miscellaneous surplus to about 5 per cent of the total budget.

Ford Held Least Expensive Car.

The Ford car was chosen as the least expensive and the Ford Company was asked to supply data on how much its car and gasoline and tires would cost in each of the seventeen cities. The result, incidentally, will give an idea of the comparative price and cost of upkeep of the same car in the various countries.

The Detroit inquiry showed that forty-seven out of a hundred families had cars costing an average of $211, with an upkeep averaging $78 a year.

The newspaper was the sole miscellaneous item in which 100 per cent of the Detroit Ford families indulged, the average expenditure of each for news being $12 a year. Consequently, the European worker will be allowed a newspaper too.

Nineteen Detroit families used postage on an average expenditure of $1.65, and Europeans will be allowed whatever the domestic postage on the eighty-two letters this represents costs in their country.

Only forty-three Detroiters spent money telephoning, making an average on a basis of a hundred families of only $1.70. Since this represents thirty-four nickel calls the European will be allowed whatever a similar number of booth calls would cost in his city.

$19 a Year for Tobacco.

Tobacco, which eighty-four Detroiters used, making an average expenditure for each of the 100 families of $19, will be compared on a basis of what popular-priced cigarettes and pipe tobacco cost in Europe.

Radio, church donations, charities and other items hard to compare accurately remained lumped together in the miscellaneous surplus.

The Labor Office budget is shorter than the Detroit one, on which it is based, containing only about 70 per cent as many items. It was thought unnecessary to go into such minute detail in all respects as in Detroit for expenditures which formed only a trifling fraction of the whole budget. The condensing is done, however, with a view of an unchanging basic character of the budget in the slightest.

Samples of Detroit workers' clothing and various articles of household equipment which the Labor Office ordered in Detroit to assure accuracy in comparing prices are now en route. When received they will be sent out on a tour of the seventeen cities. In the meantime the investigation is being confined to items on which samples are impossible.

The original plan of the Labor Office to send out its own staff of men to carry on this investigation has been dropped and the field work is being done on a basis of Labor Office instructions by governmental experts in each country, Geneva giving them staff help when requested. Final results are expected by the end of the year.

LEAGUE OPIUM BODY MEETS.

Board Will Study First Annual Reports Submitted by States.

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

GENEVA, Aug. 18.—The permanent Central Opium Board of the League of Nations began its regular session, which is expected to last a fortnight, here today. The board will examine the first annual reports—those for 1929—submitted by the various countries on their manufactures, imports, exports and consumption of drugs.

The board, which began functioning in 1929, has the duty of deciding when the drug production or commerce of any country appears to be excessive, but hitherto it has lacked the data on which to base decisions. Some believe annual reports covering several years will be needed before the board will be in a position to determine when a country's drug commerce is excessive. The board also will examine the statistics on the distribution of raw opium and coca leaves.

Herbert L. May of New York is among the eight members of the board attending the session.

TURKEY REPLACES ENVOY.

Husrey Bey Gets Persian Post From Which Ambassador Was Recalled.

ISTANBUL, Turkey, Aug. 18 (AP).—The Turkish Ambassador to Teheran, Persia, Memdou Chavket Bey, who has been recalled to Angora, will be replaced by the present Turkish Minister to Sofia, Bulgaria, Colonel Husrey Bey, former officer of the Turkish General Staff and army comrade of President Kemal.

The reason for the recall of Memdou Chavket Bey has not been announced. Colonel Husrey Bey was ordered to take up his new post as quickly as possible.

LINER TAHITI SINKS; ALL ABOARD SAVED

Steamship Ventura Will Take Passengers to Samoa, Then to San Francisco.

SIX BAGS OF MAIL LOST

Naval Governor at Pago Pago to Take Steps to Care for the Survivors of Wreck.

WELLINGTON, N. Z., Aug. 18 (AP).—The British steamer Tahiti, which had been in distress three days, went down in the South Pacific today after her 317 occupants—passengers and crew—were safely aboard the American steamer Ventura.

The Ventura immediately headed for Pago Pago, the American naval base in Samoa, to discharge her island passengers. Then she will go to San Francisco to land the Americans and Europeans.

After leaving Wellington for San Francisco, due there Aug. 29, the Tahiti lost her starboard propeller and sprang a leak about 460 miles southeast of Raratonga, Cook Islands. While the wireless crackled out calls for aid and ships in those waters raced to the position the vessel drifted about sixty miles with a strong current before ships came up.

The mails aboard the Tahiti suffered somewhat. Six bags of letters were lost in the transfer to the Ventura and all newspapers and parcels went down. About fifty other bags were watersoaked but were saved.

Governor of Samoa to Aid.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—Secretary of the Navy Adams stated this evening that the Naval Governor of Samoa will take steps to care for the passengers and crew of the wrecked British vessel.

"The question of the transportation home of the Tahiti passengers and crew will in all probability be solved by the owners of the Tahiti," Secretary Adams said. "We will naturally stand by to do anything we can."

The American Consul at Wellington, New Zealand, Bernard Gotlieb, reported to the Department of State today on the rescue of the crew and passengers of the Tahiti, including nineteen Americans.

The Ventura is a warranted ship of the United States Merchant Marine Naval Reserve. She was warranted on May 27, 1929, and given permission to fly the flag of the Naval Reserve. Her master, William Robert Meyer, is a Lieutenant Commander in the Naval Reserve.

Crew to Be Left at Pago Pago.

Special to The New York Times.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 18.—The Ventura will bring the Tahiti passengers to San Francisco via Honolulu, arriving at Honolulu Aug. 25 and here Sept. 1. The crew of the Tahiti will be left at Pago Pago to be picked up later by a Union freighter or a passenger liner and taken back to Wellington.

Will Arrive This Afternoon.

PAGO PAGO, Tutuila, Aug. 18 (AP).—The Ventura wirelessed she would arrive here at 1 P. M. tomorrow (7:30 P. M. New York Daylight Time) with all passengers and crew of the Tahiti.

One hundred and sixty-five of the 317 persons rescued by the Ventura will disembark here. The remainder will continue to San Francisco. Those who will land here are the 149 members of the crew, including four stewardesses, and sixteen passengers, seven men, eight women and one child.

MARSHALL FIELD 3D WEDS MRS. COATS

Two London Ceremonies Unite Chicagoan and British Society Leader.

BRIDE FLEES REPORTERS

Bridegroom Lures Them Away at Registry—Church Service Where Hudson Worshiped.

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Aug. 18.—Marshall Field 3d of Chicago, whose grandfather founded a great mercantile house, and Mrs. Dudley Coats, who has been prominent in London society, were married today at the Marylebone Registry Office. Later a religious ceremony was held in the little Church of St. Ethelburga the Virgin, in which Henry Hudson and his crew made communion before Hudson commenced his first American voyage of discovery, in 1607.

One evening newspaper described the event as the "most exciting wedding London has known for years," while the London press generally gave it as much space, if not more, than the return of the dirigible R-100 from Canada yesterday.

Owing to the bride's wish for a strictly secret civil marriage, that ceremony took place at 8:30 A. M., immediately after the Registry Office was opened. The news spread quickly, however, and large crowds gathered outside, but the bridal party eluded them, leaving the building by the mews at the rear and hurrying away in a taxicab to the wedding breakfast, chased clear across London by photographers.

Tiny Church Crowded.

The Rev. Dr. Geike-Cobb conducted the benediction service later in the day. St. Ethelburga's is closed during August but was reopened especially for the ceremony. The tiny church was crowded to capacity with friends of the couple. As the choir sang from an oaken balcony, sunlight poured through stained-glass windows commemorating the explorer, Hudson. A reception at Claridge's was held afterward. The honeymoon will be spent hunting in Africa, the couple using the bridegroom's private airplane.

At the registry office the bridegroom described himself as the divorced husband of Evelyn Field, formerly Miss Marshall. His age was given as 36 and the bride's as 28.

The religious ceremony of the Church of England was performed despite the recent recommendation of the Lambeth Conference in session here that the marriage of a divorced person should not be celebrated according to the rites of the Church.

LONDON, Aug. 18 (AP).—Only half a dozen friends witnessed the civil marriage ceremony of Mr. Field and the widow of Captain Coats. Among them were William Rollo, Mrs. Alexander Faucus, Mrs. Margaret Brassey and Edward F. J. James, youngest brother of the bride, who before her first marriage was Miss Audrey James, daughter of Mrs. William James, a prominent London hostess.

The bride wore a blue costume of georgette, a blue hat and navy blue suede shoes. The bridegroom lured the newspaper photographers away from his bride after the civil ceremony, enabling her to escape. On the steps of the church, however, when the religious ceremony had been completed, Mrs. Field got her husband to consent to pose with her for many photographs.

After several months of travel, Mr. and Mrs. Field will take up residence in Chicago. Mrs. Field has many friends in America, having often visited there. Mr. Field arrived in England on Thursday on the liner Majestic.

Mrs. Evelyn Marshall Field, daughter of Mrs. Charles H. Marshall of New York and London, divorced Mr. Field at Reno, Nev., on Aug. 4, a few hours after filing a petition. They were married on Feb. 6, 1915, and have three children, Marshall Jr., Barbara and Bernice.

SOVIET SEIZES COINS TO COMBAT HOARDING

Wide Search Being Made to End Practice Laid to People's Fear of Inflation.

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

MOSCOW, Aug. 18.—The four men put to death the other day by an OGPU firing squad in Moscow for hoarding gold and silver money and small change were accused of counter-revolutionary speculation. The names of the men were Bogdanoff, a speculator; Simonoff, a cashier, and Froloff and Mashkoff, private merchants. Some of them amassed as much as 5,000 rubles (about $2,500) in coins.

In Kiev a woman peddler earning perhaps 2 or 3 rubles a day was arrested for having 800 rubles in small change, and a search throughout that town uncovered hoards of small change amounting to 30,000 rubles.

In Moscow the directors of restaurants and stores were searched for possible hoarding. Peasants and other persons throughout the country imagine that the paper ruble is being inflated as in earlier days, when the ruble reached 50,000,000 to the dollar. Therefore they hold all the metal money they can get, causing a big shortage of change and making the government mint work overtime to relieve it.

The ruble still has the same gold backing as always, and the reason for the imagined inflation is the shortage of manufactured goods and foodstuffs. The fact is there is more money in circulation than there are things to buy. The money the government seizes in searches is immediately put back into circulation.

SOVIET HOLDS 2 AMERICANS.

Both Accused of Attacking Negro, and One Also Faces Girl's Charge.

STALINGRAD, Russia, Aug. 18 (AP).—Two Americans, their names given as Lewis and Brown, both mechanics at the new tractor plant here, are under arrest for serious offenses under the Soviet penal code.

They are accused of attacking an American Negro worker. Lewis, a member of the Communist Youth League, is also charged with attacking a Russian girl. He was kept in jail, while Brown was allowed to go free until his trial.

REICH PARTY INSISTS WAR FOES DISARM

URGES FRONTIER REVISION

Platform Also Demands Reparations Be Revised and War-Guilt Clause Be Stricken Out.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

BERLIN, Aug. 18.—The election platform of the Treviranus-Westarp section of the former Nationalist party—now known as the People's Conservative party—as announced today contains all the often reiterated Nationalist demands. It calls for a revision of the reparations or "tribute plan," a revision of frontiers, the striking out of the war guilt clause, the disarmament of victor States to put them on an even footing with disarmed Germany and the services of a chartered accountant on the Ministerial budgets.

On internal affairs the People's Conservative party demands a rearrangement of the division of functions between the Reich and the Federal States to do away with duplication and gaps between what the Reich attends to and that for which the States are responsible. Aid for distressed agriculture in the eastern provinces likewise is demanded.

Summing up its demands as "new roads to old goals," the proclamation concludes with an appeal for cooperation in all the arduous tasks of the future and urges a revision of the electoral system with a view to tightening the bonds between the Reichstag members and their constituents. The People's Conservative group represents those old guard Nationalists who were unable to agree with Dr. Hugenberg but who have in no wise lessened their militant Nationalism.

Meanwhile President von Hindenburg has let it be known that he does not intend to be drawn into any political argument or to take sides in the coming election. His statement was occasioned by recent rumors that he has been meeting this or that party leader, from which hopefuls drew the conclusion that the President was going to try to steer things. The President denied this was the case.

Revisionist Aspirations Denied.

BERLIN, Aug. 18 (AP).—The Foreign Office said today that the policy of Dr. Julius Curtius, Foreign Minister, would continue along the same lines laid down by the late Dr. Gustav Stresemann, especially in regard to the Polish Corridor and other frontier questions.

This followed a speech made earlier this month by Gottfried R. Treviranus, German Minister for the Occupied Areas, who complained that Germany had been unjustly treated in the matter of her eastern boundaries. Polish opinion immediately became excited, especially regarding the controversial corridor.

At the same time the Foreign Office denied reports that Germany contemplates introducing the question of revision of the Treaty of Versailles at the League of Nations meeting next month. "This is arrant nonsense," it was said.

REPORTS REVOLT IN SOVIET.

Bucharest Paper Says Peasants Have Risen Over Grain Confiscation.

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

BUCHAREST, Aug. 18.—The newspaper Tzara reports tonight that a peasant revolt has been in progress in Soviet Russia for the last three days. The newspaper, the accuracy of whose account it is impossible to check, alleges Russian counter-revolutionaries from Berlin and Paris have been traveling in the Ukraine and White Russia stirring up the peasantry in the interests of the Czarists.

The peasants, said to be irritated by new confiscations of grain, are reported to have responded enthusiastically to the agitation and to be holding wide areas. It was to counteract this anticipated reawakening of Czarist reactivity, says the paper, that General Kutiepoff recently was kidnapped in Paris by Bolshevist agents.

LIBERALS JOIN MOVE TO AID EMPLOYMENT

Lloyd George and Aides Explain New Scheme to Labor Ministers to Provide Jobs.

TARIFF PLAN IS RUMORED

Trades Union Congress Agenda Has Proposals for 40-Hour Week and Paid Holidays.

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Aug. 18.—Having sworn a bond of secrecy similar to that applying to cabinet meetings, the Ministers of the MacDonald Government and the Liberal leaders continued today their efforts to unravel the unemployment tangle.

Since the last meeting the unemployment figures have mounted to more than 2,000,000 and today David Lloyd George, accompanied by the Maquess of Lothian and Seebohm Rowntree spent two hours in explaining to Vernon Hartshorn, the Lord Privy Seal, and to Herbert Morrison, Minister of Transport, the details of the new Liberal party schemes for providing jobs.

Stanley Baldwin, leader of the Conservative party, has already declared against joining the parleys on unemployment on the ground that the policy of the MacDonald Government is against protective tariffs, which the Conservatives hold offer the only means by which employment can be increased.

Duringthe week-end the report that the MacDonald Government was "toying" with a proposal to impose a 10 per cent import duty on manufactured goods was revived in a section of the Rothermere press, but as yet no Minister has been drawn into making a pronouncement on what, for Labor, would be a revolutionary scheme.

Revenue Need Stressed.

It was E. D. Simon, Liberal member of Parliament, who set the ball rolling with the suggestion that a 10 per cent duty on manufactured imports was worth considering. Then, a week later, it was divulged that the same proposal had been made in a memorandum which S. H. D. Henderson, head of the advisory staff of the government's economic council, had submitted to the Cabinet for discussion at the Imperial Conference. Mr. Henderson's proposal includes a rebate for the dominions and the 10 per cent duty is defined as being for revenue purposes only.

How pressing this need for new revenue is may be seen from the statement Miss Margaret Bondfield, Minister of Labor, recently made in the House of Commons. When submitting a proposal to raise the borrowing powers of the unemployment insurance fund to $300,000,000 she said that if the average number of unemployed remained at about 2,000,000, the borrowing powers would be exhausted at the end of next January, and that if the average rose to 2,300,000 the borrowing powers would be exhausted by the end of November.

It is said the government hopes the three-party committee examining the finances of the unemployment fund will have completed its work by Autumn, when a bill to increase the borrowing powers will again have to be introduced in Parliament.

Some conservative journals suggest the government is contemplating a reduction of the weekly dole to the unemployed by half a dollar.

To Urge Shorter Hours of Work.

The desire of the British workers for shorter hours and holidays with pay receives prominence in the final agenda for the Trades Union Congress, which will meet at Nottingham on Sept. 1.

Seven unions have tabled resolutions for a shorter working day and three for pay during holidays. Some of these resolutions demand a reduction of hours to forty-four or to forty a week, or to six a day. Others are more explicit in relating their demand to rationalization.

The argument appears to be that improvements in mechanical methods and in industrial organization permit a greater output in a shorter time and that some of the gain ought to be realized as an increase of leisure. The union of sheet metal workers suggests a forty-hour week without a reduction of wages would absorb a number of the unemployed and would afford greater opportunities for leisure and instruction.

The union of municipal workers proposes the working week should consist of five days of eight hours each because "modern methods of production have speeded up labor operations to such an extent that the nerve strain imposed on those involved is inimical to health and efficiency."

The Transport and General Workers Union has decided to press for "adequate State pensions for persons aged 65 and over in order to provide avenues of employment for younger workers.

TO STUDY INDIAN EDUCATION

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Aug. 18.—There will be three Americans on the special commission leaving England in the Fall to undertake a survey of Christian higher education in India under the chairmanship of Dr. S. D. A. Lindsay, master of Balliol College, Oxford.

The American members of the commission are Dr. William Adams Brown, Roosevelt Professor of Systematic Theology at the Union Theological Seminary, New York; Dr. William J. Hutchins, president of Berea College, Kentucky, and Dr. Oscar Buck of the Drew Theological Seminary at New Jersey, who will be the secretary.

The other members of the commission include Canon O. A. W. Davies, secretary of the missionary council of the Church Assembly, formerly Vice Chancellor of Agra University; Dr. Nicol MacNicol of the Scottish Mission in Poona and lately secretary of the National Christian Council of India. The Indian members are S. S. K. Datta of the world's committee of the Y. M. C. A., former member of the Indian Legislative Assembly, and S. S. N. Mukarji, principal of St. Stephen's College, Delhi.

The purpose of the commission will be to see how far Christian higher education in India today is efficiently fulfilling its purpose in relation to the rising standards of the government institutions.

On its return in April, 1931, the commission will report to the mission board and to missionary conferences in Great Britain and America.

Australia's Finances Seen in Serious Plight; Premier May Defer His Departure for London

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

MELBOURNE, Australia, Aug. 18.—A conference which representatives of Federal and State Governments held today with Sir Otto Niemeyer of the Bank of England took such a serious view of Australia's financial plight that the departure of Prime Minister J. H. Scullin for the London Imperial conference may be postponed. Mr. Scullin was unable to attend the conference because of a chill and therefore could not give his assent to proposals for cutting Federal expenditures which, it is understood, Mr. Niemeyer suggested with the backing of the State Premiers.

Various States made big reductions in Ministerial and public service costs and salaries and urged Mr. Scullin's Federal Ministry to do the same.

Premier Moore of Queensland, before entering the parley, said the Commonwealth sales tax was costing his government $250,000 a year which it was not prepared to pay unless the Commonwealth reciprocated in regard to general economies. Premier Bavin of New South Wales reiterated a proposal for a non-partisan council representing all the Australian Ministries and backed by the authority of all the Parliaments to handle the financial crisis.

Mr. Scullin tonight issued a farewell memorandum in which he stated that, despite the proposed changes in inter-imperial relations, "the essential unity of Britain and the Dominions would be preserved in a system of consultation and cooperation in our common affairs," and added that at the conference he would attempt to win for Australia a greater share in the British market, "either by further tariff preferences or a scheme of bulk purchase."

323,770 ACRES SOLD IN CZECH LAND DEALS

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PRAGUE, Aug. 18.—One of the greatest land transactions ever put through in Europe was concluded today at Olmuetz between the Czechoslovak Land Reform Office and the chancellory of the ruling Prince of Lichtenstein, and another between the land office and the wealthy Order of Teutonic Knights.

To avoid forcible measures of confiscation and redistribution of their estates under the Czechoslovak land reform scheme both parties made a "voluntary arrangement" with the Land Reform Office.

The figures show the magnitude of the transactions. In connection with an agreement negotiated four years ago, the Prince of Lichtenstein surrendered against a limited payment as compensation 70,000 hectares (172,900 acres) of land, mostly rich, arable soil, to the State for redistribution. By the new agreement the Prince of Lichtenstein surrenders another 40,000 hectares (98,800 acres), leaving the Prince with 50,000 hectares (128,500 acres) of valuable land in the Czechoslovak Republic.

The value of the surrendered estates cannot be calculated accurately, but 1,500,000,000 Czech crowns is an approximate figure—nearly $50,000,000.

The Order of Teutonic Knights owned in the republic 21,000 hectares (51,780 acres), of which it has now surrendered 9,000 hectares.

Both tracts of land acquired are near the German frontier and will be colonized largely by Czechs as a barrier against Germany.

Although the State paid nothing approaching the market value for the two properties, it is understood the owners obtained much better terms than were possible under the original land reform program. The Prince of Lichtenstein owes his milder treatment to the intervention of the British Minister at Prague with Foreign Minister Dr. Eduard Benes, while the Vatican intervened to protect the interests of the great German Catholic Order of Teutonic Knights.

CALLS SALVATIONIST HEADS.

Gen. E. J. Higgins Sets High Council Meeting in London in November.

LONDON, Aug. 18 (AP).—The high council of the Salvation Army will meet in London in November to discuss future policies—the first gathering since it deposed General Bramwell Booth at Sunbury Court in January of last year.

General Edward J. Higgins, who succeeded General Booth, has called the meeting because he is anxious to consult the Army leaders upon many matters affecting the interests of the organization throughout the world. He wishes to receive the benefit of their experience and opinions on plans for development and advance in various phases of the Army's work.

It is said that this high council meeting will be further evidence of the General's desire to obtain the advice of his leading officers upon points of policy.

At the last high council meeting at Sunbury it was stated that a complete democratization of the Army organization would be one result of the change of leadership.

HELEN STILL DEAF TO CAROL'S PLEAS

Bucharest Paper Says Widening Breach Prevents Holding Coronation Until Spring.

MORGANATIC UNION HINTED

Government Refuses to Deny King Threatens to Wed Mme. Lupescu, as Diplomat Has Asserted.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

BUCHAREST, Aug. 18.—It is reported by the newspaper Dimineata that the whole scheme for a reconciliation between King Carol and Queen Helen has again broken down. Queen Helen yesterday left Sinai, where she had been staying with other members of the royal family, and went to Mamaia near Constanza on the Black Sea. She took with her her son, Prince Michael.

It is believed that her departure is connected with fresh difficulties between her and Carol. All newspapers report unofficially that preparations for the coronation have been interrupted and that the ceremony has been postponed until Spring. Official statements are refused, but no dementi has been issued.

There is no confirmation of rumors that Queen Helen intends to go abroad and that King Carol is threatening to contract a morganatic marriage with Mme. Magda Lupescu.

VIENNA, Aug. 18 (AP).—Rumanians in Vienna said today they understood that King Carol, in the event he fails at reconciliation with his wife, Queen Helen, is planning a morganatic marriage with Mme. Magda Lupescu, the red-haired woman for whom he once renounced his throne.

Their information was based upon the word of a foreign diplomat who recently passed through Vienna from Bucharest, who said that he shared the convictions of the King's entourage that the breach between Carol and Helen was widening.

Queen Helen, he asserted, would be too proud, not to say religious, to be contented to lead a merely shadowy existence as Queen while a rival held the affections of the King and really wielded the regal powers in the land.

According to the diplomat, Carol is temporizing on the matter of coronation and brought its postponement from Oct. 15 to next Spring because he has his misgivings as to how the nation, and especially the army, will take the news that he is planning a morganatic marriage with Mme. Lupescu. The allegation that the postponement is dictated by economic conditions in the country is scouted, it being pointed out that the coronation is planned on the most simple scale.

GETS GERMAN DECORATION.

Dr. Lewald, 70, Physical Culture Head, Receives "Eagle Shield."

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

BERLIN, Aug. 18.—President von Hindenburg again showed his unflagging interest in sport and his appreciation of the place which physical culture holds in the nation's life when he presented to Dr. Theodor Lewald, chairman of the National Physical Culture Commission, the "Eagle Shield" on the latter's seventieth birthday today. The "Eagle Shield" is the nearest thing to a decoration permitted in republican Germany.

Dr. Lewald, who was the German commissioner at the World's Fair at St. Louis in 1904, and who made a tour of the United States about two years ago to inspect the stadiums and sports grounds, has devoted himself for years to the promotion of sport and to the physical training of German youth. He also has a long career as Under-Secretary of State for the Ministry of the Interior behind him.

The President sent a letter along with the shield, in which he expressed the gratitude of himself and the Reich to Dr. Lewald. Chancellor Bruening and Dr. Curtius, the Foreign Minister, were among those who telegraphed birthday greetings to Dr. Lewald.

COLOMBIA PICKS DELEGATE.

C. D. Castro to Attend Pan-American Agricultural Parley.

Special Correspondence, THE NEW YORK TIMES.

BOGOTA, Aug. 13 (by Air Mail).—Colombia, with natural resources of enormous extent still untouched, will be represented by Carlos Duran Castro, agronomist, at the Pan-American conference on agriculture, forestry and animal industry, to be held in Washington from Sept. 8 to 20, according to an announcement by Minister of Industries Francisco J. Chaux.

This appointment was made in response to an invitation received by the government through the secretary of the board of directors of the Pan American Union, and is in line with the policy announced by President Olaya Herrera, promising closer cooperation with the United States. Colombia's delegate is at present director of the Cotton Grange of the State of Valle and is well informed on the natural resources of the country.

Italian Fascist Party Says Many Listed as Dead Are Alive.

ROME, Aug. 18 (AP).—An order sheet of the Fascist party said today that the total deaths in the earthquake of July 23 numbered only 1,475, in contrast to the previous official total of 2,142.

The statement said that the reason for the reduction was that many persons had been found who previously had not answered roll-call in the stricken towns because they had fled to the hills or to relatives in other villages.

It also said that a complete list of the dead with names and places of residence soon would be issued, and condemned reports published abroad at the time of the earthquake that the deaths ranged from 5,000 to 15,000, with millions homeless. It denied that the government had hidden the truth for purposes of promoting the tourist business.

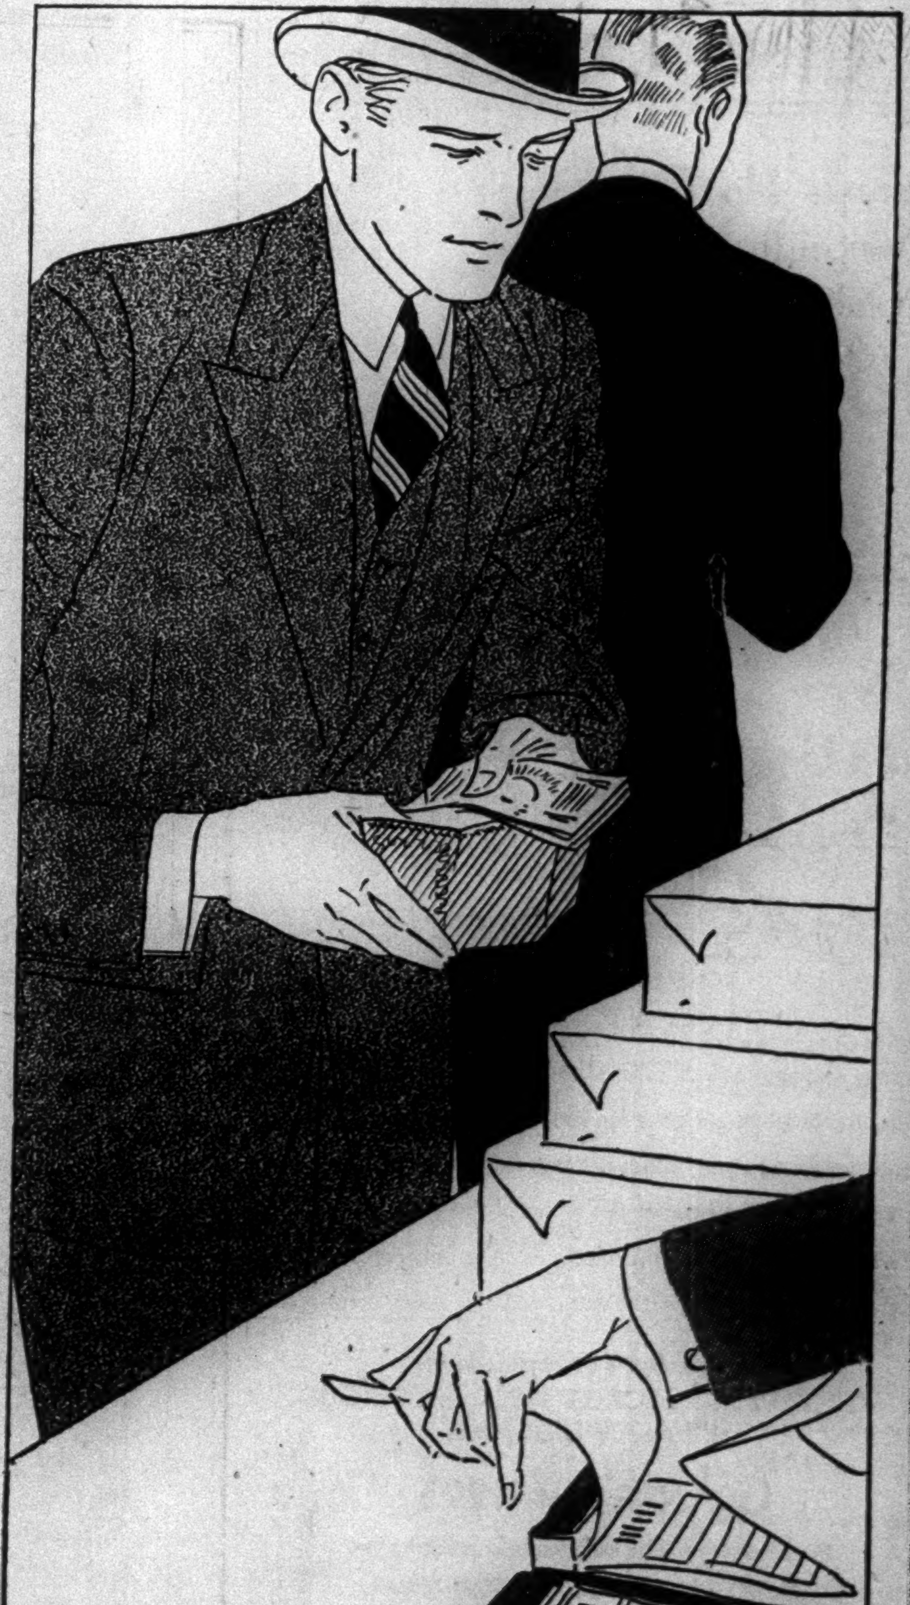
WHY did this man buy two $74.50 suits and one Sackville* $37.50?



Seems queer doesn't it? If he could afford $75 suits why did he also buy a "$37.50"?

There are two answers—both right, we believe.

In the first place he wanted a "utility" or economy suit. The same man doesn't make his large, expensive automobile stand all the wear and tear of everyday usage. He has a small, but equally smart one to help bear the burden. This rather sane procedure applies as well to clothes.

In the second place the style of the Sackville so accurately approximates more expensive clothes that there was no reason for his not buying it on that score. And when we showed him the fine stuff it was made of he couldn't see a better way of spending thirty-seven dollars and fifty cents.

HAPSBURG ADMIRERS HONOR FRANZ JOSEF

Centennial Ceremonies Are Held in Austria and Hungary for Dead Emperor.

FEW AT VIENNA RITES

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

VIENNA, Aug. 18.—A ghost from the past—the ghost of an old man with world-famous whiskers, bald head and wrinkled forehead, in the uniform of an Austrian Field Marshal, his breast ablaze with medals—walked during the week-end at the precincts of the palace and villas where he ruled a mighty empire for a longer period than any other European monarch. A hundred years ago today, Franz Josef was born in the same palace of Schöenbrun, in which eighty-six years later he passed away almost unnoticed by the subjects of an empire already in its death throes.

Small as were the ceremonies in memory of the old Emperor held in Vienna, Innsbruck and Bad Ischl yesterday and today, it is certain that six years ago it would have been impossible for those few who are still loyal to his memory to thus publicly honor it without arousing the anger of the Republicans. To the bitterness of the early post-war years there has succeeded sheer indifference.

Newspapers of all shades of opinion devote long columns to recalling—naturally each from the standpoint of its political complexion—Franz Josef's long reign. In most cases the editors have allowed time to dull the edge of bitterness toward the Emperor, whose policy ended in final disaster for the realm of the Hapsburgs.

The ceremonies in Vienna sounded a note of pathos. Although it would not be quite true to say of the once mighty Emperor that "none was so poor as to do him reverence," it was a mere handful of obviously impoverished retainers of the great court who accompanied the officers and heads of aristocratic houses to pay tribute today in the vault of the Capuchin church, where the Hapsburgs are all buried, to Karlskirche yesterday and to the Votivkirche, where a tablet was unveiled in his memory.

The indifference of his former subjects is best characterized by the fact that this tablet lacks the Emperor's bust, which cannot yet be engraved owing to lack of funds.

Perhaps, in all, 2,000 loyal adherents of the fallen House of Hapsburg bore witness to their affection for the memory of the ruler in these little ceremonies. One million six hundred thousand other Viennese passed with a shrug of their shoulders.

Memorial in Hungary Also.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

BUDAPEST, Aug. 18.—In reviewing today army subalterns due for promotion, Regent Admiral Horthy said: "Quite exceptionally, I have decided this year to make the date of promotion Aug. 18 instead of the customary Aug. 20 as a tribute to the memory of the great Emperor Franz Josef, whose centenary falls today. The monarch born 100 years ago today was a model for all of you, both as an officer and a gentleman."

In reference to the ruthless suppression by the Austrians in 1848 of Hungarian efforts under Kossuth to become a free people, Admiral Horthy said:

"We cannot hold Franz Josef responsible for what he did as a youth at the beginning of his reign. But when he attained years of discretion he proved a pattern for a constitutional monarch. His reign brought to Hungary a golden age."

Admiral Horthy, many Cabinet ministers and members of the House of Hapsburg attended a memorial today for the dead Emperor. The absence of Julius Gömbos, Minister of War, who is leader of the anti-legitimist movement in Hungary directed against Franz Josef's heir, Otto, was particularly commented on. Herr Gömbös remarked in a speech yesterday, obviously with pointed reference to the youthful Prince Otto: "Solution of the throne question is not urgent. Hungary today needs the rule of a strong man, not of any boy."

The Emperor signed the declaration of war on Serbia, which proved the spark that ignited the powder magazines of Europe.

It was not these memories, however, which the monarchist demonstrations, including the unveiling of a memorial and a banquet in the Emperor's villa, sought to awaken, but pleasanter ones of earlier days.

At Innsbruck the Archdukes and others united with the Emperor's own Jaeger Regiment in the unveiling of a memorial on the mountain.

POPE TO REST 2 WEEKS, SUSPENDING AUDIENCES

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

VATICAN CITY, Aug. 18.—Coincident with the traditional Roman holiday season, which started three days ago, it is announced that the Pope has suspended all public and private audiences for two weeks.

He will thus be able to enjoy a brief period of rest through the hottest month after a year which has been particularly heavy with work owing to the unusually large number of pilgrims from all over the world who have visited him in connection with his jubilee as a priest. The Pope, however, will spend his vacation inside the Vatican, seeking relief from the heat in the gardens.

The Vatican says the Pope's decision to take a short period of rest has no connection with the recent reports that he was in poor health. The audiences, in fact, are suspended every Summer, sometimes even for as long as a month. Therefore the suspension this year is in no way unusual.

It is remarked that the Pontiff's refusal to avail himself of the opportunity he had this year for the first time of spending the Summer in some cooler place than Rome is an indication that he is feeling well and does not consider it necessary to take any special precautions for his health.

DENIES FUAD PLANS CAIRO COUP D'ETAT

Foreign Minister Says King Is Not Seeking Suspension of the Constitution.

NEW ELECTORAL LAW DUE

It Is Expected to Establish a Literate Electorate—Wafdists See High Commissioner.

By JOSEPH M. LEVY.

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

ALEXANDRIA, Aug. 18.—"I deny most emphatically the unfounded reports that his Majesty King Fuad is planning a coup d'état and the suspension of the Constitution," Abdel Fattah Yehia Pasha, the Foreign Minister, said to your correspondent today when his attention was drawn to a statement in a London newspaper saying such a step was being contemplated with the consent of Premier Sidky Pasha.

As a matter of fact, hundreds of wild rumors of a similar character have been broadcast during the last few days in the streets of Alexandria, the Summer residence of the King and the Ministers. These rumors have been exploited by some circles which have taken advantage of the fact that today was the tenth anniversary of the handing over by Lord Milner, on behalf of Britain, to Zaghlul Pasha of the memorandum which conceded the principle of independence for Egypt with certain reservations.

Further rumors also arose as a result of the luncheon given today by Sir Percy Loraine, the High Commissioner, to Nahas Pasha and Nakrashi Pasha, leaders of the Wafd (Nationalist party). Many consider this meeting indicates the early return to power of the Wafdists.

What is true among all these reports is that a new electoral law will be promulgated shortly, but there will be no high-handed action by the present administration.

The Premier is known to be working day and night, along with Abdul Hamid Badami Pasha, one of Egypt's greatest authorities on law, in order to prepare this new law. The terms of the law remain secret, but it is surmised in government circles that the principal aim will be to establish an electorate of literate persons, thus depriving the Wafdists of their most efficacious arm, namely, the illiterate masses, who are easily swayed by orators of fluency and force.

That Sidky Pasha, despite the weariness resulting from the enormous task which he has undertaken on the eve of his sixtieth birthday, will be able to carry out his program is the opinion of all except the Wafdists. As a result of the effects of the grave economic crisis from which the country has been suffering in recent months, 90 per cent of the merchants, land owners, farmers and peasants are tired of politics and desire an administration guaranteeing peace, order and reconstruction within the next few years.

What the immediate future will bring, it is difficult to foretell, especially as the Wafd, even after the defeats at Alexandria and Cairo, is still the most influential party, both through the masses it controls and through the extraordinary activity of its leaders, here and in London.

CARDINAL ROULEAU INJURED

Quebec Prelate, 65, Thrown From Auto—Recovery Is Expected.

QUEBEC, Aug. 18 (Canadian Press).—Cardinal Rouleau of Quebec received serious injuries today when thrown from his automobile. An X-ray showed that his shoulder was broken. Tonight the Cardinal, who is 65 years of age, was reported as resting more comfortably, a slight improvement in his condition being noted.

At noon the last rites of the Church were administered, although it was not felt that the Cardinal was in immediate danger. This evening Dr. Charles Vezina said that the improvement noted was sufficient to warrant hope of recovery.

RARE GUTENBERG BIBLE BOUGHT FOR AMERICA

Dr. O. H. F. Vollbehr Acquires Work in Austria for the Library of Congress.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

VIENNA, Aug. 18.—One of the extremely rare so-called forty-two line Gutenberg Bibles, printed on parchment and in three volumes, has just been bought by Dr. Otto H. F. Vollbehr of Berlin from the Monastery of St. Blase, in the village of St. Paul, Province of Carinthia.

Negotiations for the sale of this work, which is one of the best preserved examples in the world, has been in progress for two years. Austria now possesses only two of these Gutenberg Bibles, having been forced by poverty to sell the balance of the seven left to her at the end of the war.

The price paid by Dr. Vollbehr is being kept secret, but it is said that he immediately resold the Bible, together with a valuable collection of incunabula, to the Library of Congress at Washington. The monastery has owned the Bible for more than 400 years.

The last Congress unanimously appropriated $1,500,000 for the acquisition by the Library of Congress of the famous Vollbehr collection of incunabula.

Ambassador, Recuperating From a Mild Illness, Meets Her at Station.

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 18 (AP).—Mrs. Dwight W. Morrow, wife of the American Ambassador to Mexico, with her daughter, Constance, and others in their party, reached Mexico City this morning.

The visitors were met by Mr. Morrow at Colonia Station, he having come from Cuernavaca, where he had spent the last ten days recuperating after a mild attack of indigestion.

The Morrows are expected to spend the remainder of this week in the capital.

ALL WIRES TO LWOW CUT.

Galician Capital Disturbed by Secret Military Organization.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

WARSAW, Aug. 18.—The Eastern Galician capital, Lwow, was cut off from communication during the week-end when telegraph and telephone wires to the city were torn down and railroad signals disturbed by gangs of members of a secret Ukrainian military organization.

Special locomotives were sent from Lwow to neighboring stations to meet incoming trains until the damage could be repaired. The Bucharest-Berlin express thus escaped a crash.

This new Ukrainian outrage is believed to be a demonstration against the annual Eastern Fair, opening next week. Polish newspapers at Lwow lately have been full of reports of fires and robberies in Polish country houses and estates throughout Eastern Galicia. The press asserts the military organization is directed from Berlin and is subsidized from German sources. Still more serious disturbances are predicted for September, when the League of Nations Assembly opens, to facilitate raising the Ukrainian problem there.

HEARS RUNNING-BOARD CASE

Suffolk Grand Jury Ponders Legality of Children's Ride.

RIVERHEAD, L. I., Aug. 18.—The Suffolk County grand jury today began consideration of the case of former Municipal Justice Edward A. Richards of Brooklyn to determine whether it is lawful to permit children to ride on the running board of an automobile. Mr. Richards was arrested near his Summer home at Mattituck last June and was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Oscar B. Robinson, who found him guilty.

Mr. Richards appealed and the case was set down for trial, but Supreme Court Justice Leander B. Faber issued an order to show cause why the entire matter should not be reviewed by the grand jury. The motion was argued before County Judge George H. Furman here a week ago Saturday and he sent the case to the grand jury.

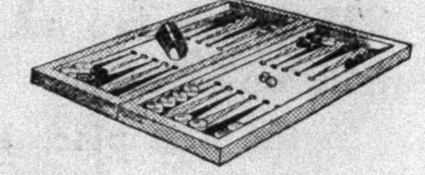
Let Spalding Game Wardens Show You how to take thumb-twiddling out of week-ends

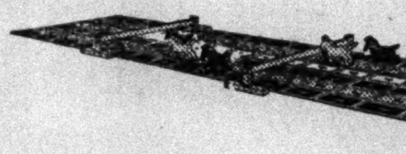
SPALDING has gone at this business of taking the doldrums out of week-ends mighty seriously. So seriously that we doubt if you can find a finer game preserve anywhere. We've literally combed a couple of continents for the most fascinating and unusual ennui chasers. And we've found them! For here you'll find everything from the popular social necessity, Backgammon, to Chemin de Fer which has won no end of fame in France. We know how to play these games. We're good at them, if you don't mind our saying so. And we'll teach you all we know—gladly.

Spalding is Headquarters for Backgammon

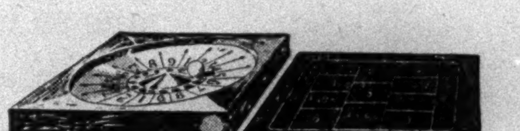


Our old friend Backgammon is coming to the fore, and to be socially correct you must play! Let us show you how! We carry a full assortment of complete sets at $5, $9.50, $15 and up to $60.

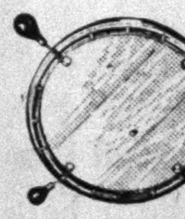
Many good pointers on the game are found in the book, just out, "The New Backgammon," by Elizabeth Clark Boyden. $1.50



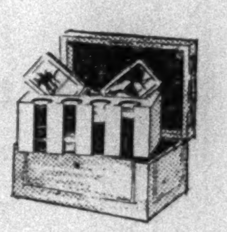
Derby Day. A fascinating horse racing game. If you're making an Atlantic crossing, it's two to one you'll play it on shipboard. $5



La Boule. A simple form of Roulette, which is its daddy. It bears most of the earmarks and is just as engaging as its esteemed parent. Complete with mat. $12.50



Puff Billiards. This game comes from abroad and it bids fair to become as popular here as there. You'll find it mighty entertaining. $18.50



Poker. Just one peek at our assortment of sets will tell that we've taken particular pains to nourish this favorite weakness of America's. Priced from $13.75 up.

And we've other games too, including checkers, chess, dominoes, bird cage, hazard and dozens of their cousins.

SOUTHWEST INDIANS GATHER FOR DRAMA

DAYS OF OLD ARE REVIVED

Citizens Don Costumes of the Spanish, Indians and Cowboys for Festival Today.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Aug. 18.—Albuquerque became the mecca today for thousands of Indians who trekked into town from all parts of the Southwest for the four-day celebration of the First American, dramatic Indian spectacle which opens Tuesday night.

On horseback, in wagons and in automobiles Indians with their whole families, camping equipment and provisions came in a steady stream throughout the day.

By tomorrow night more than 3,000 will be encamped in tepees on the First American grounds east of the city, ready to take part once more in the historic pageant depicting the life of the Indian.

From the pueblos of New Mexico have come the dancing teams who will portray the religious life of the Indian. From Western New Mexico and Arizona have come the Navajos with their fire dancers and night chanters and their expert horsemen. From Hopiland come the fun makers and the fleet-footed marathon racers and from Zuniland, more dancers and chanters.

From Southern New Mexico have come Apaches, some of them members of that band of warriors who, under Chief Geronimo, terrorized the Southwest. They will be seen in the famed devil dance, led by Chatto, once a lieutenant of Geronimo, who later became a scout for the government and aided in his chief's capture.

Citizens Don Costumes.

Albuquerque is in fiesta costume. Colored lights, streamers and flags decorate the main thoroughfare and most of the populace is dressed in cowboy, Indian and Spanish costumes.

Downtown streets are a blaze of color, with the Indians in their brightly-colored costumes mixing with their white brothers, offering bargains in Navajo rugs and haggling over the prices of Indian jewelry and pottery.

Ten thousand persons are expected to witness the opening night's program Tueesday.

The first night's program will depict the primitive life of the Indian against the background of a Pueblo set, with many Indian artists carrying the feature rôle. Each night's program will carry the story along, depicting the coming of the Spanish conquistadores, the surrender of New Mexico to the United States and the influence of the white man in the last generation. Spanish numbers and a Forty-niner program complete the spectacle.

The First American marks the opening of the Indian ceremonial season in the Southwest. The Gallup intertribal ceremonial follows next week, followed by the Santa Fé fiesta, the Hopi snake dance in Arizona and the harvest ceremonials in the Pueblos.

Transporting of Stolen Plane Is Held Dyer Act Violation

DENVER, Aug. 18 (AP).—The United States Circuit Court of Appeals today held that interstate transportation of a stolen airplane constitutes violation of the Dyer act, hitherto applied only to automobile thefts.

Federal officials said this was the first time such construction had been placed on the Dyer act by the court. The opinion was written by Judge Orie L. Phillips of New Mexico and concurred in by Judge George T. McDermott of Kansas. Judge John H. Cotterall of Oklahoma dissented.

The decision upheld the Western Oklahoma Federal District Court in the case of William M. McBoyle, sentenced to three years' imprisonment and fined $2,000.

WATCH CLUE IN BEATING.

Timepiece Dropped by One of the Assailants of Dr. Bloom.

A gold watch bearing the initials "J. C." was the only clue obtained yesterday by the police in their investigation of the assault upon Dr. Julius Bloom, who was severely beaten by two men early Sunday morning in the hallway of the apartment in which he lives at 955 Walton Avenue, the Bronx. At Morrisania Hospital it was said last night that Dr. Bloom's condition remained critical.

Attached to the watch were a length of gold chain, a pen knife and a $2.50 gold piece. The police believe Dr. Bloom tore the watch from one of his assailant's pocket during the struggle.

Senator Hickey Heads Canal Board.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 18.—Senator William J. Hickey of Buffalo today was named chairman of the legislative committee authorized by a resolution of Senator Frederick J. Slater of Rochester to devise ways and means to facilitate construction by the Federal Government of a Great Lakes-Atlantic waterway, utilizing the Barge Canal and the Hudson River.

$600,000,000 BUDGET FOR CITY NEXT YEAR

ing diagnostic clinics in various parts of the city. The personal service increase asked by the Register of Kings County is $60,884.30.

The total request for the Kings County Supreme Court is $767,000. The amount is made mandatory upon the city by State legislation and no comparison with last year's figure was submitted. Payroll increases asked by the Sheriff of New York County amount to $39,557. The sum would provide salary increases for several subordinates and would increase the number of civil service employes in the office.

Increases in salary for employes of the Brooklyn Surrogate's Court would swell its total by $19,760. The amount includes proposed increases of $500 a year each for three law assistants, one from $7,500 to $8,000 and two from $5,500 to $6,000.

The Brooklyn Public Library asks an additional $21,040 for personal service. The increase would provide, among other things, three new positions—a library consultant at $4,000 a year, an assistant to the superintendent of the children's department at $2,340 a year and an investigator at $2,100 a year.

Pay Rises Asked for Prosecutors.

The District Attorney of Kings County asks for salary increases aggregating $28,793. The increases are intended largely for his present staff of assistants. He desires to increase one assistant from $11,000 to $12,000, another from $9,000 to $10,000, one from $7.500 to $8,000, three from $6,000 to $7,000 and a $4,500 a year assistant raised to $6,000.

In this year's budget the District Attorney of New York County has two deputy assistants at $4,000 each. Next year he wants eight at $4,000 each. He also desires to increase his staff of six assistants at $3,720 to sixteen at the same salaries next year.

The Board of Education's tentative budget for 1931 was adopted by the board last Wednesday for submission to the budget director, but was not included in the list of departments he made public. This budget, aggregating $141,296,636, represents an increase of $4,883,079 over this year's budget. The city will pay about two-thirds of this budget, the remainder being paid by the State.

The Board of Child Welfare has submitted a prospective 1931 payroll to the budget director proposing increases of $71,040. The pay of the city magistrates is $42,272 higher, as proposed, than this year.

The Board of Estimate must have the city budget ready by Oct. 31, and it must then be approved by the Board of Aldermen before becoming effective. The Board of Estimate will convene after Summer recess about Sept. 26, and in October it will hold budget hearings at City Hall.

The city budget for this year represented an increase of almost $26,000,000 over 1929. With the $18,201,056 already suggested in proposed increases and a majority of departments still to submit their requests, it was said that this year's budget was virtually certain to exceed $600,000,000.

A. L. Riker Left Widow $1,000,000.

Special to The New York Times.

FAIRFIELD, Conn., Aug. 18.—Mrs. Edith Riker, widow of Andrew L. Riker, designer and engineer of the Locomobile Company, will receive more than $1,000.000 after all bequests have been made, according to the will of her husband, filed for probate today. Members of the family and employes of Mr. Riker's household will also receive a share of the estate, which is said to total more than $1,650,000. Upon her death the estate will be divided equally among three children, Andrew L. Riker Jr., Mrs. Edith W. R. Ainsworth and Mrs. Charlotte L. R. Perry.

SPANISH WAR VETERANS PLEDGE PEACE EFFORT

Davis Addresses Opening Session at Philadelphia—Manila Bay Heroes Honored.

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 18.—Urged by Secretary of Labor Davis to exert their influence for international peace, veterans of the Spanish-American War, standing bareheaded at Independence Hall, pledged their fealty this afternoon to the principles of peace and patriotism. This was one of the principal events on the first day's program of the United Spanish War Veterans' annual encampment, for which 25,000 former soldiers have arrived in the city.

"We can assure ourselves peace by pursuing the old American doctrine of going our way without harm to any one," Secretary Davis said in his address. "When the peoples of the world are filled with the same spirit we shall have peace. And I believe we are at last headed in that direction."

Mr. Davis, who is the Pennsylvania Republican nominee for the Senate, asserted at the outset that "veterans of the Spanish war have not been accorded sufficient praise and gratitude for the work they have done."

On the decks of Admiral Dewey's flagship, the Olympia, now tied up at the Philadelphia Navy Yard, nearly 200 members of the Dewey Congressional Medal of Honor Men's Association stood with bared heads in tribute to their dead comrades.

Lieutenant Charles J. Dutreaux, national chief of staff of the association, and Rear Admiral Samuel S. Robison of the Naval Academy urged that Congress make a suitable appropriation for converting the Olympia into a national shrine.

DE BRAGGA TO QUIT POLITICS IN QUEENS

Republican County Chairman Announces Retirement After 30 Years of Activity.

FIGHT FOR SUCCESSOR SEEN

Sasse, Backed by Harvey, and Richmond by Organization, Will Probably Seek Place.

Joseph H. De Bragga, veteran Republican leader of Queens, announced yesterday his retirement from active participation in politics after thirty years, during much of which time he was a storm centre. In a letter to William B. Hazelwood, secretary of the Queens County Republican Committee, Mr. De Bragga said he would not be a candidate for re-election as county chairman after the primary election on Sept. 16, and that he would not be a candidate for election as member of the county committee at the primary.

In his letter, Mr. De Bragga said:

"In order that there be no misunderstanding I wish to advise you that I am not and will not be a candidate for the chairmanship of the Republican party of Queens County when the county committee reorganizes after the primary election in September. After thirty years of active participation in politics on behalf of the Republican party I believe I am now entitled to a rest. Knowing that the county committee will choose an active and worthy successor, I am content at this time to lay down the burden.

"At this time I want to thank publicly my thousands of friends for the hearty cooperation and loyal support they have given me during these years of service to the Republican party, and trust that my successor, whoever he may be, will receive the same.

"I will not be a candidate for member of the county committee from my election district."

Mr. De Bragga's successor will be determined by the result of contests for members of the county committee between the members of his organization and supporters of George U. Harvey, Borough President. It is expected that the organization candidate for county chairman will be Raymond Richmond, leader of the Third Assembly District, and that the Harvey candidate will be Frederick Sasse, Borough Secretary.

"It is obvious that Mr. De Bragga plans and hopes to have Mr. Richmond as his successor," Mr. Harvey said. "This would be a calamity to the Republican party, but, of course, it will never happen, because the Republican voters of Queens know that De Bragga is Richmond and Richmond is De Bragga. If Mr. De Bragga retires from the political arena, I wish him many years of health and happiness."

POLICE HALT RESORT BUSES

New Rochelle Drive on Unauthorized Routes Viewed as Service Threat.

Special to The New York Times.

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y., Aug. 18. Interruption of bus service to Glen Island and Playland from adjacent municipalities was threatened today by a New Rochelle police drive on bus operators who proceed through this city without local consent and Public Service Commission authorization.

Policemen, under the direction of Captain Vincent Lewis of the Traffic Division, gave out several summonses. While they withheld information as to the number issued and the names of the drivers, it was learned that one of the buses affected was that of Edward M. Coleman of Yonkers.

The summonses are returnable in City Court Saturday morning, and unless a settlement is made it is feared the bus service to the two county resorts may be hampered.

It is said to have been the understanding of the bus company that legal formalities may be dispensed with when the bus routes are temporary.

ANASTASIA SEEKS PERMIT.

Woman Who Says She Is Grand Duchess Asks Leave to Stay Here.

Application has been made in the usual course for the renewal of a permit to remain in this country in favor of Mme. Anastasia Tschaikowsky, who has said she is the Grand Duchess Anastasia, the only surviving child of the assassinated Czar Nicholas II of Russia, Wilton Lloyd-Smith, her attorney, announced yesterday at his offices, 63 Wall Street. There is no reason to believe that the permit will not be granted, he said. Mme. Tschaikowsky is now out of the city, it was said.

GIRL REDS ARE JAILED.

Two Camp Leaders Begin Terms for Flag Desecration.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Aug. 18 (AP).—Two girl Communists arrived here today from Elmira and were committed to the Monroe County Penitentiary to serve sentences of thirty days imposed Saturday by Justice of the Peace William Westerbrook of Van Etten on charges of desecrating the American flag.

They are Mabel Husa, 20, of New York, and Allene Holmes, 23, both leaders and teachers in a camp near Van Etten, twenty miles east of Elmira.

Rubber "Snakes" Save Crops.

BELOIT, Wis., Aug. 18 (AP).—Frank Cheney, Beloit horticulturist, today credited the venomous appearance of artificial rubber snakes for the good crops in his garden, orchard, berry path and vineyard. Cheney said birds ravished his plants and trees until he manufactured a reptile herd from rubber hose which he painted in gaudy colors and coiled about the fields. Since then, he said, the birds have stayed away.

Bridges for Niagara Approved.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—The War Department today approved the plans of the Niagara Frontier Bridge Commission at Buffalo for a bridge across the east branch of the Niagara River from Grand Island to Tonawanda, N. Y. The department also approved plans of the Niagara Frontier Bridge Commission for a bridge across the east branch of the Niagara River between the cities of Niagara Falls, Buckhorn and Grand Island, N. Y.

TEXTILE WORKERS QUIT NORTH CAROLINA MILLS

At Two Plants in Bessemer City 500 Refuse Wage Cut—Chase Out 'Reds.'

BESSEMER CITY, N. C., Aug. 18 (AP).—Five hundred employes of two of the American Mills, textile manufacturing plants, went on strike today in protest against a wage cut that was to have gone into effect this morning.

E. L. Gillespie, spokesman for the strikers, said they had no union affiliation.

"The walkout has no connection with communism," he added.

The two mills, owned by Robert, Frank and Max Goldberg of Gastonia, were closed because of the strike. Every employe of the two plants went out, Gillespie said. A mass meeting held in the public park yesterday resulted in a unanimous vote for the walkout, strike leaders said.

The wage cut, Gillespie said, amounted to 20 or 30 per cent.

Their leaders declared, "We're running this ourselves. We don't want any Reds or unions in here."

Other than this incident the day passed quietly.

Strikes were general in textile plants of Gaston County in the Spring and Summer of 1929, but today's walkout at Bessemer City was the first labor disturbance in the section this year.

O. F. Aderholt, Gastonia Chief of Police, was fatally shot in a disturbance at a camp set up by the Textile Workers' Union for strikers from the Loray Mill at Gastonia. Seven union leaders were convicted of second degree murder and sent to prison. Their appeals are before the North Carolina Supreme Court.

Mrs. Ella Mae Wiggins, a Bessemer City striker, was shot to death in September last year. Her slayer was never identified.

BLOW KILLS ASSAILANT, POLICEMAN IS HELD

Arthur Kenniff, 40 years old, of 1,431 Bedford Avenue, Brooklyn, a special patrolman employed by the city at the Betsy Head Memorial Playground in the Brownsville section of Brooklyn, was arrested yesterday charged with homicide following a fight at St. John's Place and Ralph Avenue, in which Joseph Murphy, 35 years old, of 4,520 Avenue M, Brooklyn, was killed. Kenniff, it is alleged, struck Murphy and knocked him down. In falling, Murphy's head hit the curbing. His skull was fractured and he died within a few minutes.

According to the police, the altercation started in a Bergen Street trolley car when Murphy insisted on pushing Kenniff's seat from behind. Kenniff is said to have displayed his police shield and to have remonstrated with Murphy. Kenniff left the car at Ralph Avenue and St. John's Place and Murphy followed him.

Witnesses say that Murphy struck at Kenniff, whereupon the latter hit Murphy in the face three times. When Murphy did not get up Kenniff is said to have told onlookers that Murphy was drunk and boarded a trolley going in the direction of East New York.

Kenniff is married and has seven children. Murphy was unmarried.

SEIZED AS BANK ROBBERS.

Pair With Cash and Guns Held for Hamilton (Ont.) Hold-Up.

TORONTO, Aug. 18 (AP).—Four hours after two gunmen robbed a branch of the Royal Bank in Hamilton of more than $2,000 today the Toronto police arrested Jack Nevins and said they found $2,156 in his pockets.

They said that Nevins, with Norman Sherratt, who was arrested earlier in Hamilton with two loaded revolvers in his possession, will be charged with robbery.

SHERIDAN DROPS FIGHT FOR HIS SEAT

Submits to Being Shelved So as Not to Embarrass Tammany Further at This Time.

CURRY FACES ONE FIGHT

In Brooklyn Regular Republicans Have Ten Primary Contests and McCooey Four.

On the eve of the expiration of the period for filing designating petitions for party nominations, State Senator Thomas I. Sheridan, denied designation for renomination for Tammany, called off yesterday his projected primary fight against Assistant Corporation Counsel John J. McNaboe, the organization designee, in the Sixteenth Senatorial District.

Senator Sheridan asserted that, while three thousand signatures to his petitions had been obtained, he would refrain from filing them because of unwillingness to create dissensions in the Democratic party and lose votes for Governor Roosevelt whose friendship and endorsement he claimed. Though Senator Sheridan would add nothing to his announcement, it was reported that he had been urged to abandon his fight by influential party leaders and felt that recent graft disclosures had put Tammany so much on the defensive that a primary fight would hurt the party prospects much more than under ordinary conditions.

Only One Contest.

Senator Sheridan's withdrawal left Tammany with only one primary contest, that in the Thirteenth Assembly District where the fight is between Andrew B. Keating, the leader, and Alderman Patrick S. Dowd. A year ago, Mr. Dowd lost a contest for the leadership by a narrow margin. This year Mr. Dowd will run for member of the Democratic State Committee and challenged Mr. Keating to run against him. The latter failed to meet the challenge and John K. Nugent has been named as the Keating candidate. The fight also extends to the nomination for the Assembly. Joseph H. Broderick, a Dowd supporter, who won the nomination and election last year, again is the choice of the Dowd faction. William J. Sheldrick has been picked by the Keating faction to run against him.

The refusal of Tammany to designate Senator Sheridan, who is regarded as one of the ablest of the Tammany delegation in the Legislature, was caused by the objection of William P. Kenneally, leader of the southern third of the Twelfth Assembly District and aroused considerable resentment among Senator Sheridan's neighbors. John F. Curry, leader of Tammany, refused to interfere in what he called a district matter and efforts were made to enlist the aid of former Governor Alfred E. Smith and Governor Roosevelt in Senator Sheridan's behalf.

Sheridan Upholds Record.

In announcing his withdrawal from the fight, Mr. Sheridan said:

"The failure of the leader of a part of the Sixteenth District to recommend my redesignation as Democratic Senatorial candidate has been the subject matter of comment in the press, both in news items and editorials.

"The newspapers and civic organizations have stated their opinion of the quality of service that I have rendered the State and my district. It is therefore unnecessary for me to place a self-valuation. However, it is proper for me to state that never was my party loyalty questioned during the past nine years. I realize that much resentment has been expressed by the newspapers, the people of the city of New York and my neighbors for the failure to redesignate me. My friends and neighbors have shown their feelings and have obtained the signatures of over three thousand enrolled Democrats in my district for my petitions for the primary contest.

"Although I have a right to enter the Democratic primary, I must not look at this situation solely from a personal, selfish viewpoint. My honor and my reputation are not at stake and I need no personal vindication.

"Men who are a credit to democracy, and whose opinions I value, point out to me that if I enter the Democratic primary it may in some measure affect the Democratic organization. Upon careful consideration I concur in this view. A personal triumph for me over the action of this leader would mean very little to me, especially among my neighbors who know me. I claim the friendship and endorsement of Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt. He may be assured of my loyalty and support in the coming election. To my party, I will be loyal and put aside the idea of a personal triumph.

"After careful consideration in the interests of party harmony on the eve of an election that means so much for the enlightened, far seeing and intelligent program put forth by Governor Roosevelt for the benefit of the government of our State and our people, I am unwilling to create even the slightest degree of dissension within my party.

"For the above reasons I have concluded to refrain from filing, pursuant to law, a petition for entry in the primary election for the office of Senator in the Sixteenth District. I hope that my attitude will be thoroughly understood by the three thousand loyal friends and supporters who expressed their desire to see my nomination brought about by signing my petitions to enable me to enter the primary and for which I am deeply grateful."

Ten Brooklyn Contests.

The Brooklyn Republican organization will have ten contests for places on the State Committee and the Democratic organization four, according to a check-up of petitions being circulated for the various candidates.

Despite Leader John H. McCooey's plea for harmony within the organization, the Democrats will face opposition in the First, Eighth, Fourteenth and Twenty-second, with the possibility of the organization's designation for State committeewoman in the Fifteenth meeting with opposition.

Meanwhile opposition is under way in the Third, Fourth, Seventh, Eleventh, Thirteenth, Fourteenth, Fifteenth, Eighteenth and Nineteenth Districts against the designations of the regular Republican groups. In the Twenty-third the insurgent group may not file petitions against the present State Committee member.

The most bitter dispute on the Democratic side is in the First, where Representative John F. Quayle's leadership in the southern end of the district is threatened by Charles F. Cline. Cline is presenting a full ticket, including Michael J. McDonough, who will oppose Quayle for his Congressional seat.

Warren G. Price, who was ousted as Internal Revenue Collector in the move to replace County Leader Jacob A. Livingston with Meier Steinbrink, faces a strong opposition ticket in the Eighteenth Assembly District, headed by Abraham G. Goodman. Mrs. Maude W. Cory, the present State committeewoman, is lined up with the Goodman forces against Mrs. Katherine L. Kerr, the organization designee.

The contests for State committeemen and leader follow, the present leaders being placed first:

Republican.

THIRD—Walter O'Neil, Walter H. Vernie.
FOURTH—Alfred T. Hobley, John S. Gaynor.
SEVENTH—John A. Thompson, Frederick F. Gully.
THIRTEENTH—Robert Brown, Neil Angeloro.
FOURTEENTH—George Eilperin, Thomas Benerdo, Salvatore Silvestri.
FIFTEENTH—Richard Wright, William Cowan.
EIGHTEENTH—Warren G. Price, Abraham G. Goodman.
NINETEENTH—Jacob Bartscherer, Peter Mancuso.
TWENTY-THIRD—Walter Ludden, Joseph Ricca.

FIRST—John F. Quayle, Charles F. Cline.
EIGHTH—Michael J. Reilly, Robert E. Sweeney.
FOURTEENTH—Joseph Lentol, Dr. J. H. Friedman, J. J. Sullivan.
FIFTEENTH—Miss Margaret O'Connor, Mrs. Julia V. Conlon.
TWENTY-SECOND—Francis J. Sinnott, Sol Douglas.

No Major Fight in Bronx.

There are no contests of consequence in the Bronx, but in Queens there will be primary fights, particularly for members of the county committee, among both Democrats and Republicans. In Queens the faction headed by County Chairman James Butler and former Tax Commissioner Richard H. Williams will make some county committee nominations against the designees of the organization headed by John Theofel, executive committee chairman. On the Republican side there will be a fight between the supporters of Borough President George U. Harvey and the regular organization for control of the county committee to pick a successor to Joseph H. De Bragga as county chairman, with the Harvey adherents supporting Borough Secretary Frederick Sasse and the organization men favoring Raymond Richmond. This fight also will extend to delegates to the State and judicial convention.

In Richmond, unless last-minute efforts at an agreement succeed, there will be a fight all along the line between followers of County Chairman David S. Rendt and Borough President John A. Lynch for control of the Democratic county organization.

RIVAL FOR BROGAN IN WESTCHESTER

Foley, Democratic Chief, Says Committeeman Will Be Opposed in Primary.

DENIES JOYCE IS SLATED

Holzworth Defers Statement on Report That He Might Run Independently.

Special to The New York Times.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Aug. 18.—Harry T. Foley, chairman of the Westchester County Democratic Committee, announced today that Thomas A. Brogan will be opposed in the primaries for re-election as State committeeman from the Fourth Assembly District, which includes parts of the city of Yonkers and the town of Greenburgh.

Mr. Foley denied reports that Walter Joyce, Democratic leader of Greenburgh, had been decided upon as the man to fight the Brogan faction in the primaries. The opposition of the organization and its leader to Mr. Brogan has been known since the recent temporary resignation of Mr. Foley as chairman of the county committee when Governor Roosevelt named John E. Mack of Poughkeepsie to the Supreme Court bench in place of John B. Coyle of this city, who was backed for the appontment by the Westchester Democracy. Mr. Brogan was with the minority in the county organization which opposed Mr. Coyle.

William J. McGeory, former State committeeman from the Fifth Assembly District, was recently forced from office by the Foley forces and Charles J. Wallace elected in his place. Mr. McGeory was another who stood with the anti-organization group which failed to support Mr. Coyle.

John M. Holzworth, insurgent wet candidate for the Republican nomination for Congress in the Twenty-fifth District, denied assertions today that he has decided to run independently if defeated in the primaries, and reiterated a previous statement that he would only announce himself in this regard when asked the question by some official of the Republican organization. He said today that he would have 4,000 signatures on his primary petitions.

LINK LIQUOR WITH DEATH.

Portland (Me.) Police Seek Racketeers in Patrolman's Drowning.

PORTLAND, Me., Aug. 18 (AP).—The day before he met death by drowning on the east end waterfront, Patrolman Michael T. Connolly noted in his memorandum book the license number of an automobile registered in the name of an alleged bootlegger, police said today.

Connolly's body, the hands manacled with his own handcuffs, was found Friday morning.

The Portland Evening Express says that authorities investigating the death are trying to round up a band of racketeers from New York and Boston, now operating here.

These racketeers, who, it is thought, may have been landing a cargo of liquor along the waterfront, according to the newspaper, are believed to have knowledge of the whereabouts of Oliver B. Garrett, missing Boston police liquor raider, and also of the manner of Connolly's death.

A local bootlegger told a county official, the newspaper said, that a cargo of liquor was to have been landed early Friday morning near where Connolly's body was found.

Ryder Trial Put Off to Sept. 15.

The trial of Harold Russell Ryder in General Sessions on a grand larceny indictment, growing out of the $2,000,000 failure of Woody & Co., a stock brokerage firm, was adjourned yesterday until Sept. 15. The indictment was returned in June, shortly after the failure of Woody & Co. It is understood another adjournment will be granted in September if a settlement in the affairs of Woody & Co. is not reached before then.

SHOUSE HITS HOOVER ON TRADE DECLINE

Democratic Chairman Says President Misled People on Extent of Slump.

PREDICTS REVOLT AT POLLS

He Declares in Radio Address Executive Cannot Escape Tariff Responsibility.

President Hoover and his associates in the National Administration were charged last night with having misled the country concerning the extent of the commercial depression and the unemployment situation by Jouett Shouse, chairman of the executive committee of the Democratic National Committee, in a radio speech broadcast from Station WEAF. Mr. Shouse declared that while he did not lay at the door of the President all the causes of the "Hoover panic," the Republican party must assume responsibility for present conditions if it had the right to claim credit for the prosperity of the preceding eight years as due to its economic policies and administrative and legislative leadership.

Mr. Shouse also criticized the Hoover Administration and the Farm Board for what he called failure to give adequate farm relief, and asserted that the President could not escape responsibility for the tariff bill, which had been opposed by half the Republican press and a thousand economists.

"No Republican spokesman has given credit to the ingenuity of American business, no Republican advocate has referred to the volume of trade created by the necessity of a prostrate Europe to buy its goods in America during the post-war period," said Mr. Shouse. "The claim has been broadcast from every forum and through the columns of many Republican newspapers that all of our development and expansion of trade was due to the dominance of the Republican party in our government and to no other cause.

Says Caution Was Not Urged.

"During the period of the great bull market, which sucked into its maelstrom more than 10,000,000 of our people in the course of its orgy of speculation, we saw the remarkable spectacle of the Secretary of the Treasury, and even the President of the United States, issuing manifestoes to the American people in which they dwelt upon the tremendous prosperity of the country and the certainty of conditions of business which would inevitably result in higher prices for stocks. * * * If we were to believe the ardent advocates of the election of Mr. Hoover in 1928, we were justified in supposing that as Secretary of Commerce, with his hand upon the pulse of business throughout the land, he must have foreseen the inevitable crash that would follow. If any event, a prudent man in such circumstance would have uttered a word of caution to the American people, but not one suggestion ever came from the President-elect as to the need of care.

"Unfortunately, in his effort to be encouraging the President misled the country as to the extent of the commercial depression and the distress of labor. On March 8 of this year he publicly stated that 'all the evidences indicate that the worst effects of the crash upon employment will have been passed within the next sixty days with the amelioration of seasonal unemployment, the gaining strength of other forces and the continued cooperation of the many agencies actively cooperating with the government to restore business and to relieve distress.' The end of the sixty-day period named by the President was heralded by a further decrease in the price of a large number of commodities and securities and the unemployment situation was worse than ever. In his understandable effort to cheer people up, he was backed by statements from Secretary of Labor Davis, who announced that the beginning of the year marked 'the upward turn in employment which has been steadily maintained.'

Recalls Hyde's Statement.

"Secretary of Agriculture Hyde in June assured the Indiana Republican State Convention that 'the nation is back at work,' and added: 'We have suffered little more than seasonal unemployment,' and that 'there was relatively little distress.' And the government's own statistics when they were finally obtainable showed that the unemployment was appalling and anything but seasonal.

"It is now a little more than seventeen months since Mr. Hoover became President of the United States. He has not lacked the opportunity, with his party in complete control of the legislative branch of the government; he has not lacked the element of time, for Congress has been in session for fifteen months continuously, and yet what do we witness in America today after this trial period of the great engineer in government? Business depression that has not been approached since 1907; unemployment that finds no counterpart in thirty years; anxiety and distress and absolute want such as the country did not face in the panics of the '90s; fear in the hearts of the masses of the people as to what the future holds; hopelessness on the part of the farmers that amounts to absolute desperation; the hatred of other nations because of our selfish economic policy that will influence them to buy nothing from us that they can buy elsewhere. * * *

Says People Demand Change.

"Is it any wonder that the people of the United States, without reference to section, without reference to party, are arising to a political overthrow that may assume the proportions of a cataclysm?"

Mr. Shouse asserted that farmers who had followed the advice of the Farm Board a year ago and held their crops for higher prices either sold them at still lower prices or had them still on hand and could not sell them for the cost of production, with the only hope for betterment of conditions through the calamity of a drought.

"I do not hesitate to predict that the administration on Nov. 4 next will be given the most substantial and startling evidence of what the farmers of America think of Hoover Republican farm relief," Mr. Shouse added.

At the close of Mr. Shouse's speech announcement was made that Senator Simeon D. Fess, chairman of the Republican National Committee, would speak from the same station next Monday evening.

BOYS HELD IN FOUR CRIMES

Two Caught as Third Escapes After Burglaries and Hold-Up.

John Smiley, 18 years old, of 333 East Eighty-ninth Street, was held in $25,000 bail yesterday by Magistrate Weil in West Side Court for a hearing tomorrow in connection with four crimes early Sunday morning which culminated in the capture of Smiley and Michael McLoughlin, 15, of 927 Columbus Avenue. A third boy escaped. The two were arrested by detectives as they left 265 Ninth Avenue after they had stolen an automobile, held up an elevator operator and committed burglary in two stores, getting nothing in one and $41 in the other, according to the police.

HOLDS SHOUSE FAILS TO OFFER PROGRAM

DEFENDS THE PRESIDENT

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—Accusations that Jouett Shouse, chairman of the executive committee of the Democratic National Committee, uttered an "amazing collection of half truths, misstatements, abuse and criticism" in his radio address tonight were made in a statement by Representative John Q. Tilson, Republican floor leader of the House of Representatives, issued through the Republican National Committee.

Mr. Tilson demanded to know why Mr. Shouse did not present a constructive Democratic program, and said that instead, the chairman gloated over the economic distress of the nation. The Republican leader asserted that Mr. Shouse wrongly sought to place blame for the situation on President Hoover.

"Save for the abuse and criticism this spokesman for John J. Raskob, the real directing head of the Democratic organization, stood before the microphone empty handed," Mr. Tilson said. "He failed to suggest a cure for a single thing which he criticized.

"If the Democrats have a constructive program in this Congressional campaign, why did not Mr. Shouse present it? If they have specific remedies why did not Mr. Shouse let the nation in on the secret? Why did he feel compelled to confine himself wholly to negative, destructive criticism?

"Instead of offering a constructive program as his listeners had every right to expect him to do at this time, he presented the regrettable spectacle of the at least verbal leader of a political party literally gloating over the economic distress of the country.

"But, perhaps Mr. Shouse thought he presented a program in his peroration when he said: 'And to their (the people's) cries of desperation, the Democratic party will endeavor to respond; to their pleas it will turn a sympathetic and an understanding ear.'

"Endeavor 'to respond,' but how? Will 'a sympathetic and understanding ear' cure the ills of which Mr. Shouse complains? If so, how?

"Constituting himself a spokesman for the Senate, Shouse said: 'The Senate had a very definite farm relief program in mind.' Yes, half a dozen farm programs have been 'in mind' for a number of years, but only after considerable debate did a majority decide upon a single program—the program advanced by President Hoover and endorsed by the country in the 1928 elections. This plan does not suit Mr. Shouse, but he failed to say what his party would substitute. The inference is that it would abolish the Farm Board and thus leave the situation where it had been for many years.

"Discussing the tariff in his characteristically loose way, Mr. Shouse says the House passed 'one of the most general revisions that has ever been attempted.' He must know that a general revision of the tariff was made in 1922, when 83 per cent of all items were changed, while in the 1930 act only 27 per cent were revised. There are something like 3,300 rates in the tariff law. In the last revision Congress increased duties in 890 cases and decreased duties in 235 cases, leaving nearly 2,200 items unchanged.

"Turning to the economic distress which followed the collapse of security prices in Wall Street, Mr. Shouse patently seeks to place the blame upon Mr. Hoover for a situation which resulted from the workings of economic laws and which is world-wide. He dismisses in a sentence all the great work the President did in cushioning the fall and averting the panic which usually follows such a tremendous crash in security prices.

"Finally, Mr. Shouse predicts a 'cataclysmic' overthrow of the Republican party in the forthcoming election. True, an overthrow of the Republican party at this time would be 'cataclysmic' for the nation, for the Republican party has a definite, well-considered administrative and legislative program which it is carrying forward to completion despite the determined obstructive tactics of the Democrats, under the leadership of Mr. John J. Raskob."

Senator Felix Hebert, Republican, of Rhode Island, also issued a statement today charging Senators King of Utah and Connally of Texas, Democrats, with assisting Mr. Shouse "in his campaign of misrepresentation as to the obstruction policies of the Democrats in the period of economic depression and the effects of the new tariff law."

MONNETT DROPS LAST POST

Lodi's Ex-Mayor Makes It Clear He Is Out as Police Chief, Too.

Special to The New York Times.

HACKENSACK, N. J., Aug. 18.—Nicholas V. C. Monnett, who resigned as Mayor of Lodi Township last Friday on demand of taxpayers, made it clear today that in doing so he had also quit as Chief of Police. William De Lorenzo, counsel for the Township Committee, had previously announced that a question had arisen as to whether or not Monnett still retained the police post, his supporters contending he was appointed to that place without a stated salary two years ago.

"When I resigned as chairman of the Lodi Township Committee," said Monnett, "I resigned everything that went with it, including the office of Chief of Police, and I'm mighty glad these burdens have been removed from my shoulders. The people were not any more anxious for me to resign than I was to get out. They're spending several thousand dollars to show that John Planz, a former committeeman, and I got a few hundred dollars for doing work for the borough and collecting it under somebody else's name. They're not after John and me. They're after State Senator Ralph Chandless, and the whole thing is a political inquiry, that's all."

AN ANNOUNCEMENT OF A GREAT NEW ORGANIZATION PLEDGED TO PROGRESS AND GREATER SERVICE

WILLIAM PASE

APPOINTED NEW FRANKLIN DISTRIBUTOR—1834 BROADWAY

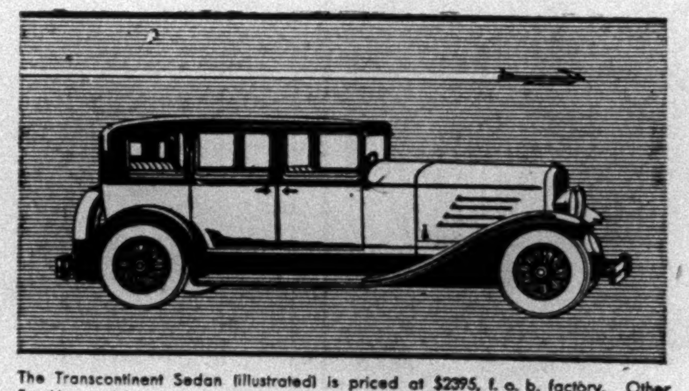
Service, 527-9 West 55th St. Tel. Columbus 4601

The selection of William Pase as new Franklin distributor for Metropolitan New York, makes available a great new sales and service organization, which, in the light of former successes, will notably advance Franklin's already strong position in this district.

The appointment of William Pase is logical recognition of his personal leadership, which has built in Brooklyn, the largest retail Franklin dealership in the country. This reputation for progressiveness, and the popularity of the new airplane-engined Franklin, have made possible large sales increases since the beginning of his association with Franklin. In the year just concluded he achieved 15% greater business than in 1929, the previous banner automobile year—and 51% more business than in 1928. He says, "In stepping up to this new situation from the dealer ranks, I have full opportunity to see the great success ahead of Franklin in New York. I visualize an even greater Franklin growth in the next few years than has taken place in the past three years".

The retail showrooms will continue to be located at 1834 Broadway. The Pase establishments at Brooklyn and Huntington will be conducted as heretofore.

We join this new Pase organization in cordially inviting you to attend the opening display of Franklin models now being held. You will be interested in driving the car that is powered with an airplane-type engine—the car that holds all major road records—the car with an engine that has flown an airplane and delivers more power for size than any other automobile engine. Franklin Automobile Company, Syracuse, New York.



The Transcontinent Sedan (illustrated) is priced at $2395, f. o. b. factory. Other Franklin models range in price up to $7600. All models are equipped with Franklin's famous airplane-type engine.

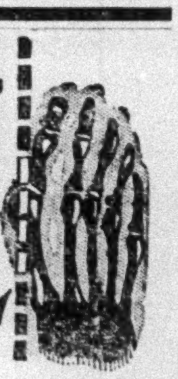
BRING YOUR FOOT BACK TO THIS LINE



When your arch sags, the long arched bone on the inside edge of your foot turns over on its side until its curved lower end, next to the toe, is forced out of place. This causes bunions and foot and leg pains from pressure on sensitive nerves.

My semi-flexible arch support will lift this long curved bone back up into its natural position. The projecting or bunion joint moves inside the dotted line. Your foot resumes its natural shape. Pain in foot and leg then relieved. Walking becomes a pleasure again. As your arch strengthens, I reduce the tension of my support.

Get the right advice about your feet. Come to me for free consultation and mirroscope examination.

RAINS BRING END OF DROUGHT CRISIS

Federal Authorities Are Now Concentrating on Measures for Rehabilitating Areas.

HOOVER GETS REPORTS

FEW RED CROSS APPEALS

But Chairman Payne Expects $5,000,000 Will Be Needed for the Needy in Winter.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—The drought problem today became almost wholly one of rehabilitation so far as Federal agencies are concerned, as reports continued to reach Washington of soaking rains throughout most of the acutely affected area.

Secretary Hyde told President Hoover the rains had brought needed relief in most of the stricken territory and had ended the need of hauling water in certain sections.

Accordingly, the Federal agencies turned to means of providing immediate credit for communities rendered almost destitute by crop failures. The most pressing needs are in those where live stock will have to be put on grain and stored feeds. Provision for such credit must be initiated by local communities through the county and State organizations now being set up.

Virginians See Hyde.

The first State unit has been formed in Virginia, and three members of its relief committee, headed by former Governor Byrd, visited Secretary Hyde and Chairman Legge of the Farm Board today to explain the needs of the State and ascertain the requirements for Federal credit. They suggested that the millions of bushels of wheat held by the Federal Farm Board through the Grain Stabilization Corporation be distributed among needy farmers and cattle men on a credit basis. Mr. Legge replied that any grain distribution by the Farm Board would pass through the credit establishments through which it operates and that all credit purchases must be underwritten by some responsible credit organization.

Mr. Legge added that such grain as might be provided by the Federal Farm Board would probably be bought in the open market and resold, without disturbing the stock of the Grain Stabilization Corporation. Such a course would allow lower credit and lower transportation costs.

Announcement by the Western railroads that they had joined with Eastern lines in a 50 per cent reduction on rates for emergency hauling of feed to live stock and of live stock to feeding pens was expected tonight. Both Western and Southern roads are looked to for reduced rates within the next twenty-four hours. Secretary Hyde today certified 173 additional counties in Virginia, Ohio, Arkansas, Missouri and Illinois in which drought conditions are sufficiently acute to need an emergency freight rate.

President Resumes Conferences.

President Hoover resumed his conferences on the drought situation soon after he returned from his camp this morning. One of his first callers was John Barton Payne, chairman of the American Red Cross, who stated that only fifty-six inquiries concerning aid had been received to date either at Washington or at the mid-West Red Cross office in St. Louis. Only one-third asked for actual help. He estimated that an expenditure of $5,000,000 would be necessary for relief in the coming Winter in certain areas.

The Tariff Commission is seeking to ascertain if there has been a marked increase in imports of corn from Argentina in the past few weeks.

Following the request of Senator McNary of Oregon for action against Argentine corn under the flexible provisions of the tariff act, Mr. McNary has stated that Argentine corn is being sold in Portland and Seattle 30 cents lower than American corn.

Seymour Lowman, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, in charge of customs, said he had received complaints from West Coast interests that Argentine corn was being dumped at West Coast ports. He indicated the treasury stands ready to act if petitioned to do so.

WILL INCLUDE OKLAHOMA.

Hoover Wires Governor Promising Cooperation in Drought Relief.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 18 (AP).—State officials believe Oklahoma is to share in Federal drought relief plans following the receipt today by Governor Holloway of a telegram signed by President Hoover. The telegram said:

"I am mailing you a copy of the recommendations of the Governors' conference of last Tuesday, setting out the form of organizations which we believe will be most effective. I shall be glad to cooperate with you in every way."

A State emergency drought relief committee will meet tomorrow with the Governor to discuss measures to be taken and to hear reports from stricken counties.

Barge Canal Water to Aid Farmers.

ALBANY, Aug. 18 (AP).—The State is going to use Barge Canal waters to help relieve drought conditions. Following a conference between Governor Roosevelt and Colonel Greene, Superintendent of Public Works, today the Governor ordered the district engineers to issue permits to farmers along the canal to draw canal water for stock or to save crops.

Bail Denied Miles in Burglary.

George H. Miles, former naval officer and navigator of the first transport to convey American troops to France during the World War, was arraigned in Hoboken yesterday on a charge of burglary. He was held without bail by Acting Recorder O'Brien and sent to the county jail to await action by the grand jury.

Deadly Gas in Tanker Laid To Chemical Action of Paint

SAN PEDRO, Cal., Aug. 18 (AP).—Chemical reaction between fresh paint and the sides of the hold of the British tanker Tascalusa, in the opinion of the police, caused the gas fumes that killed two workmen and affected thirteen others.

Three, dragged unconscious from the hold, and ten others were taken to a hospital. The Tascalusa was docked at the Bethlehem shipyards for interior cleaning and painting.

The foreman of the painting crew said the paint used was of a kind commonly employed for ships' tanks. Blower fans were operating to draw fresh air through six ventilating ports.

WORLD FARM CRISIS LINKED TO WAR LOSS

GERMAN URGES REDUCTIONS

Farm Board Expert Defends Its Policy and Opposes "Dumping" of Crops Abroad.

From a Staff Correspondent of The New York Times.

ITHACA, N. Y., Aug. 18.—The present world-wide crisis in agriculture is a part of the international economic depression and it will not be allayed except through international cooperation, including reduction of reparations payments and cancellation of allied war debts by the United States, Professor M. Sering of Berlin University, head of the German Agrarian Research Institute, told 300 agricultural economists from all parts of the world assembled in a conference which opened its sessions at Cornell University today.

Those participating in the conference have come here to discuss the woes of farmers in their respective countries, but the very first day's proceedings revealed the prevailing opinion among the foreign visitors that these woes constitute in the aggregate one large world problem.

While M. J. B. Ezekiel, assistant chief economist of the Farm Board, discussed the question of agricultural surpluses in the United States defending the policy against dumping abroad, Professor Sering, supported by Professor S. von Dietze of the University of Jena, took the problems of agricultural surpluses and price depression into the domain of international politics.

They assailed the Young plan as unbearable for Germany and argued that only by wiping the slate clean of all international financial burdens arising from the war, reducing the burden of taxation in all countries, restoring the purchasing power of consumers, ending unemployment and reviving the normal operation of industry can international economic equilibrium be achieved. This, they asserted, will solve also the world agricultural crisis.

Warns Against Isolation.

America is not a law unto itself and it cannot escape the consequences of a disorganized and impoverished world, Professor Sering said.

The building of tariff walls by the United States and other countries will only aggravate the crisis, warned Dr. K. T. Jutila of Helsingfors University, Finland.

"The only way to solve the problem of the agricultural surplus is to bring down the tariff walls and remove restrictions on population movements," he said. "Modern science has made the farmer in all advanced countries too productive and too efficient. Only by international cooperation can world agriculture regain its balance."

A similar appeal for international cooperation in the domain of agriculture, although he did not touch on the question of the tariff, was made by H. C. M. Case, president of the American Farm Economic Association. A. W. Ashby, president of the Agricultural Economics Society of Great Britain, spoke along the same lines.

Emphasizing "the growing internationalization of the agricultural problem," L. K. Elmhirst of England stated that "merely to rationalize the business of agriculture does not solve the problem, for the control of the agricultural surplus, from which the United States, like other countries, is suffering, will require greater cooperation on an international scale than has ever been seen before.

Address by Professor Sering.

"Even the United States is not an autonomous body which could live an economic life for herself," said Professor Sering, analyzing the industrial depression in European and other countries. "It is the wealth and surplus of her soil which make her dependent on international trade, especially her farmers, on the purchasing power of their foremost foreign buyer, industrial Europe."

Professor Sering found the main causes of the present agricultural and industrial depression in the destruction wrought by the war, increasing barriers to free commerce, the political tension and antagonism which pervade Europe and Asia with their half-billion of inhabitants and the perturbations incident to the Russian revolution.

The European situation, Professor Sering said, "will be reflected in agricultural and industrial conditions in this country.

"The cause of the grave agricultural depression lies in the coincidence of great technical advances with consequent increase of production and a lowering of purchasing power in industrialized Europe caused by other than economic reasons," Professor Sering declared in concluding his analysis of the world economic situation.

"Crises which arise from technical progress find their solution in the universalization of such progress. To what an extent this takes place is dependent upon intelligence and will power.

"The only real solution of the international agricultural and industrial depression is a universal understanding of the causes of the depression, which would build up a feeling of solidarity. Such solidarity should exist between all nations, which are bound to each other by the unbreakable ties of international trade."

GRAND JURY WEIGHS EWALD CASE AGAIN

Boczor and that plans were being made to give him refuge on Governors Island should the threats be repeated; but United States Attorney Tuttle said the witness had not requested such protection. If a guard had been assigned to Boczor, Mr. Tuttle said, it was without his knowledge or that of his assistants.

Mr. Crain, who spent the week-end at his Summer home at West Hampton, returned to his office about 10 A. M. He conferred first with his assistants, Albert B. Unger and George N. Brothers. Then he dictated a reply to Governor Roosevelt's telegraphed request for data on the Ewald case. Next he sent for Bartholomew J. Barry, foreman of the grand jury which was expected to report in the forenoon to Judge Allen that it had decided to vote "no bill" against any one involved in the financial transaction that preceded Ewald's appointment.

Crain to Press for Indictments.

When Mr. Barry had left the District Attorney's office and rejoined his colleagues in the grand jury room on the floor above, Mr. Crain summoned newspaper men to his office. Gravely, and as though weighing each word, he said:

"The grand jury, as I have been informed, is now considering the question as to whether or not to indict. I await their call and, in any event, the conclusion of their labors. If this grand jury does not indict I will apply at once to Judge Allen for an order permitting the resubmission of the evidence in the case to another grand jury.

"The resubmission will be directed against George F. Ewald, Mrs. Bertha E. Ewald, his wife; Martin J. Healy and Thomas Tommaney. I will file with that application an affidavit setting forth at length the reasons for such action."

Mr. Crain, who last week declared he had made no suggestion to the grand jury relative to whether or not it should return indictments, was asked why he had not requested a true bill in the first case. He replied:

"Because to do so would have been a violation of the law. There is a popular misapprehension of the grand jury and of the duties of the District Attorney in his relations to them."

Mr. Crain called attention to the section of the Code of Criminal Procedure dealing with the matter. The law directs that the grand jury shall find indictments when all the evidence before them is such that in their judgment it is sufficient to warrant a conviction by a trial jury unless it be contradicted or explained. The law says also that it is the duty of the District Attorney to present all the evidence and give his advice upon its legal sufficiency if the grand jury should request it.

In the midst of his explanation the grand jury sent for Mr. Crain. Before he went into the grand jury room the District Attorney said, in answer to a question, that up to that moment his advice had not been sought.

By other officials of his office the grand jury's failure to indict last week was explained on the ground of a misunderstanding of the law. They felt, it was said, that because there was no evidence that Healy or Tommaney actually performed any service for Ewald in consideration of the loan from Mrs. Ewald, no crime had been committed.

Although assistants of Mr. Crain let it be known last Thursday that the failure of the grand jury to indict was no surprise to them, Mr. Crain took occasion yesterday to assert that in his opinion the evidence was strong enough to warrant indictments against more than one person.

Gets Records for Roosevelt.

Mr. Crain was closeted with the grand jury only a short time. When he emerged he went immediately before Judge Allen to ask permission to turn over copies of the grand jury minutes to Governor Roosevelt and Mr. Tuttle. In making the motion, which was granted at once, Mr. Crain filed the following affidavit:

> I have received a request from the Governor of New York in telegraphic form requesting me to send him at once a full report of the Ewald case, together with copies of available testimony and the record of the proceedings in my office.
> I have also received a letter from Charles H. Tuttle, United States Attorney, requesting that I transmit to him for use in an investigation now pending in his office, a transcript of the grand jury minutes.
> Certain witnesses examined by me claimed privilege when examined by the United States Attorney, I am informed, in connection with a matter pending before me, but claimed no such privilege when testifying before the New York County grand jury.
> I, therefore, ask, in the interests of justice that I be permitted to transmit a copy of said minutes to the United States Attorney.
> Wherefore, it is respectfully asked that the annexed order be signed.

The witnesses referred to in Mr. Crain's affidavit, it was understood, were Mrs. Ewald, Tommaney and Healy, who when examined by Mr. Tuttle declined to testify regarding the alleged loan on the ground that to do so might "degrade and incriminate" them. They, together with nine or ten others, have been subpoenaed to appear tomorrow before the Federal grand jury, which will scrutinize transcripts of Healy's bank account for 1927.

Ostensibly the Federal inquiry, paralleling the county investigation and following the one in which Ewald and several others were indicted for mail fraud in connection with the sale of stock in Cotter Butte Mines, Inc., is to determine whether the income tax law has been violated, but it was hinted about the Federal Building that contempt of court proceedings or perjury indictments might follow.

Tuttle Expected to Handle Case.

The approaching end of the trial of Dr. William F. Doyle, which Mr. Tuttle is prosecuting, led to the belief that the United States Attorney will take personal charge of the Ewald case within a few days. Witnesses were questioned all day by his assistants, Alvin McK. Sylvester and Thomas J. Curran, and it was learned that process servers were out with subpoenas for all the principals in the case, with the exception of the former magistrate.

Mr. Sylvester announced just before going home that he had received a copy of the minutes of the county grand jury from Mr. Crain. He had been informed also, he said, that a transcript of Healy's account in the Harlem branch of the Corn Exchange Bank would be in his hands today.

Meanwhile, in the Criminal Courts Building, the grand jurors, who had recessed at 1:15 for luncheon and returned to their labors at 2 o'clock for an afternoon session, which is in itself unusual, still were listening to the reading of testimony which last week they had found insufficient to warrant an indictment.

At about 3 o'clock Judge Allen, to whom they would have to report, went home. Half an hour later Mr. Crain received word from the grand jury room that his presence would not be required until today and he too went home. The grand jurors, however, did not adjourn until after 4 P. M., and when they left the reading of testimony had not been completed.

Besides Mr. Barry, the foreman, who lives at 16 East Sixty-third Street, the members of the body investigating alleged corruption in the former magistrate's appointment are:

HERMAN J. CANTON of 345 Fifth Avenue.
CLIFFORD AARON of 102 Maiden Lane.
WILLIAM A. KEYS JR. of 60 East Forty-second Street.
HARRY ARNOLD of 474 Greenwich Street.
SAMUEL GOLDEN of 640 Broadway.
GEORGE KERN of 254 West Thirty-first Street.
CHARLES F. W. GRAEF of 18 West Thirty-fourth Street.
HARRY APPLETON of 325 Fifth Avenue.
HARRY H. COHEN of 381 Fourth Avenue.
HAROLD D. GREENWALD of 232 Madison Avenue.
EDWARD L. LEEDS of 75 West Street.
ANTHONY F. MELITTO of 265 Canal Street.
JAMES M. HARDING of 165 Broadway.
HERMAN H. KIPP of 138 First Avenue.

WILD AUTO FELLS CHILDREN

Special to The New York Times.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Aug. 18.—Jean McCarthy, 7-year-old daughter of Supervisor Joseph B. McCarthy of 92 Carhart Avenue, this city, was seriously injured today when an automobile coasted down the Hale Avenue hill and ran over the child while she was at play.

Vernon Hawkins of 41 East Main Street, was said by the police to have parked his car on the hill, only to find when he returned for it that it had coasted away and run down two children. The second child struck by the driverless machine was not seriously injured, the police said.

The McCarthy child was said at White Plains Hospital to have suffered fractures of both legs and other injuries. Hawkins will be arraigned in City Court tomorrow on charges of assault.

700 DANCE MASTERS PONDER NEW STEPS

Convention Has Not Decided What Mode to Proclaim, but Trend Is Spanish.

TANGO TEMPO WINS FAVOR

Waltz Retains Some Devotees as Delegates Weigh Factors to Be Molded Into Nation's Rhythms.

Some 700 registered delegates to the annual convention of the Dancing Masters of America yesterday began their week's activities. They waltzed through two ballrooms of the Commodore, they wavered in castinet-manipulating circles, they did a lengthy hour's work of tapping and then fox-trotted into the night.

The teachers of dancing, present for instruction in the new modes, found material practically everywhere. Professional work was taught in the main room, but for those Victorians who still clung to ballroom steps there was an annex. Toward the middle of the afternoon the convention even had overflowed into the halls. Two grim young men were clogging near the elevators, and an elderly soul with glasses was emulating Bill Robinson on the marble stairs. The personnel of the hotel was much interested.

As to what New York will be dancing in September, that has not been decided. The classes at the moment are partly experimental, and the various factors of all will be molded together into something or other. It was revealed unofficially, however, that there is a Spanish tendency in the air. Radio people are said to be going tango, and while the average American is not expected to master the whole thing, there will be a decidedly Castilian trend.

The dance follows music, it was said, which is quite a business in these days. While some of the songs are rather Southern—bull-fightish and so on—there are the old diehards to contend with. So in all their teaching during the week the masters are demonstrating steps to the three tempos—slow, medium and fast. Though trots come and go and stomps are here today and away tomorrow, there is always the waltz. And so the masters are preparing.

By far the greater number of entrants, contestants and delegates, are enrolled in the professional schools. Not long after they began their limbering-up exercises yesterday they were busy with something by Chester Hale. That lasted until lunch. Afterward they attacked novelty dances, Spanish dances and finally a deft bit of tapping. It was explained that the Commodore has a sort of air cushion, a blank floor, directly under the convention hall.

LARGE BOTTLING PLANT IS RAIDED IN YONKERS

Dry Agents Report Seizing 135 Cases of Ale and 200 Barrels of Beer—Nine Are Arrested.

An elaborate bottling works at 19 John Street, Yonkers, was raided by Federal prohibition agents yesterday, who reported seizing a large quantity of beer and ale. Nine arrests were made in the raid, which was the largest of eight reported over the week-end.

In the place they found, they said, two five-ton and one-ton automobile truck, 400 half barrels of beer, 135 cases of ale, 1,500 cases of empty bottles, and bottling, capping, labeling and pasteurizing machines.

The prisoners said they were Daniel Caruso, 19 years old; John Koch, 30; Charles Schmidt, 35; William Kiing, 30; Benjamin Landsman, 34; Vincent Fole, 30; Harry Landsman, 31; Aaron Brooks, 48, and John Burke, 36.

In a cellar under a radio store at 15 John Street, Yonkers, the agents seized 400 bottles of beer and 125 bags of ale, each bag containing a dozen bottles.

Other raids, in each of which a small quantity of liquor was reported seized, were made at 495 East 152d Street, 626 St. Ann's Avenue, 505 East 166th Street, 951 Home Street, 79 West 170th Street, and at 1,320 Southern Boulevard, all the Bronx. In each place one arrest was made.

DENIES WETS ARE GAINING.

Dr. E. H. Cherrington, at Columbus, Says Congress Will Stay Dry.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Aug. 18.—Claims of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment and other wet organizations that the primaries recently held promise great gain to the wets in Congress are not founded on fact, declared a statement issued today by Dr. Ernest H. Cherrington, general secretary of the World League Against Alcoholism.

"Political observers do not see any such results," the statement says, "nor has any one a right to predict what will be the result in the primaries yet to be held.

"On the contrary, political writers uniformly declare that in the next Congress there will be no chance for the wets to make even a scratch on the surface, and some of these writers, who happen to be extreme wets, declare positively that there is no hope of the wets ever dislodging the Volstead act or offering serious menace to the Eighteenth Amendment."

Jones Unaware of Any Wet Gift.

WENATCHEE, Wash., Aug. 18 (AP).—Senator Wesley L. Jones said here today he was never told and never knew whether Roy C. Lyle, deposed prohibition administrator, or William M. Whitney, former assistant administrator, gave $6,000 in liquor bribe money to his 1926 campaign. He reiterated his faith in the integrity of both Lyle and Whitney, whose appointments as dry chiefs he recommended, and who are now being tried in Seattle on charges of accepting bribes and conspiring with liquor rings. Testimony regarding the alleged $6,000 gift was offered at the trial.

forces in a lawful and proper path and keep them there.

Explaining that one of his first purposes was to remove "unnecessary friction" between the public and the prohibition enforcement officials, he said that it could be done with discipline which he intended to employ.

Two Dry Agents Commended.

While announcing these acts of correction, Mr. Woodcock also made known two "citations" which he had sent in the form of commendatory letters to two agents who stood by their guns under fire at a raid on a still near Washington on Aug. 7.

One of these men was Charles R. McCartney, whom Mr. Woodcock suspended for three days soon after he took office for an altercation with a motorist in Maryland. The other was M. W. Thompson.

The two men, with other agents, raided a huge still at Beltsville, Md., just outside of the District of Columbia, Mr. Woodcock said. The outfit was so large that the other agents had to go for some dynamite with which to blow it up.

McCartney and Thompson, left on guard, were fired upon from the surrounding woods, he continued. They returned the fire and held their posts until the other agents returned.

Mr. Woodcock said that these letters of commendation, which he termed "sort of citations," will go into the personnel files of the men to help make up their "service records."

Mr. Woodcock returned to his desk today after a two-week tenure of military training at Camp Ritchie, Md., with his regiment, the First Infantry, Maryland National Guard, of which he is lieutenant colonel.

The director has promised to confer with representatives of the Maryland Automobile Club relative to some kind of identification for prohibition agents operating on the highways near Washington.

DOUBTS WETS' CLAIM TO 29 GAIN IN HOUSE

CONCEDES 9 MAY BE ADDED

Tells Anti-Prohibition Leader It Would Take 161 New Votes to Change Congress.

Special to The New York Times.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Aug. 18.—Henry H. Curran, president of the National Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, was "blowing bubbles" when he said that the Wets would gain twenty-nine votes in the House in the forthcoming Congressional election, according to Fred A. Victor, State superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League.

Mr. Victor questioned all but nine of the votes claimed by Mr. Curran. The wet leader declared yesterday that seven of the new wet votes would be from Representatives who had announced a change from dry to wet, while thirteen more of the twenty-nine expected wet votes were accounted for by the shifting of that many Representatives from a stand for modification to an out-and-out wet position. The nine votes he did not question were those which the wet leader claimed by virtue of recent primary victories. He said he was not thoroughly informed with regard to the nine primary victories.

"Henry was just blowing bubbles when he made that optimistic statement," Mr. Victor declared. "Even if he got his twenty-nine votes after the Fall election, he would have to get 161 more in the House alone to get anywhere. They say, you know, that people who fool around booze often see double."

The seven sitting Representatives claimed as converts to the wet side of the prohibition question by Mr. Curran were wet from the beginning, Mr. Victor declared. They were never counted as drys by the Anti-Saloon League, he said; nor were the thirteen who Mr. Curran said had shifted from a modification to a repeal position.

As an illustration of his contention Mr. Victor cited the case of William H. Granfield of the Second District of Massachusetts. He said the district was normally Republican, Mr. Granfield having been elected in a special election to succeed the late W. Kirk Kaynor, a dry Republican. Mr. Victor said Mr. Granfield, a wet Democrat, would never be re-elected. The Republicans will nominate a dry who will win the election, he predicted.

Representative Edmund F. Cooke of Erie County, the Forty-first New York District, may have come out as wet in accordanace with Mr. Curran's announcement, Mr. Victor said, but, judging from his letters to his constituents, his position is equivocal. Mr. Victor said he had seen some of the letters and that they ran something like this:

"Prohibition has done a great deal of good but there are a lot of evils in its enforcement. If these evils can only be done away with by repeal, I am for repeal."

Turning to the Senate, Mr. Victor said the wets needed fifty-six more votes than they now possess before they would control the body. He conceded the wets twelve votes in the Senate, and said they never had more than 100 in the House.

MRS. WILLEBRANDT IN DENIAL

Not Counsel for Big California Grape Corporation, She Says.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Aug. 18.—Washington reports that Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, former Assistant Attorney General in charge of prohibition, had been engaged as counsel for a new $300,000,000 corporation formed by California grape interests were denied here tonight by Mrs. Willebrandt.

The California grape industry suffered serious curtailment a year ago when Prohibition Commissioner Doran restricted the output of grape juice. The grape interests, according to Washington dispatches, have now organized the Giant Fruit Industries, Inc., with a view to expending their activities. Mrs. Willebrandt said she had never heard of the corporation.

ASSERTS WOMEN FEAR PROHIBITION EFFECTS

Mrs. John M. Cates, at Meeting of Connecticut Antis, Assails the Dry Law.

Special to The New York Times.

LITCHIFELD, Conn., Aug. 18.—The prohibition law and its effects were assailed tonight by Mrs. John M. Cates, wife of the graduate director of athletics of Yale University, at a meeting of Litchfield County women held under the auspices of the Connecticut Women's Organization for Prohibition Reform. Mrs. Cates declared that under prohibition women fear the speakeasies more than they feared the old-time saloons.

"I think we should call ourselves the Women's Organization for Prohibition Reform and for the Advancement of the Cause of Christian Temperance," she said, "for I resent leaving to the Woman's Christian Temperance Union the exclusive use of the words 'Christian' and 'temperance.'

"There are many public-spirited people with the country's best interests at heart who were told that prohibition would benefit the country as a whole, and, though not dry personally, they gave the law their support. But after eleven years of attempted enforcement they have decided that national prohibition is a grave mistake, and are looking for the quickest method of removing so dangerous a law from the Constitution."

Football Star Bailed on Wet Charge.

VILLANOVA, Pa., Aug. 18 (AP).—Earl Potteiger, former Ursinus College football star and later a professional football player and manager, was arrested here today as the allegel convoy of a truckload of beer and released in $5,000 bail to await trial. This is the third time this year Potteiger has been arrested on a liquor charge. George S. Bleim, driver of the truck, was also held in $5,000 bail.

COLLINS FINED $2,000 FOR IMPORTING LIQUOR

Bahamas Hotel Man Who Said Justice Fawcett's Brother Was to Meet Him Pleads Guilty.

Ralph G. Collins, the Nassau (Bahamas) real estate and hotel man who told Customs Inspectors on July 16 that he expected to be met at the dock by a brother of Supreme Court Justice Lewis L. Fawcett, was fined $2,000 yesterday by Federal Judge Burrows after pleading guilty to an indictment charging that he brought two trunks and three suitcases filled with liquor into the Port of New York that day on the Munson liner Munamar.

Although one of the trunks, according to Federal investigators, bore a tag marked "A. L. Fawcett," Collins convinced Assistant United States Attorney Watts that no member of the justice's family had any knowledge of his attempt to bring liquor into this port.

Collins appeared in court for pleading thirty minutes after a Federal grand jury returned the indictment. On his arrival in New York, Collins, according to Customs Inspectors, asked for special consideration in the examination of his luggage, saying he knew Justice Fawcett's brother, though no member of the Fawcett family met him at the dock.

The inspectors replied to his request by opening all of his luggage. They reported that they found light wines, cognac and Scotch and Irish whisky in the suitcases and trunks. Before the indictment was voted, Collins told Mr. Watts that "Judge Fawcett's brother" had visited him at Nassau, where Collins is part owner of the Montague Hotel, some months ago. His guest, he said, returned to the United States by airplane, leaving his trunk. It was Collins's own idea, according to Federal investigators, to fill his guest's trunk with liquor and bring it to the United States with his own luggage containing the same beverage.

SOCONY MOTOR GASOLINE
I AM SOCONY BANNER Try me and you'll buy me

Look for the Banner on the pump

Motorists have been told the FACTS about the New Socony—Banner Gasoline—and have proved by individual experiment that these FACTS are so:

These FACTS are based on actual road tests made in Westchester County, New York City, Brooklyn and Nassau County, July 29th, 30th, 31st, Aug. 1st and 4th.

Quickest starting. The proper amount of low boiling points in this new Socony Gasoline gives quicker starting—saves your battery.

Instant pick-up. The intermediate range of boiling points in this new Socony Gasoline gives you the quickest pick-up.

Added power. The proper percentage of power-producing boiling points in this new Socony Gasoline gives additional power which you are sure to feel the first time you try Banner.

Maximum mileage and economy. The exacting range of boiling points in this new Socony Gasoline gives you more mileage at less cost because it burns clean with the minimum of carbon and dilution.

High anti-knock value. Banner is made only from those crude oils which have a natural high anti-knock value.

SOCONY SCORES ANOTHER BULL'S-EYE

The New Socony... BANNER GASOLINE... now excels in its price class. Just as Socony Special plus Ethyl leads all premium gasolines.

MOTORISTS realize that here is a popular-price gasoline which really does what it promised to do. They recognize the FACT that it makes them feel the extra power . . . see the quicker starting and pick-up . . . lets them count the extra miles per gallon . . . and that there's never a knock or a sign of gum in the engine. . . . You, too, can prove the actual superiority of Banner for yourself . . . buy it and try it today! Join the thousands of motorists who are driving straight to the Banner pumps . . . the busiest in town.

HUNT ON PALISADES FOR GIRL'S ATTACKER

ESCAPED FROM PARK POLICE

Fugitive Vanished From Bear Mountain Station After Trying to Make Off in a Boat.

Special to The New York Times.

STONY POINT, N. Y., Aug. 18.—New York and New Jersey State troopers and the personnel of the naval ammunition depot at Iona Island assisted local authorities today in searching for William Horrner of New York, who escaped from the police station in Bear Mountain Park early this morning after confessing to an attack on a 15-year-old girl camper in Harriman Park late last night. Three hundred cadets from West Point on a four-day hike, who were encamped last night in the park, kept a lookout for the fugitive as they continued their hike.

The Sheriffs of Rockland and Orange Counties, park police and police from Haverstraw, Central Valley and other towns near here combined forces with the naval men and troopers in the man-hunt, scouring the woods and fields of Bear Mountain and Harriman Parks. Late this afternoon bloodhounds were put on the trail of the fugitive.

Horrner, the park police reported, is 24 years old and lives at 1,956 Clinton Avenue in the Bronx. He was assistant chef of a boys' camp in Harriman Park, one of the stretches of woods in the Palisades Interstate park system.

Last night about midnight Captain Elmer Mandigo of the park police was standing near a dock for small boats in Lake Cohasset in Harriman Park. Mandigo was assigned to guard a girls' camp not far from the lake during the night. A man ran down to the dock out of the darkness and jumped into a rowboat tied up there, Mandigo reported. As the man tried to row away Mandigo called to him to stop. The man threatened to shoot, and the policeman drew his pistol and forced him to return to the dock. As the rowboat approached the wharf the man sprang into the water and tried to swim into the blackness of the lake, but Mandigo forced him ashore and placed him under arrest.

The policeman then noticed a commotion in the girls' camp. They found that one of the campers, who had been sleeping in a tent with three other girls, had been pulled out of the tent, choked and attacked.

Mandigo took his prisoner to the police station at the park headquarters building in Bear Mountain Park, where police say he told them his name was Horrner and confessed to the crime. The station is without equipment for the safe-keeping of prisoners and relies on what was described by William A. Welch, chief engineer and general manager of the Palisades Park system, as "personal supervision." About 4 A. M., when Sergeant John Leonard was at the desk in the station and three other policemen were on the premises, Horrner escaped.

Police refused to explain how the prisoner got out of the building, but Mr. Welch said that an investigation of his escape was being made. Horrner was seen in the park about 7 A. M. by a truck driver and about four hours later Patrolman William Lawrence of the park police saw the fugitive near Poppoloten Creek, about a quarter of a mile from the cadets' camp. The policeman gave chase and emptied his revolver after the fugitive, he said, but the shots failed to halt him.

No further trace of Horrner had been found tonight. His description as broadcast by the local authorities is, height, 5 feet 4 inches; weight, 140 pounds; of German birth; wearing dirty white undershirt and shirt and dirty trousers.

STATE ODD FELLOWS MEET.

Grand Lodge Draws 3,000 Delegates to Rochester.

Special to The New York Times.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Aug. 18.—Nearly 3,000 delegates to the State grand lodge of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows opened a four-day session today and conferred the grand lodge degree on 500 candidates. Hundreds of women delegates are representing the Rebekah Lodge, sister organization.

Grand Master G. Edward Coon of Rochester greeted the officials. The regular business session will open tomorrow morning, with Arthur Pearce, chairman of the convention committee, welcoming the delegates.

One of the major matters to be considered will be ratification of the grand lodge's action calling for the formation of a junior order.

FINDS FEMALE IS BEST IN RESISTANCE TO HEAT

Carnegie Institute Professor Says Fact Is Important in Determination of Sex.

COLD SPRING HARBOR, L. I., Aug. 18 (AP).—Discovery that the female stands high temperature better than the male has been made at the Carnegie Institution.

The finding is said by its author, Dr. Oscar Riddle, to be an important part of the processes of nature that determine sex.

He finds that high temperature slows down male metabolism more than female. Metabolism is the production of energy. Ordinarily from youth to old age male metabolism produces more energy than female, so the Carnegie discovery means that the male loses his margin of energy superiority when the temperature goes too high. It was disclosed in five years' experimenting with ring doves and pigeons, but Dr. Riddle quotes experiments of several other scientists to show that it probably applies also to human beings.

"We are now able to report and fully establish—for the first time in any animal," he says in a report written for the second International Sex Congress, "a differential response in the sexes to metabolism measurements at higher and lower temperatures."

At 68 degrees the males showed an energy production of 3,861 calories, the females 3,749. When the temperatures was raised to 86 Fahrenheit the male calory production dropped to 2,777, going lower than the female, which dropped to only 2,989. The decrease was 28.1 per cent for the males and 20.3 for the females.

Dr. Riddle says the male, including man, has more red blood cells than the female and more of the red pigment that gives the color to blood.

NEW YORK GUARDSMEN WIN EVERSON'S PRAISE

Army Militia Chief Commends Showing of Manhattan and Brooklyn Men in Camp.

PEEKSKILL, N. Y., Aug. 18.—Having received commendations from Major Gen. William G. Everson, chief of the Militia Bureau of the United States Army, who left Camp Smith, Peekskill, for Sea Girt, N. J., for the good showing made in camp, the Fourteenth Infantry Regiment of Brooklyn today began target practice and the 165th Infantry of Manhattan started a week of field problems and manoeuvres.

The entire brigade, commanded by Brig. Gen. John J. Phelan, is looking forward to a review on Friday by former Governor Alfred E. Smith and Major Gen. Harry Gilchrist, U. S. A., chief of chemical warfare, both of whom will be the guests of Major Gen. William N. Haskell, N. Y. N. G.

Colonel Frederick Baldwin put the Brooklyn guardsmen to work today practicing on the ranges with rifles, automatic rifles, machine guns, trench mortars and Howitzers. Colonel William J. Costigan assigned the Manhattan regiment to scout, patrol and advance guard duty.

Among the week-end guests who saw the brigade on parade was James Farley of the State Boxing Commission, of which Brig. Gen. Phelan also is a member.

TEACHER LEAPS TO DEATH.

Children's Hostess at Atlantic City Hotel Commits Suicide.

Special to The New York Times.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 18.—May Hulick, 34 years old, who had charge of the juvenile guests at the Dennis Hotel here during the Summer months, committed suicide this morning by leaping from a fifth-story window in the rear of the hotel. She fell to the roof of a two-story building.

According to persons who knew her, Miss Hulick had been melancholy for some time. For twelve years she had been a kindergarten teacher in the Morristown (N. J.) schools, and during the vacation periods was employed here.

Gets Life Term for Wife's Death.

SEBRING, Fla., Aug. 18 (AP).—William Raymond Carver, former Philadelphia real estate operator, convicted in May on a charge of first degree murder for the death of his wife, was sentenced to life imprisonment today by Circuit Judge W. J. Barker. Judge Barker ordered Carver returned to the county jail to await a decision on an application for a writ of habeas corpus.

Race Drivers DEMAND the TIRES WE SELL!

THE Indianapolis 500 Mile Endurance Race is famous as an endurance test and battle of tires for no driver can win this race who has tire trouble. He races over a hot brick track at a speed of 100 or more miles per hour. For eleven consecutive years Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires have been on the winning cars.

32% More Tread Rubber — Deep Grooves.
Patented Double Cord Breaker.
Patented Gum-Dipped Cords.

1. THESE men buy Firestone Tires. They are not paid to use them. The Pike's Peak racers buy the Firestone Super High Speed Gum-Dipped Balloon Tires from local dealers — the world's premier tire which every Firestone Dealer sells. The race track drivers use the same tire, except for the racing tread.

2. THESE drivers do not simply choose Firestone Tires. They demand them. They know by experience that this tire never fails. It never fails because it is built not to fail by the special Firestone processes of tire building.

(a) Every fibre of cotton thread going into the making of the cord fabric, which is the foundation of the tire, is coated and cushioned in rubber by the Firestone patented Gum-Dipping process.

(b) Under the tread is the Firestone patented Gum-Dipped Double Cord Breaker—which means not only two extra plies where most needed, but also sets the Firestone Tire apart as an all cord tire, while others are woven fabric and cord.

(c) Firestone Super High Speed Tires now have 32% more rubber in the tread, giving deeper grooves that will give you over 50% more non-skid wear before the tire is smooth.

3. THESE are not just features. They are basic differences in tire building proved by service on every kind of road and track.

4. YOU may never intend to race. You may never intend even to speed. You may never climb Pike's Peak. But, every day—whether you know it or not—your life depends upon your tires.

5. WE HAVE these Super High Speed Gum-Dipped Balloons for sale today. They are the same tires that the racing drivers demand — the premier tires of the world. Their first cost is low. Their cost per mile of service makes them cheaper today than even cheap tires. They are inexpensive, not only because the price of rubber is low, but because we have joined with Firestone to bring into the sale of tires the same degree of efficiency which goes into their manufacture. The benefit of all this is in the price to you.

6. DRIVE in today. We will examine your tires and make you an allowance for your unused mileage. We can equip your car with new Firestone Super High Speed Tires at a much lower cost than you ever expected. They will give you unequalled service and satisfaction.

BAR GROUP ASSAILS RIVALS OF LAWYERS

CLOSER ORGANIZING URGED

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Aug. 18.—Three sections of the American Bar Association met in Chicago today in conferences preliminary to the general council sessions which will begin on Wednesday.

The conference of attorneys general, the public utility law section, and a general conference of delegates, which discussed the progress of bar associations were the activities of the day. These will be broadened tomorrow, when special topics will be discussed in ten different sectional gatherings, including the criminal law section and the National Conference of Judicial Councils.

Plea to Cut Prison Population.

Attorney General Percy Saint of Louisiana discussed law enforcement before his group today. Speaking of his work as a member of the State Board of Pardons, he said:

"My ideas about criminals have been modified by that experience. I still believe that hardened criminals should be segregated, kept at hard labor in prison, but there are others who had to be sentenced according to law who could be released with benefit to society.

"I believe that with investigation and cooperation our penal population could be reduced under the parole law from 25 to 30 per cent, and that it would be for the good of society."

Complimenting Chicago on the cooperation of the citizens' committees with the law officers, he said:

"Each citizen should be a unit in crime preventive work. It is too much to expect a small force of policemen who are underpaid to keep down the criminal element. They should have help and money from citizens."

Move for Ties With Local Bodies.

The committee on bar reorganization reported to the conference of delegates that there was a growing feeling for a plan to coordinate the State and local bar associations so that the American Bar Association might more fully represent and make effective the sentiment of the profession. A committee was appointed to study plans for closer affiliation of the 1,216 existing local bar associations.

"There have been nineteen centuries of constant criticism of our profession," said Justice Royal A. Stone of the Minnesota Supreme Court.

"There has been no real effort at counter propaganda. And isn't this criticism and continued nagging now being capitalized by agencies seeking to usurp our functions? Bankers and trust officers are seeking to take over as much of our business as they can.

"The answer is intensive, efficient, local bar associations. And let us put our profession so high in ethics and efficiency that no other agency can equal it."

New Yorker Scores Competition.

Robert H. Jackson of New York mentioned other rivals than bankers and trust companies who were giving lawyers serious competition, and he held that, although local organizations of lawyers were vital, the State and national organizations should be improved.

"A complicating factor in the problem of the lawyers' future is that the profession is so large and is increasing so rapidly in numbers," Mr. Jackson said.

"An intense struggle for economic independence is before us, and while competition may be the life of business, it is death for ethics in a profession like our own.

"We have this enormous increase in the number of lawyers and a cutting down of business. Collectors of accounts are in the field; title insurance people and trust companies are taking business from the legal profession—and are doing it to the entire satisfaction of their clients.

"I would not say anything against numerous existing bar associations, but organizations adapted to the '80s and '90s are not adapted to today. Every industry and every other profession except ours has consolidated its forces."

A resolution asking that representatives of the legal profession of the United States attend the International Congress of Comparative Law at The Hague in 1932 was introduced by Professor J. H. Wigmore of the Northwestern University Law School.

Cooperation With Press Urged.

The committee on cooperation between the press and bar reported progress during the year. Contact with the American Society of Newspaper Editors was commented upon, and the committee stated:

"In the opinion of this committee, it is of importance to the courts and to the public at large that all court opinions as are desired for review by the press should be accurately abstracted and reported; and to this end the committee recommends that all reasonable facilities and conveniences be afforded to the representatives of the press by courtesy of the several courts and their clerks."

Woman Lawyer Raps Freedom.

One of the delegates to the convention who attracted attention was Miss Mary Lathrop of Denver, who in 1917 became the first woman member of the bar association.

"Women have gained rights," she said, "but they have lost privileges. They receive no more courtesy and chivalry. Personally, I'm rather tired of rights. I'd love to have a few privileges.

"In all, I would say that women have lost a great deal in the process of becoming emancipated. And men have lost something—their egos suffer.

"If I had a daughter I would bring her up to be a clinging vine.

"The law is a man's field and will remain so. It will always be a battle for women. I advise any girl who contemplates entering law to stay away from marriage and concentrate on the legal business."

FAMILY GETS ESTATE BY J. H. SNOWDEN'S WILL

Property, Estimated at $2,000,000 to $4,000,000, to Widow, 3 Children and Niece.

Special to The New York Times.

RIVERHEAD, L. I., Aug. 18.—The will of James Hastings Snowden, oil producer, of New York and Southampton, who died on July 30, was filed here today in Surrogate's Court. It distributed an estate of $2,000,000 to $4,000,000 among the widow, three children and a niece. The Bankers Trust Company of Manhattan was named as executor and trustee.

The bulk of the estate was left to the children, Miss Marian Snowden of Southampton, Miss Janet Snowden of Newport, R. I., and James H. Snowden Jr. of Newport. The daughters also receive household furnishings and paintings, while the son receives a gold watch and other personal jewelry.

Mrs. Beulah M. Snowden, the widow, receives the remainder of furnishings and personal effects and one-third of the residuary estate. According to the will, which was drawn in January, 1925, she was to receive also the right to live for three years in a house, valued at $275,000, at Sands Point. Later, the papers filed today show, he sold this and bought, for about $180,000, a house at Southampton. The executors ask the court to construe Mrs. Snowden's rights to occupancy of the new house.

The will places $100,000 in trust with the executors, the income to go to Mrs. Anna K. B. Chalaire of Great Neck, a niece, and the principal to be equally divided among her three sons, Walter, Robert and James, upon her death.

Two-thirds of the residuary estate is placed in trust, the income to be divided equally among Mr. Snowden's three children until they become of age, when they are to receive equal portions outright. Mrs. Marian Adair Davidson of Twin Oaks, Newport, former wife of Mr. Snowden and mother of the children, is named as their guardian. Pearl M. Snowden of Rosemont, Pa., and Louise Adair of Louisville, Ky., are named alternate guardians.

In filing the will, the executors, who ask the court to construe the extent of their authority, assert that 9,333 shares of stock in Snowden, McSweeney & Co. constitute the greater part of the estate.

In July, 1929, a total of $103,874,453 was spent for reduction of public debt, as compared with $25,031,000 last month. These items brought the total July expenditures to $284,309,881, as compared with $349,824,915 in July, 1929, an apparent decrease for the month this year of $65,515,034.

This, however, provides no true comparison, as amounts to be applied to the sinking fund each year are fixed by law and before the close of the year the amount expended in the current fiscal year must be somewhat larger than the total for the year which ended June 30.

Dinner Aug. 27 for Col. Foran.

TRENTON, N. J., Aug. 18.—Plans are being completed here for the testimonial dinner to be given at the Sea Girt Inn on Aug. 27 in honor of Colonel Arthur F. Foran, Controller of the Port of New York. The dinner is to be given under the auspices of the Friends of the American Legion in honor of Colonel Foran's recent appointment as a member of Governor Larson's staff. Among the invited guests are Governor Larson, former Governor Smith of New York, Mayor Walker of New York City and United States Senators Baird and Kean.

BANK BIDS OPPOSED FOR JERSEY FUNDS

Abell Group Agrees That Plan for Competition Would Develop Dangerous Complications.

Special to The New York Times.

TRENTON, N. J., Aug. 18.—Members of the Abell audit and survey commission do not favor adoption of a recommendation of the National Institute of Public Administration that banks ought to bid in competition for deposits of State funds, it became known today during the commission's inquiry into State affairs. Horace G. Githens, Deputy State Treasurer, as a witness, opposed the institute's suggestion and members of the committee agreed with him. Adoption of the recommendation might open the way to all sorts of dangerous complications, they said.

Banks in which State funds are placed are selected by the State Treasurer at present, Mr. Githens said, and that official personally is responsible for the safety of New Jersey's money. Should the institute's recommendation be adopted, Mr. Githens said, the Treasurer ought to be relieved of his personal responsibility.

D. Frederick Burnett, counsel for the Abell commission, pointed out that if such competition were put into practice, banks with a weak financial structure might be tempted to pay any premium to obtain State funds. At present, banks pay the State 2 per cent interest on public money on deposit.

Mr. Githens also found no merit in a suggestion that banks deposit coupon bonds with the State to insure the safety of public money. In addition to being forced to care for $40,000,000 or $50,000,000 worth of such bonds, Mr. Githens declared the State would be required to have a large number of clerks to take care of the coupons when they came due.

It was revealed that the $200,000 deposit in the Little Ferry National Bank of Bergen County which has been linked with the Lodi sewer exposure eventually found its way into the Broad Street National Bank of this city. A draft on the Bergen County institution, signed by both the State Controller and the State Treasurer, directed the bank to pay the fund to the Broad Street Bank here. It was shown that the deposit was made in the Little Ferry bank on June 27, 1929, and withdrawn Feb. 13 of this year.

HEAVY QUAKE RECORDED.

Georgetown Puts the Disturbance About 7,000 Miles Away.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18 (AP).—An earthquake described as "of considerable intensity" and as centred about 7,000 miles from Washington was recorded early today by the Georgetown University seismological observatory.

The tremors began at 5:08 A. M., Eastern Standard Time (6:08 New York Time) with maximum shocks at 5:45 A. M. The duration of the shocks was about 2½ hours.

It is estimated by the distance and direction of the shocks that the disturbance may have been in Japan.

NO DIRT
NO DIRT
NO KINDLING TO CHOP NO ASHES TO CARRY
NO FUEL TO SHOVEL

Now—only $335* buys Timken Oil Heat for any size home

5 out of 6 Timken owners say, "Oil costs no more than hard coal"

First let us register this: The Timken Oil Burner offered at this new, low price, is a full-size outfit, capable of heating homes of all types and sizes. Study the eight advantages it offers as listed below.

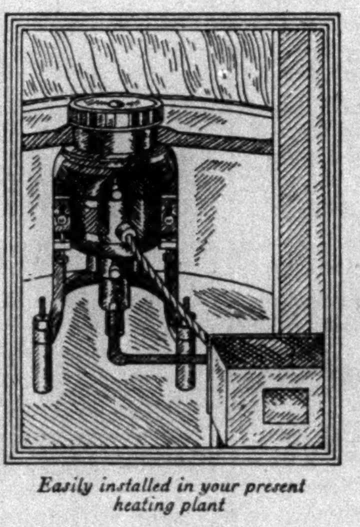
The new low price is made possible by decided savings in manufacturing cost (due to steadily increasing volume production) which are now passed along to Timken purchasers. It places the reliable, quiet-running Timken within the reach of even the modest home. Combined with its owner-verified fuel-economy, this low price makes the Timken Oil Burner an outstanding value.

The Timken's wonderful reliability and quiet operation, as well as its economy of fuel, are due to an improved, simplified type of construction.

This efficient burner has only one moving part. There is no complicated mechanism to get out of order. There is nothing to interfere with reliable operation. Likewise, there is nothing to cause noise. Even in warm air furnace installations the quiet operation is surprising. Any user will confirm this statement.

And consider this: To the fine mechanical and engineering features of this oil burner is added the priceless assurance of the great Timken Organization—internationally recognized for the manufacture of quality engineering products. It is a known value—in which you instinctively place your complete faith. And that means much when you choose an oil burner for your home.

Strike now—against old-fashioned, humanly unreliable, worrisome heating apparatus. Timken means no work—no ashes—no dust and dirt—and no uncertainty. Clean, reliable, uniform warmth, automatically controlled to meet changing outdoor temperatures. And see how little it costs now.



Easily installed in your present heating plant

Order now—only a small deposit required

With its new low purchase price and low fuel consumption, the Timken is both inexpensive to own and to operate. In addition, you are offered very attractive terms that make it very easy to pay for.

Only a small deposit is required now—so small that any average income can comfortably afford it. The balance may be paid in convenient monthly amounts. So, financing is very simple.

Why suffer another winter of uncertain heat, of distasteful janitor work, of dirt, ashes, etc? Why not order your Timken installed now? You will then have its convenient, automatic heat for cool fall days, for next winter and years to come.

In every section Timken-trained crews are busy with installations. Your order placed now will insure you against delay and against possible disappointment. See the Timken dealer or factory branch nearest you. The Timken-Detroit Company, Detroit, Michigan.

$410 in New York City—In districts served by our factory branch, price includes complete installation of burner. Oil storage tank installation is extra, depending on individual requirements.*

Timken Offers You These 8 Advantages:

1 A Product of a Great Engineering Organization—noted for quality workmanship.
2 Low Purchase Price—available for the family of average income as well as the home of wealth.
3 Use Cheaper Grades of Oil—approved by Underwriters' Laboratories for use with either No. 1 or No. 2 Furnace Oil, either gas or electric ignition. In most localities the No. 2 oil is considerably cheaper than the No. 1.
4 Fuel Economy—83% of users tell us the cost of fuel for the Timken burner is no greater than that of hard coal, and in many cases considerably less.
5 Save Cost of Gas Pilot—for a moderate extra charge, the Timken burner can be equipped with electric ignition—the saving of gas will soon pay for the slight extra investment.
6 Hot Water Supply—if you have a steam or vapor heating plant, the Timken burner which heats your home can be arranged to supply domestic hot water, winter and summer, at a fuel cost considerably less than other automatic methods.
7 One Model for Any Size Home—the owner of the modest home can have the comforting assurance that he is getting exactly the same Timken burner as his more wealthy neighbor (although the latter may pay more for larger storage tank and additional accessories).
8 Installations Only By Factory-trained Men—Only mechanics who have been trained in factory methods are permitted to install Timken burners.

THEATRE FIRE ROUTS 600 IN NEW JERSEY

Woman Is Overcome by Smoke Rushing In to Seek Boy—Two Firemen Are Hurt.

MANAGER CALMS AUDIENCE

Balcony Collapses Soon After 150 Patrons Leave Seats After Film Explosion.

Special to The New York Times.

PAULSBORO, N. J., Aug. 18.—Fire swept the Hill Theatre shortly after 8 o'clock tonight, when some motion picture film of "The Life of Christ" exploded in the projection booth, causing many of the audience of 600 persons to rush for the doors. The flames destroyed the interior of the two-and-a-half-story building.

A few minutes after the audience had left the theatre in orderly fashion, the balcony in which 150 had been seated, collapsed. Jamming of film in the projection machine caused the explosion, according to Clarence Porch, the operator, who escaped unhurt. The damage is estimated at $30,000.

Herbert Hill, manager of the theatre, after reassuring the audience and instructing them to leave the building by means of the emergency exits, rushed to the projection booth, where he received burns on the hands in attempting to carry away the burning film.

Three other casualties were reported. Mrs. Rose Benvenuto of Paulsboro was overcome by smoke when she re-entered the burning building in search of a son who, she thought, was missing. She was revived and remained to watch the firemen fight the blaze. Her son was unharmed. Fireman Emmor Vale of the Paulsboro Fire Department, was bruised in a thirty-foot fall from the roof of the structure. Fireman Edward Langford was overcome by smoke.

When the exploding film brought the show to an abrupt halt Mr. Hill requested the audience to maintain order and directed them to leave by the emergency exits, which were thrown open by the ushers, John Geston and his brother, Anthony.

The theatre's $11,000 organ and newly installed talking motion picture apparatus were destroyed.

Suspect Freed in Jewel Hold-Up.

Magistrate Gotlieb in the Tombs Court yesterday freed Thomas Sheridan, 28 years old, an ex-convict, on a hold-up charge made by Morris Liebowitz, a jeweler, at 100 Forsyth Street. Liebowitz accused Sheridan of having threatened him with a pistol on July 14, when he was robbed of $17,000 in jewels. The magistrate declared the evidence was insufficient to hold Sheridan. Sheridan was sentenced to a five-year Sing Sing term in 1923 on a hold-up charge.

Boys Saw Off Phone Wires to Fish in Park; Disrupt Fifth Avenue Service Two Hours

Four young men of the upper east side started out yesterday afternoon as robbers. The caps ran out, however, so they adopted a more pacific outlook on life and became grim officers of the law. That, also, grew rather flat after a time. They then decided to go fishing, to capture the bass which dwell in Central Park's upper waterways. The difficulty that they owned neither hooks, line nor sinkers was not insurmountable. For necessity is what it is.

Now, unfortunately, it is the time for the police to enter this story. They did not wish to, for the cool of the East 104th Street station was soothing to the soul. But when, shortly after half past 3, things began to happen in disconcerting fashion, they decided something would have to be done about it. And so it was that the fates wove a net which brought together those who had been officers before becoming fishermen and those who were officers still. They met in a vacant lot on Eighty-ninth Street, not to the former's advantage.

For, after borrowing a hacksaw from a mutual friend, the four had repaired to the lot, which is shaped like a gigantic L, with the home of H. T. Parson in the Fifth Avenue corner. The other two sides have a fence, and on that fence runs a one-inch cable containing 101 excellent telephone wires, each hooked up to one of the better exchanges and most of them to the Holmes Electric Patrol as well. The advent of the boys was first discovered by the telephone company, which could not get Lehigh or Atwater numbers, and then by the patrol, which saw red all over the alarm board.

By the time officials from the two concerns, reinforced by the police, arrived, the four had sawed off some fifteen feet—for steel fishing lines and a sinker or two. Surrounded, they gave up, and presently said they were John Kozinsky, 8 years old; Jacob Torba, 12, and his brother, William, 9, of 1,304 Park Avenue, and Evans Colderia, 12, of 75 East 105th Street. They told about fishing, and added they thought some of the extra lead might be changed by certain money lenders into movie tickets. They didn't consider the cable important.

But it seems to have been; it took two hours from the telephonic lives of Lehigh and Atwater number holders.

SEVEN AUTO DEATHS ARE CAUSED BY TREES

Buffalo and Indiana Cars Crash at Roadsides—Tree Falls on Oregon Pair.

BUFFALO, Aug. 18 (AP).—Bernard Kent Dean and his wife of Penn Yan were killed today when their coupé crashed into a tree at the edge of the town of Orchard Park. Mr. Dean, who was about 66, was superintendent of freight stations for the New York Central Railroad.

ASTORIA, Ore., Aug. 18 (AP).—Jack H. Kaplan, 19, and his sister Celia, 21, Portland, were killed near here yesterday when a tree four feet in diameter fell on their automobile as they drove along the highway.

VEEDERSBURG, Ind., Aug. 18 (AP).—Two young women and a young man were burned to death when an automobile caught fire after colliding with a tree along a highway four miles south of here early today.

The dead were Julia May Eckhart, 19, of Buck Creek; Opal Heinlach, 19, of Frankfort, and Blaze Metzger of Lafayette.

Truman Cline of Camden, a fourth passenger in the car, was severely burned and is in a critical condition.

To Study Prisons in West Indies.

KINGSTON, Jamaica, Aug. 18.—The Imperial Government has decided to appoint a Royal Commission to study the workers' pension scheme and the prisons of the British West Indies and to consider what reforms are needed.

FOUR DROWN AS FERRY SINKS WITH 2 AUTOS

Family of Three Trapped in Car on Craft Plying Between New Hampshire and Vermont.

WESTMORELAND, N. H., Aug. 18 (AP).—Four persons, including a baby, were drowned when a ferry, plying the Connecticut River from East Putney, Vt., to Westmoreland, upset and sank in midstream tonight. There were two automobiles on board.

Those drowned were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Austin, a young couple, and their 1-year-old baby, and William Clark, aged 60, all of Putney, Vt. The Austin family was trapped in their automobile as it slipped off the careening ferry. Clark was a foot passenger. Thomas Carpenter, another foot passenger, and Harry Pierce, driver of the other car, swam ashore.

The ferry, of an old-fashioned type propelled by a cable which was pulled by hand from the deck, showed a decided list as it left the East Putney shore, due to both automobiles being on one side.

Connolly's Condition Improved.

Although his condition is reported to be much improved, Maurice E. Connolly, former Borough President of Queens, will be confined to the prison hospital of the New York Penitentiary on Welfare Island for another ten days, it was reported yesterday at the office of Commissioner of Correction Patterson. Connolly was removed to the hospital last Thursday suffering from a heart ailment.

SEES BAR TO ACTION ON ZUTA RECORDS

MOST ANTEDATED 1927

East Chicago Police Shake-Up Follows Finding of Data on Gangster Payments There.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Aug. 18.—While promises of further disclosures from the secret papers of Jack Zuta, murdered leader of the Moran-Aiello gang were made today, State's Attorney Swanson expressed the opinion that the statute of limitations would prevent prosecutions arising from the evidence of graft between politicians and gangsters found in the Zuta safe deposit boxes.

"Most of the papers are dated 1927 or earlier," Mr. Swanson said. "The statute of limitations in any of these cases is not more than three years, and that bars the grand jury from taking any action."

Zuta was slain Aug. 1 at Delafield, Wis., according to a police theory, because he knew too much about the assassination of Alfred Lingle, Chicago Tribune reporter.

Among the records found are eight loose-leaf balance sheets, one showing an invoice of $700,000. On each of the balance sheets, it was reported, are enumerated payments to political allies of the gangster.

A significant entry on each of the sheets is, "East Chicago—$3,500." It has been asserted that this represented payment to the East Chicago Avenue police, who covered Zuta's territory.

Acting Police Commissioner John Alcock late today issued an order transferring the entire officer personnel of the East Chicago Avenue station "for the good of the service."

Another item from the Zuta papers was a check, dated April 22, 1926, for $50, uncashed, made payable to currency and signed by John Craig, city editor of The Chicago Daily News. Questioned by the prosecutor, Mr. Craig admitted that he had written the check and that Zuta had cashed it. Mr. Craig said that, when the check was not paid through the bank, he sought out Zuta and repaid the $50 in cash.

Emanuel Eller, former judge of the Municipal, Superior and Criminal Courts, whose signature appeared as an endorsement to one of Zuta's checks for $250, appeared in the prosecutor's office and, after looking at the check, admitted the signature was his own.

"The only recollection I have of it is that it was probably a campaign contribution," he asserted. "I never received anything from Zuta himself. I never had any personal acquaintance with him."

DR. BUTLER TO SPEAK AT SOUTHAMPTON

Summer Colonists Invited to His Annual Address at Parrish Museum.

MRS. BARBER ENTERTAINS

Ten-Year-Old Charles E. Merrill Jr. Has a Birthday Party—Hampton Players' Season Nears End.

Special to The New York Times.

SOUTHAMPTON, N. Y., Aug. 18.—Mrs. Thomas H. Barber gave a luncheon at her home, Claverack House, today for her guest, Mrs. W. Bayard Van Rensselaer, whose Summer place is at Bar Harbor.

Charles E. Merrill Jr. celebrated his tenth birthday this afternoon with a party at the Orchard, the home of his father, Charles E. Merrill. Among the boys present, who played games and had supper in the garden, were Heyward Cutting Jr., Peter and William Wall Roger, Townsend Benjamin, James Russell, John Elliott, William Thaw, George Comerford, John Kiser, Colton Wagner and Wayne Johnson.

The president and trustees of the Parrish Art Museum have invited members of the colony to hear an address by Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler at the museum on Sunday evening, Aug. 31. This will be Dr. Butler's fourth annual Southampton address. He has chosen as his title "The One and Many."

Additional patronesses of the recital to be given by Bernard Olshansky, Russian baritone, at the Parrish Memorial Hall on Thursday include Mrs. Eugene G. Grace, Mrs. Amory Hodges, Mrs. Robert S. Peabody, Miss Dorothy Schieffelin, Andrew Van Pelt, Mrs. Percy Hamilton Stewart, Mrs. Watson B. Dickerman, Mrs. Charles Weisbecker, Mrs. Lamotte T. Cohu, Mrs. Henry James, Mrs. Ernest Harrah, Mrs. Francis Rogers, Miss Elizabeth Brundige, Mrs. F. Taylor Evans, Mrs. Riley Miles Gilbert and Mrs. Loomis H. Taylor.

John Charles Thomas, American baritone, and Mrs. Thomas are guests of Michael Hart at Fort Hill in the Shinnecock Hills. Mr. Hart's guests for the week-end included also Mr. and Mrs. Julius P. Meyer and Mrs. Thomas F. Gilroy.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel L. Parrish gave a luncheon at the Beach Club today for Riccardo Bertelli, president of the Fifty-sixth Street Galleries. Others present were Mrs. Robert M. Littlejohn, Miss Eleanor Swayne, Mrs. Edward Jewett, Colonel Henry May and Archibald Brown. Mr. Bertelli, who came to Southampton to arrange an exhibition at the Parrish Memorial Hall of sculpture from his galleries, is a guest of Miss Eleanor Swayne and her brother, Alfred H. Swayne, at Algoma, their cottage in the Shinnecock Hills.

Sculptors represented in the exhibition include Paul Manship, Frederick MacMonnies, Jo Davidson, Edith Parsons, Maude Jewett (Mrs. Edward Jewett of East Hampton), Edward McCartan, Walker Hancock, Malvina Hoffman, Hunt Diederich, Gaston le Chaise, John Gregory, Duane Champlain and others.

The Hampton Players will present the last of a series of four plays at the Parrish Memorial Hall this week, opening Wednesday evening and closing Saturday evening. The play, "This Present Greatness," by Knowles Entrikin, deals with the return of a South Pole explorer to his home in an Ohio city.

Mrs. John A. Warner, daughter of former Governor and Mrs. Alfred E. Smith, gave a luncheon today at Wayside, her Hill Street residence.

Miss Carolyn Jane Gibbs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Gibbs, was married to Ralph George Carpenter 2d of this city yesterday morning in the Church of the Transfiguration. The Rev. H. Lyman Johns performed the ceremony in the presence of relatives and a few friends.

The bride had Mrs. Lewis MacDermot of San Francisco for her only attendant. John B. Elliman, stepfather of the bridegroom, was best man. A small reception followed.

The couple will live in New Hampshire, where Mr. Carpenter owns an island game preserve. The bridegroom is a son of Mrs. John B. Elliman of 77 Park Avenue and of Ralph Guy Carpenter of Boston.

Other Weddings

Abbott—Roesler.

Miss Alice Imlay Roesler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max Roesler of 215 East Seventy-second Street, was married to Ernest Hamlin Abbott Jr., son of the Rev. and Mrs. Ernest Hamlin Abbott of Cornwall-on-Hudson, yesterday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents. The ceremony was performed by the bridegroom's father and was attended only by relatives and a few friends. A reception followed.

The bride, who was unattended, was given in marriage by her father. Alexander L. Abbott was his brother's best man.

After a wedding trip the couple will live in Poughkeepsie.

Bonnabeau—Hayes.

VALLEY STREAM, L. I., Aug. 18.—Miss Ella Edna Hayes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hayes of 99 Derby Street, this village, was married to Raymond Charles Bonnabeau of 37 Du Bois Avenue, Valley Stream, Saturday, it was announced today. The Rev. Peter P. McGovern, pastor of the Holy Name of Mary Church, officiated. The bride's sister, Miss Elizabeth Hayes, was maid of honor.

A wedding breakfast for the immediate families and intimate friends at the Hewlett Inn followed the ceremony. The couple are on a motor tour through the New England States. They will live at 99 Grove Street here when they return.

Bowen—McGowan.

Special to The New York Times.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Aug. 18.—Miss Mae Allen McGowan, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McGowan of this city, was married this morning in St. Aiden's Catholic Church to Emmons J. Bowen of this city. Miss McGowan had her sister, Miss Madelyn McGowan, as her only attendant. Harold J. Bowen was his brother's best man.

The bride is a graduate of New Haven Normal School and has been teaching here. Mr. Bowen was graduated at Holy Cross College in 1919. He was captain of the baseball team there.

ALL NEWPORT OUT FOR TENNIS TOURNEY

Brilliant Gathering at Casino to Watch Tilden and Vines in Chief Match.

UMBRELLA STANDS POPULAR

Final Round Played in Women's Doubles—Miss Kinsolving Loses Diamond and Emerald Bracelet.

Special to The New York Times.

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 18.—Despite the clouds that hung over the start of the annual invitation tennis tournament at the Casino this morning, members of the Summer colony arrived in large numbers and the opening gallery was a large one. The grandstand was filled most of the time and many spectators took advantage of the umbrella stands, especially in the afternoon when Tilden was the featured player on the championship court. The chief match of interest in the morning was between Ellsworth Vines and William T. Tilden.

Mrs. Vincent Astor and Mrs. W. Goadby Loew, two members of the ladies' tennis committee, arrived during the middle of the morning, Mrs. Loew being accompanied by her daughters, Mrs. E. Livingston Burrill Jr. and Mrs. Florence Loew. Craig Biddle, a member of the tennis committee, came from his Summer home in Narragansett, joining James Stewart Cushman, chairman, Thomas Ridgway and the other members of the committee in charge of the tournament.

Mrs. F. Lothrop Ames came in with Mrs. Henry G. Gray and other friends, Mrs. R. Livingston Beckman was joined by Allen G. Wellman and P. S. P. Randolph Jr., in the grandstand. Miss Anna Sands and Mrs. Herman D. Kountze viewed the important matches from the side lines.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick H. Allen arrived late but remained interested in the play until the end. Other spectators included Mr. and Mrs. Aymar Johnson, Mrs. Benjamin R. Holcolm, Major and Mrs. Lorillard Spencer, Miss Edith Cram and Mrs. Scoville Treadwell.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis G. Norris were moving about the grounds most the day, and in the stand were Mrs. Clarence W. Dolan, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. H. Ripley, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ogden Bacon, Admiral Cameron McF. Winslow and his daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert C. Pell, Mr. and Mrs. John Pell and Miss Olive Whitman.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene S. Peynal gave a dinner at Beachmound tonight. Mrs. James Laurens Van Alen gave a dinner at Wakehurst and Mr. and Mrs. W. Thorn Kissell also gave a dinner at Vedimar. Mr. and Mrs. William F. Whitehouse entertained with a luncheon at Stonevilla, Mrs. James Denison Sawyer one at the Ledges, and Mrs. William Grosvenor gave a luncheon at the Clam Bake Club.

Robert Ogden Bishop of Mount Kisco and Mrs. John Randolph Carmichael of Hagerstown, Md., are guests at the Viking.

George Eustis Paine has concluded a brief visit with Mr. and Mrs. Samuel J. Reeves at Cliff Lawn.

Another attraction at the Casino today was the women's double tennis tournament started last week and this morning reduced to the final round. At the same time a men's doubles, also begun last week, was completed. In the latter Louis Hobbs and Thomas Powers defeated Reginald Kazengian and J. S. Millen, 6—4, 4—6, 9—7, while in the women's doubles Mrs. Herman Oelrichs and Mrs. Lorillard Spencer defeated Mrs. Lewis G. Morris and her daughter, Miss Betty Morris, 6—1, 6—4, and therefore will meet in the final round today Mrs. Allen W. Morton and Miss Florence Mitchell for the prizes offered by Mrs. Spencer and Miss Natalie Winslow.

It was learned today that Miss Anne Seddon Kinsolving of Baltimore, fiancée of John Nicholas Brown, who attended the ball given by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Goelet at Ochre Court on Saturday night, had lost a valuable diamond and emerald bracelet somewhere in the vicinity of Ochre Point. This is the first piece of jewelry to be reported lost in Newport this Summer. A liberal reward is being offered.

DR. W. G. ANDERSON OF YALE WEDS WIDOW

Gymnasium Head, 69, Recently Divorced, Takes Mrs. A. W. Hawley as Bride.

Special to The New York Times.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Aug. 18.—Dr. William G. Anderson, director of the Yale University Gymnasium and authority on physical health education, was married to Mrs. Alice Wheeler Hawley of 106 East Fifty-second Street, New York, on July 2, it was announced here today.

The ceremony was performed in Brattleboro, Vt., by the Rev. Milton S. Czatt. Mrs. Hawley gave her age as 57. The bridegroom is 69.

Professor Anderson was divorced here from his first wife two months ago. She had previously brought a suit against Mrs. Hawley for alienation of affections, but the case was withdrawn.

Dr. Anderson's bride was the widow of Amos Peck Hawley, purchasing agent for the New York Stock Exchange until his death on Feb. 19, 1928, it was learned yesterday at the Women's University Club, 106 East Fifty-second Street, of which she is a member. The former Alice Mann Wheeler, she was graduated from Smith College in 1895 and was married to Mr. Hawley in 1902.

For some time Mr. and Mrs. Hawley resided in Springfield, Mass., where he was a manager of several mills owned by the American Writing Paper Company. In 1919 he became purchasing agent for the Stock Exchange, with offices at 18 Broad Street and residence at the Hotel Belmont. Mrs. Hawley seldom came to the club, it was said yesterday, and her last known address was the Stevens Hotel, Chicago. The couple had no children.

Dr. Anderson married Miss Effie Adelaide Harmond of New Haven in Marquand Chapel of Yale University Divinity School on Sept. 15, 1927.

In 1909 Dr. Anderson conducted personal experiments to determine the effect of the administration of oxygen to mountain climbers, climbing several Mexican peaks and finding it beneficial. He also announced in that year his discovery that chocolate is a beneficial food for athletes.

Dr. Anderson in 1916 assailed football as having become a vocation rather than an avocation in American college life, and as using up energy that should be devoted to study. In 1926 he announced a new "daily dozen" system of neck and abdominal exercises. He has written articles on physical exercise for newspapers.

HELEN GEHRIE CHOOSES BRIDAL ATTENDANTS

Her Marriage to G. E. Atkins in Trinity Presbyterian Church, South Orange, Sept. 6.

Special to The New York Times.

SOUTH ORANGE, N. J., Aug. 18.—Miss Helen Jay Gehrie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Gehrie of South Orange, has chosen Sept. 6 as the date of her marriage to George E. Atkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Short Atkins of East Orange. The ceremony will be performed at Trinity Presbyterian Church, South Orange, by the pastor, the Rev. Victor H. Lukens. A reception will follow at the Hotel Suburban, East Orange.

Miss Gehrie has selected Mrs. Cyrus C. Wallace of South Orange as matron of honor and the bridesmaids will be Miss Marion Lewis of Philadelphia, Mrs. Norman Gehrie of Maplewood, Mrs. Emerson Ross of Cleveland and Mrs. Frederick Schwartz of Newark. Jean Henderson of South Orange will be flower girl. Emerson Ross of Cleveland will be best man and the ushers will be Norman Gehrie of Maplewood, brother of the bride-elect; S. Allen Pippitt and John Black of East Orange.

Mower—Young.

Special to The New York Times.

STAMFORD, Conn., Aug. 18.—Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Frank Mower of 54 Shelton Avenue have sent out invitations for the marriage of their daughter, May Lillian Mower, to Egbert Giles Young, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. THE PLAY

By J. BROOKS ATKINSON.

Midsummer Night's Dream.

THROUGH THE NIGHT, a comedy in three acts, by Samuel Ruskin Golding and Paul Dickey. Staged by Mr. Golding; produced by the Pilgrim Productions, Inc. At the Theatre Masque.

Howard Talbott.......George MacQuarrie
Cram.......Henry W. Pemberton
Camilla Del Val.......Francesca Destinn
Inez Talbott.......Helen MacKellar
De Witt Clinton Pomeroy.......John Westley
Bob Hedges.......Robert Hudson
Tony Collister.......Noel Tearle
Mrs. Prentiss.......Margaret Pitt
Inspector Cardigan.......Charles T. Lewis
Kelly.......George Spelvin

Nothing much will be set down in these temperate columns about "Through the Night," which was visible at the Theatre Masque last evening. It is the joint product of Samuel Ruskin Golding and Paul Dickey. It plays from 8:50 to 10:50 with two social intermissions. According to Burns Mantle's valuable compendium, "American Playwrights of Today," Mr. Golding, who is a Brown University and New York Law School man, has already contributed to dramaturgy "Open House," "The Black Cockatoo," "New York," "Divorce à la Mode" and one or two other plays. Mr. Dickey, who was educated at the University of Michigan, where he worked in the dramatic vineyard of the Michigan Comedy Club, has written "The Ghost Breaker," a success; "The Misleading Lady," "The Back-slapper," "The Last Laugh," "The Broken Wing" and "The Lincoln Highway."

Combining their talents and experience in "Through the Night," they have turned out what is labeled comedy on the program, but what seems more like a criminal mystery play with a weakness for fiddle-faddle. Its chief dramatic materials are the stolen necklace, the gentlemanly burglar, the crafty butler, the hypocritical husband, the cool-headed wife, the shrewd lawyer and the bogus Spanish marquise. After three acts of regulation length and breadth it appears that the husband, who is vice chairman of the local crime commission, has turned thief himself, and that the Spanish lady with a tropical temperament is his accomplice. This has not been suspected. It brings the curtain down on an unusual dramatic situation.

In the meantime, the going is pretty sodden for lovers of galvanic drama. But midway occurs a contretemps so foreign to the general tone of the piece as to awaken cynical suspicions. Bob Hedges has just explained to the police inspector that he is a polo player. "Polo?" says the inspector, ruminating. "I know, it's like croquet." "Why, no," retorts Hedges hotly, "you play polo with horses." "I thought that was chess," the inspector replies. "Not chess," Hedges says, still indignant, "You play chess with bishops." "No you don't," the inspector remarks philosophically. "You don't play anything with bishops." "Through the Night" contains nothing else in that vein.

Helen MacKellar has the star rôle as the quick-witted wife. John Westley, Noel Tearle and George MacQuarrie are featured players. "Through the Night" does not bring out the finest qualities in their art. Both the play and the acting leave something grave to be desired.

C. G. Stewart to Resume Duties.

After a long illness, Charles G. Stewart will return today to his post of general manager of Laurence Rivers, Inc., the firm which produced "The Green Pastures." Mr. Stewart was taken ill on Feb. 25, just before the opening of the play here, and underwent five operations in a hospital stay of seventeen weeks. He has been convalescing during the last month.

VAN HOOGSTRATEN RETURNS

Conducts Philharmonic in Beethoven's Seventh Symphony.

Willem van Hoogstraten returned last night to the Lewisohn Stadium at City College to conduct the New York Philharmonic-Symphony Orchestra. He was welcomed by a rather small audience, which, however, did not lack in cordiality. The program consisted of Beethoven's Seventh Symphony, Ravel's Spanish Rhapsody, the entr'acte music from Schubert's "Rosamunde" and Liszt's first Hungarian Rhapsody.

Mr. Van Hoogstraten, who had been conducting guest performances of the Philharmonic Society of San Mateo County in the Woodland Theatre, Hillsborough, Cal., while Albert Coates was directing the Stadium concerts during the last three weeks, was recalled after the Beethoven symphony, and prevailed upon the players to share in the applause. He was not so successful in the Ravel tapestry.

The Hall Johnson Negro Choir will sing spirituals tonight and tomorrow night. The orchestral portion of the program announced for tonight is the overture to Nicolai's "The Merry Wives of Windsor," Dukas's "The Sorcerer's Apprentice," Brahms's "Academic Festival" overture and Richard Strauss's "Salome's Dance."

PRICES AND GOLD SUPPLY.

The fall in average prices, as computed by the Labor Department's statisticians in their report of Saturday, amounted to 3¼ per cent last month and to 14¼ per cent since the previous July, when the highest average of 1929 was reached. From the bureau's classified averages for July it appears that, while the farm-product group scored the heaviest decline from a year ago, 22⅞ per cent, non-agricultural and finished products each fell 11⅝ per cent, textiles 13⅞, metals as a group 8⅞ and iron and steel alone 7⅝. It was inevitable that this sudden and rapid decline should revive the argument that the world's gold supply is inadequate. It leads economists like Professor CASSEL to talk of the "relentless struggle for gold" and the "change in the value of money."

They are perfectly able to prove that annual gold production is smaller than in the period from 1907 to 1915 inclusive. Compared with the last-named year, when high record was reached, the world's present yearly output is about $64,000,000 less, a reduction of nearly 14 per cent. The Transvaal's production in 1929 was the largest in its history and last year's Canadian contribution showed an increase of $22,000,000 over 1915; but these gains were much more than offset by reduction of $50,000,000 in the United States and of $30,000,000 in Australasia, while Russia also failed to measure up to its former output. The post hoc argument of inadequate gold production as a cause for falling prices would seem plausible on its face.

But the matter is not so simple. The influence of a gold supply on prices nowadays is exerted primarily through its function as basis for credit; that is to say, through its use in banking reserves. In hand-to-hand circulation, gold can have no greater direct influence than paper money maintained at parity with gold. When explaining the prolonged rise of prices between 1890 and 1904, economists of that day pointed out that half of the gold held in the world's great banks and treasuries had been accumulated during the fourteen-year interval, a period of rapidly increasing gold production. Yet in the past fourteen years, banking gold reserves have been enlarged even more rapidly than at that period, though for a different reason. European countries, in which gold was a principal medium of daily exchange before the war, have abandoned that use of it. It has been drawn into banking reserves, being replaced in circulation by paper currency for which the gold is made the basis. The result was lately summed up by The London Economist. Its calculation was that, whereas annual addition to the world's stock of gold since 1913 has been 2.4 per cent, or less than the 3 per cent increase theoretically reckoned as sufficient, the gold held by central banks and treasuries has risen 115.4 per cent during the period, or on the average 4.9 per cent per annum.

There are many reasoners who, while recognizing the force of this consideration, still insist that "maldistribution" of this increased gold reserve is the cause of trouble. A great part of the gold in motion has been going to the United States and France, which have more than they need already, and has been leaving countries like England, which appear to have too little. It might be answered that such seemingly unreasonable movements have been witnessed at all times in economic history and have always been occasioned by the balance of payments in favor of a given market, or against it. As a final recourse, we are told that France is "sterilizing" its newly acquired gold; locking it up in bank and preventing it from exerting its proper influence on credit.

Yet no one informs us what the French bank is doing to achieve that purpose. It has reduced its official discount rate lower than any other central banking institution except our Federal Reserve, whose 2½ per cent rate is the same as that of the Bank of France. It lends freely to all qualified applicants. If England's unsatisfactory gold reserve is a cause for falling prices, why do not the superfluous gold reserves of New York and Paris tend to drive prices up? The decline has been as great in France and America as in England.

SNIPING IN PENN'S WOODS.

However the Supreme Court may decide today in the matter of the perforated ballots of Luzerne County, Pennsylvania Republicans will remain in a bitter tangle. If the votes are thrown out, GIFFORD PINCHOT will have to yield the party nomination for Governor to FRANCIS SHUNK BROWN. But he has made all his plans to stand as an independent candidate, hoping in that guise to garner all the Drys and all the anti-Vare Republicans who do not consider prohibition the paramount issue. This would leave to the Democratic nominee, Mr. HEMPHILL, his own fellow-partisans who do not agree with VANCE MCCORMICK that the Dry issue transcends party lines, and those Philadelphia and Pittsburgh Republican Wets with whom that issue is more powerful than organization commands. Mr. BROWN would have the Philadelphia and Pittsburgh machines, all Republicans who automatically follow the party standard and perhaps many Drys. From such a mixed field the most anointed of political prophets would hesitate to select a winner.

Usually Democrats have no chance in Pennsylvania State contests. This year, whether the court decides for or against Mr. PINCHOT, they are justified in indulging hope. The animosity between him and the Philadelphia machine flames more fiercely every time Mr. PINCHOT speaks. Saturday at Fogelsville was supposed to be a Republican party "rally." Its outcome was a bitter denunciation of the Vare machine by Mr. PINCHOT and an equally uncomplimentary retort by Mr. BROWN. When the rivals had finished, it was clear that, if the court sustains the former Governor, he will get less than perfunctory support from Philadelphia; while if Mr. BROWN is given the certificate, from Mr. PINCHOT he will get open opposition. In the fable, the fox made off with the meat for which the wolf and the bear were fighting. The Democrats have read and marked that tale.

It is "unthinkable" that Democrats can elect a Pennsylvania Senator or Governor. But it was unthinkable in 1928 that the Republicans would carry Virginia and Texas. Every now and then the majority is divided by a chasm which cannot, for immediate election purposes, be bridged. That may happen this year in Pennsylvania.

WASTES IN GOVERNMENT.

At a time of pinch like this it behooves every community to take stock of its taxes and expenditures. Expansion in some directions may be justified as an emergency measure. A program of public works planned for five years may properly be compressed into three if the taxpayers do not object and it will help to relieve temporary unemployment. But there is always the danger lest unemployment be made the excuse for embarking on unsound ventures, or for payroll padding, or for extravagance. In this State the taxpayer already has a heavy burden. It has grown so rapidly lately that he is crying aloud for relief. Real estate is groaning under a particularly heavy load. A special commission is about to undertake a study of the State tax system as a whole to see if the burden cannot be more equitably distributed.

Now comes the announcement of a committee to study the other side of the ledger. The New York State Economic Council thinks that not less than $10,000,000 is wasted every year in State, county and municipal government. Any one with first-hand knowledge of the situation would set that down as an extremely conservative statement. That sum could probably be saved within the borders of the five counties composing this city if payrolls were pruned, bureaus consolidated and pensions systematized. County government throughout the State is an ancient citadel of waste against which successive Governors have tilted in vain.

The council has set up a committee on public expenditures to survey State and local outlays generally. Its chairman, Mr. WILLIAM A. PRENDERGAST, concedes that the public is now eager to have the State live up to those social responsibilities which have so greatly increased the cost of government lately. But he thinks there is room for their better regulation, and in particular for a more scientific division of labor between State and local governments. Entering the field at just this juncture, the committee may be able to rouse the public to the need of economy and retrenchment.

TEXAS ENJOYS HERSELF.

The run-off campaign between ROSS STERLING and "MA" FERGUSON, represented by "PA" or "JIM," for the Democratic nomination for Governor of Texas, grows a little more "halcyon and vociferous" every day. According to "JIM," the issue is between the yeomanry and the millionaires. "JIM" is the friend of "the common people." His brother says most unfraternally that ever since childhood "JIM" has been "no more interested in the "common people than a hog in a "rock pile." Mr. STERLING has had to plead guilty to a couple of bathtubs and "some showers" in his house. In rebuttal, a Sterlingite Nestor of the Legislature charges that there were "washerwomen and "cooks and housegirls and a social "private secretary" in the executive mansion in "JIM'S" reign. Voice in the crowd: "Yes, and he bought a ukulele, didn't he?"

Admitting that Mr. STERLING has become forehanded, his advocates point with pride to the days when he was "a barefooted cowboy." He rose from poverty, and "JIM" used to be a railway laborer. Our old friend, "the bloated bondholder," has made a triumphant re-entry. We should have supposed that he would be holding common stock by this time. Mr. STERLING never knew the taste of whisky. Mr. FERGUSON wants to keep out of office persons who drink bootleg liquor. In a more genial mood, he says: "Don't be "uneasy, for we ain't after you "boys just now." According to him, Mr. STERLING once wept on his shoulder and begged him to save him from prosecution. Mr. STERLING denies that he was ever in the Governor's office. If he wanted to cry, he "could find a lot of better "shoulders to boohoo on than those "of old rawhide 'JIM' FERGUSON."

Mr. STERLING had a grand-uncle at the battle of San Jacinto. Doubtless "JIM" will discover that at least three of his grand-uncles also served under SAM HOUSTON. That "pinhead," Governor MOODY, "will "have to go back to his task of "smoking cigarettes and crochet-"ing." As usual, the press is "bought." Every wrong will be righted when "JIM" comes in:

> I'll be right there with Mamma to pick up the chips and bring in the water when you elect her, and you will. [Tumultuous applause.]

Hecklers at Sterling meetings shout: "Where did he get his money?" "We believe in forgiveness like 'Ma' does." "Hurrah for 'Ma' FERGUSON!" "We want 'Ma.'" Treatment of interrupters is sometimes a little severe. A Sterling speaker was howled at when he attempted to deal with "Ma's" list of pardons:

> I'll bet that she has pardoned you or some of your kinfolks. I'll bet I could stand you on your head and couldn't shake a dollar out of your pants.

Is this the way to appease "you poor folks"? There are stumpers by the hundred. One victim of rhetoricitis would rather see the State Capitol burned than the FERGUSONS returned thither. It is a great show in a dull month. What with "Old JIM" and the herd of spouters and amplifiers, Texas must be a continent of sound. The favorite cry at meetings is: "Pour it on." For four days more it will be poured.

EGYPTIAN AFFAIRS.

It hardly seems warranted to speak of an approaching political "crisis" in Egypt, except as that country has been living in perpetual crisis for two or three years past. The present trouble grows out of the inability of King FUAD to get on with the Egyptian Parliament. When he dissolves it because it is too strongly under the control of the Wafd, or party of Egypt for the Egyptians, the new one comes back even more overwhelmingly dominated by that organization. It is partly this fact which leads to the report that the King has determined to alter the Egyptian Constitution by decree, so as to limit the franchise and secure a Parliament more ready to cooperate with him.

Such a step, if it is really to be attempted, could not be agreeable to the Labor Government of Great Britain. Prime Minister MACDONALD had a debate with WINSTON CHURCHILL on this subject shortly before the Labor Cabinet adjourned Parliament in time for the grouse-shooting. Mr. CHURCHILL affirmed that the worst blunder which the government had made was to insist that the treaty with Egypt, still unratified, must have the approval of a Parliament "elected on a basis of manhood suffrage." Mr. MACDONALD did not concede that this was a correct description of what had happened. He did, however, admit that the British Government had urged upon the Egyptian Prime Minister that it would be a great blunder to make the Egyptian franchise narrower and less liberal. Mr. MACDONALD denied that this was interference in an Egyptian affair purely domestic. Yet his official message to the Egyptian Government certainly looks a good deal like it, if one quotes merely the words which he himself said had been spoken:

> If you have any chance of getting an agreement between Egypt and ourselves, our judgment leads us to the conclusion that that attempt ought not to be preceded by an attempt to cook your register, to narrow your franchise, and to give your political opponents the chance of saying that this agreement was effected behind the backs of the Egyptian people, and that the Egyptian people were in no way responsible for carrying it out.

King FUAD might retort that he and his Ministers had done the best they could to carry out the ideas of the MacDonald Government, but had completely failed. He should not, however, overlook another part of Mr. MACDONALD'S statement to the House of Commons. This was that the British Government did not intend to shirk in any way its responsibility in case foreign life and property were placed in jeopardy in Egypt. The Labor Prime Minister would be just as unyielding in his "Imperialism," should such a crisis come up, as would be the most crusted Tory who might be at the head of the government. Whatever else he is, RAMSAY MACDONALD is a stalwart champion of the British Empire. If there were any doubt of it, events in India and in Egypt must have convinced the most skeptical.

MEMORY.

Of all the mysteries of human life—next to the fact of existence itself, its origin and its destiny—memory is the most baffling. Where are all the myriad impressions that come through the senses, or the countless thoughts that are developed by observation and reflection, stored so that even after years of oblivion they are brought forth in fresh and perfect form? Why do their images at other times, especially when frequently exposed to view, take on a lustre or a patina? Again, why do they sometimes refuse to come at call and why at other times do they obtrude themselves, unasked? The poet's "thousand chambers of the brain" are not enough to hold them all. Nor can the billions of brain cells which the scientist finds in existence at the birth of a child, and which are not added to later, accommodate singly all the sensations that are communicated to them to be held as memories; for, as he tells us, "every impression, whether good "or bad, is permanently written "upon the brain." This incidentally suggests the importance of controlling what is written there for children.

Dr. GEORGE W. CRILE, the eminent surgeon, has in a recent address before the American Philosophical Society presented a theory which in his expert opinion provides a mechanism that will account for the persistence of memories through life and yet will explain the distortions and interruptions which sometimes disfigure or destroy all that the mind has gathered and leave

> things
> Nor true nor false, but sweet to > think upon.

To meet these and other manifold requirements, he "proposes" that the memory is "electric in nature," the nervous system providing an infinite number of electro-chemical mechanisms, "each consisting of one "or more receptors, conductors, in-"sulators and energy-transforming "units or cells."

Our lay acquaintance with the radio enables us to understand that the organs supplied by nerves perform work identical with that which stimulated them, but it is not so easy to comprehend how it is that a record is made so perfect and durable on chemical compounds of potassium, sodium, phosphorus, calcium, &c., that the memories of childhood may be carried throughout life or be subject to variations or temporary obliteration.

The explanation is that the electric charge so affects the brain cells as to form fibrillae and create a specific pattern which is reproduced when a like impact comes again. Since there is assumed to be the possibility of infinite pathways or lines of conductance, this assumption also provides for "millions of sepa-"rate and distinct actions or mem-"ory patterns." Their infinitely fine organization accounts for their capacity, while their association assures the permanency of the patterns and yet allows the blending of memories.

This theory "brings memory un-"der the dominion of the physical "laws governing living matter and "non-living matter." And now we await eagerly scientific advice how the brain-cell electricity may be generated in sufficient voltage for our individual use so long as memory holds its seat.

A BOOK SURVEY.

Publishers, booksellers, bookbinders, paper manufacturers and other concerns interested have joined forces for a study of their industry. Like other business, it is feeling the current depression, and it is to be turned over and picked to pieces to uncover dark corners where the cogs need oiling and the belts run slack. Not so long ago a business which showed signs of slowing was treated in haphazard fashion. There was no attempt at a scientific investigation, no correlation of statistics. Everything was rule of thumb. If a publisher discovered that he was making less money than last year and year before, he did not inquire if other publishers were suffering similar losses, and try to find a possible common cause. He hustled around looking for a promising manuscript or a sensational new author.

Today any business man feels himself too much a part of the group doing his kind of work to pursue a lone course. He knows that in the ordinary run of events he will not fail or succeed alone. The firms doing the most business are keenly aware of their dependence on many factors which may not concern them solely but which have a profound indirect influence on their sales. It is equally important to the little fellows to keep in touch with the trend that may carry them to the top or swamp them.

Are book prices higher than manufacturing and other costs warrant? Is the dollar book a desirable new comer? What can be done to make distribution cheaper and wider? These are some of the questions which the book survey proposes to answer. Rural America alone presents a huge problem. There is a great potential market, hardly more than touched as yet by the book clubs, among a population that has taken to automobiles, movies and radio as easily as city people. As the investigation pries into the situation many unexpected facts should come to light. The book people should not be discouraged if they, are like others, going through a slump. They are at least taking the modern way out of it.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES.

Trouble in the Tenements. It is good to see signs of renewed activity in the Tenement House Department. Old-law tenements are poor places to live in at best; the protective provisions of the law should be strictly enforced.

In their recent raids Commissioner DEEGAN'S men found a violation in one out of every five buildings inspected. That does not speak well for their previous efforts. In fact, Mr. DEEGAN had convinced himself by a personal tour of the lower east side that the law was being disregarded.

Most of the trouble was with obstructions to fire-escapes. If the dwellers in these old buildings realized what fire-traps many of them are, they would not tolerate any interference with free egress in an emergency.

Other violations involved repairs or structural changes. They cut deeper. Here the inspectors share responsibility with the magistrates' courts. In the past, magistrates have dealt too leniently with such offenders.

War Plays and the Public. The first sudden withdrawal of the budding theatrical season was a war play of which much was expected. This indicates that the public will not flock to a drama merely because its theme is war. It must be a good play, irrespective of its subject.

If "Suspense" had been the first of the war plays, it might have succeeded. But playgoers have become inured to war theatricals, and each new contribution is judged coldly and in comparison with others. This does not mean, of course, that there is no more room for war literature of genuine artistic merit, or that none will be forthcoming.

After one's first few war plays, movies or books, it is hard to be deeply stirred when a homesick Tommy stares out at the audience and moans: "Oh, what's it all for?" War is frightful and stupid, but there is a limit to the artistic capital that can be made out of these facts alone. If that limit is exceeded, the generation that has not gone through the war may even become skeptical about its horrors.

Golfers at Sea. The present mania for putting in one's spare time putting is not confined to Americans. The Prince of WALES, who has tasted the pleasures of miniature golf on a course at the Royal Palace in Brussels, has suggested that a putting green be installed on the sun-deck of the Empress of Britain.

The possibility that an area 200 feet by 12 may be turned over to ocean golfers prompts the humorous poet of The Manchester Guardian to some lively verses on the subject:

> The boy stood on the putting-deck,
> Whence all but he had fled;
> His putter had a twisted neck,
> His touch was sure and dead.
> He sank his seven-hundredth shot,
> Then straightened up and said:
> "I am monarch of all I survey,
> My rivals are all on the shelf,
> And here I persistently play
> Unlimited games with myself."

The burlesque meanders on to a last stanza, which is a fine combination of the Gilbert-and-Sullivan and the sea chantey styles:

> And here I stand day after day
> Putting agreeable putts away!
> With one for thou and one for thee,
> And one for him and one for he,
> And one for you and two for me—
> And yo-ho-ho! for a life at sea!

Speeding Time's Pace. Perhaps a divine watcher of the universe may deal with the centuries and eons as but moments of time. Looking down amid the spheres he may in an instant see the population trends of the United States flowing and receding as a writer in the Sunday TIMES described them. First slowly rolling westward through the Indian forests from the reservoir along the Atlantic Coast, then cascading over the plains and mountains to the Pacific, then turning inland again. It has been 140 years since the first census was taken, and finite minds must painstakingly mull over statistics for hours until at length they realize that the ebb and flow have been as described.

Yet there is an agency, not at all divine, which has the pictorial power to depict facts in motion and to consume very little of what non-Einsteinians know as time. That is the motion picture film. Its possibilities along these lines are so endless that it is a steady wonder they are not oftener so employed for audiences both in the theatre and the classroom.

Officers studying the strategy of land and naval warfare by means of charts and pages of detailed description could get the whole movement of armies in an instant if, for example, the charts were set in motion on the screen. How PICKETT'S line charged, how the ridge and the roundtops held, how STUART was blocked a few miles away, and Gettysburg was lost—this the moving lines of the film could show more clearly than any book or design.

AN INEVITABLE RESULT.

Unemployment Due to System Sustained by Modern State.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

Much appreciation is due THE NEW YORK TIMES for the many interesting and illuminating editorials on unemployment and economic conditions in Great Britain. The one entitled "The Two Million" is of particular interest.

As you point out, "blame for what has occurred in the past year cannot more rightly be placed upon the shoulders of Prime Minister MacDonald in England than upon those of Mr. Hoover in this country." It is true that "neither of them was able to stop or change the irresistible play of economic forces" which apparently they do not understand.

These forces are the inevitable result of an economic system which violates justice and natural law. So long as such a system endures there will be unemployment and chaotic conditions the world over, and unless and until the root causes of these conditions are understood and eliminated no amount of tinkering nor panaceas offered by so-called radicals, psuedo economists and time-serving politicians will avail one iota; progress comes only through intelligence.

We must understand that unemployment with its degrading poverty is the direct and inevitable result of an economic system of privilege which is sustained by the modern State, based on land monopoly, tariff barriers and trade restrictions. Justice demands free access to land, nature's storehouse, as the right and heritage of all men, and freedom to exchange the products of labor applied to land. These two fundamentals are essential to man's sustenance, well-being and happiness; every interference therewith will inevitably lead to unemployment, poverty, suffering, revolution and war.

Drive through beautiful Britain, the most densely populated land of Western civilization, with its over 12,000,000 acres of arable land held out of use while 2,000,000 Englishmen starve through unemployment. Since the closing of the frontier in the United States similar conditions confront us here as elsewhere in the world where monopoly has its grip.

Land monopoly affects all men, whether industrialists or agriculturists, for land is nature's employment bureau, the source of all wealth.

Mr. MacDonald and Mr. Hoover assuredly "made the mistake of asserting beforehand that they knew how to cure all the people's ills." There is no evidence that they knew, nor knowing could they remain in office should they take serious issue with the interests of privilege which profit by the present economic structure.

AN ISSUE WANTED.

Talk of Republican Harmony in State Is Regarded as Futile.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

Some Republican leaders are said to hope for harmony at the coming State convention, but there is no such thing in good politics. Harmony belongs with the angels. An issue is what the electorate wants, and a candidate who represents that issue and who can present it sanely, logically and with dignity.

Compromise with a fanatical minority has cost the Republican party three Governorships and at least one United States Senatorship. Would the party be any worse off to lose another Governorship through the defection of elements hostile to repeal, alien to reason and objectionable to the Republican rank and file? Would the party be any worse off to lose a fight than it would be to lose by another compromise with organization baiters?

The aftermath of Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler's statement that the Republican party is for repeal has brought out the usual intimidations, threats and misrepresentations of the Anti-Saloon League, its associates and kindred spirits, but New York State understands their vacuity and demands that political leaders heed the wishes of party membership. Popular will may be trusted, but the fears of pa ty managers have been repeatedly demonstrated to be unreliable.

Even in New Jersey, Ambassador Morrow had to run down to Trenton and set the State committee right on a platform plank after his amazing primary victory for the United States Senatorial nomination.

THE NEW POET TO HIS BRIDE.

O greatly loved of me that knew
The Sisters on The Singing Slopes,
What if I may not gather you
The laurels of your singing hopes?

When your soft prison grants me leave,
And my own option grants me time,
I'll spin your copper hair to weave
A warp of love, a weft of rhyme.

But I must plant security
For shelter and the singing shade,
For only under my own tree
Will many songs to you be made.

AMERICA'S MORAL INFLUENCE.

By EDWIN L. JAMES.

Just as an American observer who has been living in Europe gets the idea, on returning to the United States, that popularly there is an underestimation of the political power which America's material position has given us, he also finds what, looked upon from the other side, seems to be an exaggeration of the moral world influence of the United States. In other words, if it is true, as believed, that the public rates too low our general world position, it still seems to give too much credit to what may be called, and what is called in Europe, our effort to guide the world aright.

America's great world political position is not due primarily to our moral leadership but primarily to our wealth and economic position. That is true because it is not to our moral teachings that the rest of the world responds, but to our material power. If we were a poor and weak nation the world would today care no more about what we thought than did the world before the Great War.

It is not difficult to understand why the Old World does not take our exhortations to heart any more. There is the old story of the League of Nations. There is the World Court. There are other things, like the International Bank—all of which seem to represent our advice to others as to how to do their business, while we do ours some other way. Our advice as to how other nations should act is, of itself, of very little more influence than our example of how we stop our own nation from drinking intoxicating liquors.

Now those who still believe that "the moral sense" of America is a real factor in international affairs will surely cite the Kellogg pact as an example of how we do good and do it altruistically. If it gives great comfort to the American people to think that they led the world away from war with the anti-war pact, then something may be said for that point of view. But no one who has lived in Europe in recent years can believe in the dominant moral effect of the Kellogg pact as an active factor in world affairs. Almost the only attraction Europe ever saw in it was the line the United States signed on. No European nation promised anything in the anti-war pact that it had not already agreed to in the covenant of the League of Nations. But there was the signature of the United States, which seemed to promise the cooperation of our great material power in curbing the aggressor in another war. And that made a powerful appeal. But this appeal lay not in any new religion the Kellogg pact brought to a soul-hungry world. It was based on the great political power of America because of our enormous wealth and potential military and naval power.

Owen Young said recently that this country is too rich to be loved. It is the power and not the morals of the rich man which are influential in his community. Even if he has high morals, no one pays much attention to them. It is less his religion than his money which counts.

The attitude of Great Britain may best illustrate this point. Does any one believe seriously that the deference and respect Britain has shown for us in the past decade represent a belief in our moral superiority, a realization of a superior civilization on this side of the Atlantic or a better system of government and social order? Not at all. Britain is extremely practical in foreign affairs. There is no new approval of America and Americans, but there is a realization of our material power as something to be reckoned with seriously, and Britain does just that.

One hears it said in America that the London naval treaty shows how the United States leads the world to disarmament. Who believes that England and Japan see disarmament in our building a billion dollars' worth of new warships? What happened at the London naval conference was that Britain agreed to hold still, at relatively her present position, until we caught up if, in return, we agreed not to exceed that position after catching up. And Japan took her place in the picture for the obvious reason she had no desire for the United States to build to a degree which would call for too great expenditures if Japan were to hold her proportionate position.

It was with the naval conference as with the Kellogg pact. If Americans, with memories of our sacrifices in 1921—saw in the London agreement a further sacrifice for world good, the others did not see it that way. They saw only the United States using its great potentialities to assure itself the position of naval parity with Britain, and that for nationalistic purposes. No other nation took seriously our dogma that for purposes of pure self-defense we need as great a naval force as the wide-flung British Empire. No European diplomats saw any altruistic motive in our program at London. Our professed moral desires were smothered under our building program.

It is no exaggeration to say that Europe sees us as nationally selfish in our refusal to commit ourselves in any way as to measures to be taken to maintain peace or to restore peace if it is broken. While we say it is to preserve our precious liberty, other nations say we seek to preserve our right to trade with warring nations or to do whatever else may be to our advantage, as we see it at any given time.

Perhaps it is not becoming in some of our European critics to draw from our position the conclusion that we are worse than other nations. We follow the line of foreign policy they followed, generally speaking, when they were in our relative position. There would be better support for our contention that we are no worse than they were and would be if they could. But the situation does make it difficult for us to contend successfully that we are better than other nations. They do not believe it.

Of course, there have been in the past, indications pointing to a real influence of our moral advice. In the first five years after the World War the nations of Europe, on their backs and seeking American aid, took all pains to avoid offending us and therefore appeared to give careful and weighty consideration to our altruistic advice. The succeeding five years changed that. Today, Europe, to a rapidly increasing degree, feels itself getting back to where it may treat with us on a plane of equality. And that puts Europe in a position to do what the Old World likes about our advice. More and more we shall hear that words unaccompanied by acts will not be taken as seriously as in the past.

Europe will not admit that Americans are any better than Europeans. It takes no little effort to get Europeans to agree that Americans are as good as they are, in morals, in education, in civilization or in government. Therefore, Europeans do not care for American moral influence.

But Europeans do know the importance of America in the world. Because they are more used to studying and judging world affairs than we are, they realize, perhaps better than we do, just how important is the United States. Their eyes are on us all the time. They must reckon with us; they must do business with us. And so they must know what we are doing and what we may be going to do. That gives us our great importance and out of that grows our influence. Although not exercised as actively as it will be later on, American world political power is interestingly important not only because of its might, but because of its present under-development.

ABATING THE SMOKE.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

It is interesting to learn that the Health Department has finally become aware of what most New Yorkers have known for several years—that the city is dirty as a result of smoke from soft coal and oil.

Dr. Wynne feels satisfied that good results can be obtained simply by calling the attention of offenders to the nuisance. If this is all that is needed to rid the city of a practice which cuts off 40 per cent of our sunshine and deprives growing children of the ultra-violet rays said to be so essential to their good health, it is only natural to ask why it has not been done before.

The condition is not recent. Factories, apartment houses, even hospitals, have been belching forth quantities of thick black smoke and evidently nothing has been done about it. Huge sums have been lost by citizens as a result of ruined housefurnishings and draperies.

I agree with the commissioner that New York City's atmosphere can be made as pure as country air; why not, surrounded as it is by water, but it means that city officials will have to do their duty.

While the inspectors are sweeping the sky from the skyscrapers, why not send some competent assistant to Boston and see how they manage it up there. Boston is clean. You can spend a day in the city and when you wash your face before dinner the wash cloth is clean, not nearly black from coal dust.

One thing is obvious. Dr. Wynne, according to THE TIMES, admits the condition is bad, that it is unhealthful and that it is easily remedied. That being so it remains to be seen what he will accomplish. Will he keep at it and gain everlasting thanks or will it be just a flash in the pan?

Bernt Balchen.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

They are refusing Bernt Balchen citizenship on the ground that he has not been continuously in this country. Isn't a man sailing or serving under the Stars and Stripes technically in the United States? How about men serving on our ships who have taken out their first papers? Are they out of the country, too? How about the men who served under the Stars and Stripes in the war—those who had only taken out first papers? Were they refused citizenship?

Bernt Balchen, modest and keeping out of the limelight, has done two of the greatest jobs ever in the history of aviation. Off in the Arctic or Antarctic, if Balchen failed, he was done for. A million square miles of icy waste is a tough place for fliers to search in; and the chances are he would have had a 100 per cent crack-up if he had come down.

It seems that we very often close our immigration eyes to let into this country bomb-throwers, stiletto experts, rum pirates and others who are admittedly the worst kind of persons; and now we are seemingly trying to find some little pretext or technicality not to open our arms to one of the finest types of men we have ever had come to these shores.

Is It So Hopeless?

To the Editor of The New York Times:

While the Hawley-Smoot tariff bill was under preparation a number of onion growers hereabouts raised a fund to send a delegation to Washington to holler for increased duties on their product. And their plea was granted.

Now onions can't be given away, and these poor, misguided growers are paying, on account of this bill, increased prices on everything they use.

Will the farmer ever realize a high tariff works to his great disadvantage? I'm afraid not, by heck!

ASSAILS INVASION OF JERSEY BY RADIO

Prosecutor Declares People of State Are Not Interested in 50,000-Watt Station.

EXPERTS DENY BLANKETING

Declare at Hearing That Tests Have Shown Any Station May Be Tuned in Within Quarter Mile.

New York broadcasters establishing transmitting stations in New Jersey were attacked as "invaders" by Duane E. Minard, Assistant Attorney General of New Jersey, in Newark yesterday on the application of the Atlantic Broadcasting Corporation for a permit to erect a 50,000-watt transmitting station for WABC in Wayne township, Passaic County.

While cross-examining Herbert V. Ackerberg, chief engineer of the Columbia Broadcasting system, as to the reasons for wanting to locate a station in Wayne township, Mr. Minard declared that the people of New Jersey were not interested in better service from WABC, but that "they want to hear their own stations, without your invasion."

Emerson L. Richards, State Senator from Atlantic County, counsel for the radio company, termed this language "absolute foolishness" and declared that radio listeners in New Jersey might be more interested in New York than in New Jersey stations. Joseph F. Autenrieth, chairman of the commission, supported this view, saying there were many stations in New Jersey, as well as in New York, which one did not want to hear.

Testimony of a technical nature tending to show that the proposed station would not interfere with reception in the vicinity from other stations and would not "blanket" local stations was given by experts for the petitioner.

The hearing will continue tomorrow and next Tuesday. Mr. Minard announced that he would call eight broadcasters to the stand as defense witnesses.

$2,083,813 FOR PALESTINE.

98% of Funds Raised Here Went for Relief After Riots, Says Report.

The Palestine Emergency Fund collected $2,083,818 in the United States and Alaska last August, it was announced yesterday by David A. Brown, chairman of the fund, which was organized at the time of the Palestine riots. In making public his final report Mr. Brown said that this sum did not include $100,000 sent direct to Palestine by Nathan Straus, who gave half of that amount, and gifts of Julius Rosenwald and Felix M. Warburg, who gave $25,000 each.

About $800,000 was collected elsewhere throughout the world, Mr. Brown said, so that the total funds available were nearly $3,000,000. Adding its earned interest of $30,407.50 to the American fund, he said, the total raised here was $2,114,225.89. The cost of raising the fund, he said, was 3½ per cent. He pointed out that if the interest were deducted from the campaign expenses the cost of collection would be a fraction over 2 per cent, thus assuring 98 cents of every dollar raised for Palestine.

Mr. Brown said $716,625.25 was sent to Palestine during the past year.

SHERWOOD HAS NEW PLAY.

Author, Back From London, Says England Prefers Our Movies.

Robert E. Sherwood, author, returned from three months' residence in London, on the French liner France, which docked yesterday with 560 passengers from Havre and Plymouth. Mr. Sherwood brought back a new play and some convictions on conditions of the English drama, which he described as surprising to him.

He said he found the British theatre "pretty anaemic," with the exception of three productions, "Othello," in which Paul Robeson recently appeared, and two plays by H. M. Harwood called "Cynara" and "The Man in Possession." Mr. Sherwood said he believed the British public "simply could not stand" British films, and evidenced a great liking for the "most blatantly American" pictures. His new play deals with war in the period of the Crusades, Mr. Sherwood said. At present it is known as "Marching on to War," but the title may be changed before the first rehearsal in November.

Also on the France was Charles Boissevain of Amsterdam, Holland, president of the International Society for Commercial Education and of the Amsterdam Commercial Congress. Bishop J. R. Gregg, Negro pastor of the African Methodist Episcopal Church of Kansas City, returned on the France from the World Christian Endeavor Conference in Berlin.

VIRGINIA DARE HONORED.

Memorial Dedicated at Manteo, N. C., Where Raleigh's Colony Disappeared

MANTEO, N. C., Aug. 18 (AP).—A memorial was dedicated here today to Virginia Dare, the first child of English parentage born in the New World.

Virginia Dare was born seven days after Sir Walter Raleigh's little band of settlers set foot on Roanoke Island after a long voyage from England. Today marks the 343d anniversary of her birth.

The memorial, a gateway erected by the government, stands on the site of Sir Walter's ill-fated colony. Shortly after Virginia Dare was born the little group of settlers disappeared. The only clue left was the word "Croatan," carved in the bark of a tree. No trace was ever found of them. Croatan was the name of a friendly tribe of Indians.

NEW YORK YOUTH DIES IN UP-STATE CAR CRASH

Special to The New York Times.

CATSKILL, N. Y., Aug. 18.—Richard Kelly, 23, a clerk in the Chase National Bank at New York City, was killed Sunday when a car in which five young men and two girls were riding left the highway rounding a curve near Purling and struck a pole.

Miss Anna Jordan of New Brighton, S. I., was cut and bruised and Miss Adelle Byrne of New York suffered a sprained ankle and injured leg.

Frank Walsh, Arthur Walsh, Edward Cross and Frederick Treitsch, employes of the Chase National Bank, escaped injury. They were all on their way to Purling for a vacation. Treitsch, aged 21, was driving the car when the accident occurred.

The young men were arraigned this morning before Justice Wilkins at Cairo and Treitsch was fined $50 for operating a car while intoxicated. Walsh and Cross were each fined $5 for public intoxication.

TO BROADCAST BIG CHORUS.

2,000 Singers and Many Bands to Be Heard From Toronto Exposition.

A description of the opening of the world's largest annual exposition will be broadcast to an international radio audience on Friday next direct from the scene of the Canadian National Exposition in Toronto. The opening program, arranged in cooperation with Station CKGW in Toronto, will begin at the bandstand at the exposition grounds and will be relayed to listeners over WEAF'S network.

The broadcasting of the inauguration of this annual event, which enlists the services of many noted military bands, will begin at 2:30, Eastern Daylight Time. The principal address will be delivered by E. W. Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

A chorus of 2,000 voices, singing compositions ranging from Bach and Handel to French-Canadian folksongs, will be heard as part of the second day's program in Toronto on Saturday. The concert will be picked up by CKGW and relayed to an international network of stations linked with WEAF. The broadcast is scheduled for 8:30 P. M., Eastern Daylight Time.

The Mendelssohn Choir, consisting of 500 voices, augmented by 1,500 additional singers, will comprise the huge chorus. The Canada Permanet Force Band will supply the musical background for the vocalists during this program.

DR. ANDERSEN DIES; A PASTOR 46 YEARS

WAS KNIGHTED BY DENMARK

His Native Country Also Awarded Him Medals in Recognition of His Work Here.

The Rev. Rasmus Andersen, pastor emeritus of the Danish Lutheran Church of Our Saviour at 195 Ninth Street, Brooklyn, died last night at his home, 262 Seventy-eighth Street, Brooklyn. He was 82 years old.

Dr. Andersen was born in Syen, Denmark, and came to this country in 1871. He had his schooling in both countries and in 1878 became pastor of the Danish Lutheran Church of Our Saviour, a post which he held continuously for forty-six years until he retired six years ago to become pastor emeritus.

In 1906 he was knighted by the King of Denmark in recognition of his services in America, and seven years ago he was awarded medals by the Danish Government for distinguished service in the church.

Dr. Andersen is survived by three daughters—Elisa and Emma Andersen and Mrs. Astrid Kirthhoefer. He leaves also a sister-in-law, Miss Emma Wanting. His wife died in 1909.

Funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the church of which he was pastor and burial will be in Greenwood Cemetery. Until the time of the funeral his remains will repose in the church.

WILLIAM S. TEATOR.

Pioneer Dutchess County Apple Orchardist Dies in 71st Year.

William S. Teator, a pioneer of the Hudson River Valley in the production of apples, died at his home in Upper Red Hook, Dutchess County, N. Y., on Sunday, in his seventy-first year.

In early life he became interested in horticulture and later became an authority on orchard culture. The Teator orchards have been visited by many of the leading horticulturists and orchardists of the country. He was one of the first to practice the thinning of fruit on the trees to produce a better grade of apples. He was for many years a leading exhibitor and prize winner at fruit expositions.

Mr. Teator was one of the organizers and the first president of the Red Hook Cold Storage Company. In his later years he had traveled much in the United States, the West Indies and the Isles of the Sea. He was an enthusiastic conchologist and made an extensive collection of shells, and had given much study to their classification and identification. His widow was Nena Myers, who with two children and a sister, survive him.

MILBURN—John G. At a special meeting of the Governing Committee of the New York Stock Exchange held yesterday, the following resolutions were adopted:

The past twenty-five years have witnessed a growth in the activities of the New York Stock Exchange which exceeds anything recorded in its previous history. This rapid development has brought the grave responsibility upon the Exchange of fitting itself properly to perform its increasing duties as a great world market. John G. Milburn, as its counsel from 1904 until his recent death, was for a quarter of a century a constant adviser through the many vicissitudes and critical problems which these eventful years brought about.

Not only did he guide the Exchange wisely and successfully by his advice as a great lawyer, but owing to his high ideals of life and of ethical conduct he continually pointed the way toward a standard of business integrity which was bound to win public confidence and esteem.

Together with the great qualities of mind and of feeling which brought him the admiration of all who came in contact with him, his genial nature and kindly sympathetic attitude, won him love and friendship as well as universal respect.

Be it therefore Resolved, That in the death of John G. Milburn, the Governing Committee feel that the New York Stock Exchange has suffered a grave and momentous loss; a loss at once of a wise counselor at law, a high-minded adviser in problems of business policy and a faithful, genial friend whose memory will continue to live among future members of the Exchange when the days of his activities will have passed into history.

WARNS OF ATTITUDE TO LATIN AMERICA

INTERVENTION IS DEBATED

Michigan Professor at Williamstown Says We Must Be Free to Meet Any Circumstance.

COOPERATION NEED URGED

Dr. Burns of Glasgow University Says a "Committee of Nations" Must Judge of Menaces.

By LOUIS STARK.

Special to The New York Times.

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass., Aug. 18.—Warning that a doctrine that the United States, because of its peculiar interests, is virtually the maintainer of an "implied mandate" in the Western Hemisphere is a dangerous one in that it would be calculated to stimulate other nations to adopt similar attitudes elsewhere was given at the Institute of Politics today by Dr. Walter Simons, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Germany.

In an address at the conference on "The Legal Aspects of Intervention in the Caribbean Region," Dr. Simons criticized the point of view previously expressed in a speech by Philip Marshall Brown, Professor of International Law at Princeton University.

During a discussion of the question of intervention Professor Brown reverted to America's contribution in the World War and pointed out that while European nations had obtained mandates, this country had asked for none. However, the United States has assumed responsibility for peace and orderly government in Latin America and the Caribbean, and maintained that international law should have recognized the principle of mandates, either legal or implied. He cited the League of Nations as an instance of the legal mandate.

"The United States is in the curious situation of having virtually assumed, because of its long experience, peculiar interests and immediate responsibilities, an implied practical mandate in the Western Hemisphere," he continued. "President Coolidge expressed this idea with respect to the obligation of the United States to maintaain order and security in the neighborhood of the Panama Canal."

Interference Is Defended.

This nation could not stand idly by and see the national interests of her people or those of Europe or the peoples "of certain unfortunate countries in the Caribbean area suffer grave injury," asserted Dr. Brown. "This situation was recognized in the covenant of the League of Nations by the reference to 'regional understanding.'"

Professor Brown said that while he would be pleased to have this country's relation to the Western Hemisphere regarded generally as a regional understanding if possible, it had not yet become so.

He pointed out that in theory a sovereign nation had no right to intervene in the affairs of another sovereign nation, but in times of crisis nations could not fall back on theory but had to act.

He upheld the right of intervention in the affairs of a nation whose sovereignty has been impaired, a situation "generally based upon the fact that peoples have not attained their full political majority in an international sense." He also regarded any State unable to fulfill all its international obligations as one having impaired sovereignty.

He upheld the right of a single State to uphold international law in cases where all nations or even a small number could not act together.

Non-Intervention Danger Cited.

Jesse S. Reeves of the University of Michigan, who conducted the conference, reviewed the history of the determined attempt by Latin American nations to have the United States subscribe to a policy of non-intervention and declared that it would be dangerous for the United States to write the principle of non-intervention into international law unless a definite agreement was reached on the meaning of the term.

One definition put forward, he said, was that interference by one State in the affairs of another might be termed non-intervention if the first State acted at the request of the second.

The United States "does not want a general formula but desires to be free to do as circumstances in a particular case dictate," continued Professor Reeves. "This is interpreted in Latin America as a desire on our part not to be curbed in the exercise of what we conceive to be our policy."

While Charles Evans Hughes succeeded in postponing action on the matter of "non-intervention" at the last Pan-American Conference in Havana, it will come up again in 1933 at the next conference, he added, and suggested that the question was a source of danger "unless there is full agreement on the content and meaning of intervention." One difficulty he referred to was the attempt "to place all these matters in one broad multi-lateral treaty involving countries with differing problems."

Professor Reeves remarked that if this country is to attempt to codify international law and the fundamental rights of States "we can not avoid accepting non-intervention as a doctrine, and if we are to intervene it must be because we have regulated matters with the particular country by means of a treaty."

Dr. Simons Combats Views.

Dr. Simons dissented from some of the views expressed by Professors Brown and Reeves. Regarding the non-intervention theory explained by Dr. Reeves the German jurist argued against the idea that intervention might be justified if requested by the State appealing for assistance. To say that intervention was justified if made with the consent of the State seeking such action was not to reckon with reality but with form, he maintained. He pointed out that after all the State was only a group of persons in power, and that if the people rebelled and the "so-called government" was in danger of being upset and called to another power for assistance, that interference would be intervention.

Taking up Professor Brown's statement concerning an "implied mandate" by this country, Dr. Simons said he regarded such a doctrine as "dangerous." He asked what would be done if Japan expressed her desire to announce an implied or practical mandate over her nationals in the Pacific.

Dr. Simons admitted that at the beginning of the World War he had felt that this country would widen her influence in Latin America and set up a protectorate in Central America in order to assure stable government there. Wisely, however, the United States had left the smaller nations free. Last Saturday one of the speakers, he pointed out, expressed the view that the United States would make the Central American nations stable if they could not do it themselves. Taking into account the various interventions by this country since the war, Europeans, he said, were wondering if the present American policy was "not to cut off the dog's tail at one stroke but to remove it bit by bit."

International Sanctions Urged.

C. Delisle Burns of Glasgow University observed that since the war the doctrine of intervention had taken a step forward through the implication in the covenant of the League of Nations that it was the duty of each nation not only to maintain order inside its boundaries but to assist the others in maintaining international order.

He maintained that it should be a rule that intervention should not rest upon the private opinion of one government that felt it was menaced, but on the assumption of a committee of nations that the menace to one nation was a menace to all.

Commercial aviation in its present form is far from self-supporting and is still in need of subsidies, declared Lieut. Commander R. E. Lambert of the Naval Reserve at the round table on "Political Aspects of Aerial Navigation," conducted by Edward P. Warner, editor of Aviation.

"Mineral Industries in Europe and Post War Adjustments" was the topic of discussion at Professor Edwin F. Gay's round table on "The Economic Situation in Europe." Dr. H. Foster Bain, former director of the Bureau of Mintes and secretary of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers, pointed out that since the war excessive capacity has been developed as the result of the nations' efforts to become independent in mineral supplies.

HIT BY BOLT IN LONG DROP.

Youth, 20, Near Death From Iron Falling 57 Floors in New Building.

Hit on the head by an iron bolt falling from the fifty-seventh floor of the City Bank Farmers Trust Company's building under construction at William and Beaver Streets, Gilbert Nicoll, 20 years old, a messenger, of 598 Madison Street, Brooklyn, was taken to the Broad Street Hospital yesterday afternoon in a critical condition.

Yesterday was Nicoll's first day as a messenger for the Bank of New York and Trust Company, 48 Wall Street. He had been unemployed for several months. He worked until 2:30 P. M., when he was hit by the bolt.

The police started an investigation to determine if any of the workmen were criminally negligent in causing the bolt to fall from the structure.

While walking past a building in the course of construction at 146-48 Lexington Avenue, late yesterday afternoon, Vincent O'Malley, 24 years old, of 1,505 Avenue A was struck on the head by a falling brick. Despite the pain he got into a taxicab and ordered the driver to take him to a doctor's office at 62 West Thirty-seventh Street. Arrived in front of that address, the driver found O'Malley had collapsed. O'Malley was taken to Bellevue Hospital, where he was found to be suffering a possible fracture of the skull. His condition is serious. The police are investiagting the accident.

BASIL RATHBONE RETURNS TO STAGE

COLLEEN MOORE IN "FOAM"

Mary Pickford Will Probably Choose "The Course of True Love" for Her First Play.

Supplementing his recent announcement concerning the forthcoming theatrical appearances of Colleen Moore, Vilma Banky, Rod La Rocque and Mary Pickford, Arch Selwyn said yesterday that he had engaged Basil Rathbone, who has been acting in the talking pictures for more than a year, to return to the Broadway stage in November. His play will be "A Paris Divorce," an adaptation by Arthur Hornblow, Jr., of "Monsieur St. Obin," by André Picard and Tristan Bernard. There is a possibility that Gloria Swanson also will be seen in "A Paris Divorce" in the event that negotiations are successful.

Mr. Selwyn's first offering will be "Foam," by Benjamin F. Glazer, in which Miss Moore will appear. Mr. Glazer, who will direct the production, will arrive in New York from the Coast on Sept. 1 and Miss Moore will also be here at that time to start rehearsing three days later. In addition to the picture star, the cast will include Robert Williams. Before coming to Broadway "Foam" will play an eight-weeks' road engagement, beginning Oct. 6 in Albany.

The Vilma Banky-Rod La Rocque vehicle, "How to Be Happy," which John Emerson and Anita Loos have adapted from the Hungarian, will follow "Foam" in the same cities three weeks later.

Concerning Miss Pickford's play, Mr. Selwyn said that the motion picture star had not yet made her choice of three plays under consideration. According to indications, she will probably decide upon "The Course of True Love," by Paul Kester and William Lewers. Charles Dillingham, who is interested with Mr. Selwyn in the production, has asked Otto Kahn to try to persuade Max Reinhardt to come here from Berlin to stage the Pickford play.

ELISSA LANDI TO MAKE AMERICAN DEBUT

Young London Actress Is to Appear Here in Laurence Stallings "A Farewell to Arms."

The rôle of Catherine Barkley in Laurence Stallings's dramatization of Ernest Hemingway's novel, "A Farewell to Arms," will be played by Elissa Landi, a young actress who has never appeared in America. Rouben Mamoulian, who will direct the play, recently saw Miss Landi in London, and A. H. Woods completed the arrangements for her to come here.

The Woods office has been searching far and wide for a leading woman for the Stallings-Hemingway work. A number of Broadway actresses have been under consideration, and at one time it was hoped that Edna Best would come here to act the part.

Miss Landi, who is 25 years old and the daughter of Countess Zanardi-Landi, was born in Venice and educated in London. She made her first appearance on the stage of that city in August, 1924, in "Storm," playing the title rôle. Other London productions in which Miss Landi has acted are "Lavender Ladies," "Benediction," "The Constant Nymph," "Othello" and "The Stag." She has been seen here in two British motion pictures," "Underground" and "The Betrayal."

THREE PLAYS REOPEN.

"Topaze," "Young Sinners" and "Lost Sheep" Resume Runs.

Three plays of the past theatrical season, two of which proved markedly successful, reopened on Broadway last night. They were "Topaze," "Young Sinners" and "Lost Sheep."

"Topaze," Benn W. Levy's adaptation of Marcel Pagnol's Parisian satire, relighted the Ethel Barrymore Theatre. The cast, headed by Frank Morgan, was for the most part the same as that which presented the play at the Music Box Theatre from February to June, the principal change being the appearance of Catherine Willard in the rôle first acted by Phoebe Foster.

Elmer Harris's comedy, "Young Sinners," which ran from Thanksgiving week until the end of June at the Morosco Theatre, is playing a brief return engagement at the Shubert Theatre, preparatory to beginning a road tour. Dorothy Appleby and Raymond Guion continue in the leading rôles.

After a hiatus of three weeks "Lost Sheep" is again being presented at the Selwyn Theatre, where it had its première in May. Belford Forrest is the author of the comedy, in the cast of which are Cecilia Loftus, A. P. Kaye, Harry McNaughton, Rex O'Malley and Sidney Fox.

Warfield to Leave Hospital Soon.

David Warfield, who has undergone several operations since the first of the year, will be able to leave the Doctors Hospital, East End Avenue and Eighty-seventh Street, in a few weeks, it was learned yesterday. Mr. Warfield had been at the Post Graduate Hospital, but was transferred to the Doctors Hospital three weeks ago.

THEATRICAL NOTES.

"Hot Rhythm," Will Morrissey's Negro revue, will open tonight at the Times Square Theatre.

Reed Brown Jr. has entered the cast of "Torch Song," the Kenyon Nicholson play which Arthur Hopkins will present at the Plymouth Theatre on Wednesday night of next week. Mr. Nicholson's second play, "Stepdaughters of War," is to be placed in rehearsal today by Chester Erskin for the Frohman Company.

"Everybody Welcome," the comedy in which Roger Pryor and Sally Bates are featured, opened last night at the Savoy Theatre, Asbury Park. "Luana," the new Hammerstein musical show, will have its première tonight in Atlantic City.

The Harlem Fifth Avenue Theatre, Fifth Avenue and 110th Street, is announced to reopen early next month as a Spanish playhouse. The theatre's policy will include both musical and dramatic productions and talking pictures.

A revised version of "Frankie and Johnny," a play by Jack Kirkland, which was presented in Chicago last year, is being prepared by the author for production next month.

"Beyond Woman," a play by Lillian Krieger Burton, is being tested this week by the Wharf Theatre, Provincetown, Mass.

oftener than one that we know has the habit of being wrong.

The kind of store that we have been trying all these years to make is one where not only the qualities are known to buyers, and the proper prices, but a store where the much larger quantities, literally thousands of articles, not possible for every one to judge of, are sold at prices that do not take advantage of even a child's ignorance. The store is safe in its construction, and is equally safe throughout in its daily intercourse with its patrons.

SWAMPED BY 6,000, JOB BUREAU IS SHUT

City Agency, Overwhelmed by Idle, Closes Doors and Will Be Open Only Two Hours Today.

SEVERAL HURT IN CRUSH

135 OBTAIN WORK IN DAY

25 Are Women—Total Applications So Far Are 7,000, but Only 800 Have Been Numbered.

The tide of the city's unemployed applying for jobs at the Municipal Free Employment Agency, 54 Lafayette Street, swelled yesterday by 6,000 additional men and women, swamped the bureau's machinery for unemployment relief.

At 3 P. M. not only were the doors shut, to reopen for only two hours this morning, but policemen, pressed into service to aid the small staff of registrars, distributed application cards to 2,000 on line at that hour and dispersed them, telling them to return Wednesday morning with their cards filled out. Totals for the day showed 2,500 men and women registered and 135 jobs obtained.

The avalanche of job-seekers yesterday exceeded combined totals for the first two days of the bureau's existence. At 8:15 A. M., after 5,000 men had poured into Lafayette, Leonard and Franklin Streets and waited, some of them since 3 A. M., for the agency to open, the lines broke and several were injured in the crush.

Jacob Snappy, 56 years old, a Negro, of 108-46 Union Hall Street, Jamaica, was knocked down in front of the agency and suffered multiple lacerations of the scalp. He was found lying in an areaway at 62 Lafayette Street and was taken to Beekman Street Hospital. Several others were slightly hurt in the struggle to get into the building, but refused medical aid for fear of losing their places in the line.

Agency's Machinery Overtaxed.

Although I. James Brody, secretary of the Department of Public Welfare, under the auspices of which the employment bureau is operating, declared that the bureau's appropriation of $35,000 was expected to last six months, it became increasingly evident yesterday that the agency machinery for handling the unemployed had become taxed beyond its capacity.

Exceeding the dimensions of the previous crowds, the throng of applicants yesterday stood two, three and four deep in the side streets just off the Tombs. They were let into the agency a hundred at a time. The registrars worked without let-up, virtually all having sandwiches sent up to them so that they might continue without interruption.

Edward C. Rybicki, director of the bureau, declared that only 800 applications of the 7,000 made had been numbered. The bureau's interest, he added, in filling jobs as promptly as they are offered has forced adoption of the policy of offering the job to the first man available, one generally in the agency at the moment the call comes in.

To permit the twenty-one registrars to catch up with the host of applications received, Mr. Rybicki ordered the agency open to new applicants only from 8 to 10 A. M. today. Twice yesterday, once at noon and again at 2 P. M., Mr. Rybicki resolved to stem the flood of applicants temporarily to give his workers a breathing spell, but it was not until 3 P. M. that he ordered the doors shut. Then, in order not to disappoint the 2,000 still in line, many having waited for several hours, Mr. Rybicki requested a detail of seven policemen under Sergeant William F. Maley of the Elizabeth Street station to distribute applications to the men on line.

25 Women Get Work.

Three hundred women appeared at the agency yesterday. Twenty-five of them got jobs, which ranged from clerical work to domestic service. The women, like most of the men, were of neat appearance, and indicated that the higher grades of workers had been hit particularly by the current depression.

Again, as on Friday and Saturday, the first two days of the bureau's functioning, the majority of applicants declared they had been unemployed from six months to two years. Factory jobs prevailed among the 135 offered yesterday. Bottle washers, oilers, greasers, elevator mechanics and sprayers predominated.

Mr. Rybicki showed some of the letters which are constantly streaming into the agency, asking for any sort of employment. Men, with families, wrote declaring they had had no employment in months and that they and their families were desperate. Mayor Walker receives similar communications daily, Mr. Rybicki said. These are turned over to the city employment bureau for action.

Of the 7,000 registered to date, 335 have obtained jobs, many of them positions of only a temporary nature.

The first disturbance since the agency opened occurred late yesterday afternoon when Harry Fator, 43, no home, mounted a fence a few doors from the agency and exhorted job-seekers to desert the line because "the agency is a fake and a matter of politics."

Fator, chased twice by Sergeant Maley, reappeared a third time and was pursued by Patrolmen Bowden and Heimmer of the Elizabeth Street station, who caught him in the subway at Worth Street. He was charged with disorderly conduct and attempting to incite a riot. He pleaded guilty in night court and received a suspended sentence.

CENSURES STATE CARE.

Erie Welfare Commissioner Charges Inadequate Attention to Defectives.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Aug. 18 (AP).—After a State-wide tour of institutions and prisons, Frank Pollock, Erie County Welfare Commissioner, today charged the State is not making adequate provision for mental defectives and epileptics.

"Many poor unfortunates are housed in basements and overcrowded dormitories," he said. "When prisoners in State prisons riot steps are taken to give them adequate quarters, but there are hundreds of persons mentally and physically unfit from this section of the State who are not properly quartered."

Dog Chases Snake Fleeing With Fish Caught for Cat

Special to The New York Times.

WHITE PLAINS, Aug. 18.—The following tale was told today by James Owen, assistant senior engineer of the Westchester County Park Commission:

While fishing in the Saw Mill River at Woodlands for fish to feed her Persian cats, Mrs. A. E. Townsend caught a small fish and landed it on the grassy bank. A large water snake seized the fish, entered the water and started for the opposite bank.

Along came Bruce, Mrs. Townsend's airedale. Sensing the situation, the dog went in pursuit of the snake, which had disappeared beyond reach of the dog in the rock crevices on the other side of the river.

SEVEN FIREHOUSES TO BE OPENED SOON

To Cost $100,000 Each, They Will Serve Outlying Districts, Dorman Announces.

ALL IN SERVICE BY NOV. 1

One in Brooklyn, Three in Queens and Three in Richmond—Commissioner Doubts Kenlon Resignation.

Seven new firehouses with complete equipment, each to cost about $100,000, will be in use throughout the city by Nov. 1, it was announced yesterday by Fire Commissioner John J. Dorman. These firehouses, which were provided for by the Board of Estimate at one of its meetings late in May, will be put into service at different times, starting soon after Labor Day, the commissioner said.

The principal benefit from these firehouses, it was explained, will accrue to the outlying parts of the city, Brooklyn, Queens and Staten Island.

An engine and hose company will be opened in Gerrittsen Beach, Brooklyn, some time during September, and about the same time, probably soon after Labor Day, a double company will be established in Middle Village, Queens. Next will probably come a double company at College Point, Queens, to be opened approximately on Oct. 1. On Oct. 15 an engine and hose company will go into service at Auburndale, Queens.

The three other stations included in Commissioner Dorman's announcement yesterday will be established on Staten Island. These will be a double company at Dongan Hills, to be opened in October, a double company at New Brighton, to be opened probably late in October, and a double company at Rosebank, scheduled to be put into service on or about Nov. 1.

Commenting on the new fire stations, Commissioner Dorman said they would provide a much needed addition to the city's fire-fighting machinery and would give more adequate protection to many parts of the city that at present were to some extent unprotected. The double company station for Dongan Hills is not far from the home of Controller Charles W. Berry, and Commissioner Dorman said he expected that Mr. Berry would preside at exercises scheduled to be held at the formal opening of that station in October.

Coincident with his announcement of the proposed opening of the seven fire stations, Commissioner Dorman said he knew nothing about rumors that John Kenlon, Chief of the Fire Department, intended to resign. He produced a card which he received a few days ago from Chief Kenlon bearing the message, "Am improving. Hope things are going smoothly at home. Do not worry. You have the best department in the world, regardless. J. K."

Asked if he had accepted Chief Kenlon's suggestion early in the Summer to hold competitive civil service examinations in order that there might be a man ready to assume the duties of chief of the department whenever there might be a call for him, Commissioner Dorman said he had not done so because he could not see the actual need of holding such an examination until such time as the vacancy should come into existence.

CRITICIZES POLICE VERDICT.

Judge Taylor Scores Reinstating of Detective in Robbery Arrest.

County Judge Franklin Taylor, whose charges forced a police trial for former Detective William Shanover of the Bedford Avenue Station in Brooklyn, took issue yesterday with Police Commissioner Mulrooney's action in finding Shanover not guilty of the charges and returning him to duty as a uniformed patrolman. Judge Taylor declared that the Police Department had overlooked the essential facts in restoring Shanover to duty.

The Police Commissioner, informed of Judge Taylor's statement, said that the case was closed.

Judge Taylor originally charged Shanover with "framing" a case against Benjamin Wagner, former pugilist, who was charged with the robbery of John Rammel, a taxicab driver. Wagner was convicted and his conviction was affirmed, but Judge Taylor ordered a new trial on the ground of newly discovered evidence. At the time of the trial Rammel could not be located, and Judge Taylor dismissed the indictment. He said that Shanover had "planted" a gun on Wagner.

"Wagner was not arrested at the scene of the crime," Judge Taylor said yesterday. "He was picked off the sidewalk as a pedestrian a mile away an hour later. The identification standing alone was slipshod and would not support conviction. Shanover came to the rescue by saying that Wagner drew the gun, and that although himself unarmed, he struck Wagner in the face, causing the gun to fall into the snow."

INQUIRY REOPENED IN SWIFT'S SUICIDE

Dr. Norris Seeks Light on the Possibility He Was Shot in Struggle With Nurse.

SUBPOENAS HOSPITAL HEAD

Finds Several Discrepancies in Accounts of Death of Chicago Packer's Son.

Apparent discrepancies in accounts of the death by a bullet wound of William E. Swift, son of Louis F. Swift, Chicago packer, in the private sanitarium of Dr. Edward S. Cowles at 591 Park Avenue Saturday night caused Dr. Charles Norris, chief medical examiner, to reopen the investigation yesterday.

Dr. Norris's first step was to perform a second and more complete autopsy on the body as it lay in the funeral chapel, almost at the last minute before it was taken to Chicago for burial.

His second step was to order a hearing in his office in the Municipal Building to begin at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. In preparation for this he issued subpoenas for several witnesses, including Dr. Cowles, Rudolph Heitmanek, the nurse who was attending Swift at the time of his death, and the detectives who investigated the case. He also said he would call for the sanitarium's records.

Seeks Light on Struggle.

Dr. Norris was frankly dissatisfied with the status of the case as he found it yesterday on his return to the city after a day's absence. He implied that while the case had all the earmarks of a suicide, the possibility that Swift might have been shot in a struggle to take away the pistol with which he had armed himself had not been disposed of.

Dr. Norris's attention was drawn to this by the following sentence in the report of Dr. Robert C. Fisher, assistant medical examiner, who has had charge of the case hitherto. That sentence described Swift's death as follows:

"Shot himself with his own revolver, a .38 calibre Colt, while the nurse was trying to get the gun away from him."

That was the first intimation that there had been a struggle to disarm Swift and is completely at variance with the account credited to Heitmanek that Swift had shot himself with a pistol hidden under the bedclothing while Heitmanek himself had been sitting in a chair in the room. Heitmanek had told them, according to the police, that Swift had tried to jump out of the window a short time before the shot was fired, and that he had grappled with him, pulled him back and put him to bed.

Heitmanek, a powerful man who it is understood had been employed to restrain difficult patients, could not be found yesterday at his residence, 207 West Seventy-eighth Street. It was said that he had been gone all day and would be gone all night. It was learned, however, that he had not been employed on the Swift case for several days, as had been previously said, but had been with him less than two hours when Swift died. It was established that Heitmanek's services were obtained through a nurse's registry which received a call from the hospital for him at 8:30 Saturday night. Swift's death was at 10:15 that night.

Dr. Cowles could not be reached yesterday either at the sanitarium or at his home, 116 East Sixty-third Street.

Dr. Norris began his investigation immediately on his arrival in the city yesterday morning. He saw the body at 10 o'clock and conferred over the telephone with Dr. Fisher.

The body lay in the Universal Funeral Chapel at 597 Lexington Avenue. Alden Swift, a brother, already had arrived to take the body to Chicago. At 1 o'clock Dr. Norris went to the chapel again, accompanied by Dr. Henry Weinberg, and performed the autopsy. This required about an hour. The body was taken West on the Twentieth Century Limited at 3:45 P. M.

The brain and other organs were turned over to Dr. Alex O. Gettler, city toxicologist, for chemical examination to determine whether there were any narcotics or poisons in the system. Dr. Norris said that this probably would require two weeks.

No Alcohol in System.

A previous autopsy was performed on Sunday at the city morgue by Dr. Fisher, it was learned yesterday. Dr. Fisher removed only the liver and examined it for traces of alcohol, a brief process. He found no traces of alcohol whatever. Dr. Norris expressed surprise at this, in view of reports immediately after Swift's death that he had been suffering from alcoholism.

There were no outward indications that Mr. Swift had had any narcotics, and the body showed no marks such as a person might acquire in a severe struggle.

The pistol which ended Mr. Swift's life was studied by ballistic experts at Police Headquarters yesterday. They said it was an old model, a .38-.40 single action "Frontier" revolver. It has a long barrel and its length over all is about one foot, making it a difficult weapon to conceal. Detectives communicated with the Colt factory and are trying to trace the weapon.

Dr. Norris was not inclined to differ with the judgment of suicide already given in the case, but said he simply wanted a thorough investigation made and all points cleared up.

"I want to know just what happened," he said. "And I'd like to know why Swift was allowed to wander about and have a pistol. I thought it was much better to have a complete autopsy. The wound was a contact wound, and that ordinarily denotes suicide. But I want to know about the pistol being discharged during an attempt to disarm him, if that happened."

While Dr. Norris is holding his hearing tomorrow funeral services will be held at the Swift family home in Lake Forest, a suburb of Chicago. Burial will be in Graceland Cemetery. Mrs. Helen Morton Swift, the widow, will not be present. It was learned in Baltimore that she still has not been informed of her husband's death. She is seriously ill in Johns Hopkins Hospital.

SWIFT'S FATHER SAILS TODAY.

Notified of Son's Tragedy While Staying at Deauville.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

DEAUVILLE, France, Aug. 18.—Louis F. Swift, father of William E. Swift, who committed suicide in a New York hospital, has been notified of the tragedy.

Mr. Swift, who has been staying in Deauville, will sail for New York from Havre on the Ile de France tomorrow.

Broadway Celebrities Aid Broun Campaign; Candidate Pledges Short Speeches in Congress

Heywood Broun, Socialist candidate for Representative in the Seventeenth Congressional District, began his campaign yesterday when headquarters of the Broun-for-Congress Non-Partisan Committee opened headquarters in the Hotel Algonquin.

Morris L. Ernst is chairman of the committee, but the headquarters temporarily will be in charge of McAllister Coleman, Socialist candidate for State Senator in the Seventeenth Congressional District. Alexander Woollcott, theatrical critic, who heads the subcommittee of writers and actors, announced that the following already had accepted invitations to serve on his subcommittee:

Irving Berlin, who will write a Broun campaign song; Eva Le Gallienne, De Wolf Hopper, George Jessel, Harpo Marx, Groucho Marx, Edward J. McNamara, Walter White, James Weldon Johnson, Gilbert Gabriel and Ruth Hale.

Mr. Broun, who is one of the group of writers who long have had informal headquarters at the Algonquin, seemed perfectly at home in his new campaign headquarters on the second floor, and promised an active campaign against Mrs. Ruth Pratt, the present Republican Representative from the district, and City Magistrate Charles B. Brodsky, Democratic candidate.

He announced that he had contracted with the Columbia Broadcasting Company for ten fifteen-minute periods in October, beginning Oct. 7 and continuing each Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday from 5:45 to 6 P. M. On each of these occasions Mr. Broun will make a three-minute radio speech, and four other three-minute speeches will be made.

"My speeches all will be short," he said. "I promise now that no campaign speech of mine will take more than fifteen minutes. When and if elected to Congress, no speech of mine in Congress will be more than twenty minutes long."

Mr. Broun said he would speak at the Sacco-Vanzetti meeting at the Town Hall, Friday evening, when a motion picture of the Sacco-Vanzetti funeral will be shown here for the first time. Other speakers will be William DuBois, editor of The Crisis, and Henry T. Hunt. Mr. Broun explained that he had agreed to speak at the meeting before he became a Congressional candidate.

DOCTOR FINDS BOMB ON PORCH OF HOME

SET AS FAMILY SLEEPS

Dr. S. M. Cali Says He Knows of No Enemies—Attempt to Kill His Father, Retired Banker, Seen.

A dynamite bomb, powerful enough to wreck the entire side of a house, was found yesterday morning by Dr. S. Matthew Cali, Brooklyn physician, on his front porch at 170 Stratford Road as he opened the door at 7:30 to get the morning mail.

Wrapped in brown paper, the bomb looked to Dr. Cali like a parcel post package until, stooping to pick it up along with his newspaper, he saw several inches of charred fuse dangling from it. Dr. Cali ground the end of the fuse against the porch floor with his heel to make sure that it was extinguished, and gingerly carried the bomb out onto the lawn. He then called Patrolman William Gregg who was making his rounds on Hinckley Place, just around the corner.

Gregg notified the Parkville station, and Detectives Henry Hansen and James O'Brien carried the bomb to the station house, where it was immersed in water. Inspector Irving Gross of the bomb squad came from Manhattan headquarters. He found the bomb contained three eight-inch sticks of dynamite and a detonator cap to explode it by means of the fuse. The fuse evidently had been lighted in several places, according to Inspector Gross, and probably would have exploded the bomb long before Dr. Cali found it were it not for a crack in the fuse. It would have blown away the whole front of the large detached house in which Dr. Cali lives, he said. He took it to Manhattan for further examination.

Dr. Cali, who is in the late twenties, told the police that he was mystified as to the reason for the placing of the bomb on his porch. He said he knew of no enemies of himself or his family, and that no one had tried to extort money from him. He denied complicity in any kind of business which might cause his home to be bombed in retribution. He said he had received no threatening letters.

At the time Dr. Cali found the bomb, his mother, Mrs. Gaetanina Cali; three sisters, Anna, Amelia and Linda, were in the house with two women servants. He has his office in one of the front rooms. Dr. Cali's father, Francesco Cali, left a few days ago on a trip to Italy.

The elder Mr. Cali, a real estate operator, not long ago was the head of a private bank at Clinton and Sackett Streets, Brooklyn, and police are working on the theory that the bomb may have been intended for him. They are investigating at the bank to learn whether Mr. Cali had any enemies.

The Cali home will be watched carefully, the police said, to prevent any further attempts at violence.

MELLON SEES HOPE AHEAD.

He Believes Cut in Output Will Soon End Depression.

Special to The New York Times.

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 18.—The current business depression, in the opinion of A. W. Mellon, Secretary of the Treasury, who was in Pittsburgh today, is a world-wide condition resulting from everproduction, with the result that the markets have been flooded with their products. With sales of their products dropping off and their overstocked products on their hands, production had to be stopped, with the result that a general depression resulted.

"I believe that just as soon as much of the products on the market at present are disposed of the business depression will better itself," Mr. Mellon said. "The curtailment in output without a question will correct the present condition within a short time."

SMITH DEDICATES NEW BANK BUILDING

County Trust Company Opens 20-Story Structure at 8th Avenue and 14th Street.

GROWTH OF AREA HAILED

State, City and Port Officials Hear Ex-Governor Predict a New Business Centre There.

Many civic and business leaders attended the exercises yesterday marking the formal opening of the County Trust Company's new twenty-story building at the northeast corner of Eighth Avenue and Fourteenth Street.

Former Governor Alfred E. Smith presided at the ceremonies and in a dedicatory speech predicted an extensive business and residential growth for the lower Eighth Avenue area. He also presented a bronze tablet erected in the lobby of the bank by officers and employes to honor the late James J. Riordan, organizer and first president of the institution, who was praised by Mr. Smith for his "genius, ability and foresight."

As chairman of the board of directors, Mr. Smith sealed the cornerstone of the building and announced the formal induction into office of Orie R. Kelly to succeed Mr. Riordan as president.

"The opening of this building marks the beginning of the march of progress into this section between Greenwich and old Chelsea," he said. "Business and residential developments are claiming this territory, and more rapid changes are due to be seen with the approach of the opening of the new Eighth Avenue subway and other transit links, and the erection of the inland freight terminal planned by the Port of New York Authority for the block bounded by Eighth and Ninth Avenues, Fifteenth and Sixteenth Streets."

James W. Danahy, managing director of the Eighth Avenue Association, predicted that recent increases in property values and civic and private building enterprises in the section "were forerunners of a steady future growth."

Mrs. Smith stood beside her husband during the exercises, and their son, Alfred E. Smith Jr., also was present. In the cornerstone were placed a history of the bank, a picture of each officer and director, predictions on the future of Eighth Avenue, and 1930 coinage.

Among those attending were:

Lieut. Gov. HERBERT H. LEHMAN.
CHARLES W. BERRY, Controller of the City of New York.
GEORGE TREMAINE, Controller of the State of New York.
JULIUS MILLER, Borough President of Manhattan.
GEORGE U. HARVEY, Borough President of Queens.
JOHN A. LYNCH, Borough President of Richmond.
JOHN F. GALVIN, chairman of the Port of New York Authority.
HOWARD S. CULLMAN of the Port Authority.
GEORGE R. DYER of the Port Authority.
JOHN J. PULLEYN of the Port Authority.
WILLIAM C. HEPPENHEIMER of the Port Authority.
JOSEPH G. RIGHT of the Port Authority.
GEORGE DE B. KEIM of the Port Authority.
IRA R. CROUSE of the Port Authority.
Senator ROYAL S. COPELAND.
Senator ROBERT F. WAGNER.
JOHN F. CURRY, Tammany leader.

The William F. Kenny Company built the new structure from plans by W. Whitehall. A large part of the space already is rented. The Port Authority occupies six floors.

Prior to the bank exercises Mr. Smith presented to George Adams of Ozone Park, L. I., a check for $100 given by the New York Automobile Club as a reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of a hit-and-run driver.

Named Assistant Chief of Ordnance.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18 (AP).—Colonel Edwin Dyson Bricker was appointed today as Assistant Chief of Ordnance with the rank of Brigadier General. General Bricker, whose home is Chambersburg, Pa., will replace Brig. Gen. C. L'H. Ruggles, who retires Aug. 31 after forty-four years of service.

RICH RECLUSE HID ALL TRACE OF KIN

LEFT $250,000 TO CHARITY

Sought to Defeat California Law by Destroying Records of Family—Had Posed as Poor Man.

Before William T. Snodgrass died on Aug. 1 in Los Angeles, leaving to charity nearly $250,000, he took pains to destroy all trace of the names of his nearest relatives, the possible heirs of the estate under the California law. The 73-year-old recluse was buried yesterday in Philadelphia with Masonic rites, while private detectives searched for the possible missing relatives and heirs, who are believed to reside in Philadelphia or New York.

Mr. Snodgrass was a resident of Philadelphia before he went to the Pacific Coast, and his will, drawn in 1920, declared that he wished always to be considered a citizen of Philadelphia. He had lived in the Hotel Hollenbeck in Los Angeles at intervals for eight years, eating 10 and 15 cent meals in cheap restaurants and receiving the sympathy of those who looked upon him as a "poor old man."

Funds Hidden in Mattresses.

After his death the Public Administrator of Los Angeles County found in a safe deposit box belonging to Mr. Snodgrass $90,000 in new $1,000 bills and $150,000 worth of securities. Hidden in mattresses in his room and stowed away under rugs and in other secret places several hundred dollars was found.

Canceled checks among his effects had been trimmed so that the names of the makers, payees and endorsers were cut off. When he signed the card at the bank to obtain a safe deposit box, the recluse refused to give the name of his nearest relative, and at the hospital during his last illness he maintained silence concerning his family. He had refused also to make a census report, and declined to be listed in a city directory.

The will, which was witnessed in 1920 in Philadelphia and again on the Pacific Coast, divided the fortune among the Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of Pennsylvania, the Masonic Home in Elizabethtown, Pa.; the Pacific Hospital for the Sick and Injured, and the Presbyterian Hospital in Philadelphia.

Persons in Los Angeles, however, had heard Mr. Snodgrass speak of "children" and of visits to wealthy relatives in the East. Through a client in Los Angeles, Ervin J. Smith, head of a private detective agency in New York and first vice president of the International Secret Service Association, was engaged to try to find them. Under California law, it is believed, a will leaving an entire estate to charity would be inoperative if children or grandchildren or other near relatives could be found.

Lodge Holds Funeral Service.

The Masonic lodge of which Mr. Snodgrass had been a member also was reached, and arrangements were made for the Masonic funeral in Philadelphia. About eighteen members of the group, Snyder Lodge, 119, of Philadelphia, accompanied the body from a funeral parlor on Chestnut Street to the Snodgrass plot in Laurel Hill Cemetery, where the service was held.

In Philadelphia, detectives working for Mr. Smith were told that he had been a member of the firm of Snodgrass & Murray, located many years ago at Ninth and Market Streets. It was believed that the firm had been engaged in the wholesale clothing business.

Although advices from California indicated that Mr. Snodgrass had spoken of sons and daughters in New York and Philadelphia and of visits to a married daughter in New York, his former associates in Philadelphia believed that he had never been married. It was believed, however, that at least one niece still was living in New York.

In an effort to locate the supposed relatives, Mr. Smith directed his men to interview all persons of the name of Snodgrass in the two cities, and sent word to members of his association elsewhere in the country to do the same.

In Los Angeles, Mr. Snodgrass seemingly had no close friends and rarely spoke to any one. He kept the door of his room padlocked at all times, and two revolvers were found in the room. The windows were nailed shut.

MUSEUM ON BYRD SHIP DRAWS 25,000 VISITORS

Vessel to Remain at Hudson Pier Two Weeks Longer—Portrait Gift Announced.

The City of New York, flagship of the Byrd Expedition, has attracted more than 25,000 visitors in the first nine days of its public exhibition at Ninety-sixth Street and the Hudson River, Captain H. H. Railey, general manager of the expedition, announced yesterday. The bark will remain in New York at least two weeks longer, he said, after which it will be taken on a tour of the Atlantic Seaboard.

Several more of the dogs taken to Little America by Arthur Walden will be sent here this week to be exhibited on the ship, which is open daily from 10:30 A. M. until 11 P. M. Since the ship was opened to the public a large panoramic view of the barrier, portraits of the polar crew and the instruments used by Rear Admiral Byrd in charting the polar flight have been placed on view.

Portraits of Admiral Byrd and his brother, former Governor Harry F. Byrd of Virginia, have been accepted by Dr. Edwin A. Alderman, president of the University of Virginia, on behalf of the university. They are the gift of Chester D. Pugsley, vice chairman of the Westchester County National Bank of Peekskill, and will be painted by Seymour M. Stone of New York, Mr. Pugsley said yesterday.

It is expected that the paintings will be completed at Winchester, Va., in the late Fall, and will be presented to the university next Summer, when the Institute of Public Affairs is in session. Mr. Pugsley and the former Governor are members of the institute's board of advisers. Mr. Stone already has executed thirty-four other commissions for the donor.

CENSUS ACT BLOCKS WAR ON ILLITERACY

LEGAL RULING IS SOUGHT

Assurances of Act That Individual Affairs Will Not Be Disclosed Is Quoted.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—A change of half a dozen words in one paragraph in the 1930 census act may serve to prevent cooperation this year between Federal and State Governments in a joint attack on illiteracy through mutual use of the census returns, from which, in the past, lists of illiterates have been made available to authorities of the various States.

Hitherto the expense of making lists of illiterates has been borne by the States, but this year the Census Bureau budget had been enlarged to provide for the cost of furnishing lists on request.

According to Dr. Joseph A. Hill, assistant director of the bureau, however, the question has arisen as to whether, under the wording of the census act, the bureau can furnish such information.

Section 11 of the census act states that "the information furnished under the provisions of this act shall be used only for the statistical purposes for which it is supplied," and "no publication shall be made by the Census Office whereby the data furnished by any particular establishment or individual can be identified nor shall the Director of the Census permit any one other than the sworn employes of the Census Office to examine the individual reports."

As previously enacted, Section 11 provided that the information furnished under the provisions of "the next preceding section shall be used only for the statistical purposes for which it is supplied." According to Dr. Hill, the present law, by changing the language to "under the provisions of this act," has raised the question of whether the limitation does not equally apply to all information obtained under the provisions of all its various sections.

Furthermore, Dr. Hill states, the introduction for the first time of the words "or individual" in the sentence which forbids the census bureau to furnish data by which "any particular establishment or individual can be identified" would seem definitely to apply to such information as would be represented by lists of names of men and women unable to read or write.

"Both in the terms of the law itself and in the words of President Hoover proclaiming it assurances are given that the information required to be given shall not be made public as to 'individuals,'" Dr. Hill adds.

"The President's proclamation further states not only that 'no person can be harmed in any way by furnishing the information required' but that 'there need be no fear that any disclosure will be made regarding any individual person or his affairs.'

"In view of the language employed, the question of whether information as to individual illiterates can be, as in the past it has been, made available, even for their own good, to other persons or organizations, even State authorities, has been referred to the solicitor of the department for decision. It may be necessary to get a ruling from the Attorney General."

FLIERS TO MAKE $43,000.

Endurance Pair, Ready to Tour Fairs, Belittle Recompense.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 18 (AP).—Dale Jackson and Forest O'Brine, new holders of the world's airplane endurance record of over 647 hours, tonight were preparing to cash in with a series of refueling demonstrations at State fairs.

Despite their complaints of a lack of financial interest in their achievements, indications point to a larger clean-up for Jackson and O'Brine this year than there was after their endurance flight last year, which netted them $37,000 and an airplane.

William Pickens, their manager, announced that he had closed contracts totaling $30,500 for five appearances at fairs, the first to be Jackson-O'Brine day at the Missouri fair at Sedalia on Saturday. This will be followed by appearances at Iowa, Minnesota, Ohio and Indiana fairs.

In addition to these contracts the fliers earned $8,500 while in the air and will have about $3,500 left from their public subscription flight fund, giving them total earnings of about $43,000.

However, both fliers declared that there was "no money in endurance flying."

"St. Louis did as much for us as any other city would have, but it seems that endurance flying is played out," O'Brine explained.

ADDS 10 SMOKE INSPECTORS

Wynne Enlarges Force in Drive to Abate Soot Nuisance.

As part of a new drive to rid the city of the smoke nuisance, the Health Department's smoke inspection force will be doubled this week when Health Commissioner Wynne appoints ten more men specially trained in smoke abatement, it was learned yesterday.

The additional smoke inspectors, it was announced, are being certified and will join the present force this week to mount the tops of skyscrapers and scan the skies with powerful binoculars in the campaign to apprehend offenders who pollute the air with unnecessary soot.

TONGS AGREE TO SIGN PEACE TREATY TODAY

Promise Made to End Killings After Crain and Mulrooney Threaten Deportations.

CHINESE OFFICIALS AID

TONGS TO USE GREAT SEALS

Compact to Set a Precedent—Two Held in Bail After Ambush Shooting in Pell Street.

Peace among the warring tongs in this city was promised to District Attorney Crain yesterday afternoon by two Chinese officials. Representing C. C. Wu, the Chinese Minister in Washington, Ta-Kwang Wu, Second Secretary of the Chinese Legation there, and J. S. Tow, Acting Consul General in this city, informed the prosecutor that a permanent peace compact would be signed at 2 o'clock this afternoon in the consulate at 13 Astor Place.

The action of Mr. Wu in sending his secretary to this city to bring about harmonious relations among the tongs followed the ambush by On Leong Tong gunmen last Sunday night of thirty Hip Sing members in a pool room at 18 Pell Street, in which four Chinese were shot, and a warning served on twelve tong leaders earlier yesterday by Mr. Crain and Commissioner Mulrooney that there would be wholesale deportations of Chinese if the warfare was not ended within a week.

Tongs to Affix Their Seals.

Mr. Wu and Mr. Tow informed Mr. Crain that, for the first time in the history of tong hostilities in this country, the leaders of six Chinese organizations would bring to the conference this afternoon the great seals of their tongs and affix them to the peace compact as assurance that the slayings would be ended.

Mr. Wu added that, in conferences he and Mr. Tow had with the tong leaders, it had been agreed that in the event any one tong violated the agreement the other five would become allied against it and aid the authorities in prosecuting gunmen and hatchetmen. He added that he was confident that with the use of the great seals on the compact there would be little likelihood of further tong warfare.

Before Mr. Crain and Commissioner Mulrooney laid down their fiat to the tong leaders, Albert Blogg Unger, Assistant District Attorney, tried to obtain a similar agreement. When he reported that the tong leaders would not agree, Mr. Crain called the leaders and their lawyers to his private office, where Mr. Mulrooney was awaiting them.

Mr. Mulrooney told them that arrangements had been made with the Federal authorities for police and Federal raids on Chinese in Chinatown and other parts of the city with a view to deportation if the tong warfare continued. The leaders of the On Leong Tong, the Hip Sing Tong and the Tong On listened attentively without indicating their reaction.

It was then that Mr. Crain interposed: "Commissioner Mulrooney has given you fair warning of the course to be pursued. It is with regret that I notice the recent treaty of peace, signed here in my office, is being violated. The Chinese are killing one another in violation of all laws. The offenders will be punished. I hope influential Chinese leaders will see that order is restored. Do you understand?"

There was no response and the leaders and their lawyers filed out. Later when Mr. Wu and Mr. Tow called on Mr. Crain they told him that, in addition to the leaders of the three tongs who had attended the prosecutor's conference, the signing of the compact would be attended by representatives of the Chinese Benevolent Association, the Yon Wo Benevolent Association and the Tai Pang Association. Mr. Wu received the promise of Mr. Crain that he would attend if possible.

Two Arraigned in Shooting.

Lee Dick and Chin Quock, both of 64 Bayard Street, were arraigned for the Pell Street shooting before Magistrate Gotlieb in the Tombs Court on charges of felonious assault and of violating the Sullivan law. They pleaded not guilty and were held in $7,500 bail each for a hearing on Thursday. Lee Ai of 59 Bayard Street, who was arrested with them after the ambush, is still a prisoner in Bellevue Hospital with a bullet wound in the arm, received after he was alleged to have attempted to shoot two policemen who captured him when he was fleeing from the shooting, in which six alleged On Leong gunmen took part. He will be arraigned on similar charges on his release from the hospital in a few days.

George Chu and Stanley Wong, alleged tong members, and Lamberto Eullarian, a Filipino, who were arrested last Thursday night in front of an East Twenty-sixth Street laundry on charges of possessing pistols and knives suspected to be for use in the tong warfare, pleaded not guilty to conspiracy and violation of the Sullivan law when arraigned yesterday in the Yorkville Court. Magistrate Dodge held Chu without bail. Wong and Eullarian were held in $15,000 bail each. They are to be called for a hearing tomorrow.

Wong Young Dit, owner of the laundry, who was arrested with them, is being held in the Tombs awaiting trial on a first-degree murder indictment in the shooting of another Chinese twenty months ago in an Eldridge Street apartment during an outbreak of the tong war.

By ALLISON DANZIG.

With a larger gallery in the stadium than attended the opening round last year, in spite of the absence of Mrs. Helen Wills Moody, Miss Betty Nuthall of England set out in quest of the women's national championship at the West Side Tennis Club, Forest Hills, yesterday by defeating Miss Louise McFarland of Pasadena, Cal., 6—0, 6—1.

If the thousand spectators in the stands found it difficult to accustom themselves to the start of a championship without the titleholder on the scene, Miss Nuthall supplied the element of uncompromising speed that has been the annual contribution of Mrs. Moody to the tournament by launching an overpowering driving assault that exacted submission in less than half an hour in spite of the plucky efforts of her opponent.

Miss McFarland, who was girls' champion in 1926, offered surprisingly strong opposition, which the score fails to show, and the firmness and length of her backhand under the pounding to which it was subjected and the tenacity with which she retrieved Miss Nuthall's far-flung drives challenged a stricter application on her opponent's part than had been bargained for.

Established as Favorite.

For a first round test the match furnished the English girl an exceptional opportunity to tune up her strokes, since she has had no preliminary tournament play in this country this year, and the manner in which she rose to the occasion, with her service, her forehand and her bankhand all projecting the ball in the fashion of Mrs. Moody, served to establish her more securely as the favorite to carry off the title.

The opening round of play of the forty-third annual tournament was marked by the customary procession of the favorites to victory. Each of the eight seeded American players was numbered among the thirty-two survivors left in the running last night and only two experienced any difficulty in gaining their allotted brackets.

Miss Edith Cross of San Francisco, third in the national ranking, dropped the opening set to Mrs. Philip B. Hawk of Forest Hills before she found the range with her backhand service. By that time Mrs. Hawk's chop stroke had ceased to function at its best, with the result that Miss Cross hammered her way through the next two sets in quick fashion to win at 6—8, 6—2, 6—0.

Miss Ethel Burkardt, also of San Francisco, the fifth seeded flayer, faced the severest ordeal of any of the favorites when she went up against Miss Marjorie Sachs of Boston. In a free-hitting contest that was marked by uncompromising forehand driving and beautiful recoveries from losing positions on both sides, the California girl earned a narrowly won victory at 6—1, 3—6, 6—3.

Other Favorites Advance.

Mrs. Lawrence A. Harper of Oakland, Cal.; Miss Eleanor Goss of New York; Miss Sarah Palfrey of Boston and Miss Mary Greef of Kansas City all came through without the loss of a set, though Miss Greef was closely pressed in the second chapter by Miss Anne Page of Philadelphia.

Miss Marjorie Morrill of Boston and Miss Josephine Cruickshank of Santa Ana, the remaining two seeded Americans who drew byes in the first round, will go into action today, as also will the Baroness Giacomo Giorgio Levi of Rome.

Two members of the contingent of visiting players were numbered among the day's casualties, while a third, Mrs. Beryl Robinson Cape of Bermuda, defaulted. Mrs. Christian E. Muhl of New York eliminated Miss Gladys Hutchings at 6—3, 6—4, which was the nearest approach to an upset for the afternoon, and Miss Helen Marlowe of California accounted for Miss Jean Burritt of Toronto at 6—4, 7—5.

Among the other players who failed to survive the opening round were Mrs. K. J. Sherber, English resident of the United States; Miss Norma Taubele, Miss Grace Surber and Miss Clara Greenspan of New York; Miss Dorothy Andrus of Stamford and Miss Margaret Blake of Boston.

Mrs. Sherber Eliminated.

Mrs. Sherber yielded to Miss Katherine Wolf of Chicago in two closely fought sets at 7—5, 6—4. Miss Taubele, whose stroke production will stand comparison with that of any player in the tournament, took a set from Miss Dorothy Weisel of California, which was no small feat in view of Miss Weisel's record for the season.

Miss Surber was put out by Miss Virginia Hilleary of Philadelphia, and Miss Alice Francis of Orange, N. J., who has been playing much better tennis this year than she did in 1929, accounted for Miss Greenspan.

August Wins Bout in Albany.

ALBANY, Aug. 18 (AP).—Pete August of Bridgeport won the decision tonight over Gady Bagdad, Armenian, before a crowd of 5,000 at Rensselaer Stadium. Lew Pacion, 121, Waterford Filipino, outpointed Al Peters, 122, of New York in the semi-final.

CASTLE DEFEATED IN TENNIS UPSET

Third Seeded Player in National Public Parks Play Loses to Simmons at Washington.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18 (AP).—The biggest upset of the first day of the national public parks tennis championship was the defeat of the third seeded player, Jack Castle of Buffalo, by Arnold Simmons of Louisville, Ky., today, by 3—6, 6—4, 4—6, 6—2, 6—0.

Frank Broida of Pittsburgh won from Alex Goodman of Scranton, Pa., 1—6, 6—2, 6—1, 6—2. Charles Lejeck of Chicago, seeded No. 6, found stiff opposition from Stanley Haney of Drummon, Md., in the first set, but won, 7—5. Haney weakened, however, and Lejeck took the next two, 6—3, 6—4.

A sea-saw match between Ted Segal of New York City and Harry Shaberg of St. Louis went to the New Yorker, 6—3, 2—6, 6—3, 6—1. Edgar Yeomans of Washington, D. C., and Alex Keiles of Baltimore battled through five sets, the latter winning, 5—7, 8—6, 6—4, 5—7, 6—3. The Baltimore boy's superior placements gave him the margin.

The first love match came when Miss Virginia Ducker of St. Louis outclassed Miss Lucille Hartz of Baltimore, 6—0, 6—0. Miss Ethel Haas of Buffalo had little trouble in conquering Miss Mary Mustaikis of Detroit in straight sets, 6—3, 6—4, and Miss Louise Omwake of Washington beat Miss Frances Rousse of Detroit, 8—6, 6—2.

PALMER ADVANCES IN JUNIOR TENNIS

Defeats Gerkin, 6-2, 6-1, as Metropolitan Title Play Opens—Abrams Wins in Boys' Division.

Special to The New York Times.

BRIARCLIFF MANOR, N. Y., Aug. 18.—The annual metropolitan junior tennis championships got under way today on the courts of Briarcliff Lodge, with the seeded players advancing easily through their first-round matches. Thirty-nine players were entered in the junior division and sixteen contested for boys' honors.

Ray Palmer Jr., protégé of Vincent Richards and Eastern junior champion, had an easy time in defeating Harold Gerkin of Jackson Heights, 6—2, 6—1. Donald Morrison, who hurried back from Culver, Ind., where he played in the national junior championships with Palmer, in order to enter this tournament, started off by defeating Jack Semler of Jackson Heights, 6—2, 6—1.

Joseph Abrams of New York advanced through two matches in the boys' division to reach the semi-final.

TILDEN BEATS VINES IN NEWPORT TENNIS

Handicapped by Injured Leg, Veteran Wins by Brilliant Baseline Play, 9-7, 6-2.

LOTT PUTS OUT VAN ALEN

Scores in Second Round by 6-1, 6-2—Godfree of England Bows to Coggeshall, 6-3, 6-2.

Special to The New York Times.

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 18.—Out of a welter of thirty-six matches in the opening rounds of the Newport Casino singles tennis tournament today every prominent player came through without difficulty, with the exception of Ellsworth Vines, sensation of several of the preceding tourneys in the East, who met defeat in the second round at the hands of William T. Tilden, who, despite an injured right leg which hampered his game, rose to great heights from the baseline and eliminated the California youngster by the score of 9—7, 6—2.

The elimination of Vines came after the youth had won from Maurice Bayon of New Orleans, 6—1, 6—0. Tilden clung to the baseline, limping back and forth and sometimes letting some shots go entirely, but despite his handicap he outplayed the youth, his cunning traps and pitfalls being the downfall of the Californian.

After a first-round bye George M. Lott Jr. reached the third round by defeating James L. Van Alen of Newport, 6—1, 6—2. Francis T. Hunter, arriving late in the afternoon, found an easy victim in Elliott Hobbs of Newport, winning, 6—2, 6—0.

John Doeg scored over Louis Hobbs, 6—3, 6—4, and then eliminated Richard Murphy of Utica, 6—4, 6—3. Sidney Wood of New York went into the second round by winning from the veteran Fred C. Baggs, 6—4, 6—2, and Gregory Mangin defeated the Southern star, Donald Cram, 6—3, 6—1.

Clifford Sutter, intercollegiate champion, advanced without difficulty, conquering Thomas Ridgeway Jr., a Newport Summer resident, 6—3, 6—3.

Four of the seven foreign players entered saw action, and three won. In the second round E. R. Avory, young British collegian, conquered Harry Plymire of Palo Alto, Cal., 6—3, 7—5; J. S. Oliff, England, defeated Harold McCuffin, Philadelphia, 7—5, 6—1, and Marcel Rainville, Canadian Davis Cup player, eliminated S. Howard Voshell of New York, 12—10, 6—4. But L. A. Godfree, leader of the British players, was beaten by Harris Coggeshall of Des Moines, Iowa, 6—3, 6—2, in a first-round match.

Alekhine Wins 21 of 23 Chess Matches In Simultaneous Play at World Congress

LIEGE, Belgium, Aug. 18.—The international chess congress, arranged as a part of the program of the centennial celebration by Belgian chess players, was formally opened today at the Festival Palace on the exposition grounds. It will last a fortnight, the greater portion of which will be taken up with a masters' tournament, in which twelve experts will contest in daily rounds, the final being fixed for Aug. 30.

In an exhibition of simultaneous play today by Dr. Alexandre Alekhine of Paris, the world's champion, playing with great confidence and fairly quickly, against twenty-three volunteers, completed his task in three and a half hours. He defeated twenty-one of his opponents, and the other two scored victories.

Play in the masters' tournament will begin tomorrow afternoon. The United States will be represented by Frank J. Marshall of New York, American champion. Other countries represented are: Argentina, England, India, Germany, Poland, Russia, Denmark, Holland and Belgium.

ASHTON BROTHERS IN ACTION TODAY

By ROBERT F. KELLEY.

High goal polo on Long Island starts its most active week of the season this afternoon with the playing off of the postponed game between the Ashton brothers of Australia, who form the Goulburn team, and the United States Army four.

This game, which was to have been played at Meadow Brook Saturday but was called off by rain, will be at the Army's playing centre, Mitchel Field, which adjoins Meadow Brook and which also includes the huge stables where the British and many of the American International ponies are quartered. The game is to start at 4:30 o'clock.

Tomorrow there will be another mid-week American test match on the grounds of the Piping Rock Club at Locust Valley, starting at 4:30; Thursday the British play their first formal polo of their season here; Saturday the Australians face Old Aiken again at Meadow Brook and on Sunday the usual Sands Point test match at Port Washington will be held.

For tomorrow's test match at Piping Rock the line-up of the White side, which has come to be regarded as the tentative American team, has been broken up in order that Rube Williams could have a chance with it. Williams takes the place of Earle A. Hopping at No. 2. Eric Pedley stays at No. 1, with Captain Thomas Hitchcock Jr. at No. 3 and Winston Guest at back.

The younger Hopping goes to No. 2 on the Red side. At No. 1 will be George H. (Pete) Bostwick, Cecil Smith at No. 3 and Elmer J. Boeseke Jr. at back. This change in the line-up follows Sunday's sensational game, in which Williams played so well at back and No. 3 for the Reds, who came close to giving the Whites their first defeat of the season.

COWDIN POLO PONIES TO BE SOLD TOMORROW

Other Strings, to Be Disposed of Later, Will Bring Total on Block to 140.

The fine string of polo ponies owned by J. Cheever Cowdin, one of the best known players in this country, will be sold tomorrow at the field of Fred Post at East Williston, L. I. There are nine mounts in the lot, all of them of high type. The ponies have been played on Long Island fields this season in the test matches. Several of them were ridden in international matches in previous years by Thomas Hitchcock Jr.

The Cowdin sale, which will begin at 3 P. M., will inaugurate a series of sales through the next five or six weeks in which a total of 140 ponies will be disposed of. Besides those belonging to Mr. Cowdin, the strings to be sold later will consist of the mounts purchased by the United States Polo Association as reserve forces for the international matches at Meadow Brook next month; those belonging to the Ashton brothers of Australia now in this country and the ponies which will be used by the British team in the series against the United States.

In the lot held by the United States Polo Association as reserves there are now twenty-two listed for sale, but this number may be augmented later. This sale, as well as that of the seventy-five owned by the British players, will be held shortly after the final match of the cup series.

The Ashtons' mounts are to go on the block on Aug. 30. One other lot now listed for sale is that of eleven owned by Charles B. Wrightsman of Los Angeles and which have been ridden this season in the test matches here by Eric Pedley. The sales all are scheduled to be held at Post's Field.

AUSTRALIA SCORES 215 FOR 2 WICKETS

Makes Impressive Start in Reply to England's 405 in First Innings of Test Cricket.

LONDON, Aug. 18 (Canadian Press).—After England completed its final first innings for 405 today in the test cricket match being played at the Kennington Oval, the Australians made an impressive start on their reply. At the close of play for the day they had scored 215 for two wickets.

England owed its fairly good score to the efforts of Herbert Sutcliffe, who ran his innings up to 161. He and R. E. S. Wyatt, the English captain, set up a new record for an English sixth-wicket test match partnership. They scored 170, beating the 156 made by R. H. Spooner and J. T. Tyldesley at the oval in 1905.

W. H. Ponsford, who opened the Australian innings, with his captain, W. M. Woodfull, scored 110, his first century in international cricket in England.

When Ponsford and Woodfull looked good for a hundred more runs — so completely had they collared the bowling—I. A. R. bles was brought on by Wyatt. With his third ball, which was beautifully flighted, he soundly beat Ponsford and scattered his stumps. Ponsford scored 110 and the Australian innings total stood at 159 when he left.

Don Bradman joined Woodfull, but before another run was scored heavy rains began to fall and play was suspended.

The rain clouds passed away and play was recommenced. It was soon seen that Bradman was not his usual aggressive self. Woodfull broke a row of monotonous singles to drive Tate to the boundary. The 200 was posted when Woodfull stole a single off Hammond's bowling.

Woodfull sent Peebles to the boundary, but was nearly broken on the following two balls. Woodfull's end was obviously near and he just touched the next one. It clicked into the hands of Duckworth, who shouted, "How's that?" The umpire's answer was in the affirmative.

Bowling analyses were: Peebles, 2 wickets for 76 runs; Larwood, no wickets for 33 runs; Tate, no wickets for 63 runs; Wyatt, no wickets for 12 runs; Hammond, no wickets for 18 runs.

SUAREZ WILL BOX TONIGHT.

South American to Fight Flowers at Queensboro Stadium.

Whether Justo Suarez, South American lightweight, warrants consideration as a possible rival for Al Singer, the world's champion, is expected to be known tonight following the Argentine lad's battle with Bruce Flowers, the veteran New Rochelle Negro, at the Queensboro Stadium. They are to clash in the principal ten-round bout.

The match will witness the third American ring effort of Suarez. He conquered Joe Glick and Herman (Twin) Perlick in his first two American engagements.

In the eight-round semi-final Ben Jeby, east side middleweight, is to tackle Joey LaGray of the West Side.

Three eight-round bouts feature the boxing card tonight at the Twenty-second Engineers Regiment Armory. The principals will be George (Red) Mason vs. Joe Martin, Joey Eulo vs. Young Pancho, Mickey Eulo vs. Ray Ortega.

CANADIANS SCORE IN EMPIRE GAMES

CROWN TO MISS STONEHAM

By LINCOLN A. WERDEN.

Special to The New York Times.

HAMILTON, Ont., Aug. 18.—In the second day of competition in the British Empire games, devoted mainly to aquatic sports, Canada's athletes captured two of the premier events, scoring in both the men's and women's high-tower diving championships.

Alfred Phillips of Toronto, the Dominion champion, whose brother Ted is Canada's middleweight boxing champion and who is also representing Canada in the games, added the tower-diving crown to his victory Saturday night as springboard champion. A crowd estimated at 8,000 lined Burlington Bay on Lake Ontario.

The spectators along the harbor also witnessed the Canadian canoe championships, a feature of the day's program that started at 10 o'clock this morning and finally was postponed until tomorrow morning because of rough water.

Phillips Leads Walker.

The divers, however, plunged from the alternate heights of sixteen and thirty-three feet this afternoon, and Phillips led another Toronto representative by a little more than seven points. Phillips's aggregate was 90.6, and Sam Walker, the second man, was 83.3. Tom Scott of England was third with 82.3 and Cyril Kennett of Canada fourth with 80 credits.

Only two entrants participated in the women's event, which was won again by the Canadian champion, Miss Pearl Stoneham of Toronto, who scored 39.3 points to the 38.3 totaled by Miss Helen McCormick, also of Toronto.

Continuing their successes of the afternoon, when the swimming program was held tonight at the Civic Swimming Pool, erected especially for the games, the representatives of the land of the maple leaf added both men's championship to their credit, the 200-yard breast stroke and the 100-yard free style.

In the breast stroke Jack Aubin of Toronto led the two Englishmen, Stanley Bell and Reginald Flint, the English champion, turning in a 2:38 2-5 performance. Munro Bourne of Montreal, the Dominion's Olympic swimmer, captured the 100-yard free style by a scant six inches from Norman Brooks, the English champion, and Bert Gibson, Canadian, who placed third ahead of Tom Whiteside of England. Bourne's winning time was 56 seconds.

English Women Win Relay.

England's women's team, however, by overtaking Canada's entrants in the last hundred of the 400-yard relay, turned back Canada's hopes of sweeping to another victory by establishing a new record. Miss Joyce Cooper's sprint on the anchor leg in 1:05 4-5 cut down the advantage of Canada and touched just ahead of Miss Irene Pirie for the victory in 4:32 4-5, the old Canadian mark being 4:49. On the victorious team were Miss Cooper's sister, Dorine, Miss Phyllis Harding and Miss O. L. Joynes. The Scottish team was third.

Miss Joyce Cooper proved to be the individual star of the evening, for she came back later to score an impressive triumph in the 100-yard back stroke. Miss Valerie Davies was second, Miss Phyllis Harding of England third and Miss Ellen King, the Scottish star, fourth. Miss Cooper's time was 1:15.

CANADIAN CREWS ARRIVE.

Reach Seaside Park for Series With Barnegat Bay Yachts.

Special to The New York Times.

SEASIDE PARK, N. J., Aug. 18.—The Canadian crews which are to compete against the United States this week in the annual international challenge series, arrived today.

The party of Maple Leaf yachtsmen is headed by former Commodore G. Victor Winthead of the Royal St. Lawrence Yacht Club and the personnel of the two Canadian scows will be as follows: Captain George Hamilton, George Finley and Arthur Melling, and Captain George Hanna, Murray Smith and Frank Coward.

As has been the custom in the last four years of this series between the Royal St. Lawrence Yacht Club of Montreal and selected crews of the Barnegat Bay Yacht Racing Association, eight contests have been scheduled. Four of these were held in Canada last month with the Dominion skippers leading by 22 to 18. The remaining four races will take place off the Seaside Park Yacht Club this Friday and Saturday.

CAWLEY DEFEATS GAGNON.

Gains Decision in 10-Round Feature Bout at Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 18 (AP).—Frank Cawley, youthful heavyweight from Pittston, Pa., won the decision over Jack Gagnon of Boston in the 10-round main bout at the Arena tonight. Cawley weighed 189 pounds and Gagnon 190.

FINED $100 FOR FOUL.

Glick Penalized as He Loses Ten-Round Decision to Townsend.

TORONTO, Aug. 18 (AP).—Billy Townsend, Vancouver holder of the Canadian lightweight championship, outpointed Joe Glick of Brooklyn in a ten-round bout tonight.

In the fifth the Brooklyn boxer was outboxing his rival when he landed a round arm swing below the belt and Referee Lou March, Toronto, fined him $100. This seemed to take considerable effectiveness away from Glick.

Dr. Hill's 70 Wins Golf Medal.

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va., Aug. 18 (AP).—Dr. S. M. Hill of Dallas, Texas, defending his old White Sulphur golf title, was the medalist as play started today in the 1930 tournament with a 70.

Gar Wood's Miss America IX Goes 90 Miles an Hour in Test

DETROIT, Aug. 18 (AP).—Gar Wood, who will defend the Harmsworth speedboat trophy against Miss Marion Carstairs of England on Aug. 30 to Sept. 1, announced today he had driven his Miss America IX at a speed above ninety miles an hour at Algonac yesterday.

The Miss America IX is similar in design and in power plant—it has two twelve-cylinder motors—to the Miss America VIII, her companion boat. The latter has attained ninety-three miles an hour, and Wood believes that the new boat will go faster.

"We are not trying anything phenomenal," he said, "but we felt that we needed another boat to make certain that we would not be caught flat-footed by the English."

JERSEY CADDIE GOLF IS WON BY M'GUIRE

16-Year-Old Entrant From Deal Club Shoots 73-70 to Lead Field of 153 Starters.

Special to The New York Times.

NUTLEY, N. J., Aug. 18.—For the second successive year the caddie championship of the New Jersey State Golf Association, embracing the State and Staten Island, goes to a 16-year-old boy from the Deal Golf Club.

Leslie McGuire, whose home is in Long Branch, shot rounds of 73 and 70 over the Yountakah Country Club course today to finish four strokes in front of a field of 153 starters, representing forty golf clubs. The winner last year was Mike Siciliano, also of Deal.

The runner-up was another 16-year-old boy, Mike Liloia of Yountakah. He had a 77 this morning and also equaled par of 70 in the afternoon. Both McGuire and Liloia weigh about 125 pounds.

The State Caddie Masters' title went to Mike Bischoff of Maplewood, who scored 75, 76—151, one shot better than Joe Lonofrio of Jumping Brook, who had 78 and 74. A field of forty-seven teed off in this event.

Despite the big field of 200 starters the 400 rounds of competition were completed before 8 P. M., the boys, playing in groups of fours, going around faster than their elders.

The team championship of the caddies was won by Yountakah with a total of 617. The winning team was composed of Liloia, Joseph Picarelli, Frank Rich and Victor Marconni.

The prize for low score in the morning was won by John Bruno of Essex County with a 71. He was eight strokes higher on his second round and at 150 tied with Picarelli for the fifth place.

W. TURNESA WINS IN CADDIES' GOLF

DELMARCO FINISHES SECOND

Ardsley Player Is 1 Stroke Behind—Bielat Is Third at the Leewood Club.

Special to The New York Times.

TUCKAHOE, N. Y., Aug. 18.—A slightly-built youngster weighing not more than a hundred pounds but capable of driving a golf ball much further than many of double his weight, Willie Turnesa, 15-year-old Fairview caddie, won the annual Westchester caddie championship at the Leewood Golf Club today.

Young Turnesa, who is one of seven brothers, the most noted of whom is Joe, professional at the Elmsford Club and runner-up to Bobby Jones in the Open Championship at Scioto in 1926, led the field with a score of 156. His morning score of 73, only two above par, gave him a lead of three strokes in the field.

P. Delmarco of Ardsley, finished second, one stroke behind, while Stanley Bielat of Dunwoodie was third. Those three, with C. Puccine of Oak Ridge, N. Jones of Rye, Joe Stasionis of Leewood, A. Castaldo of Mount Kisco and John Skibik of Leewood, will make up the Westchester team in the metropolitan caddie championship.

Turnesa was never more than a stroke away from par in his first round, but in the afternoon his putter failed him in the first five holes, causing him to take three putts on all of them, and he was out of bounds for a 7 in the seventh. Eight strokes above par, he settled down and finished with an 83.

GOODWIN'S 77 LEADS N. Y. A. C. GOLF PLAY

Special to The New York Times.

MAMARONECK, N. Y., Aug. 18.—Thomas Goodwin, 17-year-old son of Bud Goodwin, famous swimmer of former days, captured the honors today at the Winged Foot Golf Club in the eighteenth annual championship tournament of the New York Athletic Club. Goodwin brought in a gross score of 77 to lead the field of ninety-five starters.

John G. Anderson, local veteran, was a stroke behind, and it is expected that if these two entries continue their steady playing of today they probably will meet in the final on Saturday.

Besides capturing the low gross prize, Goodwin was eligible for the low net honors with a 65, but because the tournament rules called for a man winning only one prize, the low net award went to Robert J. Hyland, who scored a 66.

Dr. W. G. Fralick, with a 66 net, won the eighteen-hole seniors' tournament. Dr. Fralick had an [illegible] gross.

Alonzo Walling received the low net prize for the veterans, having scored an 87—16—71. A. A. McGovern and E. A. Arnold tied for second net with 71s.

GEHRIG HITS 35TH AS YANKS TRIUMPH

Homer With Two Men on Bases in Sixth Potent Factor in 11-4 Victory Over White Sox.

PENNOCK GOES DISTANCE

Has Easy Time as Mates Set Loose Powerful Drive—Chapman and Lary Star in Field.

By WILLIAM E. BRANDT.

Lou Gehrig had the home run glory all to himself yesterday at the Yankee Stadium. His thirty-fifth homer of the season, a sizzler into the right-field bleachers in the sixth inning, with two men on bases and a left-hander, Garland Braxton, pitching for Chicago, was the only thing of the sort involved in the 11-to-4 victory of the Yanks over the White Sox.

With Herb Pennock pitching strongly as long as it was necessary, the Yanks sailed to the front, hitting the ball hard, running bases savagely, and now and then by brilliant fielding plays drawing glad cries from the block of 2,000 invited youngsters in the left-field stands.

The junior keystone combination of Lary and Chapman performed the fielding sparklers. Lary in the third inning rushed far over behind Lazzeri to dig up Kerr's sharp smash with his outflung gloved hand, then whirled and made the throw to second which changed an apparent safe hit into a force-out.

Chapman's Brilliant Catch.

Chapman's bit of brilliance was a one-hand capture of Jolley's low liner. This play came immediately after a double by Reynolds with the bases filled in the seventh and sent home three runs in one bundle, the major scoring operation of the day for the visitors.

Hits just then had been rattling heavily off Pennock's drifting shoots and when Jolley launched that liner toward centre another run seemed in the immediate making. But Chapman jumped toward second base and, with his gloved hand thrust out, clutched the ball a few inches above the ground for the inning's last out.

The tide began running contrary to the Sox interests as soon as the Yanks went to bat in the first inning. Byrd looped a two-bagger close to the left field foul line. The Sox argued that it was a foul ball, the debate continuing until Umpire Moriarty banished the visiting manager, Donie Bush, from the field.

Yanks Clinch the Game.

A double play repressed the Yanks in that inning, but in the second, after two out, they suddenly became possessed of four runs. A pass, Chapman's single and a late throw on Bengough's grounder filled the bases. Pennock fanned, but Byrd arched another pop-fly two-bagger along the left field foul line, scoring two runs, and Lary's line single to centre sent home two more.

Byrd's safe bunt, Fothergill's muff of Ruth's high fly and Lazzeri's single added a run in the third. Lazzeri knocked home another run in the sixth just before Gehrig stepped up and hit number thirty-five, scoring Ruth and Tony ahead of him. That tells how powerfully the Yankees were hitting.

ATHLETICS' RALLY CONQUERS BROWNS

Four Runs in Eighth Overcome 4-2 Lead, Giving Champions the Decision by 6 to 4.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 18 (AP).—A four-run rally that drove Walter Stewart out of the box in the eighth inning gave the Athletics their second straight victory over the St. Louis Browns today. The score was 6 to 4. The champions' uprising erased the Browns' lead of 4 to 2.

George Earnshaw, who lasted the distance for the Mackmen, was credited with his nineteenth victory of the season. Mickey Cochrane's home run started the winning rally in the eighth and was followed by three doubles and a single. Ralph Kress hit for the circuit in the sixth.

BEARS BEAT RED WINGS.

Special to The New York Times.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Aug. 18.—The Newark Bears, although outhit thirteen to twelve, showed plenty of ability to connect in the pinches to win the opening contest of their five-game series with the Rochester Red Wings today, 7 to 6.

Jordan, Bruins' right fielder, did the timeliest hitting, singling in the second run of Newark's four runs in the fifth inning and smashing a homer in the seventh to start a two-run inning which gave the Bears their winning edge.

PIRATES' 2 IN 9TH TURN BACK ROBINS

WRIGHT GETS HOME RUN

Breaks 2-All Tie in Last Frame, but Clark Falters and P. Waner's Hit Opens Winning Rally.

By ROSCOE McGOWEN.

Special to The New York Times.

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 18.—A ninth-inning home run off Ervin Brame by Glenn Wright, the return of Del Bissonette to the line-up and the insertion of Ike Boone into the left field section, although seemingly advantageous moves, all were insufficient to win another ball game for Uncle Wilbert Robinson today, and the Robins were forced to retreat to the clubhouse on the short end of a 4-to-3 score.

Even the ancient but strong arm of Señor Adolfo Luque and all his pitching cunning could not stop the boisterous Buccaneers.

The veteran Cuban hurler, drafted in the ninth after Watson Clark had permitted the bases to become densely populated on a single by Paul Waner, a pass to Comorosky, Traynor's sacrifice and intentional walk to Bool, pitched only three balls to Dick Bartell and his final delivery was fatal.

With the Robins leading 3 to 2, Bartell slapped a mean bounder just inside third base and out of Eddie Moore's reach, on which Paul Waner scored easily with the tying run and Adam Comorosky galloped home from second with the winning tally. The hit, fielded cleanly by Rube Bressler and nominally a single, was scored because of the ninth inning situation, as a double.

Robins' Position Precarious.

Regardless of the technicalities attached to the scoring of the hit, there was no doubt of its effectiveness and that the Robins, so recently winging along at the head of the National League, had taken another nose dive and are threatened momentarily with pancaking into third place, being only half a game ahead of the Giants, who were idle today.

Both Clark and Brame pitched well, although until Paul Waner's single started the ninth, the Brooklyn southpaw had the edge over his Pittsburgh rival.

Herman and Bissonette found Brame for consecutive singles in the first, but with two out, Boone's best effort was a long fly to Lloyd Waner.

In the fourth, however, the big outfielder became secondarily responsible for a Brooklyn run and the first of the game. Herman whacked a double off the right field screen to start it, and after Bissonette had fouled to Traynor, Boone beat a hit to Grantham. The Pirate second baseman, trying for a put-out, threw wild and Herman scored.

The Pirates tied it up in their half of the same frame on clean hitting. In the seventh, Bartell scored Traynor from the second with a single, to put the Pirates in the lead, 2-1.

Frederick Triples in Eighth.

Once more the Robins tied the score when Johnny Frederick tripled over Paul Waner's head in the eighth and scored on Gilbert's double down the left field foul line.

Then in the ninth came Wright's homer, and this blow appeared to be the winning one, as Clark had set the Pirates down in order in the eighth, but Paul Waner set the stage for the Pirates' ninth-inning victory and Bartell's double gave the Robbins their exit cue.

Babe Phelps will get tomorrow's mound assignment from Uncle Robbie, while Jewel Ens, who has little choice, probably will call upon Steve Swetonic to try to turn back the Robins.

HADLEY, SENATORS, REPELS THE TIGERS

Gives Only Six Hits to Take a Close Decision From Detroit, 5 to 4.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18 (AP).—The Senators made it two out of three against Detroit today by winning a fast game, 5 to 4.

Hadley allowed the Tigers only six hits, but enough of them were bunched in the sixth inning to allow the visitors to score three of their runs. Hogsett was touched for nine hits in five innings, including several extra-base hits.

CUBS GET GEORGE KELLY.

Ex-Giant First Baseman to Take Place of Injured Grimm.

CHICAGO, Aug. 18 (AP).—Long George Kelly, former New York Giant and Cincinnati first baseman, has returned to the National League as a member of the Chicago Cubs.

President William L. Veeck of the Cubs today said that Kelly, who was released by Cincinnati more than a month ago, had been obtained from the Minneapolis club of the American Association for Malcolm Moss, young left-handed pitcher, and one other player to be named this week.

Kelly will report for work tomorrow and will play first base while Charlie Grimm recovers from a spike wound, suffered Saturday when Frank O'Doul of the Phillies slid into him.

CUBS INCREASE LEAD BY DEFEATING PHILS

Malone Permits Only Eight Hits to Win, 17 to 3, and Record 15th Triumph of Year.

ENGLISH SCORES FIVE RUNS

Wilson Connects for 42d Home Run and Is Now One Short of Tying League Record.

CHICAGO, Aug. 18 (AP).—The Cubs accomplished more constructive work on their job of building up a lead in the National League pennant battle today, defeating Philadelphia, 17 to 3, for their third straight in the series, and giving them a three and one-half game margin over Brooklyn, which lost to Pittsburgh.

Malone held the Phillies to eight hits and accounted for his fifteenth victory of the season. The Cubs belabored Hensen and Phillips for seventeen drives and used nine bases on balls to advantage. Woody English walked four times, hit once and scored five Cub runs.

Hack Wilson slammed his forty-second home run of the season to open a six-run rally in the eighth. He is only one circuit drive away from the league record, set last season by Chuck Klein of the Phillies, who saw the drive sail into the bleachers. Malone also hit for the circuit, getting his with a man on base in the fourth.

FREE-FOR-ALL PACE TO EVELYN M'TIGUE

Thomas Drives Entry to Straight-Heat Victory Over Nap Direct at Mineola.

Special to The New York Times.

MINEOLA, L. I., Aug. 18.—Willard Thomas of Baldwin, L. I., was the big winner today at the Nassau Driving Club's postponed harness races. Thomas first won the free-for-all pace with his chestnut mare, Evelyn McTigue, in straight heats over Nap Direct, handled by B. G. Cornwell. Thomas then held the reins over Henry Seaman's brown mare Honor Brooke to beat Hollywood Mac after the opening heat in the 2:15 trot and pace, which the latter won by a length.

MAYS KNOCKS OUT DE CARLOS IN 6TH

UBALDO STOPS SELLS IN 1ST

Italian Makes Quick Work of Kansas City Fighter—Boja and Kohut Battle to Draw.

By JAMES P. DAWSON.

Harold Mays, veteran Bayonne heavyweight, last night wrecked the local ring début of Armando de Carlos, Italian heavyweight, at Henderson's Bowl, Coney Island. In what was scheduled as the ten-round feature on a card that drew 4,000 fight fans, Mays knocked out de Carlos in the sixth round.

The finish came after twenty-six seconds of the sixth round when Mays dropped his rival with a right to the jaw followed by a powerful right to the ear. Referee Johnny McEvoy counted out the prostrate Italian, and then De Carlos was assisted to his corner.

Rights to the body hurt De Carlos in the first, second and third rounds. In the fifth Mays dropped De Carlos, the bell ending the round as the count over the fallen Italian reached six. Then came the knockout in the sixth. Mays weighed 188 pounds and De Carlos 184½.

In the scheduled ten-round semi-final Primo Ubaldo, Italian heavyweight, knocked out Walter Sells of Kansas City in the first round. Ubaldo weighed 178 and Sells 187½.

Frank Boja, German middleweight, and Billy Kohut of Bensonhurst fought a draw in their ten-round bout. The decision was complimentary to Kohut and unpopular with the crowd. The German weighed 160½ and Kohut 163.

Paddy Quinlan, Flatbush light-heavyweight, won the decision over Jack Phoenix, Dublin heavyweight, in a six-round bout. Quinlan weighed 170 pounds and Phoenix 181½.

Maxie Gold, Coney Island middleweight, outpointed Leo Kuberski of South Brooklyn in the opening bout of four rounds. Gold weighed 152 and Kuberski 156.

....the "Last Inch" test reveals the truth about cigar taste

A CIGAR that is as cool, mild and mellow when the last inch is reached as when first lighted assures you complete smoking satisfaction. For your own enjoyment, for your own protection, for positive proof of cigar taste and cigar quality make the "Last Inch" test.

We do not say that Admiration is the only cigar that will pass the "Last Inch" test—but we do know that every Admiration will pass it. You can prove this today, any day.

Buy an Admiration. Light it. Note how cool, how mild, how mellow the first puff is. See how, puff after puff, right to the very last inch, you get that same delightfully cool, mild, mellow taste. Admirations do not vary—Admirations do not get strong, hot or bitter... in fact, the longer you smoke your Admiration Cigar, the keener your enjoyment becomes.

Admiration Cigars are made for one purpose—to give complete cigar satisfaction. That's why Admiration's 100% Havana filler is full-year-aged... to make them mild and mellow. And Admirations are handmade to guarantee freedom in drawing—the secret of constant cigar coolness. And they are popularly priced 10¢ to 3-for-30¢.

"The Cigar that Wins" ADMIRATION
even the last inch is Mild and Mellow

The "LAST INCH" Test

TODAY, compare the mild, mellow, cool "Last Inch" taste of Admiration with that of any ordinary cigar. Then you'll realize why the "Last Inch" test is making more Admiration smokers everywhere.

Lipton's Shamrock V Is Hauled Out of the Water at Groton

SHAMROCK LIKENED TO U. S. CUP YACHTS

FIRST VIEW OF UNDERBODY

Construction of Keel Indicates Craft Should Move Easily and Point High on Wind.

By JAMES ROBBINS.

Special to The New York Times.

NEW LONDON, Conn., Aug. 18.—Hauled out of water today on a marine railway at the Electric Boat Company's plant across the Thames in Groton, Shamrock V presented full evidence of being a design that well might be called a compromise between Weetamoe and Enterprise, the two American defender yachts that have made the best showing in the races to select a defender of the America's Cup.

Not that Shamrock is a compromise in that her designer, Charles E. Nicholson, decided to build between the two American yachts. He has never seen either of them, or their plans. It was in working out what he figured was the best model of a boat that he hit between the fleet defense pair.

It was the first time the under body of Sir Thomas Lipton's fifth cup hope had been exposed to view since she arrived here.

When she nosed into the harbor at the end of her transatlantic trip, Shamrock's narrow beam and sharpness indicated that Nicholson had chosen to build a comparatively small hull that would lead up to windward in light airs. That is what Weetamoe and Enterprise do. Today it was seen that Shamrock has a keel with not quite the cutaway forefoot of Weetamoe and not quite the lead hold on the water of Enterprise. Shamrock should move easily and point high on the wind.

Power in Hull Apparent.

Another feature of the green yacht from overseas also caught the eye. It was an apparent power in her high-sided hull. While Weetamoe and Enterprise work wonders to windward, their off the breeze efforts fall away almost in proportion. In short, they gain a margin with close-hauled sails that a little more than balances their loss with started ones.

Shamrock, on the other hand, appears to have a gradually rounded hull despite her narrow beam that should enable her to settle down to the full of her driving power with the wind aft of midships, particularly on a reach. That is probably the reason she walked away from much larger yachts in her trials on the other side. Her contestants there had more sail but she had greater power in proportion.

Before she was hauled out of water Shamrock's mast was set up in its sections, of which there really are three instead of two. There is the lower part, which was used with the jury rig for the ocean crossing. Then there is a 50-foot section that sockets above, and into the second section a short head about 5 feet long fits. There is a band at this upper joint and there the headstay runs down. The stay does not go out to the bow but is inboard, as are those on the Weetamoe and Yankee.

The tip of Shamrock's mast is a blunt affair that is not ornamental. On the mast are two sets of wide spreaders and two sets of smaller ones. The smaller are for diamond shrouds, the rig W. Starling Burgess first put on Enterprise. The upper of these diamond stays runs from the top band out around a set of small spreaders and in to the mast at the upper set of larger ones. The other runs from the lower large set down around a set of small ones and into the stick at the deck.

Has No Permanent Backstay.

Shamrock has no permanent backstay, as her boom will extend just over her stern. She has two preventer backstays almost aft to her transom and two intermediate ones to her quarters.

Harold Webb, official measurer of the New York Yacht Club, is expected here tomorrow to put a tape on the challenger and record her as being a Class J sloop, as is required under the cup conditions arranged.

There were a few scattered barnacles under Shamrock's stern and an oil streak around her white boat top, the result of her lying several days in the harbor here. Her underbody will be rubbed down and painted while she is out of water.

It is hoped to have her under sail by Thursday for a rigging test and then to take her to Newport for a series of sailing spins there.

LIPTON CHANGES PLANS.

Will Not Go to New London to See Shamrock Until Tomorrow.

Plans of Sir Thomas Lipton to sail from here today for New London to look over his Shamrock V, and then proceed to Newport, were changed late yesterday. Sir Thomas probably will depart tomorrow aboard his steam yacht Erin, following his original plans of travel. The Erin spent yesterday coaling and will be brought up the Hudson River to the foot of Eighty-sixth Street either late this afternoon or tomorrow in time to permit her owner to board her.

Sir Thomas spent a busy day yesterday, transacting some business, seeing old friends and topping off the day with a long automobile ride. He returned to his suite at the Hotel Biltmore shortly after 8:30, feeling considerably refreshed.

Churchill Downs Meet Shifted To Precede Races at Latonia

LATONIA, Ky., Aug. 18 (AP).—A change in Kentucky Fall racing dates so that the Churchill Downs races at Louisville will be run prior to the Latonia meet was sanctioned by the State Racing Commission today.

Under the new schedule Churchill Downs will open Oct. 4 and close Oct. 16, having eleven days of racing. Latonia will open Oct. 18 and close Nov. 15, with twenty-five days of racing.

Fall racing in Kentucky will begin with the Lexington meet, opening Sept. 13 and closing Sept. 20. All opening and closing dates will be on Saturdays, except the closing at Churchill Downs.

Sports of the Times

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

By JOHN KIERAN.

SARATOGA SPRINGS, Aug. 18.—There are three tracks in the Saratoga racing plant, the main track and two training tracks. Just across the road from the main entrance to the main track is Horse Haven, the smaller of the two training tracks, and beyond that is Oklahoma, a bigger training plant with a steeplechase course in the infield. The Woodward string is quartered in the Oklahoma sector and Gallant Fox was a common sight to the morning railbirds and the veteran clockers watching the Oklahoma workouts.

These training stables are like gypsy villages, all trees, horses, dogs and men, with fires out in front and the wash hanging on the line. The fire is to supply the hot water with which the thoroughbreds are sponged off after the morning workouts. Young boys lead horses slowly around a row of shade trees. Old men sit in chairs and smoke. Pans are hung up on the stable fronts, racing colors painted on some of the tinware.

The veterinarians usually make their calls in the morning. The trainer gives orders to the stable foreman. The stable foreman delivers warm lectures to the stable boys. A vegetable truck comes through regularly with fresh cut clover and carrots.

The shady little streets are all named and the stables are numbered. Brushing with hasty steps the dews away, an early riser wandered into Horse Haven, strolled up Morvich Place and paused before stable No. 28. Talking to a bulky police dog was a small but familiar figure, none other than old man Callahan, who is no longer a rider but a dignified trainer.

Private Life.

This seemed like a good opportunity to peer into the private life of a thoroughbred. Old man Callahan was put on the witness stand and the examination went as follows:

Q.—At what hour in the morning do they disturb the slumbers of a haughty thoroughbred, and for what purpose?

A.—You don't have to wake them. They're usually standing at attention when the stable foreman and the boys get around, which is about 4 o'clock or a little later. The first thing you do is feed them. Unless the horse is on a diet, it's a light breakfast, usually a couple of quarts of oats.

Q.—What's next?

A.—Next the stalls are cleaned. After that you give the breakfast time to settle and along about 6 o'clock, later in some stables, you take out the first set to the track. Generally that means the gallopers. That's light work. In the second set you would take out the horses you want to breeze or work a real time trial.

Cooling Out.

Q.—How long do you keep them out?

A.—About an hour to a set. That means about forty minutes on the track. The rest is taken up going and coming and fixing up the blankets and so on.

Q.—What comes after the workout?

A.—The cooling out. Takes about an hour for each set, more or less. Each horse is stripped and sponged off with warm water. Then it's blanketed and joins the walking parade around the trees or the circle in front of the stables. After a short bit you can set out pails of water and let them have a sip as they go by, not too much at a time in the early stages.

Q.—When are they groomed?

A.—Oh, I forgot that. They are groomed in their stalls after breakfast. Takes two men to do it, or one man and a boy, usually. The man grooms and the boy holds the horse and keeps off the flies with a swipe. That's in rich stables. Where they can't afford to have many hands, they cross-tie the horse and one man grooms him.

Receiving Visits.

Q.—After a horse has cooled out, where is he put?

A.—Back in the stall. That would be around 8 or 9 o'clock, depending upon how early he went out.

Q.—What's the next order of business?

A.—Stable bandaging. On some horses you bandage all four legs. Some don't need bandaging at all. You may have some cuts to dress, some rubbing to be done and some hoofs to pack.

Q.—And after that?

A.—Well, the veterinarians come along about this time and if you have any sick ones they are looked over and treatments are ordered or prescriptions written out.

Q.—Doesn't that put you along toward lunch time?

A.—Not quite. The horses have a couple of hours of just munching hay in their stalls. Then you give them lunch at noon. Oats and carrots make a good feed. Of course, some animals have special foods—wet mashes, warm mashes, dry mashes and so on.

Ease and Affluence.

Q.—After lunch what happens?

A.—Nothing. Just a restful afternoon unless a horse is running in a race. In that case, he wouldn't have had the morning workout. You might blow him out in the morning. That is, give him just a short dash to clear his lungs. But if he isn't in a race, he's in his stall all afternoon. Some trainers still have a 4 o'clock walk for their strings, but not many.

Q.—Dinner at what time?

A.—Not later than 5 o'clock. Then a bit of fresh-cut clover for dessert, and that winds up a race horse's day.

Q.—And so to bed?

A.—And so to bed.

TROEH BREAKS 200 TO WIN SHOOT TITLE

Finishes With Perfect Score in Class AA Competition at Dayton.

JENKINS ALSO TRIUMPHS

Captures Class A Championship After Shoot-Off With Callwell—B Crown to Montague.

DAYTON, Ohio, Aug. 18 (AP).—Frank M. Troeh of Portland, Ore., won the Class A A championship of the thirty-first grand American handicap trap shoot tournament at Vandalia Field, near here, today. He had a perfect score of 200.

More than 600 gunners took part in the class events, all of which called for 200 targets.

The Class A shoot ended in a tie between Ralph Jenkins, Orleans, Ind., and D. W. Callwell, Amarillo, Texas, who had scores of 196. Three shoot-offs at twenty-five targets were required before Jenkins took the title.

B. L. Montague, Camden Point, Mo., won the Class B title after a three-way shoot-off with M. C. Roberts, Littletown, Conn., and William Drake, Chicago, who tied him at 195 in the original shoot. Roberts was second in the shoot-off and Drake third.

Class C honors went to W. J. Turrin, Hammond, Ind., with 190. Roy Fimmel, Akron, Ohio, shot 192 to take the Class D title, while Nelson Jones, Newark, Ohio, was high in Class E with 188.

Tomorrow, amateur championships for both men and women will be decided. The women's junior and sub-junior championships also are on the program. The Grand American Handicap, with a guaranteed purse of $10,000 and a $250 gold medal, will be held on Friday.

Hoppe and Ponzi Divide.

Willie Hoppe, playing for 60 points to 45 for Ponzi, broke even in the first two blocks of their three-cushion match at the Strand Billiard Academy yesterday. Ponzi won in the afternoon, 45—57, in 72 innings, making a high run of 5 to 9 for his rival. Hoppe won at night, 60—31, in 44 innings, running 10 twice.

Corkran's 75 Wins Medal.

Special to The New York Times.

MANCHESTER, Vt., Aug. 18.—B. Warren Corkran of Baltimore won the medal in the annual championship tournament of the Green Mountain Boys at Ekwanok Country Club today with a card of 75.

SARATOGA FEATURE ANNEXED BY SYDKA

Elliott Entry Closes Strongly to Defeat Burgoo With Joanne E. Third.

VALENCIENNES ALSO WINS

Leads Sweep Out by Length and Half—Spinach Scores Easily in Cliff Haven Purse.

By BRYAN FIELD.

Special to The New York Times.

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Aug. 18.—John Speed Elliott's Sydka was the winner by a close margin of the Consolation Stakes today, feature for 2-year-olds which had been named for either of the United States, Spinaway, Grand Union or Hopeful Stakes.

The value of the purse was $2,430, and Sydka had to do her best at the end of the five and a half furlongs to outlast E. R. Bradley's Burgoo, a colt that has shown some flashes of speed in several races. Joanne E. was a distant third.

A large number of the visitors who came here for the Travers evidently remained over for more racing, as the turnout was the largest for a Monday since the beginning of the meeting, which started its third week today. Form was none too true, for only two favorites scored. Sydka's courageous finish helped the backers of the favorites, as she was held at 17-to-10 and was the public choice. Spinach was the other favorite to triumph.

Eleven came out for the Consolation, having its tenth running, and the break was smooth, with all away at an even start.

Joanne E. Sets Early Pace.

Joanne E. had the most early foot, but Sydka and Burgoo were close alongside and never let Joanne E. get very far away. On the bend both Sydka and Burgoo went past Joanne E. and the battle developed between them.

A keen duel developed in the stretch run, both having a chance at victory until the last hundred yards, when Jockey Renick got another notch out of Sydka to make the victory safe. The time was 1:06 3-5.

Mrs. John D. Hertz, who scored with Risque in the Spinaway last Saturday, again saw her silks in front in the fourth race, and again it was a filly which landed the purse. Valenciennes, a Stefan the Great filly, but a game one nevertheless, won from Sweep Out, heavily backed at 9 to 10, in the Water Blossom Handicap.

A great stretch run, after a slow beginning, sent Valenciennes past all the others so fast that it made them look slow by comparison. The margin of victory was a length and a half, and Sweep Out beat Erin, with Earl Sande up, by two lengths for the place. Valenciennes paid 9 to 2 and finished the seven furlongs in 1:24 4-5.

William Ziegler Jr., who has watched his Sir Martin colt Spinach trailing the best of the 3-year-olds all season, finally dropped him down a peg or two and Spinach came home first in most impressive fashion.

Mild Fails to Place.

The race was the Cliff Haven Purse and Spinach ran a 1:38 mile to easily beat Fortunate Youth. The latter finished a short distance ahead of Buckeye Poet, while Mild, a winner last week and one of the choices, was far back after being the early leader.

Spinach has been making pace for his stable-mate, Gone Away, against such horses as Questionnaire and Whichone, but he made short shift of the competition today. Close back of the pace, he moved up when ready and drew off, to win easily.

John Hay Whitney, son of Mrs. Payne Whitney, who owns the Greentree Stable, was present at the races today with Miss M. E. Altemus, his fiancée. They came particularly to witness the running of the Archdale Steeplechase, in which the Greentree Stable had Light Touch and Reason Why entered.

In addition, Miss Altemus's silks were carried by Coq Gris, the favorite. Notwithstanding hard runs by all three, the winner was Madiola, owned by Mrs. F. Ambrose Clark. Light Touch finished second and Reason Why third, while Coq Gris was last of those that finished.

Scratched—Tail Spin, Mucker, Swatter.

Zeal broke very slowly, but worked his way up, and, closing with a rush in the stretch, won going away. He fought his way through between Moonstruck and Chatover in the last furlong. Tony Joe, outrun for six furlongs, moved up fast on the outside and closed gamely. He was next best. Moonstruck slipped through on the inside and stood a long drive gamely. Chatover had plenty of early speed, but weakened fast. Montferrat ran well for six furlongs. Juggler was on the outside all the way.

*Lost rider. †Ran out. ‡Fell.

Madiola was much the best. She was rated off the early pace and, fencing well, moved up very fast in the last half mile to take the lead and win galloping. Light Touch moved up with a good burst of speed but stopped badly after clearing the last fence. Reason Why trailed far back but easily disposed of Banner Day for third money. The latter was very rank all during the running and finally stopped to a walk. Coq Gris lacked speed and fenced poorly. Contrition had speed for a turn and a half of the field but lost his rider at the sixteenth jump.

Scratched—Phantom Cloud, Jimmy Jingle, Morroll.

Sydka, away fast, was rushed to the front, raced Joanne E. into submission and then withstood the determined challenge of Burgoo. The latter, going in much improved form, closed with a great rush. Joanne E. broke fast, showed good speed and held on gamely. Brandon Dare, away slowly as usual, closed with a good rush. Alpine Girl closed a big gap. Transformation had no mishap. Muff was outrun. Miss Grace ran a poor race.

Scratched—Khara.

Valenciennes broke slowly and was badly outrun for the first half mile, but came around the field in the stretch, closed with a rush and won going away. Sweep Out was rated along all the way and failed to open her customary wide lead in the early part. Erin was well ridden, kept well up and had no mishap. Lady Capulet followed the fast early pace all the way and held on gamely. My Sis was knocked out of it by Erin.

Owners—1, Mrs. J. D. Hertz; 2, W. R. Coe; 3, Wheatley Stable; 4, W. H. Lipscomb; 5, W. F. Scheid.

Scratched—Aldershot and Sun Falcon.

Spinach was much the best. He was allowed to gallop back of the early pace to the far turn, where he took command, to win galloping. Fortunate Youth was well up from the start and ran a good, game race. Buckeye Poet moved up fast on the inside in the stretch and held on well. Bud Broom was pinched back at the far turn and never recovered. Martis could not keep up.

Scratched—Knowlton, All Hail, Zaidee, Sir Ashley.

Great Gun broke fast, raced with Opponent and stood a long drive gamely to win. Opponent broke running, showed excellent speed and held on gamely. Dark Magnet closed a big gap. Greatorex was well up and ran a good race. Anchors Aweigh broke slowly, trailed far back early and appears to be an overrated colt. John F. tired.

JOHN P. GRIER COLT IS SOLD FOR $18,000

Special to The New York Times.

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Aug. 18.—The largest consignment of yearlings since the beginning of the sales this month was marketed tonight when sixty head passed under the hammer. The sum of $168,100 was realized, most of it going to Arthur B. Hancock, who was the largest consignor of the twelve who had yearlings brought into the ring. In Hancock's previous sale last week, when he marketed the bulk of his yearlings, $345,000 was realized.

J. P. Jones, a trainer of horses, paid the highest price of the night when he bid $18,000 for one of Hancock's colts. The colt is by John P. Grier out of Lucrative, an imported mare, and is a half-brother to Kentucky Cardinal, the great racer of some years ago.

He has a small white spot on his inside right hind heel. Engaged for the various futurities and the national stallion stakes, the youngster also has an ambitious program in Kentucky, as he is named for the Kentucky Jockey Club Stakes and the Latonia championship.

Jones was the most important buyer of the night, but he did not disclose for whom he was acting. The second highest price, $15,000 also was paid by him, and again it was a John P. Grier colt which excited his interest. This youngster, out of Mill Maid, is a brother of The Spare, one of the smartest fillies last year and a fast one this year.

J. R. Macomber, owner of Petee-Wrack, winner of the Travers here in 1928, was the successful bidder on a third John P. Grier colt. This youngster, a chestnut out of Noontime and brought $10,700. Mr. Macomber's purchase is a half brother to Rest Hour and is of the family of The Nut, Whisk Broom II and other great racers. This yearling also was sold by Hancock.

James Fitzsimmons, who trains for the Wheatley stable, the Belair Stud and others, was the successful bidder on another of Hancock's John P. Griers, which was knocked down for $9,600.

CHICAGO CAPTURES LAKE BLUFF PURSE

Grabner's 7-Year-Old Defeats Golden Prince, Favorite, by Nose at Hawthorne.

CHICAGO, Aug. 18 (AP).—F. M. Grabner's 7-year-old Chicago, showing much-improved form, was returned the winner in a very close finish of the Lake Bluff Purse, the feature number at Hawthorne today. Golden Prince, from A. Barttelstein's stable, was next to pass under the wire, with Black Diamond, from W. J. Salmon's string, third.

Rated close up to the leaders until straightened out in the stretch run, Chicago responded to hard urging and, in a stirring head-and-head drive through the entire stretch, lasted to win by a nose.

Increase In Electric Customers

Year by year the demand for electric light and power service increases. The number of customers with electric service has multiplied over 12 times in the past 22 years, having increased from around 1,946,978 in 1907 to a present total of more than 24,000,000.

For individuals and institutions seeking liberal yield with stability of earning power, the senior securities of ably-managed electric light and power companies are a desirable type of investment.

FINANCIAL MARKETS

Stocks Generally Go Lower, on Decline in Wheat, Corn and Cotton.

Yesterday's stock market appeared to be mostly under the influence of a renewed decline in wheat, corn and cotton. The character of its response to these influences showed the state of bewilderment into which the speculative mind has fallen. The day's decline of 2½ cents per bushel in corn was that market's plain response to further news of copious rains, which naturally favored the numerous fields where destruction had not been irreparable. As for the day's 2½-cent fall in wheat, that resulted from better harvest results in the Northwest than had been anticipated, and the general attitude toward an abundant wheat crop has been considerably altered since the corn shortage came into view. But the stock market appeared to have pinned such faith as it possessed to a rise in the price of both cereals, as a result of drought devastation, and it declined along with the day's grain trade news.

Probably the very great weakness of the cotton market had its influence. The spot price fell yesterday more rapidly than on any other day but one this year, to a figure which was reached on only one day of the 1921 "deflation crisis"; the rains which have saved part of the corn crop having been even more beneficial in the cotton fields. All this merely illustrates the extent to which the grain or cotton speculator has convinced himself that harvest losses are his only hope, while the Stock Exchange speculator is watching prices to the exclusion of every other consideration.

This attitude has become abnormal; it has taken almost morbid shape, and its much longer continuance seems impossible. In all of these markets a volume of speculation for the decline has been created, which now indicates the rolling ball of pessimistic sentiment far more than any sober measurement of intrinsic values. A protracted movement of so highly imaginative a character is as surely bound to overreach itself as was the delirious speculation for the rise in stocks last year. The position is plainly one in which the usual buyers are standing aloof, regardless of what may be their actual judgment of values, because they do not wish to lose a possible better bargain, created by the accumulating activities of the speculators. There were holders of stocks who for the same reason would not sell last August, despite their conviction that prices were fantastic; with what results, we know.

Prices on the Stock Exchange moved as a rule irregularly downward; total transactions, however, making yesterday one of the half-dozen smallest full days of the year. Declines ran mostly only to 2 or 3 points, there were rather numerous late recoveries and a few stocks rose somewhat emphatically. In the money market, there were signs of slightly greater firmness, shown in the bid rate, but the bond market showed increasing strength. Sterling held steady, but French exchange went to the lowest quotation in five weeks. Among the incidents of the day was a sharp recovery in silver bullion, whose advance of more than a halfpenny per ounce brought it 1⅛ pence above the year's low price, touched in June.

CHANGES ON THE EXCHANGE

Permanent Securities Admitted in Place of Temporary Issues.

Admitted to the List.

WESTERN UNION TELEGRAPH COMPANY—Permanent thirty-year 5 per cent gold bonds, due March 1, 1960.
PERE MARQUETTE RAILWAY COMPANY—Permanent first mortgage 4½ per cent gold bonds, series C, due March 1, 1980.

Stricken From the List.

AMERICAN MACHINE AND FOUNDRY COMPANY—Common stock, old.

To Be Stricken From the List Aug. 25.

AMERICAN SOLVENTS AND CHEMICAL CORPORATION—Temporary certificates for common stock and for $3 cumulative convertible preference stock.
WESTERN UNION TELEGRAPH COMPANY—Temporary thirty-year 5 per cent gold bonds, due March 1, 1960.
PERE MARQUETTE RAILWAY COMPANY—Temporary first mortgage 4½ per cent gold bonds, series C, due March 1, 1980.

Brokerage Houses Merged.

The business of Woodbury, Lounsbery & Co. has been acquired by Morris & Smith, members of the New York Stock Exchange, and S. D. Lounsbery and W. E. Bedell, who were partners in the acquired company, have become associated with Morris & Smith. Morris & Smith have moved to the old offices of Woodbury, Lounsbery & Co. at 52 Broadway and also have taken their uptown offices at 60 East Forty-second Street.

Two More Gary Banks Close.

GARY, Ind., Aug. 18 (AP). — The Mid-City State Bank and its branch, the Fifth Avenue Bank, were closed today. The action was taken voluntarily by directors to liquidate. They announced no loss was expected. Thomas D. Barr, Deputy State Bank Commissioner, said general hard times and "too much paper" caused the closings. A third Gary bank, the American State, closed last week following the suicide of its president.

634 on Petition for 3-Day Holiday.

The petition asking that the New York Stock Exchange be closed on the Saturday before Labor Day, which would mean a three-day shutdown, has been signed by 634 members of the Exchange.

TOPICS IN WALL STREET.

News, Comment and Incident, On the Stock Exchange and In the Financial Markets.

Wall Street assumed an attitude of studied indifference toward the stock market yesterday. The turnover on the Stock Exchange was 1,413,610 shares. Price movements were irregular and not particularly illuminating. Some of the professional traders, recently classified as "incorrigible bears," attempted to bring about a reaction, but met little success except in one or two issues. Fox Film A, once a target for short sellers, was depressed sharply, but recovered part of its loss before the close of the market. Other stocks were heavy at times, notably United States Realty, Auburn Auto and Columbia Graphophone, but all of them had retraced some of the lost ground when trading ended. The most active of the market leaders moved within a narrow range and the net changes, if any, were unimportant.

Amusements Shares Under Pressure.

A drive on the amusement issues was launched yesterday with moderately successful results. The attack centred on such issues as Radio, Fox Film and Columbia Graphophone, which sold off sharply on a good-sized turnover. Some mystery surrounded the motive, since the amusement companies now are entering upon their business season and an improvement in business might normally be expected. Publication of the semi-annual statement of earnings of the Fox Film Corporation shortly before the Stock Exchange closed, coupled with an official statement that no reduction in the company's dividend rate was contemplated, resulted in a sharp rally in that issue.

Stutz Corner Recalled.

Stutz Motors dropped to a new low for all time yesterday when it closed at 1⅝ on the New York Curb Exchange. This low quotation recalled to Wall Street the famous Stutz corner of 1920 when Allan Ryan and others ran this stock from a low of 70 to an all-time high record of 724 in one of the most sensational operations in market history. The price of the stock has declined steadily since that time, and its high for the current year is 4⅝.

Acceptance Volume Turns Up.

An increase of $44,864,000 in the outstanding volume of bankers' acceptances during July marks the seasonal turning point in bill volume. From now until the end of the year it is to be expected that there will be a steady rise until the peak is reached at the year end. It is regarded as unlikely that the volume will achieve its customary "new high record" this year. Bankers think the drop of 14 per cent or so in the value of commodities, with the resultant decline in the dollar value of the bills needed to finance business deals, will militate against an expansion of bill volume beyond last year's high point of $1,732,436,000, reached at the close of December. The total at the end of last month was $1,349,695,000, and it is considered unlikely that the seasonal expansion in the next few months will carry it much above $1,650,000,000.

Taking Business From London.

The interesting feature of last month's rise in the volume of dollar acceptances is the fact that it was entirely embraced in the figures for bills drawn to finance goods stored abroad or shipped between foreign countries. This class of bill business, which originates entirely outside this country, showed a gain of $53,000,000 during the month. It was accepted by bankers as a further indication of the world-wide importance that the American bill market has acquired. For some time New York has been able to offer cheaper bill rates than London or European centres. As a result, business which otherwise would have gone to the British bill market has come here. A less satisfactory implication attached to the showing is the apparent failure of domestic acceptance business to increase in July. Between the increase of $53,000,000 in bills financing foreign transactions and the net rise in total volume of $44,000,000, there is a difference of $9,000,000 which represented the decline in acceptance business of domestic origin.

Commission Scores Again.

Advices from Washington yesterday that the proponents of the Great Northern-Northern Pacific merger oppose another hearing on this project at this time served to show how the Interstate Commerce Commission and the railroads are working more closely together than ever before on consolidation. That the Northern merger's backers were prepared to accept the commission's requirement that they dispose of the Burlington, except for that portion required for an entrance of the two trunk lines into Chicago, was disclosed soon after the commission's decision was announced. Subsequent events confirmed the disclosure, and yesterday the Northern roads stated formally that they wanted more time in which to draft a supplemental application in compliance with the commission's report.

A Matter of Tempo.

One thing that is repeatedly confusing to traders is the sudden change in stock market tempo from day to day. Compared with last week's active gyrations, attended by brisk spurts and heavy volume of trading in principal shares, yesterday's market was dull and disappointing. Traders who have been praying for a return of activity, regardless of which way stocks move, confess themselves mystified by the sudden drying up of both offer and demand.

Selling the Oil Stocks.

Reports from Tulsa that an independent operator who had just completed two gusher wells in the Oklahoma City pool had refused to prorate his production in accordance with the curtailment agreement in that field was believed to be responsible for some selling of the oil securities yesterday. It view of the fact that the potential output of this pool is estimated at more than a million barrels daily, a breaking up of the proration agreement now in effect there would have a serious effect on the oil industry. Although the output of this field is restricted to about 16 2-3 per cent of the potential, at which level it has been producing for several months, this comparatively small amount of production has been a factor in crude prices, owing to the high quality of the oil.

Scramble for High-Grade Bonds.

As a result of insatiable demand for the highest grade railroad, public utility and municipal bonds prices continue to mount rapidly. Few new issues are being brought out, so that the market is on a strictly trading basis. With most of the buying attention centring in the leading issues second grade bonds have dropped far behind, so much so that the spread between the two groups is the widest in recent years. In view of the fact that not much new financing is expected until after Labor Day it is likely that the present trend will continue in the interim. Institutional buying still continues to be the backbone of the demand for bonds.

MONEY.

Monday, Aug. 18, 1930.

Despite the turnover of funds incident to payment for the $120,000,000 issue of treasury bills, the money market was easy yesterday. The official call rate continued at 2½ per cent, but funds were plentiful outside at 2 per cent.

North American Trust Shares
*The Largest Fixed Investment Trust

IN your own home, you can pick up the telephone and put through a call to New York or San Francisco in less time than your ancestors could address an envelope with a quill pen. That is the result of Alexander Graham Bell's first "hello" across a few yards of wire to Thomas A. Watson, 55 years ago.

You not only can, but you do use the telephone—every day, and frequently many times a day. Where-ever you live, the chances are you talk over a telephone belonging to the Bell or some other system affiliated with the American Telephone and Telegraph Company.

Here is a profitable field for the investor. You can enter it—for a small investment—by purchasing North American Trust Shares which give you part ownership in the common stock of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and of 27 other great corporations—utilities, industrials, oils, railroads.

Points About N. A. T. S.
1—Each NORTH AMERICAN TRUST SHARE represents an investment in the common stocks of 28 outstanding corporations, leaders in their respective fields.
2—An investment in NORTH AMERICAN TRUST SHARES is as sound as American industry itself. The products and services of the companies, the common stocks of which underlie this trust, are directly related to every phase of human life.
3—The underlying stocks, all of which are listed on the New York Stock Exchange, are deposited with the Guaranty Trust Company of New York, Trustee. The trustee issues 2,000 N. A. T. S. upon the deposit of 4 shares each of the underlying stocks together with applicable reserve fund and accumulations.
4—The 28 underlying companies have an average unbroken dividend record of 33 years, combined total assets of more than 24 billion dollars and combined surplus and reserves of over 6.7 billion dollars.
5—N. A. T. S. are readily marketable. In addition to the established market maintained at ½ point below the asked price the holder of the smallest denomination of shares may liquidate through the trustee without penalty. The holder of 500 shares or any multiple thereof may convert through the trustee into the underlying stocks.
6—Each certificate carries coupons calling for semi-annual disbursement of all distributions received by the trustee on the deposited stocks. On June 30, 1930, a semi-annual income and capital distribution of $1.34 per share was made.
7—N. A. T. S. holders are offered rights semi-annually permitting reinvestment of all return in excess of cash dividends on deposited stocks at a discount from the asked price. This program results in retention of appreciation and maintenance of original diversification.
8—N. A. T. S. are available in denominations ranging from 10 shares to 10,000 shares. Thus an investment in the shares of 28 leading corporations can be made for less than $100.
9—Current price for N. A. T. S. per share is about
$8.25

Duquesne Gas Corporation

Valuable Properties

This Corporation owns 155 gas wells situated in the great natural gas fields of Pennsylvania and West Virginia. Gas rights are controlled through lease, or owned in fee, in over 40,000 acres of land located in the densely populated and highly industrialized section of the country around Pittsburgh.

In the opinion of many industrialists and engineers, our country is entering upon a "natural gas age." Send for circular describing the activities of this Corporation.

BOND PRICES RISE, LED BY RAIL ISSUES

Large Section of List on the New York Stock Exchange Reaches Year's High Marks.

UTILITIES IN GOOD DEMAND

Southern Pacific 4½s of 1968 Cross Par for First Time—Foreign Loans Are Dull.

A brisk demand yesterday for railroad bonds and, to a lesser degree, for public utility issues, carried an important section of the bond list on the Stock Exchange into new high ground for the year. Large-scale buying developed in several railroad issues. Southern Pacific 4½s of 1968 led the market, crossing par for the first time this year in voluminous transactions. Pennsylvania debenture 4½s of 1970 were also popular, as were Delaware & Hudson refunding 4s of 1943, Nickel Plate 4½s C, due 1978; New Haven refunding 4½s, due 1967; Northern Pacific 4½s, due 2047; Louisville & Nashville 4½s, due 2003, and Louisville & Arkansas 5s A, due 1969.

In the public utility group the principal gains were scored by Consolidated Gas 5½s, due 1945; Hudson & Manhattan adjusted income 5s, due 1957; Brooklyn Manhattan Transit sinking fund 6s, due 1968, and Public Service Electric and Gas 4½s, due 1970.

Amusement issues were weaker, including General Theatres 6s, due 1940, and Warner Brothers Pictures convertible 6s, due 1939, but Paramount Famous Lasky 6s of 1947 gained. General Motors Acceptance 6s of 1937 and Wheeling Steel 4½s B of 1953 were among the stronger issues.

Dullness prevailed in the foreign list, although Antioquia 7s, Series B; Chile Mortgage Bank 6s of 1961, Colombia 6s of October, 1961, and United States of Brazil 6½s of 1926-57 were strong. United States Government issues were mixed, with Treasury 4s weaker and Liberty bonds ruling slightly higher.

ADVISE ON FLORIDA BONDS.

Bankers Form Association to Give Data on Municipal Issues.

In an effort to disseminate accurate information about securities of municipalities in Florida, a group of investment banking houses located chiefly in the Middle West has formed the Municipal Securities Association.

Stranahan, Harris & Oatis, Inc., members of this organization, have issued a circular to holders of such securities, advising them against the sale of their holdings at a sacrifice. The circular states in part:

"We have been informed that organizations have been formed, or are about to be, for the purpose of acquiring the better Florida bonds at tremendous discounts. At least one city has proposed that it retire from its funds all the bonds it can secure at 25 cents on the dollar.

"Holders of Florida bonds should calmly and slowly acquire all of the information they can from the most reliable sources and act only in the light of full knowledge. Those who importune you to sell your holdings at sacrifice prices are to be regarded with suspicion, a suspicion they are acting more in their interest than in your own."

HAGUE ASKS SUPPORT FOR STATE BOND ISSUE

Letter to Other Mayors Declares It Would Save $1,604,479 Taxes for Hudson County Cities.

Mayor Frank Hague of Jersey City in a letter made public yesterday appealed to all Mayors and municipal financial officers of Hudson County to support the proposed $100,000,000 State bond issue to finance public improvements, which will be subjected to a popular referendum on Nov. 4. Pointing out that the bond issue was a non-partisan proposal, having been endorsed by both parties, Mayor Hague explained that his sole intent in sending the letter was to inform the voters of the merits of the plan. He wrote that Jersey City had been compelled to bear "an excessive burden of State taxation" in recent years and that the bond issue would decrease taxes. "Through the adoption of the bond plan," the letter continued, "Jersey City will receive a refund from the State of $504,151.79 and save an additional $329,601.15 by the suspension of the State institutional tax, or a total saving of $883,752.94."

Among the other municipalities which would profit by the proposed bond flotation, according to the letter, are Bayonne, which would gain $217,011.42; Hoboken, $120,273.31; Kearny, $116,247.32; Union City, $91,314.67, and West New York, $65,579.21.

"The total relief for Hudson County municipalities," Mayor Hague concluded, "will amount to $1,604,479.21, while the grand total for the entire State reaches the enormous sum of $8,268,867.97."

Supplementing this appeal was an endorsement of the bond issue proposal by the New Jersey League of Municipalities. In a statement sent out by the league yesterday local Mayors and Town Boards were told that the measure, if approved, would reduce the local tax rates almost 13 points.

MUNICIPAL LOANS.

Offerings of New Bond Issues to Investment Bankers Announced.

Province of New Brunswick.

The Province of New Brunswick has issued a call for sealed tenders, to be opened on Aug. 25, on a new issue of $2,650,000 4¾ per cent bonds, due on Sept. 1, 1955. The issue will consist of $2,000,000 road, $350,000 school and $300,000 hospital bonds. On April 11 last the Province awarded an issue of $4,250,000 4¾s at 97.35, equivalent to a 4.94 per cent basis.

State of Maine.

The State of Maine plans to sell on Aug. 26 a new issue of $1,500,000 4 per cent highway and bridge bonds, maturing serially from 1936 to 1950. At the same time bids will be opened on an issue of $700,000 4 per cent Waldo-Hancock bridge bonds, due from 1951 to 1960.

Chicago Sanitary District.

A new issue of $1,395,000 Chicago (Ill.) Sanitary District sewer bonds will be offered to bidders on Aug. 21, according to word received here yesterday. On June 26 the commissioners of the district awarded an issue of $6,000,000 4½ per cent sewer bonds, due serially in from one to twenty years, at 98.25. This was equivalent to a 4.73 per cent basis.

York, Pa.

York (Pa.) school district will be in the market on Sept. 11 with a new issue of $650,000 4 per cent bonds. The issue will mature serially on Oct. 1, 1931 to 1960.

Chicopee, Mass.

Salomon Brothers & Hutzler have obtained the award of a new issue of $200,000 city of Chicopee (Mass.) tax anticipation notes at a discount of 2.31 per cent.

Denver, Col.

Interest in the municipal bond market today will centre in the award of a new issue of $13,540,000 city and county of Denver (Col.) 4¼ per cent water refunding bonds, announcement of which was made several weeks ago. The proceeds of this financing will be used to retire an issue of similar size of 4½ per cent bonds.

Loan for Jersey Central.

The Central Railroad Company of New Jersey sold yesterday an issue of $1,166,000 4½ per cent equipment trust certificates to the International Manhattan Company, Inc., and R. W. Pressprich & Co., who bid jointly. There were several other bidders. The award was made subject to the approval of the Interstate Commerce Comission.

ASKS FOR REHEARING ON GREAT NORTHERN

Illinois Commerce Commission Seeks Further Argument on Union With Northern Pacific.

RAILWAY OPPOSES MOVE

New Parent Company, in Reply, Contends All Interests Have Been Heard Fully.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—Following similar action by various State railroad bodies, the Illinois Commerce Commission today petitioned the Interstate Commerce Commission to reopen for hearing and argument the case of the acquisition of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific Railroads by the newly formed parent company, the Great Northern Pacific Railway Company. Simultaneously the Great Northern Pacific Company issued a reply to the previous petitions in which it declared that ample opportunity had been given for the full expression of opinion contrary to the acquisition.

Previously petitions had been filed by the Railroad and Warehouse Commission of Minnesota, the Board of Railroad Commissioners of North Dakota, the Department of Public Works of Washington, the Board of Railroad Commissioners of Montana, the Board of Railroad Commissioners of Iowa, the Public Utilities Commission of Idaho, the Auburn Chamber of Commerce of Auburn, Wash., the Board of Railroad Commissioners of South Dakota and the Nebraska State Railway Commission.

All petitioners adopted the original arguments of the Railroad and Warehouse Commission of Minnesota in which it was contended that interested parties had not been afforded an opportunity to present their interests, and that the acquisition would work an injustice to railroad employes.

The commission has given its conditional approval of the proposed acquisition of control of two roads, subject to certain requirements to be fulfilled by the applicant in a plan to be submitted to the commission at a later time. One of the conditions is that the two roads divest themselves of control of the Burlington, which was intended by the commission to remain as an independent system in its general consolidation plan.

The Great Northern Pacific Company in its reply, stated that to reopen the case for further argument at this time would be premature action since no final order has been made by the commission. It was further contended in the reply that contrary to declarations in the petitions that interested parties had not been sufficiently heard, ample opportunity for testimony against the acquisition had been given and that any further evidence would only be cumulative.

The applicant denied allegations that the public was not sufficiently notified in advance of the proposition under consideration and that evidence as to public sentiment favorable to the proposed unification was submitted largely by paid agents of the applicants. The Great Northern Pacific Company declared that, on the contrary, due and ample notice had been given of the applications and hearings to public officials in all of the States where any of the applicants operate; that prior to the hearings vigorous efforts were made by opponents of the applicants' proposals to arouse, organize and give expression to any opposition to the plan, and that any and all parties desiring to appear in opposition to the proposal had had full opportunity to be heard.

$140,000 Gold Here From Brazil.

A shipment of $140,000 in gold sovereigns was received yesterday by the Chemical Bank and Trust Company from a correspondent in Rio de Janeiro. The shipment, which arrived on the American Legion, is the latest of a series from Brazil to various banks here which has aggregated approximately $66,000,000 since Jan. 1.

High-Speed Tickers for Curb Start in Metropolitan Area

The new ticker for transmitting the transactions of the New York Curb Exchange was put in operation in the metropolitan area yesterday. It is reported to be capable of handling transactions totaling 3,000,000 to 5,000,000 shares a day without undue loss of time. It has a capacity of 300 to 350 symbols a minute.

The Curb has about 3,000 tickers in operation throughout the country, of which about 2,000 are in the metropolitan area. Replacements are being made rapidly in the other cities.

HOLDINGS ARE VALUED AT NEARLY TWICE COST

Hulswit Reports American Commonwealths' Investments in Public Utilities.

In a letter to stockholders of the American Commonwealths Power Company Frank T. Hulswit, president, reports that additional investments in the voting stocks of other public utility companies and in companies controlling through stock ownership important public utility companies have increased to $5,899,839 the total investment at cost as of Aug. 7. The indicated market value of the securities on that date was $10,979,704, an excess of about $5,100,000 in market value over cost.

"This has not been reflected in any manner in either the earnings statement or balance sheet of your corporation," Mr. Hulswit says, "inasmuch as the securities are carried in the fund at their original cost."

The major holdings of utility securities in the company's revolving fund continue to be, in order of importance of investment, the following:

United Light and Power Company, Class B common stock; Eastern Gas and Fuel Associates, common stock; American Superpower Corporation, common stock; Cities Service Company, common stock; Central Public Service Corporation, Class A stock; Long Island Lighting Company, common stock; United Gas Corporation, common stock.

These are followed by investments in:

Cities Service Company, convertible debentures; Massachusetts Gas Companies, preferred stock; Brooklyn Union Gas Company, common stock; holdings in stocks in Bankers Trust Company of New York, Chase National Bank of New York, Irving Trust Company of New York and Northwest Bancorporation of Minneapolis.

TO ACQUIRE GAS COMPANY.

Twin States Natural In Negotiation for Midland Natural.

Preliminary negotiations have been completed for acquisition of a controlling interest in the Midland Natural Gas Company by the Twin States Natural Gas Company, an independent concern, it was announced yesterday. Midland Natural Gas operates in Pennsylvania and West Virginia, owning 38,000 acres of gas-producing lands with 350 wells, producing 13,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily.

The deal will give the Twin States company control of 57,000 acres of natural gas lands in the States named and in Kentucky, containing more than 450 wells with a daily production exceeding 26,000,000 cubic feet. Financing is to be effected through the issuance of short-term debentures and additional Class A stock.

FREIGHT CAR ORDERS RISE.

MARKETS IN LONDON, PARIS AND BERLIN

FRENCH TRADING IS QUIET

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Aug. 18.—The stock market began the week with a firmer tendency in most sections, but there was renewed selling of industrials in the afternoon. Radio Corporation of America was adversely affected by the net income statement for the first half of 1930 showing a big fall in profits. In British funds some investment buying was reported, owing to improvement in the sterling dollar rate. The 3½ per cent conversion loan was better at £79 11-16 and the war loan was £103 15-16.

As was the case with most of the internationals, the two leading gramaphone stocks opened better, but by midday had slipped back. Columbia reacted to £2⅝ after £3 5-32 and His Master's Voice to £2 11-32 after £2 11-16. International Nickel was lower at $20¾, but Hydroelectric rose to $34⅞. International Holding was $3⅜ and Brazilian Traction $35¼.

Quotations in the crude rubber market today fell ⅛d to 4¾d a pound, causing an easy tendency among shares. Shell Transport declined to 91s 10½d in oils on fears of the Shell Union dividend being cut. Shell Union at $16 was $2½ lower. Royal Dutch was down to £31¾, Burmah to 81s 3d and Canadian Eagle to 9s 9d.

Mining Trust was further down to 9s. Rhodesian coppers were dull, the feature being weakness of Roan Antelope to £1 1-16, due to selling from America.

In the absence of Treasury bill maturities credit was in short supply, with loans wanted. Borrowers paid 2 per cent, but the rate was 1¾ per cent at the close. The tendency in bill rates was easy, although business was quiet. Sterling exchange on New York opened firmer, but later reacted to Saturday's level of $4.87 1-16@$4.87 3-16.

Dull Session in Paris.

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PARIS, Aug. 18.—Call money for the mid-month settlements on the Bourse today fell to three-quarters of 1 per cent, but because of the lack of business during the past two weeks there was practically no demand for it. Even after the three-day closing there was insufficient dealing to keep the Bourse busy for more than a brief period at the opening.

Royal Dutch Oil suffered a sharp decline, closing at 3,900, against 4,025. This drop was said here to be due to unfavorable reports from the United States concerning the activities of one of its affiliated companies.

Rentes, contrary to the general stagnation, remained firm, closing as follows: The 3 per cents, 88.60; 1918 4s, 100.30; 1920 amortizable 5s, 135.85; 1928 5s, 103.80; 1920 6s, 103; 1927 amortizable 6s, 105.70.

Trend Upward in Berlin.

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

BERLIN, Aug. 18.—The tendency on the Boerse was firm throughout today's session and the market improved all along the line. The volume of trading was still moderate, but owing to the emptiness of the market the smallest buying orders were sufficient to send prices up. The demand for shipping stocks, Reichbank and Dyes Trust from abroad had a stimulating influence.

Electrical stocks, primarily Siemens & Halske and holding companies, the producers of artificial silks, rubber shares, Polyphonwerke and several of the mining issues also were well bought. The close was quiet and slightly below the highest quotations of the day. Call money was 3½ to 6½ per cent.

Standard Monopoly in Spain Denied by Teagle From London

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Aug. 18.—Walter C. Teagle, president of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, denied in London today that he or any other representative of his company was negotiating to obtain a Spanish oil monopoly.

"The story is made out of whole cloth," he said, "and the first I heard of it was the other day on the Continent, from where I have just come. Twenty-six Broadway has never heard of it either. This is not a mere diplomatic denial, but a real one."

$111,280,000 DROP IN FRENCH EXPORTS

FOOD SHIPMENTS ROSE

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PARIS, Aug. 18.—Both French exports and imports declined during the first seven months of this year, as compared with the same period last year, according to the figures issued today by the Customs Bureau. The decrease in imports is greater than that in exports, but the figures show that trading diminished for the period by 7,018,000,000 francs [about $280,720,000].

Exports from Jan. 1 to July 31 this year totaled 26,192,000,000 francs [about $1,047,680,000], as compared with 28,974,000,000 francs [about $1,158,960,000] for the same period in 1929. Imports totaled 30,970,000,000 francs [about $1,238,800,000], as compared with 35,207,000,000 francs [about $1,608,280,000] for the first seven months of 1929.

The classification shows there was an increase in the number of imported manufactured articles, but imports of raw materials and foodstuffs declined. The food-stuffs exported increased 179,000,000 francs, but the exports of manufactured articles and raw materials decreased.

In the figures for exports there is to be added the invisible exports, such as tourist expenditures, but all sources are agreed this sum is less important this year than in previous seasons.

The tax collections in France continue to show monthly increases. The returns for the first four months of the fiscal year, which began on April 1, show the revenue collected totals 15,261,000,000 francs [about $610,440,000], and the total for July alone is 5,549,000,000 francs. The direct taxes for July amount to 1,880,000,000 francs in the above total.

MEET TODAY ON B. M. T.

Transit Officials Seek to End Rift Over Price to Be Offered by City.

Conferences between the Transit Commission and the Board of Transportation on the price to be offered the Brooklyn Manhattan Transit for its rapid transit lines, sought for unification with the city's independent system, will be resumed this morning at the commission's offices at 270 Madison Avenue. William G. Fullen, chairman of the Transit Commission, who has been ill at his Summer home at Belle Harbor, Queens, will attend the meeting.

Another effort will be made by the conferees today to reconcile the widely divergent views of individual members of each board regarding the bases to be used for valuing the Brooklyn Manhattan Transit properties in order to set a maximum price limit for use in later negotiations with the company. Since the last conference members of the two boards have been restudying the numerous financial tables and engineering summaries prepared by experts during the past two or three months.

Other matur. obligations	increased	25,251,000
Notes in circulation	decreased	169,156,000
Other liabilities	increased	1,664,000

	1930.	1929.	1928.
Aug. 14	2,619,020	2,150,264	2,240,915
Aug. 7	2,619,025	2,148,318	2,231,939
July 23	2,618,728	2,085,323	2,148,807
July 15	2,618,731	2,036,240	2,127,251

The gold holdings of Jan. 7, 1929, at 2,729,345,000 marks, were the highest in the Reichsbank's history. The gold holdings of June 22, at 1,764,327,000 marks, were the smallest of 1929.

	1930.	1929.
August 14	4,229,137	4,291,743
August 7	4,398,293	4,472,149
July 31	4,637,559	4,725,526
July 23	3,965,868	4,091,054
July 15	4,186,916	4,347,461

The note circulation of Dec. 31, 1929, at 5,043,677,000 marks, was the largest since the reform of the currency in 1924. Prior to that date the high record was 4,930,020,000 marks, on Dec. 31, 1928. In gold values this was the largest since the war, although in terms of the old depreciated paper the circulation reached 496½ quintillions of marks, or 496½ billion billions, on Dec. 31, 1923.

The Reichsbank's rediscount rate remains at 4 per cent, to which it was reduced on June 20 from 4½ per cent, at which rate it had remained since May 19, when it was reduced from 5 per cent.

STEEL HEARING RESUMES.

Court Allows Three Executors to Substitute for Plaintiff.

Special to The New York Times.

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, Aug. 18.—Over objections of attorneys of Youngstown Sheet and Tube and Bethlehem Steel, the suit to permanently enjoin the merger of these companies was resumed this morning.

Newton D. Baker, for the defendants, contended that the cause of Myron C. Wick Jr., original plaintiff in the case, who died Aug. 8, could not be revived.

Judge David G. Jenkins conditionally allowed three of the four executors of Mr. Wick's estate to substitute as plaintiffs. They are Philip Wick, a brother; Mrs. Frances Todd Wick, the widow, and her brother, W. D. Todd of New Jersey.

F. H. Wood, attorney for Bethlehem Steel, attacked the Ernst & Ernst deductions for depreciation made by these accountants. He contended that they should have given Bethlehem credit for items of maintenance and repair which would have counterbalanced the depreciation credit given to Sheet and Tube.

King of Siam to Visit This Country.

TOKYO, Aug. 18 (AP).—A communication from the Japanese Minister at Bangkok to the Foreign Office here today said King Praja Dhipok of Siam was planning to visit Japan en route to the United States during the Spring of 1931. King Praja is going to America incognito for eye treatment. Queen Rambai Barñi will accompany him.

FEW IN SOUTH DAKOTA ARE UNEMPLOYED

Census Bureau Reports Only Half of 1 Per Cent of 690,755 Population Out of Work.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18 (AP).—South Dakota set a new low in the unemployment census thus far, with 0.5 per cent of the population "without a job, able to work and looking for a job."

Alabama, lowest in unemployment percentage of States previously reported, had 0.8 per cent.

Of South Dakota's sixty-nine counties, four reported no unemployed, five had less than one-tenth of 1 per cent unemployment, fifty-three had less than 1 per cent and only seven had one in a hundred out of work.

The highest county of all in unemployment was Walworth, with 8,778 inhabitants, and 104 of them, or 1.2 per cent, reporting "situation wanted."

South Dakota, population 690,755, unemployed 3,600, or 0.5 per cent.

New Hampshire, population 465,293, unemployed 8,493, or 1.8 per cent.

FOX FILM EARNINGS UP 40% FOR HALF YEAR

Corporation and Subsidiaries Report Total Net Profit of $7,175,415.

DIVIDEND RATE TO STAND

Publication of Statement Causes Sharp Rally in the Issue on Stock Exchange.

An increase of $2,038,340, or 40 per cent, in the earnings of the Fox Film Corporation and its subsidiaries for the six months ended on June 28, in comparison with the profit during the corresponding period of last year, was announced yesterday by Harley L. Clarke, president of the company.

Publication of the company's statement of earnings came just before the Stock Exchange closed yesterday and after heavy selling of Fox stock had forced that issue down 6⅜ points from the opening price. The announcement of the company's earnings during the first half of this year resulted in a sharp rally which carried the issue up to 39⅝ at the close, or 3¼ points above the lowest price of the day.

In connection with the report Mr. Clarke announced that no reduction in the dividend rate of the Fox company was anticipated.

The net profit of the company for the six months ended June 28, after all charges, including interest and provision for Federal taxes, was $7,175,415, which was equivalent to $2.84 a share on the 2,525,660 shares of Class A and B common stock, Mr. Clarke said. This compared with a net profit of $5,137,075 for the first half of 1929, which was equivalent to $2.03 a share if the same number of shares had been outstanding then.

Gross revenue for the first six months of 1930 amounted to $24,093,275, compared with $19,100,115 for the corresponding period of 1929, a gain of $4,993,160.

In the first six months of the current year $10,572,308 was written off for depreciation of films. This compares with a write-off of $7,654,220 for the same purpose during the first half of 1929.

Gas Pipe Line Company Formed.

The Panhandle Illinois Pipe Line Company has been incorporated in Illinois to own and operate a natural-gas pipe line across Illinois. It will have a paid-in cash capital of $1,000,000. Most Bank Shares Decline—Utilities Incline Higher.

The trend was slightly down in quiet trading yesterday on the over-the-counter market. Bank of United States made the only sig cant gain, with Chemical, Irvi Manufacturers, Chase, Bankers, C Manhattan, New York Trust, Gu anty and others lower.

Changes were few in the insuran group, which attracted virtually active attention. Industrials were quiet and closed about unchanged. slight upward trend in utilities in th morning was generally sustained t the close. Chain stores, communica tions and bonds were dull.

SEASONAL UPTURN BEGINS

But Rise Is Wholly Due to Storage and Shipment Business in Foreign Countries.

The seasonal upturn in the volume of dollar acceptances began last month, according to the survey of the American Acceptance Council, which shows that the total of bankers' bills on July 31 was $1,349,695,306. This was an advance of $44,864,084 over the amount outstanding at the end of June and $222,996,501 more than that at the end of July last year.

The record high total for dollar acceptances was reached at the close of last year at $1,732,436,388. For some years the volume of business done by the American bill market has been rising to a succession of record highs. It is thought unlikely, however, that the seasonal peak this year will exceed or even equal that of last year, partly because of the restriction of business and partly because of the lower price level of commodities.

Commenting on the survey, Robert H. Bean, executive secretary of the Acceptance Council, said:

"While the total shows a large gain in American banks' acceptance liability it does not indicate any increase in acceptance business originating in this country and to this extent is less encouraging than was expected, as it was anticipated that new cotton and wheat bills would come into the market in substantial volume by this time.

"The present increase is wholly due to the gain of over $53,000,000 in the volume of acceptances financing goods stored abroad or shipped between foreign countries. This is to a large extent a movement of financing away from London banks, accounted for partly on account of our lower rates and partly by a disinclination of British institutions to add to their bill total at the present time.

"The total of dollar acceptances used to finance these foreign transactions now amounts to $495,041,888, the greatest amount ever used for such purposes. On July 31, 1929, this total stood at $279,918,228, and on the same date in 1928 only $164,000,000.

"Between June 30 and July 31 export credits increased only $6,800,000, and domestic shipment credits $10,300,000, while import credits declined $16,100,000, warehouse credits nearly $8,000,000 and dollar exchange credits $1,600,000.

"Compared with the June 30 figures, it will be seen that the combined import, export, domestic shipment and warehouse credits total declined $6,800,000, while in the month of July, 1929, these four major classifications recorded an increase of a little over $5,000,000 out of an increase in the total volume of $13,000,000.

"It is natural, in view of the nature of the business showing the most important improvement, to find most of the current increase in the business of New York banks. Out of a gain of $44,000,000, New York banks and bankers report $31,300,000 increase, Chicago $9,500,000, San Francisco $2,600,000 and Cleveland $2,200,000.

"The dollar acceptance credit business continues to be handled by an amazingly small number of banks. Of the present total of $1,349,000,000 in bills the forty largest acceptors created $1,169,800,000, while all but $20,000,000 was created by 100 banks and bankers.

"Since June 24 bill rates have remained unchanged at 2-1⅞ per cent for 30, 60 and 90-day bills, 2⅛-2 per cent for 120-day bills, and since July 9 2¼-2⅛ per cent for 150 and 180 day bills.

"These are not only the lowest rates since 1924, but this is also the longest period of unchanged quotations for the present year, and there does not appear to be any immediate cause for any advance in the current low cost of acceptance financing."

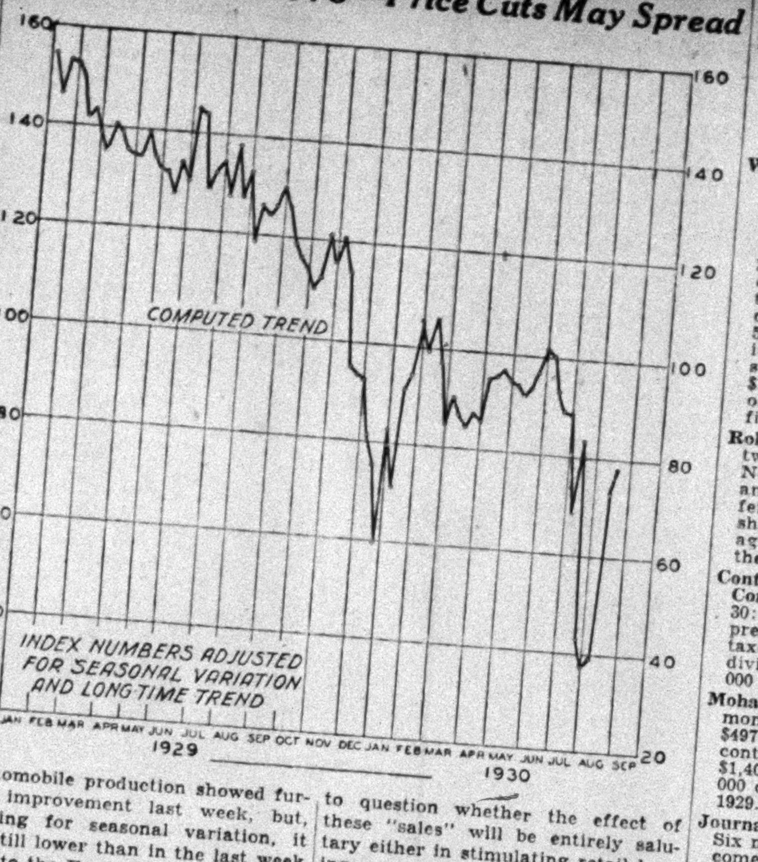
Automobile Production Makes Further Gain And Index Rises to 78—Price Cuts May Spread



Automobile production showed further improvement last week, but, allowing for seasonal variation, it was still lower than in the last week prior to the Ford stoppage. The improvement was the result mainly of heavier output of low-priced cars other than Ford, although a substantial increase in activity by one prominent manufacturer in the medium-priced class also contributed to the gain shown by the adjusted index, which rose from 73.0 to 78.0. A year ago the adjusted index stood at 125.1.

The effect of increased activity in the motor car industry is being overshadowed for the time being by the substantial price reductions which have been initiated by several manufacturers. These reductions seem to be something in the nature of clearance sales in preparation for the introduction of new models, but in some quarters there is a disposition to question whether the effect of these "sales" will be entirely salutary either in stimulating retail buying or in improving the morale of the industry generally. Past experience has tended to show that whatever the motive behind price reductions, the movement toward lower prices, once set in motion, becomes contagious and spreads throughout the industry as other manufacturers attempt to maintain their competitive positions.

In the present instance, reports from various sections of the country indicate that sales have thus far not been stimulated to any great extent. In automobiles, as in other commodities, the general disposition of the consuming public at a time like the present is to hold off in order to see how much lower prices will go, and just now this tendency is being accentuated in some of the agricultural regions by the effects of the drought.

BIG COTTON SALES DROP PRICES 1-2 CENT

Southern Hedging Operations and Aggressiveness of Shorts Push Quotations Down.

BUYING POWER IS LACKING

Under the largest volume of business since the selling movement started ten days ago, the prices of cotton broke yesterday a half cent in both foreign and domestic markets. October contracts on the New York Cotton Exchange sold below 11 cents, a half cent lower than in the 18,000,000-bale crop in 1926 and less than $2 a bale from the low levels reached in 1921, when July contracts sold around 10½ cents. With a decline of a half cent in Liverpool, lower wheat and corn prices and the first rain in Arkansas in almost three months, the market opened under pressure.

Cotton supplied by the South in hedges against the moving crop and aggressive short selling by professional interests filled scale-buying limits for trade account and carried prices steadily downward. Rallies were feeble and short-lived, the market meeting contracts on every slight recovery. Final quotations, the lowest of the day, were 53 to 59 points lower than on Saturday. Middling quotations at three Southern markets touched 9¾ cents.

Absence of substantial buying power, which featured the market last week, stood out again. While houses with domestic or foreign mill connections had resting orders at each quarter-cent decline and blocks of contracts for active deliveries were taken as new low prices were recorded, neither speculative nor trade demand could offset the contracts for sale.

Yesterday's quotations follow:

WHEAT PRICES DROP, CLOSE NEAR BOTTOM

All Rallies Meet Long Grain—Net Losses 2½ to 2⅞c—Foreign Markets Down.

RAINS HELP CORN'S DECLINE

Stop-Loss Orders Are Caught and Bull's Efforts Are Fruitless—Rye Has Setback—Oats Lower.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Aug. 18.—Scattered liquidation developed in the wheat market today, and while houses with Eastern connections extended support early, long grain came out on all rallies. The finish was about the bottom, with net losses of 2½ to 2⅞ cents. December at the bottom showed only 1½ cents above the lowest figure on the crop.

Northwestern hedging pressure and relative weakness in Winnipeg had effect, as did reports of increasing pressure to sell Canadian and Russian grain abroad. North American cash wheat was in small demand, sales being estimated at only 200,000 bushels.

Liverpool closed 1⅞d to 2¼d lower, and Buenos Aires 1⅝ to 1¾ cents off. Winnipeg October ended 3⅝ cents over Chicago September, against 8 cents recently.

Uncertainty is reported abroad regarding how the Canadian pool will finance the grain this season. Reports of probable steps to prevent Winnipeg from hedging wheat here received little attention, as such action was construed as interfering with international commerce. It was pointed out that the government collects a tax on all sales of futures here regardless of whether they are of domestic or Canadian or other foreign origin.

Wheat Sentiment Bearish at Close.

Sentiment at the close was generally bearish, although the technical position has been improved materially by the recent decline, which has carried the December off almost 15 cents from the high on Aug. 7. The light speculative trade causes the market to be easily influenced, and pit observers say a good part of the break has been due to inability to absorb hedging sales.

The movement in the Northwest is heavy, as harvesting has progressed rapidly, owing to favorable weather conditions, and the grain is expected to come forward in volume from now on.

An increase of 8,519,000 bushels was shown in the visible supply for the week, making the total 174,020,000, against 165,501,000 the previous week and 169,368,000 in the week a year ago.

Primary receipts were 4,967,000 bushels; a week ago 6,035,000 and a year ago 4,315,000. Shipments were, respectively, 2,268,000, 2,738,000 and 2,456,000 bushels.

Corn Belt Gets Beneficial Rains.

Highly beneficial rains have fallen over a good part of the corn belt. Illinois, Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma and Missouri received more or less moisture over the week-end, and in some sections the drought was broken. While many in the trade doubt that corn will be helped materially, the rains had a sentimental effect and led to selling by local longs and commission houses.

Stop-loss orders were caught early, and corn's finish was within a fraction of the bottom, with net losses of 2½ to 3⅛ cents. Buying against bids helped to check the break. Local bulls made several efforts to advance prices, but long grain came out persistently.

Shipping demand for corn remains fairly good, with sales of 145,000 bushels, while the country sold only 40,000 to arrive, and charters were made for 100,000 to Buffalo. Sentiment tonight became more mixed than of late.

Visible Supply of Corn Lower.

The visible supply of corn decreased 393,000 bushels for the week to 2,653,000, against 3,036,000 the previous week and 7,105,000 a year before.

Primary receipts were 1,053,000 bushels; a week ago 981,000, and 470,000 a year ago. Shipments were, respectively, 448,000, 433,000 and 399,000 bushels.

Weakness in other grains, with hedging pressure, carried oats lower, with the finish at the bottom at net losses of 1¼ to 1⅜ cents. Commission houses were on both sides. An increase of 3,830,000 bushels in the visible supply had some effect.

Rye led the decline in the grain market and closed 3 to 3⅝ cents lower, with Northwestern hedging pressure a factor. Some operators say there is a liberal holding of September rye against sales of September corn. As there is a shortage of cash corn for delivery and a liberal amount of rye in store, some difficulty is expected in buying in the corn when the spread is closed.

Prices for the principal grains were as follows:

Canadian Wheat Pool Advances Expected to Start at 70 Cents

"The initial wheat pool payment on the 1930 Western crop will likely be 70 cents a bushel.

"Although the announcement from the pool management will not be made until Tuesday or Wednesday, it was learned from unofficial sources today that the central selling agency of the organization and the banks had agreed on this figure. There are some conditions attached, but for the moment they are not definitely known. They are to be the subject of further discussions at a meeting of the pool's and banks' representatives."

54% Gain for New York Title.

The New York Title and Mortgage Company reports that it increased its business written by 54 per cent in the first seven months of this year, that its loans increased 13 per cent and its sales of guaranteed mortgages and certificates, 22 per cent.

To the Holders of

Voting Trust Certificates Representing Common Stock of

Chicago Rapid Transit Company

The holders of a large number of Voting Trust Certificates, representing shares of Common Stock of Chicago Rapid Transit Company, issued under the Voting Trust Agreement dated May 2, 1924, between Charles E. Mitchell, George M. Reynolds, John H. Mason and R. Floyd Clinch, of the first part, and George M. Reynolds, R. Floyd Clinch and Samuel Insull, as Voting Trustees, of the second part, have requested the undersigned to act as a Committee to represent the holders of the Voting Trust Certificates in connection with the proposed acquisition by a new company of the properties of Chicago Rapid Transit Company, Chicago Railways Company, Chicago City Railway Company, The Southern Street Railway Company, and Calumet and South Chicago Railway Company. The new company, called "Chicago Local Transportation Company" (an Illinois corporation), proposes to acquire and operate these properties under the terms of an ordinance of the City Council of the City of Chicago passed May 19, 1930, and approved by referendum vote July 1, 1930, providing for a comprehensive unified local transportation system. In the opinion of this Committee the provisions of the ordinance are fair and reasonable and afford a sound basis for the amalgamation of the properties and their future operation as a unified system. A plan for the acquisition of the properties by the new company, wholly or partly through the exchange of securities of the present operating companies for securities of the new company, is now being prepared for submission to security holders of the operating companies.

The Chicago Rapid Transit Company for years has been unable to earn an adequate return upon its investment, due in part to its inability to provide for extensions and to competition of the street railway lines. In the opinion of the Committee the proposed unification will result in a better and more economic division of the business conducted by the various companies by concentrating the facilities of the Elevated system on long-haul service and of the Surface Lines system on short-haul service.

A Deposit Agreement constituting the undersigned as a Committee to represent the interests of the holders of the Voting Trust Certificates has been executed by the Committee and lodged with Foreman-State Trust and Savings Bank, as Depositary, and the owners of Voting Trust Certificates representing more than a majority of the Common Stock of the Chicago Rapid Transit Company have already deposited their Voting Trust Certificates thereunder. By its terms whenever a plan for the acquisition of the properties and exchange of securities shall be approved by the Committee, a copy thereof shall be filed with the Depositary and notice of such approval and filing shall be published once a week for three consecutive weeks in a newspaper in Chicago and in a newspaper in New York City and shall also be mailed to each Depositor. Within thirty days after the first publication the Depositors may, subject to the terms of the Deposit Agreement, dissent from the plan and withdraw their Voting Trust Certificates.

For the purpose of securing unity of action on the part of those interested in the Common Stock of the Chicago Rapid Transit Company the Committee urges all holders of Voting Trust Certificates to deposit the same under the Deposit Agreement as promptly as possible. Depositors will receive from the Depositary transferable Certificates of Deposit.

To the Holders of

Adjustment Debenture Bonds

At the request of a large number of holders of Adjustment Debenture Bonds, dated July 1st, 1923, issued by Chicago Rapid Transit Company, the undersigned have undertaken to act as a Committee to represent the interests of the holders of said Debentures in connection with the consolidation or unification of Chicago Rapid Transit Company, Chicago Railways Company, Chicago City Railway Company, The Southern Street Railway Company, and Calumet and South Chicago Railway Company, to accomplish which consolidation or unification a plan of financial reorganization is being prepared.

The Chicago Rapid Transit Company for many years has been unable to earn an adequate return on its investment due to the excessive cost of financing improvements and extensions and to competition with the Surface Lines for both long and short haul business. In the opinion of the undersigned, the proposed consolidation will provide for a better and more economic division of this business and will enable both the Elevated and the Surface Lines to supply improved service in their respective fields. A concentration of the facilities of the Elevated Lines on long haul and of the Surface Lines on short haul service will undoubtedly be reflected in the earnings of the consolidated Company, and it will, therefore, be placed in a position to compete successfully for new capital on favorable terms.

The Adjustment Debenture Bonds of Chicago Rapid Transit Company were issued in 1923. These bonds by the terms of the Trust Agreement under which they were issued are entitled to cumulative interest at the rate of Four Per Cent per annum only out of net income as and when appropriated for that purpose by the Board of Directors of the Company. However, in only one year since they were issued have surplus earnings available for interest on these bonds amounted to as much as Four Per Cent on the principal amount of bonds outstanding, and during the last three years surplus earnings so available have averaged less than Two Per Cent on the principal amount outstanding. If Chicago Rapid Transit Company must continue to operate its properties as a unit, there is in the opinion of the undersigned Committee small likelihood for any improvement in these earnings. But if there can be worked out an equitable exchange of your Adjustment Debenture Bonds for securities of a new corporation, which will acquire the properties of Chicago Rapid Transit Company and the other transportation companies named above, your position will be very much improved through the great probability of increased earnings to result from unified operation of all of these properties.

Holders of Adjustment Debenture Bonds of Chicago Rapid Transit Company are therefore requested to deposit their bonds with either of the depositaries named below under the terms and conditions set forth in a Deposit Agreement dated August 15, 1930, a copy of which agreement is on file with each of the depositaries. Depositors will be entitled to receive certificates of deposit as provided in the Deposit Agreement. The prompt deposit of your Adjustment Debenture Bonds is absolutely essential to a successful completion of the unification or consolidation of these properties.

When the financial plan has been effected and if it is then approved by your Committee, notice will be given by advertisement and mail to all registered holders of certificates of deposit and depositors will then have the right to inspect the plan and, in the event they do not approve the same, to withdraw their bonds from deposit if they so desire within thirty days, in accordance with the terms of the Deposit Agreement.

Bondholders may secure copies of the Deposit Agreement and other information they may desire by communicating with the Secretary of the Committee.

OFFER TO REDEEM

To the Holders of Fifty-Year Five Per Cent. Gold Bonds, Series B, D and F, Issued Under and Secured by Indenture, dated April 1, 1901, between United States Steel Corporation and United States Trust Company of New York:

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that, in accordance with the provisions of said Indenture, dated April 1, 1901, as modified by Instrument, dated February 6, 1929, between United States Steel Corporation, as party of the first part, United States Trust Company of New York, as party of the second part, and the holders of two-thirds in amount of all the bonds secured by said Indenture for the time being outstanding (not including bonds held in the Sinking Fund), as parties of the third part, the undersigned Trustee offers to redeem on October 1, 1929, or any time thereafter up to and including October 1, 1930, at the office of said Trustee, No. 45 Wall Street, Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, out of moneys in the Sinking Fund, all of the bonds of the three Series B, D and F secured by said Indenture now outstanding by payment of the principal and interest accrued thereon to the respective dates for redemption as hereinbefore provided, together with a premium of fifteen per cent. of such principal. Such payment of the sum payable for principal and premium of said bonds and for any part less than the whole of an installment of interest accrued at the date of redemption will be made upon surrender of said bonds together with, in the case of coupon bonds, all coupons for interest maturing after the date of redemption. Such payment of the amount payable for interest due on or prior to the date of redemption will be made, in the case of coupon bonds, upon presentation of the coupons for such interest installments for collection in the usual manner and, in the case of registered bonds without coupons, to the registered holders thereof. Registered bonds must be surrendered accompanied by instruments of assignment and transfer duly executed in blank.

INDICTMENTS NEAR IN FACTORS FAILURE

JUDGE NOVA IS CLEARED

Prosecutor Finds County Jurist Innocently Allowed Name to Be Put on Directors' List.

The Federal grand jury is expected to take further action tomorrow in the investigation begun last May into the affairs of the Consolidated Factors Corporation, 200 Madison Avenue, which failed recently with liabilities of $4,500,000 and assets of $1,000,000. Indictments are expected some time this week, it was intimated at the United States Attorney's office.

Assistant United States Attorney Owen S. M. Tierney, in charge of the inquiry, declared yesterday that County Judge Algernon I. Nova of Brooklyn, who was listed by a business directory as a director of the corporation, had assumed that office in November, 1929, but had resigned, along with several other directors, in April, 1930, some time before the failure.

Judge Nova, it was learned, went to the United States Attorney's office last June without subpoena and satisfied investigators that he was in no way responsible for the tangled condition of the company's affairs. He had known Leon Pelz, former secretary-treasurer of the company, for many years, and had been persuaded by him to assume a nominal directorship, it was said.

Besides Mr. Pelz, the Federal authorities have been inquiring into the activities of Oscar Greenstein, former president of the company; Walter Weisman, president of A. J. Roberts & Co., which was organized by the Consolidated Factors to sell its securities, and Benjamin Berk, vice president of the factors concern. The investigation is taking two lines, one, under the bankruptcy laws, concerning possible falsification of records; the other to determine whether the mails were used to defraud in the disposition of stock.

When the investigation was first opened it was charged that the corporation listed in its financial statement $5,000,000 in receivable accounts, of which between $2,500,000 and $3,000,000 were fictitious.

Mr. Tierney said yesterday that it was the first instance in forty-two years of a company of factors going into bankruptcy anywhere in the United States and the first case of the kind on record in this district.

Judge Nova issued the following statement last night:

"The action of the United States Attorney should be proof conclusive of my innocence in this matter. Any further statement should come from the United States Attorney."

SUGAR, COFFEE, COCOA.

Sugar.

A new low price for sugar was reached yesterday when 4,000 tons of Philippine sugar, due next week, were sold to a refiner at 3.16, equivalent to 1.16 cost and freight. Two other sales were reported, one of 24,000 of Cubas to a Philadelphia refiner at 1.18 cost and freight, and one of 2,000 tons of Cubas for October loading at 1.14 f. o. b. Sugar futures were traded to the extent of 35,450 tons. There was no change in refined markets. Price ranges on the futures market follow:

LIVE STOCK IN CHICAGO.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Aug. 18.—Supplies of hogs continue below trade requirements and prices advanced today 25 cents to the best figures since March 14. The finish was at the best figures of the day. Top was 20 cents higher than on Friday, at $10.95, while the day's average was 20 cents higher, at $9.70. Most sales were at $9.10 to $10.75, with heavyweights quoted at $9.75 to $10.60, medium weights at $10.40 to $10.95, lightweights at $10.55 to $10.90 and packing sows at $8.25 to $9.15. Packers bought 24,100 and shippers 8,000, with 3,000 left over. Receipts were 35,000, with 18,000 estimated for tomorrow.

Steers and yearling cattle generally sold 25 cents higher, with a broader demand and smaller offerings. Best yearlings sold at $11.15 and heavy steers at $10.65, while most beef cattle brought $8.65 to $10.35. Receipts were 14,500.

Lambs were steady to strong, with sorting less severe. Natives sold largely at $9.50 to $9.75, with Westerns at $9.50 to $9.85. Sheep were steady at $2.25 to $3.75. Receipts were 20,000.

LIVE STOCK AND MEATS.

These prices were reported yesterday in the New York and New Jersey markets by the United States Department of Agriculture:

Nineteen loads steers, active, steady to strong, few 25c higher. Few good grassers, $8.50 to $8.75. Medium, $7.25 to $8.25. Cows and bulls slow, uneven, about steady. Common to medium cows, $4 to $5.50. Low cutters and cutters, $2 to $3.50. Medium bulls, $6.50 down.

VEALERS AND CALVES.

Vealers in light supply, active, steady to 50c higher. Good to choice, $11 to $13.50. Medium, $8 to $10.50. Cull and common, $6.50 to $7.50. Best Southerns, $10.50.

HOGS.

Fifty cents to 75c higher. Good to choice, 160 pounds to 220 pounds weight, $10.75 to $11.25.

SHEEP.

Lambs in fairly liberal supply, fairly active, steady to strong; good to choice, $10 to $10.50. Few loads, choice, $11. Medium, $8 to $9.50. Common, $7 to $7.50. Ewes, strong, $4 down.

BUSINESS NOTES.

Nearly 150 foreign members of the International Law Association will be guests of the American Arbitration Association at a luncheon to be given at the Hotel Astor Roof on Sept. 8. The speakers will include Thomas I. Parkinson, president of the Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States, and Morgan J. O'Brien, former presiding justice of the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court.

The fifty-sixth annual convention of the National Wholesale Druggists' Association will be held at the Edgewater Beach Hotel, Chicago, Ill., from Oct. 12 to 16. The main topic of the business sessions, to be held in the mornings, will be the outlook for trade in 1931.

Dress buyers will meet today and buyers of coats tomorrow at the Dry Goods Alliance, 20 West Thirty-third Street.

PRODUCE MARKETS

Butter.

Receipts, 4,794 packages. Trade rather less active Monday morning, and while prices were fully supported on top grades, cheaper sorts of salted goods were more freely offered at lower prices with the range of values wider. Renovated, ladles and packing stock firm.

GIFT WARE SHOWS OPEN.

Buyers Here to View Exhibits—Good Fall Season Predicted.

Two exhibits of art and gift merchandise opened here yesterday and attracted several hundred buyers. At the Hotel Pennsylvania the National Gift and Art Association is staging its show with about 150 lines on display, while two floors of the Hotel New Yorker are given over to more than 100 exhibits of the New York Art-in-Trade Show.

The managements of both enterprises commented on the recent improvement in sentiment among buyers of gift lines. Buyers are not after cheap merchandise, according to Emmet White, president of the National Gift and Art Association, who predicted a good Fall and holiday season in these goods. Reporting many Southern buyers in attendance yesterday, George F. Little, manager of the New Yorker exhibits, also stressed the demand for better grade items.

Among the new offerings at the Hotel Pennsylvania show are comprehensive arrays of copper art wares, glassware featuring crystal top and black base, novelty candles for place cards, pottery and items produced by the mountain industries of Virginia, North Carolina and New Hampshire. English silverware, illuminated bronzes and highly realistic artificial flowers are highlights of the displays at the New Yorker, which will continue until Aug. 29.

Plan to Continue Oil Proration.

Producers of petroleum in the Oklahoma City field have called a meeting for Aug. 21 to consider extending the proration agreement now in effect three months, it was reported from Oklahoma City yesterday. Although the field now is curtailed more than any other in the State, one independent producer with two wells has refused to restrict his production, and the problem is becoming more difficult, the report said.

The quotations are for four to six months' paper.

Week Starts With Some Reorders.

While the start of the week in the local market failed to disclose any appreciable gain in the number of visiting buyers, it did reveal an encouraging sprinkling of reorders on a number of Fall merchandise items, it was reported here yesterday. The reordering reflected the pick-up in retail sales last week and to a degree demonstrated how close to the wind many retailers are sailing in the matter of stocks on hand. The fact that the number of buyers did not materially increase lent support to the view that the peak of arrivals for the early season has already been reached. Anticipations are that early reorders will be the most constructive factor in the situation.

Sees 1927-28 Retail Profit Basis.

While retail volume may continue to shrink a little during the Fall, the proper application of scientific control methods, plus merchandising intuition, ought to bring the profit ratios of dry goods stores back to where they were in 1927-28, it was stated by H. I. Kleinhaus, who yesterday assumed his duties as manager of the Controllers' Congress of the National Retail Dry Goods Association. Expense reduction, he said, remains vital, particularly in some services in which the stores endeavored to outdo each other. Retailers, he said, have definitely entered a period of lower prices and must shape their policies accordingly.

Issues Opinions on Tariff Act.

With the approval of the Bureau of Customs at Washington, Appraiser of the Port F. J. H. Kracke has inaugurated daily conferences of his staff members here on questions arising under the new tariff law. The opinions reached are made known immediately to importers and also sent to other ports of entry in the country. The effect of this procedure has been not only to increase uniformity of treatment on imports but also to expedite decisions on new provisions of the law. So far, it is understood that more than a hundred opinions have already been promulgated. Importers are highly pleased with the arrangement.

Velvet Berets Well Reordered.

Reports in the millinery trade yesterday indicate there is no question regarding the popularity of velvets for the early season. Reorders on popular-price items are beginning to develop nicely, particularly in beret shapes of chiffon or transparent velvet. The shallow crown type, fitting far back on the head, has met with a great deal of success and is wanted in felt and soleil materials, as well as velvets. The color trend has largely developed along the lines of that in ready-to-wear, with emphasis on black, new browns and greens.

Rug Market Continues Gains.

The trend in the floor covering market has turned definitely upward, with last week witnessing more buying activity in the trade than in some time, according to reports yesterday. Several out-of-town buyers pointed out that their stores suffered more last year than this season, and thought it possible that sales would show a gain over 1929. With a few exceptions, stocks throughout the country are held to be extremely low, and it was thought that the next thirty days should occasion a great improvement in the market. Inquiries are being centred on wash rugs. The better grade of axminster rugs continue in demand, with little interest being evinced for the cheaper lines, it was said.

Plain Silks Gaining Impetus.

Some falling off in orders for silk and wool cloths, with a stronger tendency toward plain goods, was reported in the silk trade here yesterday. Orders from the dress trade are still below expectations, it was added, while lower price buying features business from retailers. Canton crêpes have gained lately, while the popularity of flat crêpe continues. Expanding interest is reported in low-end versions of the latter weave. The call for satins remains quiet. The new colors featured at the Paris openings are being made available and accord considerable prominence to greens.

New Marking Rules In Effect.

The revised marking regulations under the new tariff went into effect yesterday, and customs procedure under the new rules was reported to be working smoothly. The new regulations provide that the immediate container of an object must also be marked properly, and the question to be decided is what constitutes an immediate container. There will be a series of interpretations, according to reports, extending over a long period of time, and final decisions will be based on these. In the meanwhile, customs officials proceeded cautiously yesterday, and very few difficulties arose.

State Work Aids Machinery Trade.

The expansion of industrial activity by various State and Federal departments has enabled the machinery trade to maintain a fair volume of business in the face of a lessening demand from private industry, according to reports yesterday. Power plant work by this State and by the Navy Department have accounted for a good number of installations, it was said. The appropriations for new machinery by private concerns were reported to have been cut considerably, and no expansion on a large scale is expected until business shows a definite upward trend. It was pointed out that the usual seasonal repair of boilers, which starts in July, did not appear until last week.

Sales of Fine Goods Dropped.

Although showing a decline from the previous week's sales, the volume of fine goods sold last week was fairly satisfactory despite the consistent slipping of cotton prices, according to the report issued yesterday by the Berkshire Fine Spinning Associates, Inc. A certain amount of price shading took place, but there was a relatively firm attitude in the face of offers for merchandise that were tempting after the lack of trading through July. Rayon-filled flat crêpes were subject to a wide variety of prices. Broadcloths were still under pressure. Lawns, pongees, alpacas and sateens all moved in a small way at unchanged levels.

Gray Goods Again Decline.

The 40-point decline in cotton yesterday acted bearishly on gray goods and drove prices ⅛ to ¼ of a cent down on various constructions. Only scattered buying was reported in the market, with purchasers waiting for developments that will clarify the situation. In printcloths, activity was restricted, with 38½-inch 60-48s reported at 4⅝ cents and 64-60s at 4⅞ cents. There was a little brisker demand for 39-inch 68-72s at 5⅝ cents. Trading in 39-inch 80 squares was light at 7 cents. Sheetings showed no particular activity.

DULL CREPES

Accenting the New Deep Brilliant Colors

Dull crepes of Celanese agree in suppleness of drape, and firm softness of hand. Celanese Crepe Malika, a crepe de chine weave of Celanese and silk, is light and soft-draping—in the new floral designs an ideal weave for evening wear. Celanese Crepe Caribe, combining Celanese and silk, has a heavier body—the right texture for the new street fashions, with their wealth of detail. Other crepe weaves important for fall fashions are Celanese Crepe Amcella, Celanese Mirrocel, and Celanese Crepe Ondese.

The unique and superior practical qualities of these crepe weaves are properties of Celanese yarn, and include the following:

Dampness or perspiration does not damage them.

They dry clean perfectly, retaining their soft, subdued lustre.

They are free from all weighting.

The colors are unusually fast.

Commends Times News from Antarctica—

DR. CHESTER A. REEDS, of The American Museum of Natural History, writes concerning the booklet, "The Work of the Byrd Antarctic Expedition, 1928-1930," published by the American Geographical Society:

"The booklet, 'The Work of the Byrd Antarctic Expedition, 1928-1930', is an admirable publication. It is unique in that the scientific narrative is derived from newspaper dispatches based largely on radio messages from 'Little America,' Antarctica, to The New York Times office, New York. The news of the expedition was so ably printed in The New York Times that the public was kept fully informed of the work and progress of the expedition in the field."

DWYER BACKS STAND ON KOSHER PERMITS

Commissioner of Markets, in Reply to Critics, Says Plan Would Aid Jewish Butchers.

WOULD WEED OUT CHEATS

Higgins, Busy at Field Work, Fails to Call Witnesses in His Investigation.

Replying to attacks by Kosher butchers that his proposed city ordinance to license the members of their trade would give market supervisors a greater opportunity for graft than ever, Thomas F. Dwyer, Commission of Markets, insisted yesterday that such criticisms showed ignorance of the benefits that the proposed regulation was designed to bring about.

Under the present system, because Kosher butchers do not have to hold permits, Mr. Dwyer said, he is unable to check up on any of them, and should some butchers indisselling Kosher meats, he could not easily locate the trouble and rectify it.

"If the proposed ordinance were to go into effect," Commissioner Dwyer said, "I would have every applicant for a Kosher butcher's license investigated thoroughly. His record would then be submitted to a 'character committee' consisting of reliable Jewish organizations or individuals, or both, and I could make the final decision with all of the facts at hand.

"It seems to me that such a procedure could not be regarded as other than a protection to the Jewish traders in the markets," the commissioner declared. "It is to their interests that they not be forced unwittingly to purchase at kosher prices inferior non-kosher meats. As it is now, we cannot help the situation as much as we could if we had better control of the butchers themselves. And if the butchers are sincere in their desire to serve their people, they will support me in my efforts to eliminate the unscrupulous members of their trade."

Mr. Dwyer explained that it was possible to investigate kosher butchers only on complaint. Under the proposed plan, he pointed out, an inquiry regarding a kosher butcher would entail little more than a reference to a special card index of the Department of Markets. It is said many buyers are misled by signs in Jewish characters in store windows, although many of these signs do not even say that the food advertised is kosher.

James A. Higgins, Commissioner of Accounts, confined his investigation yesterday to field work and consequently did not examine any more witnesses in connection with his inquiry into the Department of Markets. Although it had been thought that a delegation of kosher butchers might call on the Mayor in connection with their disputes with Mr. Dwyer, they did not appear.

HENNESSEY IN COURT TODAY.

Former Official to Plead to Second Charge in Estate's Shortage.

The Richmond County grand jury, which has been investigating the office of the Public Administrator of Richmond County, will meet today at the Court House at St. George and will make a report of its findings to County Judge Thomas F. Cosgrove.

James W. Hennessey, the former administrator, who resigned his post a few minutes before the same grand jury handed up two indictments charging him with grand larceny in the second degree for appropriating at least $38,000 of the funds of estates under his administration, will be arraigned in the county court today to plead to the second indictment. He is at liberty on $5,000 bail, after pleading not guilty to the first.

It was rumored at the courthouse today that additional indictments would be handed up against the former administrator and that an indictment would be found against another unnamed person.

County Surrogate Thomas F. Cosgrove appointed yesterday Ernest T. Lindemann, an attorney of St. George, an examiner to make a check-up on all lawyers who have failed to make a final report in general guardianship cases in his court.

CONTRACT RATE GAINS.

August Building in Metropolitan Area Reaches $3,102,800 Daily.

Contracts for new construction in the metropolitan area for the week ended Aug. 16 amounted to $19,158,600, according to figures compiled by the F. W. Dodge Corporation. The August total up to that date was $40,336,000, at the rate of $3,102,800 per business day, against $2,649,000 daily average in July and $2,803,000 daily in August, 1929.

Contracts for the year to date in this area totaled $621,700,100 as against $806,634,300 for the period ended Aug. 16, 1929.

Contracts last week were distributed as follows: Residential buildings, $9,518,400; educational buildings, $5,211,000; commercial buildings, $2,607,800; industrial buildings, $153,000; all other non-residential buildings, $1,157,800, and public works and utilities, $510,600.

Walker Gets Park Plan Approval.

A resolution adopted by the Advisory Park Council of the Park Association of the City of New York and signed by forty-seven civic and welfare organizations, approving and recommending the adoption of a report prepared by Mayor Walker's special committee on the existing system of parks, playgrounds and parkways, together with a proposed extension program, was sent to the Mayor and the members of the Board of Estimate yesterday. Nathan Straus Jr. is president of the Park Association.

BROADWAY ARMORY BRINGS $3,275,000

TALL BUILDING IS PLANNED

Sports Arena at Old Home of 104th Field Artillery Had Been Scheme of Former Purchaser.

The old armory of the 104th Field Artillery, occupying the block bounded by Broadway, Columbus Avenue, Sixty-seventh and Sixty-eighth Streets, was sold at auction yesterday to the Naol Holding Corporation on a bid of $3,275,000, and probably will be demolished at an early date to provide the site for a tall new building.

The holding company's offer was the only bid recorded at the auction, which was conducted by the I. Lincoln Seide Company in the Vesey Street salesrooms.

The sale was the result of a foreclosure action brought by the Naol Holding Corporation against Verschleiser Broadway Armory, Inc., and others following a mortgage judgment of $3,238,758. Back taxes and other charges against the property were reported to have amounted to about $40,000.

The holding concern, which is controlled by the General Realty and Utilities Corporation, was represented in the bidding by the law firm of Gettner, Simon & Asher.

The new owners have worked out several plans for developing the site, but have not yet settled on the one to be carried out, although it has been determined that the plot will be improved with a large building, according to Herman Schroeder of the General Realty and Utilities Corporation.

Max Verschleiser was the successful bidder for the armory when it was sold for the city by Joseph P. Day in January, 1929, for $3,375,000. The city paid $265,000 for the land forty years ago and spent about $300,000 on the building, which at one time housed the Twenty-second Regiment. Mr. Verschleiser is said to have planned a large sports arena and amusement centre, and started alterations on the building, but the project never was finished. A loan of $3,250,000 was made on the property more than a year ago through the General Realty and Utilities Corporation. This mortgage was taken over later by the Naol Holding Corporation.

The plot contains about 55,000 square feet, fronting 225.9 feet on Broadway, 200.1 feet on Columbus Avenue, 224.7 feet on Sixty-seventh Street and 327.9 feet on Sixty-eighth Street.

Southampton Lots Bring $20,500.

Fifteen lots at Ox Pasture Road and Halsey Lane, Southampton, L. I., brought $20,500 when sold at auction as one parcel last Saturday by Major William Kennelly. The price was $50 more than the aggregate bids for the lots when offered one at a time. The purchaser of the tract was Jeremiah D. Maguire, president and treasurer of the Railroad Utilities Company and president of the Industries Development Corporation, who owns an adjoining Summer residence.

Mrs. Wm. Hayward Assembles Fifth Avenue Corner Plot

Kenneth O'Brien has sold his residence at 1 East Eighty-sixth Street to Mrs. William Hayward, who owns the adjoining property on the northeast corner of Fifth Avenue.

The O'Brien house is a five-story structure on a lot 20.4 by 88 feet.

In 1927 Mrs. Hayward bought the five-story George Leary house at 1,053 Fifth Avenue, 19 by 102.2 feet, adjoining her corner house, the recorded contract showing a consideration of $198,000. Last March Mrs. Hayward acquired title from 1,053 Fifth Avenue, Inc., to the dwelling at 3 East Eighty-sixth Street.

The purchase of the intervening house at 1 East Eighty-sixth Street now rounds out Mrs. Hayward's holdings, giving her control of a property having a frontage of 69 feet on Fifth Avenue and 136.4 feet on Eighty-sixth Street. Bernard Baruch owns the residence at 1,054-1,055 Fifth Avenue, adjoining.

Douglas Gibbons & Co. were the brokers in the transaction.

NEW PARK CITY ON VIEW.

Model House Is Opened at Allwood, N. J., in 800-Acre Development.

More than 3,000 visitors inspected the model house just completed on the new home development which was formally opened on Sunday at Allwood, Passaic County, N. J., a short distance from Paterson. The tract contains about 800 acres recently acquired by Charles H. Reis, Inc. The building program involves the construction of 4,500 dwellings over a period of five to seven years.

The model house was opened for public inspection by State Senator Roy T. Gates. It was completely furnished.

The home community will be known as New Park City. It is on the new State highway which will run directly to the projected Thirty-eighth Street tunnel. Seven acres are being set aside as a public park, equipped with a children's playground, baseball and football fields, tennis and handball courts. More than fifty houses are now under construction.

FAMOUS PLAYERS ENLARGE HOLDINGS

DOWNTOWN PARCELS SOLD

Building on Fulton Street and Greenwich Street Leasehold Change Hands—West Side Plot Assembled.

A deal just closed in the Times Square centre involving the purchase of a plot in the rear of the New York and Criterion Theatres by the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation enlarges the latter's holdings at that point to about 50,000 square feet. The Lasky Corporation, through its subsidiary, the Senaca Holding Corporation, bought the five-story commercial building at 153 West Forty-fourth Street, on lot 20 by 100.5, from Alfred C. Farrell, who has owned the property since 1916.

By this purchase the Famous Players-Lasky interests control a plot fronting 203.9 feet on the east side of Broadway, 234.7 feet on Forty-fourth Street and 256 feet on Forty-fifth Street. Individual mortgages on the properties were recently consolidated into a $4,000,000 mortgage loan for five years. The moving picture concern is preparing plans, it has been stated, for improving the site in the near future with a large theatre and office building.

Activity in the downtown section was reflected in two transactions closed by the Charles F. Noyes Company on Fulton and Greenwich Streets, respectively.

The five-story building at 63 Fulton Street, 17 by 84 feet, was sold for Francis E. Holliday, after an ownership of twenty-five years, to the Agency Realty and Mortgage Company, represented by Edward J. West, attorney. It adjoins a large plot from Fulton to Beekman Streets, on the west side of Cliff Street, which is being assembled for the erection of a large building for the insurance business.

The Noyes Company also sold the leasehold at 239-243 Greenwich Street, just south of Park Place, for H. J. S. Hall to William D. Kilpatrick. The ground lease was originally made by Mr. Hall from Columbia University in 1893. It has five years to run, with a twenty-one-year renewal option. The plot is 52 by 108 feet and is occupied by three three-story business buildings.

By the purchase of the five-story tenement at 435 West Twenty-fifth Street, on lot 25 by 98.9, the Kenjohn Realty Corporation, Kenneth P. Steinreich, president, has assembled a plot fronting 75 feet on both Twenty-fifth and Twenty-sixth Streets, between Ninth and Tenth Avenues. The buyers formerly owned the parcels at 437-439 West Twenty-fifth Street and the abutting property at 442-446 West Twenty-sixth Street, the combined plot having a depth of 200 feet. The house at 435 West Twenty-fifth Street was acquired from the William Barrie estate for $29,000. The John P. Peel Company acted as brokers. The owners contemplate erecting a garage in the near future.

Lasky Leases 5th Av. Suite.

Jesse Lasky, vice president of the Paramount Pictures Corporation, has leased, through Donald W. Brown, Inc., an apartment of seventeen rooms at 910 Fifth Avenue, corner of Seventy-second Street, occupying the entire twelfth floor of the building. The annual rental is about $35,000. Mr. Lasky is now in California.

Industrial Property in Ossining Changes Hands.

A large tract of industrial property on the west side of Water Street, Ossining, Westchester County, has been purchased from Joseph L. Aranowitz by a client of George Howe, Inc. The new owner intends to improve the site shortly.

Plans for the immediate erection of a store building on property of the Hudson River Development Company on the northerly side of Cedar Street, Dobbs Ferry, were announced yesterday by Prince & Ripley. The building will contain three stores, the largest of which has been leased for a long term of years to the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company for a combination market. Plans for the structure were drawn by Leigh French Jr.

NEW APARTMENT PLANNED.

Twelve-Story Structure to Be Erected on West 85th Street.

According to papers filed in the register's office yesterday the Nomel Realty Corporation leased for twenty-one years from Sept. 1, 1930, the land and buildings at 102 and 104 West Eighty-fifth Street, having a frontage of 69½ feet just west of the southwest corner of Columbus Avenue, to the 102 West Eighty-fifth Street Corporation, of which James B. Cooke, Paterson, N. J., is president.

The annual rental, in addition to all taxes, assessments, &c., is to be $8,000 for the first year, $16,000 for the next three years and $20,500 for the remainder of the term. It is agreed that the tenant shall construct on this plot an apartment of at least twelve stories in height by Sept. 1, 1931, or as soon thereafter as possible, and may obtain a first mortgage for $350,000 on the fee for construction funds. The tenant may renew this lease for two terms of twenty-one years each to Aug. 31, 1993, for which the net rental yearly shall be 6 per cent of the value of the land as vacant, but in no event less than $21,500 a year net.

DECORATORS LEASE HOUSE.

French Firm Takes Newborg Residence at 50 East Fifty-second Street.

The residence of Moses Newborg, banker, at 50 East Fifty-second Street, has been leased for twenty-one years by L'Elan, Inc., French interior decorators, through Pease & Elliman.

The house was designed for Mr. Newborg by Joseph H. Freedlander. The lessee will take possession on Oct. 1, and occupy the entire building for studios and galleries. Mme. M. R. Desestret is president of the French firm.

Trust Company Leases Two Floors.

The third and fourth floors in the Green Exchange Building, under construction in Washington Street, between Cedar and Albany Streets, have been leased by the Marine Midland Trust Company for ten years, according to announcement yesterday by Vivian Green, president of the Green Industrial Corporation. The lease contains a clause permitting renewal for an additional ten-year period at a rental to be fixed by arbitration. The transaction involved an aggregate rental of about $600,000, according to the Green company.

SALESMEN,
MEN OF EXPERIENCE—CHARACTER.

We are charged with the responsibility of procuring a limited number of salesmen of the conservative business type, qualified by experience and standing to meet and associate with investors—men of intelligence.
It is to such men that we make

THIS SIMPLE APPEAL

with the hope that among the many men who will read this advertisement we will find the exceptional ones which our business requires.
We want honest men of character, ability and sincerity, and if you feel that you can rightfully lay claim to these exceptional requisites and are willing to offer your past records to us, then we know that the task which confronts us will be well on the way toward accomplishment.

THE COMPANY,

its success, its reputation, its background, and the tremendous scope of its future plans, all contribute to establish the very definite fact that this connection should be that last, satisfactory and profitable one which so many have been in search of for years; be assured that the offering is one of high character, security of principal, ability to pay semi-annual dividends, and, based on past returns, should be most profitable to the investor.
Compensation is on a commission basis to make this sales position appeal to men who are not interested in the limitation of a straight salary job, but are interested in an

ALL EYES ON AN INDUSTRY THAT'S MAKING HISTORY.
A wave of enthusiasm on the part of home owners for automatic heat control is sweeping the nation. Fired by the wholehearted endorsement from Health and Fire authorities, coal merchants, heating and plumbing houses, builders, architects and master house planners such as the Ladies Home Journal, the sales of Minneapolis Honeywell all-electric heat regulators are mounting at a sensational rate. We dominate over 90% of this industry; and in spite of the fact that 85% of our yearly business is done between SEPTEMBER AND DECEMBER, our company just paid an extra cash dividend for the first half of 1930. Our controls are made sold, installed, serviced and financed by one organization, and not available through any other source. To top it all we are about to launch the biggest advertising campaign in the history of our corporation. Brilliant master salesmen with cars and families, living in Long Island, Brooklyn, Westchester and New Jersey; who pass our examination for a technical training will find here the opportunity of the twentieth century. Advanced commission; also other attractive propositions. Entire 17th floor, [illegible] 2d Av., at 43d St. Mr. Miller or Mr. [illegible]

GOVERNMENT LOSES ALIEN FINE SUIT

$360,000 REBATE AT STAKE

More Than Fifty Other Actions, Based on the Same Grounds, Are Pending.

The Federal Government may have to return more than $360,000 received in the last several years in fines from foreign steamship companies as a result of a decision handed down yesterday by Federal Judge John M. Woolsey in favor of the North German Lloyd line, which began suit recently for the recovery of $2,177.50 it paid in fines for bringing undesirable aliens into this port.

More than fifty similar actions, based on the argument that steamship officials have no way of telling if an alien is undesirable if he possesses a United State visa, have been brought by British, German, French, Italian and Spanish steamship lines. The North German Lloyd suit was in the nature of a test.

The line during 1927 and 1928 paid a fine of $250 each plus the amount of the passage money in the case of five immigrants who came to this port on four ships of the line and were declared undesirable, four because of cardiac troubles, and one because of an atrophy of some of his muscles.

In each case the immigrant possessed a visa, but on arrival the Department of Labor ruled that his "disability" prevented him from earning a living, and that consequently he was "undesirable."

In his opinion Judge Woolsey called attention to the fact that American Consuls, to whom prospective immigrants must apply for examination and visas, are instructed that where there is some doubt concerning physical disability the Secretary of Labor, in his discretion, may admit the applicant on the filing of a bond after his arrival in an American port. Judge Woolsey pointed out that in each case the immigrant had a visa authorized the steamship line to accept him as a passenger.

"That being the practical method of dealing with an undoubtedly difficult situation," Judge Woolsey wrote in his opinion, "one is at a lass to see why an ocean carrier, which must be entitled to rely on an American visa for its right to carry an alien to our ports, should be fined on arrival here because it did not challenge the visa in some manner not explained by the defendant [the government].

"As a practical matter, I do not see what a steamship company could do to sageguard itself under such circumstances, short of refusing to carry any immigrants to our ports."

The suit was brought against Philip Elting, Collector of Customs, by Mark M. Cymrod.

FURNESS
to Bermuda
Almost everyone travels "Furness" to Bermuda. Why? Here are only a few of the reasons:
A—All ships run direct from dock to dock . . . Pier 95, Manhattan, New York City to Hamilton Pier, Bermuda.
B—All ships are in Bermuda Service exclusively, catering to the highest type of Tourist Traveler.
C—Furness sailing schedules are always dependable—never varying. Leave Manhattan every Wednesday and Saturday, arrive Bermuda Fridays and Mondays. Leave Bermuda every Saturday and Tuesday, arrive Manhattan Mondays and Thursdays. You arrive in both ports immediately after breakfast. Taking Saturday's boat from New York City means a splendid nine-day trip, with only five and a half days away from business.
The Furness liners M. S. "BERMUDA" and S. S. "VEENDAM" are the largest, most luxurious, and most popular boats in New York-Bermuda Service . . .

BUT INQUIRY IS CONTINUED

Three Accused Men Give Bond for Hearing Monday—Sheriff Says State Will Be Ready Then.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Aug. 18 (AP).—Charges and countercharges reverberated today as an aftermath of the arrest of three men in connection with a reputed plot to assassinate Governor Doyle E. Carlton of Florida.

Fred O. Eberhart, publisher and editor of The Tallahasse State News; Frank Ralls, former political campaigner for Governor Carlton, and Henry Halsema, Jacksonville real estate operator, named in a warrant charging conspiracy to procure the assassination, were arrested here Saturday night.

Before leaving his cell after posting $500 bond on the charge, which is a misdemeanor in this State, Mr. Eberhardt declared the arrests "part of a political plot." The publisher, who has waged a continuous and bitter editorial campaign against the Carlton Administration, termed the case "just a cheap bid for publicity."

Meanwhile, Sheriff W. B. Cahoon, whose deputy, C. E. Hooks, swore to the warrant accusing the three men, remained silent about details of the reputed plot. The warrant charged that the "trio, with divers other persons whose names are unknown," plotted to hire a gunman to kill the Governor. While admitting that the investigation was going forward, the sheriff said he expected no more arrests immediately.

Court Explains Nature of Charge.

Justice of the Peace J. C. Madison, before whom the warrant was sworn, set the preliminary hearing for next Monday. He fixed the bonds at $500 each.

Mr. Halsema and Mr. Eberhardt obtained bail immediately and Mr. Ralls posted bond tonight.

The sheriff announced that the State would be ready for the hearing, but that before then he would not divulge the evidence on which he based the conspiracy charges.

William A. Hallowes Jr., attorney for Mr. Halsema, and Ion L. Farris, counsel for Mr. Eberhardt, said that they had been able to learn but little about the case and that their clients knew nothing of any conspiracy. Mr. Ralls said he thought the charge was "aimed at Eberhardt."

In assessing bonds, Justice Madison stated that the offense charged in the warrant was a misdemeanor and punishable on conviction by a maximum penalty of $500 or one year in prison, whereas, attempted assassination was a felony punishable by a ten-year sentence.

Eberhardt "Not Worried" by Charge.

Mr. Eberhardt left the jail smiling and joking. He said that he was taken into custody by three deputy sheriffs, who told him that the Sheriff wished to see him, but did not advise him that he was under arrest. At the time, he said, he was about to join Mr. Ralls and Vincent Giblin of Miami, counsel for Alphonse Capone, the Chicago gangster, for a chat on the veranda of the hotel.

Mr. Eberhardt said the deputies asked him who the men were, and when he told them, they went out and got Ralls and Giblin. He added that Mr. Giblin was released.

"I am not in the least worried about the charge," he said. "Because of the activity of my newspaper, I have been harassed for the past year. Lawsuits have been filed against me repeatedly in an effort to embarrass me."

Governor Carlton was in Pensacola today to review the Florida National Guard at Fort Barrancas Summer training quarters. He will return to Tallahassee tomorrow.

K. OF C. WILL FIGHT SLANDER IN POLITICS

Supreme Officers, in Boston for Annual Meeting, Pick Bay State to Begin Campaign.

Special to The New York Times.

BOSTON, Aug. 18.—Massachusetts has been picked to start the movement against slander in politics, John E. Swift of Milford, Supreme Director and former State Deputy of the Knights of Columbus, declared today prior to tomorrow's formal opening of the organization's supreme convention.

Mr. Swift said that the campaign, sponsored by Cardinal O'Connell, probably will be waged in Massachusetts on a State scale first and, if successful, would be presented to the national body in the Fall.

Mr. Swift, once a candidate for Attorney General, condemned "the blasphemous weapon of slander, abuse and libel" leveled against candidates, assailed "whispering campaigns" and stated that real leaders were prevented from entering the public service by "mud-slingers."

A luncheon was given to Martin H. Carmody, supreme knight, by the Catholic Daughters of America this afternoon, and the first rounds for the organization's golf championship were played at the Wollaston Country Club.

In a colorful ritualistic ceremony, more than 2,000 officers of 155 councils of Massachusetts were installed tonight. The huge installation at the Boston Garden was under the direction of Joseph M. Kirby, State Deputy, and a staff of State officers.

Sour Stomach

Just a tasteless dose of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia in water. That is an alkali, effective, yet harmless. It has been the standard antacid for 50 years among physicians everywhere. One spoonful will neutralize at once many times its volume in acid. It is the right way, the quick, pleasant and efficient way to kill the excess acid. The stomach becomes sweet, the pain departs. You are happy again in five minutes.

Don't depend on crude methods. Employ the best way yet evolved in all the years of searching. That is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle — any drugstore.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

IT'S WISE TO CHEVROLET CHOOSE A SIX

Announcing a new production record

2,000,000 Chevrolet Sixes now on the road

Since January, 1929, Chevrolet has produced and sold over 2,000,000 six-cylinder automobiles—nearly five times as many as any other manufacturer has ever built in an equal length of time.

These 2,000,000 buyers have chosen Chevrolet because it offers many desirable qualities not obtainable in any other car so low in price—

—the smoothness, silence and flexibility of a modern six-cylinder engine—the comfort and roadability of a modern, full-length chassis—and the style, safety and distinction of bodies by Fisher.

Yet, despite these fine-car advantages, the Chevrolet Six is unusually economical. Its gas, oil, tire and upkeep economy is unsurpassed. And any model can be bought for a small down payment and easy monthly terms! Come in today. Learn for yourself why two million buyers have agreed—"it's wise to choose a Six."
